

Implementing Active Learning

Successful implementation of collaborative learning will result from the learning and relearning of the following realities:

Climate Setting: Leader commits to open and authentic experiences – to breaking the transmission paradigm.

Team Building: Participants have opportunities to get to know each other.

Social Skills: Appropriate means of communication are directly taught as necessary.

Academic Co-op: Participants collaborate over specific academic tasks.

