

EVANGELISM AND CHURCH GROWTH CONCENTRATION

CHMN737 (8) Strategies for Church Growth

An in-depth study of the factors that promote or hinder church growth, followed by a strong emphasis on developing specific growth strategies for the local church.

CHMN756 (8) Church Planting

This course explores church planting as an evangelistic strategy. Students learn models and procedures for successful church-planting programs including vision casting, identifying and developing lay leaders, mobilizing and supporting church planters, and implementing reproducible systems.

CHMN758 (8) Evangelism

An in-depth exploration of creating public and personal strategies for developing a process of evangelism in the local church. The centrality of the church in evangelism, and public evangelistic methods are presented.

CHMN759 (8) Planting and Leading Cell Churches

This course investigates the factors in cell church growth. The student will develop proficiency for planting cell churches.

GLOBAL MISSION LEADERSHIP CONCENTRATION

MSSN731, 732 (4, 4) Cultural and Religious Analysis - I, II

Using the tools of cultural, social, anthropological, and religious analysis, the specific context and challenges of mission will be analyzed and described in depth as a basis for ministry. The course content will be shaped to fit the local situation.

MSSN741, 742 (4, 4) Mission Strategy Development - I, II

Study of contemporary strategies of mission as a framework and foundation for the development and practice of a ministry plan within specific contexts. The role of leadership in this process is highlighted. Prerequisite: MSSN731, 732 Cultural and Religious Analysis.

Religious Education

Jane Thayer, Director

MISSION

The Religious Education Programs prepare men and women to fulfill the teaching and discipling mandates of the gospel commission.

PROGRAMS

The Religious Education Programs are currently accredited by North Central Association, and a petition seeking their approval has been submitted to The Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada. The Religious Education programs offer studies leading to the Master of Arts and the Doctor of Philosophy degrees in Religious Education. Each graduate will have a biblical knowledge base, an understanding of Christian spiritual formation and nurture, and pedagogical skills to serve in a specialized area of teaching ministry for either the formal (school) or non-formal (church and family) setting.

Religious Education prepares pastor-teachers for leadership roles in settings where religious, moral, and spiritual nurture and growth are primary concerns. Areas of emphasis in Religious Education include family life education, campus spiritual leadership, denominational certification for secondary religion teaching, and other options customized by the student in consultation with an advisor. The degrees are interdisciplinary and offer students considerable flexibility.

In addition to the area of emphasis, the core requirements focus on facilitating the development of the graduate as a

- Christian Apologist
- Pastor-Teacher
- Servant Leader
- Researcher-Evaluator
- Maturing Christian
- Lifelong Scholar

Each of these roles includes a number of competencies that serve as guides to students in designing their programs of study and choosing their courses. Students generally meet the competencies by satisfactorily completing the core courses and emphasis area electives in the curriculum. A Personal Development Plan (PDP) is prepared by each student in consultation with his or her Religious Education advisor. Well-planned choices help to ensure that competencies are met at levels appropriate for the degree pursued.

Students may fulfill the program competencies by course work on campus, field-based courses, web-supported courses, independent studies, and, where warranted, by a portfolio presentation that substantiates skills and experiences.

Graduate Certificates in Religious Education

A graduate certificate program is a focused group of courses with a coherent knowledge base in one field of specialization. Courses in the program are regular graduate courses that are fully transferable into Religious Education graduate degree programs and other graduate programs where these courses are applicable to the curriculum.

Religious Education currently offers one graduate certificate program: Family Life Education (13 semester credits). The successful completion of a graduate certificate program is noted on the student's transcript.

ADMISSION AND TIME LIMIT

The same admission processes and standards are used in graduate certificate programs as are used for master's degree programs, except that the Graduate Record Exam (GRE) is not required. The time for completion of a certificate program should not exceed five years from first enrollment.

DELIVERY SYSTEM

Courses in the graduate certificate programs of Religious Education are given as one-week intensives on a three-year rotation basis. Each intensive requires pre-campus and post-campus work. At least two courses are offered back-to-back each summer, allowing a student to complete the sequence over a three-summer period.

Graduate Certificate: Family Life Education

The Graduate Certificate in the Family Life Education program is designed for pastors, family ministries directors, and lay leaders who want to help foster or support strong families in the church and in the community through teaching in seminars, classes, small groups, and retreats.

