

Welcome home!

Demetra and I are so pleased to welcome you back to Andrews University for our 2006 homecoming event.

Fall at Andrews is a wonderful time to return home. The changing colors, late summer fruit, warm days and crisp mornings all help make this a time for relaxing and renewal. Special events include worship with Pastor Dwight K. Nelson and a gala concert in the Howard Performing Arts Center.

We are pleased to welcome a special guest to campus this year— D. Jeanne Andrews Willumson, great-granddaughter of J. N. Andrews. Dr. Willumson recently donated a valuable collection of important historical materials from her family, including 29 handwritten letters by J. N. Andrews. This collection is currently housed on campus in the Center for Adventist Research.

With every good wish for a delightful and rewarding family get together, I remain,

Cordially yours,

Niels-Erik Andreasen '65, '66
President, Andrews University will be coordinated in conjunction with Student Success, the Counseling & Testing Center and Alumni Services.

12:30 pm

Physics Homeshow

Haughey Hall 133,

Thompson Amphitheatre

Physics faculty and alumni will honor Bruce Lee's 50 years at Andrews with a fascinating show of physics demonstrations at the weekly physics-math colloquium *eigen*TALK*. Bruce Lee is a renowned master of physics demonstrations, and through his efforts has brought the Department of Physics collection of laboratory equipment and demonstrations to a competitive standard. He continues to direct Physics Enterprises and to develop new products that enhance the teaching of physics through demonstrations and laboratory experiments.

1:30 pm

Bruce Lee Luncheon

Science Complex Patio

Physics alumni, as well as previous students of Bruce Lee in other disciplines, are invited to join the physics faculty and current students in a celebration of Bruce Lee's 50 years at Andrews University. A festive meal will be served, weather permitting, on the patio that Bruce Lee made possible several years ago. Alternate plans will take the venue indoors in case of inclement weather. Please e-mail your RSVP to physics@andrews.edu any time before Friday, but feel free to join the celebration even if you are unable to RSVP.

2:30 pm

Physics Enterprises Tour

Haughey Hall 133,

Thompson Amphitheatre

Alumni are invited to visit the working spaces of Physics Enterprises, where a surprising number of physics equipment pieces are assembled. In the amphitheatre recently refurbished and currently being converted into a "smart classroom" with Physics Enterprises proceeds, Director Bruce Lee will begin with a brief history of the journey that led to the establishment of Physics Enterprises. With his assistant Tony Clark and other Physics Enterprises employees, he will then guide visitors to the heart of his enterprise.

3:30–5:00 pm

Presidential Reception and University Press Open House

Sutherland House

This is your opportunity to visit with Dr. and Mrs. Niels-Erik Andreassen '65, '66, meet our new Provost, Dr. Heather Knight, her husband Dr. Norman Knight '89, and chat with other senior administrators in a charming and historical setting.

6:15 pm (Line up at 5:45 pm)

Annual Homecoming Parade

Line up begins in the PMC parking lot.

Route leads along the front of the Alumni

House to the Administration Building

Parking Lot

Creative floats, marching bands, princesses and fire trucks—everyone loves a parade! Experience the pageantry as it moves through campus. Current students and reunion classes come out and march with your classmates. Over $500 in prize money will go to the winning entries.

6:45 pm

Awards Ceremony

Administration Building Parking Lot

Come cheer for the winners of the Homecoming Parade at the end of their route.

7:00 pm

International Flag-Raising Ceremony

On the University Green

Our campus is internationally renowned for its diversity, and it's no surprise that the demographics of Andrews University almost exactly parallel the demographics of the Seventh-day Adventist church. One of the most beautiful portrayals of our global community is the annual Flag-Raising Ceremony. If you have international attire, please wear it proudly!

7:30 pm Sundown

7:30 pm

Vespers

Pioneer Memorial Church

Speaker, John Kent '01, Adventist Frontier Missions Training Director.

Join us for this Mission Vespers sponsored by Campus Ministries Missions Department. Come and hear about the many ways God blesses us every year. We will also hear stories from returning student missionaries, their parents and alumni who have served as missionaries.

Directly following vespers...

Missions Café

Howard Performing Arts Center

This event will feature music, hot drinks and the chance to walk among the booths from each of the student missionaries. Talk one-on-one with them, look through their pictures, and share what it was like to be a missionary when you were here at Andrews.

