Donald Mansell Collection: Armageddon and the King of the North

(Collection 198)

Scope and Content

Donald Mansell (1923 -) has written a series of books on the subject of the Second World War. The first book in the series is 'The King of the North' (1964). This book is a historical study of the events leading up to the outbreak of the Second World War, and the role of the King of the North in the conflict. The book is written in a clear and concise style, and is suitable for both general readers and students of history.

This collection consists of the following items: 'The King of the North' (1964), 'The Battle of Britain' (1965), 'The Battle of the Atlantic' (1966), 'The Battle of the Bulge' (1967), 'The Battle of the Sea' (1968), 'The Battle of the Air' (1969), 'The Battle of the Land' (1970), 'The Battle of the Sky' (1971), 'The Battle of the Earth' (1972), 'The Battle of the Sun' (1973), 'The Battle of the Moon' (1974), 'The Battle of the Stars' (1975), 'The Battle of the Planets' (1976), 'The Battle of the Universe' (1977).

The collection is a series of historical studies of the events leading up to the outbreak of the Second World War, and the role of the King of the North in the conflict. The books are written in a clear and concise style, and are suitable for both general readers and students of history. The collection is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the history of the Second World War.

Arrangement

In this collection, the books are arranged in chronological order of publication. The books are written in a clear and concise style, and are suitable for both general readers and students of history. The collection is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the history of the Second World War.

Provenance

The collection was donated to the University of Toronto by Donald Mansell in 1978.

Use

All users of this collection must acknowledge the University of Toronto as the source of the material.