The Andrews University graduate certificate program in Family Life Education follows curriculum approved by the National Council on Family Relations (NCFR). An individual who successfully completes the program may use the graduate certificate as support in the application to NCFR for provisional certification as a Certified Family Life Educator. Demonstrated competency is required in 10 content areas that correspond to required NCFR modules. In addition, Andrews University adds theology as part of the family ethics module. Most courses in the Graduate Certificate Program in Family Life Education contain more than one NCFR module. The content areas are

Theological and Ethical Foundations of Family Life
 Families in Society
 Internal Dynamics of Families
 Human Growth and Development
 Human Sexuality
 Interpersonal Relationships
 Family Resource Management
 Parent Education and Guidance
 Family Law and Public Policy
 Family Life Education Methodology

Courses are offered in summer intensives on a rotating basis. At least two courses are offered each summer, allowing a student to complete the sequence over a three-summer period. If a student entered the program before 2001, it will be necessary to take one or two courses during the academic year or during an extended time on campus during one summer.

MA: Religious Education

The Master of Arts in Religious Education is an interdisciplinary academic program that prepares both professional and lay pastor-teachers for leadership roles in settings where religious, moral, and spiritual nurture and growth are primary concerns. Areas of emphasis in Religious Education include family life education, campus spiritual leadership, denominational certification for secondary religion teaching, and other options customized by the student in consultation with an advisor. Students electing to obtain a graduate certificate in family life education or campus spiritual leadership can continue to study and obtain all of the requirements for the MA in Religious Education either by coming to campus full time or by coming to campus for summer intensives that require pre-campus and post-campus academic work. Other options require campus residency throughout the program.

The curriculum is designed with core courses and a selected area of emphasis.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to the MA in Religious Education program is based on the student's meeting the general admission requirements for all graduate students as given on pp. 39-40, and the general Seminary admission requirements on p. 287. Official scores from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) General Test taken within the last five years should be submitted to the Graduate Records Office.

Bible Knowledge Entrance Test. Students must pass the Bible Knowledge Entrance Test with a score of 80% or take the course GSEM525 and pass with a grade of C+ or better.

PREREQUISITES

Applicants must have 16 undergraduate or graduate religion credits and 8 undergraduate or graduate education/religious education credits from an accredited college or university. The emphasis in secondary teaching has additional prerequisites. See p. 253.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The MA in Religious Education is awarded upon successful completion of 32 credits of interdisciplinary study in the Seminary and the School of Education. To remain in regular standing, students must maintain a minimum GPA of 3.00. Courses with a grade below B- do not count toward the degree.

Advancement to Candidacy. In the semester that students will complete 50 percent of their course work, they must apply for advancement to candidacy. See p. 46 of the Graduate Programs Academic Information section of this bulletin.

Comprehensive Examinations. Candidates for the MA degree must pass comprehensive examinations given at the published times. The one-day exams entail a three-hour morning session and a two-hour afternoon session.

Time Limits. A student must complete the requirements for the MA in Religious Education degree and graduate within six years of first enrolling in the program regardless of admission classification.

DENOMINATIONAL CERTIFICATION FOR TEACHING RELIGION/BIBLE ON THE SECONDARY LEVEL

SDA Basic Certificate. The Basic Teaching Certificate for denominational certification may be issued to the candidate presenting a Verification of Eligibility form from Andrews University. The certificate is issued by the union conference where the candidate takes his/her first teaching position. Candidates who want to earn a master's level degree and obtain denominational teaching certification may take the MA in Religious Education with an emphasis in secondary teaching.

PREREQUISITES

- Equivalent of an undergraduate major in religion or another teaching major with a religion minor; as an alternative take extra graduate courses in religion and theology;
- Religion courses in Spirit of Prophecy, Seventh-day Adventist doctrines, and Seventh-day Adventist church history;
- Membership and good standing in the Seventh-day Adventist Church
- Passing score on Michigan test of basic competencies.

PhD: Religious Education

The PhD in Religious Education prepares men and women to be scholars, teachers and researchers in specialized teaching and discipling ministries of the Church. All candidates further develop the core competencies of a religious educator and select an area of specialization for intense study and research using research methodologies of the social sciences.

AREAS OF SPECIALIZATION

- Family life education
- Campus spiritual leadership
- Education history
- Theological curriculum and instruction

Graduates with a PhD in Religious Education are prepared to serve the church in teaching and leadership ministries focused on the family, the church, and the school and to investigate contemporary religious education issues using social sciences research methodologies.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

In addition to meeting the general admission requirements listed in the Graduate Programs Admission section of this bulletin, pp. 39-40, and in the Seminary Admission Requirements, p. 287, applicants must

- Hold an MDiv degree; or an MA in Religion; or an MA degree in education or related area plus have 28 credits in religion (16 of which may be on the undergraduate level).
- Have 16 undergraduate or graduate credits in education.
- Show promise of future usefulness to church and society.
- Demonstrate the ability to handle doctoral-level work in English. See proficiency standards in the Graduate Programs Admission section, p. 40.