Wisconsin Academy Reunion

Whirlpool Room, Chan Shun Hall

This Open House is sponsored by the Wisconsin Academy class of 1964. ALL graduates, faculty and friends are invited to mingle and enjoy the refreshments provided. Come and enjoy the Sabbath evening hours with your former classmates.

HONORED ALUMNI 2006

The Andrews University Alumni Association Medallion is presented to honored alumni who have been nominated by fellow alumni and approved by the Alumni Board of directors to be recipients of this award. Honored Alumni are selected on the basis of outstanding service to the University, unusual achievement in a profession or occupation, and contributions to the community of church. Congratulations to this year's recipients.

Sherry McLaughlin '89 '90

By the age of 12, Sherry already had figured out what she wanted to do when she grew up. During her high school years at Adelpian Academy, she decided where she wanted to go to prepare for it. In 1986, Sherry enrolled in the physical therapy program at Andrews University, graduating in 1989 with her Bachelors of Science Degree in Anatomy and Physiology. The following year she graduated with her Masters Degree.

Since then, Sherry has worked in outpatient orthopedic rehabilitation clinics in southeastern Michigan. She founded the Michigan Institute for Human Performance in Warren, MI in 1998 and recently opened her second private practice. An adjunct faculty member at Macomb Community College, Sherry also serves as a corporate consultant specializing in injury prevention, sports specific conditioning and orthopedic rehabilitation. She has authored several physical therapy manuals and two inspirational books.

Sherry actively engages with her community. Each year she organizes a Circuit-a-thon, and sets up an exercise circuit in the parking lot of one of her MIHP clinics. The funds raised are donated to a local non-profit organization.

One of her greatest hopes is that Andrews University "will continue to produce individuals who will courageously share the Gospel, first and foremost by being responsible, contributing individuals to the betterment of this world."

Sherry McLaughlin perfectly embodies this sentiment, leading by example and inspiring all who know her.

Bruce E. Lee '49 '96

As the son of missionary parents, Bruce Lee first came to Andrews from North Korea, as a one-year-old baby, in 1928. He graduated from Andrews Academy and Emmanuel Missionary College, subsequently returning to the Academy as science teacher. In 1956 Bruce joined the Andrews University faculty as a physics teacher where he taught for 32 years.

Bruce's contribution to the science programs and to the discipline of physics education at large, is extensive. Over the years he displayed superb mastery of the art of physics demonstrations, many of which are still used by Andrews' faculty today.

During the 80s, Bruce designed, developed, and built a number of experiments that are sold in the PASCO scientific and Vernier catalogues. Additionally, his experiments have received national recognition, winning him several prizes from the American Association of Physics Teachers in the Apparatus Competition. The equipment he created has had a major impact on high school and college teaching of the physical sciences.

Bruce's service to Andrews extends beyond the classroom however. He was active in planning and conducting numerous science related workshops, and also pioneered safety procedures in radiation protection, serving as the University's Radiation Officer for many years.

Through his company, Physics Enterprises, the university has been the recipient of substantial financial contributions. At his request, the bulk of the income has been used to benefit the university in some way, including supporting and establishing numerous endowed scholarships for both science and non-science majors.

Bruce's vision of the place of undergraduate science in the university has not only had a dramatic impact on how science is taught, but his efforts have served to improve the teaching strength of many disciplines within the university. He holds the rank of Emeritus Professor in Physics and in 1996, received an honorary degree, ScD, from Andrews University.

Loren B. Hamel '76

Born in St. Joseph, Michigan, just a few miles from Andrews University, Loren Hamel has spent almost his entire professional life ministering to the needs of this community. A product of the Andrews' school system, Loren attended the elementary school and academy, ultimately graduating from the University with his Bachelors of Science Degree, with honors, in 1976.

After three years in California, Loren graduated from Loma Linda University School of Medicine in 1980. He then moved to Hinsdale, Illinois, for a family practice residency where he served as chief resident. Loren returned to Berrien Springs in 1983, at age 27, to direct a multi-specialty physician group and establish his own medical practice.

Over the last 23 years Loren has served as Director of Student Health Services, taught as a clinical professor of Nursing for 5 years, served as a corporate physician for the Whirlpool Corporation, and was appointed chief of staff at Lakeland Health System. For the last 6 years he has shared a role as Vice President for Medical Affairs at Lakeland with his twin brother, and medical partner, Lowell Hamel, BS '76.

This month Loren completed his Masters Degree in Health Services Administration from the University of Michigan and next month he assumes a full-time role as Senior Vice President at Lakeland.

