The Salt of God

I did it! I don't remember a whole lot about what it tasted like other than it was pretty salty, but I do remember 3 other teenage boys eyeing me, seeing if I was "man enough" to lick it. It was apparent that this salt lick was well used (by farm animals, not humans), but for some crazy teenage reason, I accepted the "dare" and placed my tongue on that solid block of salt... and licked.

I love salt! I've had so many lectures given to me by my mother, wife, and others about my salt usage and truly understand that I am a "salt-a-holic". Even if it is "salty enough", by nature, I still pick up the salt shaker and sprinkle more salt on my food. Aside from ice cream, I cannot think of any food that doesn't deserve a smidgen of salt. I have a family member who even put salt on watermelon. Can you imagine? To her, watermelon tastes more flavorful with salt. Considering that her father put salt on grapes, too, I wouldn't say that she's going to too much of an extreme. You might think salt on watermelon and grapes is a bit crazy, but most of us have had the displeasure of tasting food that really needed some salt added. Baked potatoes, green beans, and especially grits just need salt added to be enjoyable!

Recently, a friend of mine gave me a book called "Christ's Method Alone", written by Philip G. Samaan. I love it and highly recommend it as good reading material. I began reading this book over Christmas break and stumbled upon a quote that caused me to underline it and re-copy inside my prayer journal. It reads: "As salt permeates and changes food, so God calls us to infiltrate our world and transform to Christ." When I think about salt, I see its greatest quality is to bring out the flavor in the food we are about to eat.

"Let me tell you why you are here. You're here to be salt-seasoning that brings out the God-flavors of this earth. If you lose your saltiness, how will people taste godliness? You've lost your usefulness and will end up in the garbage" (Matthew 5:13).

May our hearts desire be more like salt... to infiltrate... to transform... May God help us be salty!

In an effort to continue the safety of our students, we are joining the AU Alert system. The purpose of this system is to ensure multiple means of emergency communication to our parents and/or students. During emergencies, this system will send text messages, emails and voice calls to registered recipients. These emergencies may include severe weather alerts, winter weather class cancellations, hostile threats, utility failure, major road closings or fire, among others.

To help us in the set up of this system, we would like to encourage all parents to make sure we have the correct cell phone number, work number, & home number for them & their student here in the office. We will send what numbers we have in & they will be doing a test. Any invalid numbers will be sent back to us. We will let you know what we receive back & when you hear from us, please make any corrections necessary as soon as possible. Thank You!

Students are having a great time at winter Bible Camp at Au Sable. After supper the guys went out to the fort to set up camp. They have a wood stove in the center room with two dorm rooms of bunk beds in rooms on either side of the central room. Some chose to set up their tent in the tower of the fort! (they did stay there all night, morning temp was 5 degrees F). Girls are in a cabin near the cafeteria. Pastor Michael Jones, a seminary student, is the guest speaker at Winter Bible Camp. His theme is Fight the Good Fight. He has a gift in getting students involved in reasoning through the topic he is presenting by reading from the Bible and interaction in developing the thought for the evening. He's great with multimedia with great illustrations of the topic he is presenting. There is about three inches of snow with more on the way.