Time to Apply. While early applications are recommended, the deadlines for application to the PhD in Religious Education program are as follows:

- For North American students: three months prior to the anticipated starting date.
- For non-North American students: four months prior to the anticipated starting date.

Items to Submit. In addition to submitting the items required of all graduate students (see p. 287-288), applicants to the PhD in Religious Education must also submit

- A 600-word statement of purpose, which includes their mission statement, a description of the journey that created a desire to pursue doctoral studies, and a vision of the professional accomplishments they foresee.
- A 200-300 word description of their area of interest for dissertation research and an explanation of this choice.
- A significant research paper (term paper, thesis, or research report), normally written during the master's level studies. This paper should give evidence of the applicant's ability to carry out research and to present the results and conclusions of such work in standard English and in an acceptable style.

Research Requirements. Students entering the PhD in Religious Education program should have a foundation in research methods of education and psychology and in basic statistics as evidenced by EDRM505 and EDRM611 or their equivalents.

EDRM710 and EDRE887 are required.

Students should also select two methodologies from the following list:

EDRM612 (statistics II)

EDRM613 (statistics III)

EDRM604 (survey and scale development)

EDRM605 (qualitative research) OR EDCI636 (program evaluation)

HIST650 (historical methodology)

GSEM850 (documentary methods)

At the time of their topic approval, students must show competency in the proposed research methodology/ies of their dissertation research. The research project from the course RLED887 Applied Research is an appropriate way to demonstrate this competency.

Curricula for Concentrations

Courses for the concentrations and, in some cases, language prerequisites for concentrations are listed below:

- Family life education
RLED635, 655, 657, 658, 659, 678; electives
- Campus spiritual leadership (to be determined)
- Education history
Language prerequisite: Language competency as needed for research
- Cognate in church history; EDFN517, 554; electives (7-8 credits)
- Theological curriculum and instruction
Language prerequisite: Complete the course Intermediate Greek or Biblical Hebrew II or pass a qualifying examination at the intermediate level in Greek or Hebrew.
Two cognates from among the following: Biblical archaeology & history of antiquity, Christian ministry, church history, mission, New Testament, Old Testament, theology and Christian philosophy; elective (3 credits).

General Requirements

- All course work taken at the Seminary should be at the 600-, 800-, or 900-levels; course work taken at the School of Education should be appropriate for doctoral level study.
- At least 51% of the student's course work should be designed specifically for doctoral students.
- A minimum of 32 credits in approved on-campus doctoral course work (not including the dissertation) must be completed after acceptance into the doctoral program at Andrews University.
- Students must earn a 3.00 cumulative GPA for all course work in the degree program.
- Students must establish residency by taking a full-time load (8 credits) for two of three consecutive terms (semester or summer).
- Students must pass the comprehensive examination.
- Students must write and defend a dissertation.

Time Limits. All degree requirements must be completed within ten years of first registration for Andrews University doctoral course work. All course work and the comprehensive examination must be completed within six years of first registration. The dissertation must be completed within five years after passing the comprehensive examination. (The student who takes six years to complete course work and pass the comprehensive exam will be allowed four years to complete the dissertation.)

Full-time Status. For students who have not completed all courses for the degree, full-time status requires one of the following options:

- Registering for 8 or more credits of course work and/or dissertation and/or internship.
- Registering for 4 or more credits of dissertation.

For students who have completed all requirements for the degree except the dissertation, full-time status requires all of the following:

- Registering for one or more credits of dissertation or dissertation continuation;
- Doing "full-time" work on the dissertation or internship as defined by at least 24 hours a week or 720 hours per year and confirmation of same by the dissertation chair.

Bulletin Requirements. A student may choose to meet the requirements of any bulletin in force after acceptance into the doctoral program, as long as he/she maintains active status. If a break of enrollment occurs and the student is placed on inactive status, he/she must meet the requirements of a bulletin in effect after enrollment resumes.

PROGRESSION THROUGH THE PROGRAM

Course Plan. Upon acceptance into the program, the student is assigned an advisor by the director of the program. Normally within the first 16 credits of study the student and advisor prepare a course plan for completing the degree requirements. This course plan must be approved by the Religious Education Office.