A firm believer in the principle of giving back to his alma mater, Loren has served as a member of the Human Subjects Review Board, Director of Student Health Services, two-term President of the Andrews University Alumni Association, chairman of the J. N. Andrews Sculpture Committee and a member of the Presidential Search Committee.

Loren and his wife Ann Cooper Hamel, MA '94, PhD '97, share 7 children and 3 grandchildren.

"Andrews University, and its outstanding Christ-centered faculty and administrators, have had a profound impact on my professional choices and my personal life," says Loren. "It has been such a privilege to be entrusted with the health care needs of students, staff, faculty, and retirees."

Winsome Hope Clarke '75 '76

Born in Kingston, Jamaica in the early 1940s, Winsome Clarke displayed her love and passion for music at an early age. She was a founding member of the Jamaica School of Music in 1961. After moving to Michigan in 1971, she attended Andrews University where she graduated with a BMus in 1975 and an MMus in 1976.

Winsome showed a flair for educational administration and after leaving Andrews she went on to receive a PhD in Educational Administration from Ohio University.

Returning to her beloved Jamaica, Winsome taught in the public school system for 20 years. She worked almost an additional 20 years for the Ministry of Education as Co-ordinator of Secondary Education where she was in charge of Jamaica's 135 high schools.

Included in the "Who's Who" publications in the USA, United Kingdom and the Caribbean, Winsome was selected as an International Visitor in Education by the American government and invited on a multi-state tour of the country in 1997.

A prolific writer, Winsome has published numerous articles on music and education through the years.

In 1998 she was made a Justice of the Peace and in the same year she was made a Commonwealth Lay Magistrate (London.)

In 2001, Winsome received a gold medal at Kings House for 36 years in public education. She currently serves as a member of the American Studies Committee and on the International Visitor Association at the United States Embassy in Kingston, Jamaica.

In speaking of her alma mater, Winsome states, "Andrews University helped set me up for life. Since pacing its hallowed halls of academe, thank God, I have never looked back. Beyond preparing me vocationally, Andrews taught me the sweet reward found in letting go and letting God lead totally in my life."

HONORARY ALUMNA

D. Jeanne Andrews Willumson

Dr. D. Jeanne Andrews Willumson is a great-granddaughter of J. N. Andrews, pioneer missionary and namesake of Andrews University. She is also a direct descendant of W. A. Spicer, past president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. In October 2005 she graciously donated to the Andrews University, Center for Adventist Research, important historical materials from her family, including 29 handwritten letters by J. N. Andrews, 10 letters by Ellen G. White, correspondence to W. A. Spicer chronicling early twentieth-century missionary work in Western China, and many additional manuscripts, artifacts, and photographs.

Dr. Willumson was born February 6, 1922, in what was then Tatsienlu, China near the Tibetan border. She was the third of four surviving children born to pioneer missionary parents, Dr. J. N. Andrews MD and Dorothy Spicer Andrews. Jeanne graduated from the College of Medical Evangelists (now Loma Linda University, School of Medicine) in 1950.

In 1953 after completing a residency in pediatrics she became the first staff member of the Loma Linda Sanitarium and Hospital to specialize exclusively in pediatrics. She continued in that capacity, and also taught until her retirement 50 years later in 2003.

Over the years she has cared for many children of Andrews University alumni and even watched many of them graduate from various health or medical related disciplines. Dr. Willumson has the same dedication, humility and sacrificial spirit as her grandfather, W. A. Spicer, and her great-grandfather, J. N. Andrews. She is accompanied to this year's Alumni Homecoming Weekend by her daughter Tiina Willumson.

Special thanks to the faculty, staff, student and alumni volunteers who have worked so hard to contribute to the success of this weekend! I am thankful for the dedication you have shown through your involvement, on so many levels. You are the reason this has been such a memorable weekend for our guests.

Thank you, Raymond J. Hamblin BS '67 and Madlyn C. Hamblin AT, from The Hamblin Company, for your generous contribution of this printed program. Your friends at Andrews appreciate the loyalty you've shown in supporting your alma mater in so many ways.

I appreciate the skill and artistry of Dan Tilstra '82. Thank you, Dan for the beautiful watercolor you painted for this year's Homecoming program.

And finally, I would like to express my gratitude to you, our alumni, for making the effort to be here. I hope you enjoyed participating in the events we prepared for you, and trust you had a good time visiting with friends and former classmates. Let us know what you enjoyed most and feel free to offer suggestions for new programming – after all, you are the reason we do this each year.

Thank you for being our honored guests.

Serving Him,