Comprehensive Examination. Early in their program, students should obtain a copy of the Comprehensive Examination Guidelines from the Religious Education Office.

All prerequisites and regular course requirements of 48 credits or more must be completed before the student sits for the comprehensive examination. The comprehensive examination consists of eight sections, one of which may be given in a take-home format, one of which may be a portfolio presentation, and six of which must be written in a supervised environment. The examination occurs on the dates published in the academic calendar for School of Education doctoral comprehensive examinations.

Formal application to take the comprehensive examination should be made by the beginning of the semester preceding the semester the student intends to take the examination.

For more detailed information regarding the comprehensive examination, see the Religious Education Doctoral Handbook.

Advancement to Candidacy. Students should apply for advancement to degree candidacy when they apply to take comprehensive examinations and after they have

- completed all prerequisites;
- removed any English language deficiency;
- completed all course requirements or are registered for them;
- removed all deferred grades, except in RLED950.

The student is advanced to degree candidacy after passing the comprehensive examination.

Dissertation Committee. Before the student registers for EDM880 Dissertation Proposal Development, the student -- in consultation with his/her advisor -- selects a tentative dissertation topic. The program director, in consultation with the student and advisor then appoints a faculty member knowledgeable about the tentative topic to chair the student's dissertation committee. The student and the chair of the student's committee select two additional faculty members to complete the student's committee so that all three members may contribute to the development of the proposal. All three members of this dissertation committee must approve the proposal before it is presented to the Religious Education Doctoral Committee.

Any proposed changes to the dissertation committee are subject to the approval of the Religious Education Doctoral Committee.

At least six weeks before the dissertation defense, the director, in consultation with the dean of the Seminary, appoints an external examiner. This person is normally a scholar from another graduate institution.

Dissertation Proposal. No later than the last semester of course work, students must submit to the Religious Education Doctoral Committee a final proposal that is approved by their dissertation committee. Students defend their proposal before the Religious Education Doctoral Committee.

Two types of proposals are acceptable:

1. A 10-15 page overview of the major elements of the dissertation.
2. The first three chapters in tentative form.

Either format must include a clear statement of the problem, the research question/s, a preliminary survey of relevant literature, and the research methodology.

Dissertation Preparation. The dissertation prepared by the PhD candidate must

- Make an original contribution to scholarship
- Demonstrate the candidate's competence for independent research
- Reveal the candidate's familiarity with and proficiency in handling the relevant literature
- Present a logically organized, methodologically sound, and readable account of the investigation, findings, conclusions, and implications of the study.

See the Religious Education Doctoral Handbook for more information on dissertation preparation.

Oral Defense of the Dissertation. The candidate must orally defend his/her dissertation. The defense date is set and announced by the director of the Religious Education Program at least two weeks before the defense. No defenses are scheduled during the final two weeks of a term or during the interim between semesters.

See the Religious Education Doctoral Handbook for more information on the oral defense of the dissertation.

- RLED887 (1-3)
Applied Research
A planned research experience dealing with a research question in the area of religious education. The student identifies a faculty member or members with whom to engage in collaborative research study leading to joint publication. Project to support competency for dissertation research.
- RLED888 (0)
Dissertation Continuation
Reduced tuition rate applies.
- RLED930 (3)
Seminar: _____
Group study in specified areas of Religious Education. Repeatable. Permission of advisor and instructor required.
- RLED950 (3)
Synthesis in Religious Education
A capstone course in which students synthesize their learning experiences by examining the structure of the discipline, discussing its major issues, and reviewing its basic literature. Students make portfolio presentations to demonstrate program competencies. Preferably taken in the last semester of course work.
- RLED995 (1-14)
Doctoral Dissertation
To be repeated to 14 credits. Doctoral candidates may not register for a cumulative total of more than 4 dissertation credits until they have successfully completed EDRM880 or GSEM854, and their dissertation proposal has been approved.

PhD: Religion

Randall W. Younker, Director

The primary purpose of advanced academic studies leading to the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD): Religion is to provide teacher-scholars for church-operated colleges, seminaries, and universities around the world.

AREAS OF SPECIALIZATION

When students apply to the PhD program in religion, they select one of the five areas of study listed below.

Adventist Studies

- Development of Adventist lifestyle
- Development of Adventist theology
- General Adventist history

Mission and Ministry Studies

- Analysis of the biblical, theological, and theoretical basis for mission
- Evangelization of unreached people groups and urban population clusters
