

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES

What can I do with this major?

AREAS	EMPLOYERS	STRATEGIES
COMMERCIAL RECREATION Resort and Private Recreation: Administration Guest Relations: Trip Planning and Reservations Sales/Marketing Event/Program Planning and Evaluation Facilities Management	Convention services Event planning companies Corporate employee services Hotels Resorts Theme/amusement parks Casinos Country clubs Motor home parks Campgrounds Boating/marina facilities Second home communities Travel/tourism companies Guide services Ecotourism agencies Cruise, air, bus and rail lines	Develop strong communication and customer service skills and the ability to work well with people from various backgrounds. Acquire foreign language experience and study abroad to increase multicultural perspective. Seek employment with resorts, hotels, recreation departments or special events companies. Pursue positions in reservations or telephone sales to build sales and customer service skills. Volunteer at university and community-wide conferences. Join student organizations related to travel or recreation and seek leadership and planning opportunities. Increase knowledge of business theory by pursuing a minor or by taking additional classes in management, advertising and public relations.
Local Recreation: Administration Facilities Management Sales/Marketing Event/Program Planning and Evaluation	Multipurpose sports clubs Racquet clubs Dance studios Health and fitness clubs Pools Golf courses Sport-related franchises, eg. Little Gym, My Gym Bowling alleys Skating rinks Movie theaters Party services Entertainment providers Event planning companies Festivals and fairs Vendors	Seek experience through related internships, part-time or summer jobs at campus and community recreational facilities. Join student organizations such as campus entertainment board, cultural attractions committee or student union. Participate in planning/executing community events and activities, i.e. fairs, festivals, sporting events, conventions. Develop membership sales techniques for some customer-service positions.

AREAS	EMPLOYERS	STRATEGIES
GOVERNMENT RECREATION Administration Program Management Recreation Management Recreation Planning Park Development/Management Natural Resource Management	City, county or regional government agencies: Parks, public recreation/education programs State and federal government agencies: Parks, forests, wildlife areas and water resources Conservation organizations Department of Defense: Military bases in U.S. and foreign countries Correctional facilities Rehabilitation centers	Learn federal, state and local job application procedures. Obtain experience with government agencies. Participate in campus and local recreation programs and activities. Volunteer to lead teams or organize committees in local recreation leagues. Take additional coursework in wildlife, turf or natural resource management, exercise science or other related field to increase marketability.
COMMUNITY RECREATION Administration Camp Management Program Management Community Center Management Programming Coaching	Community centers Community programs Senior centers Adult daycare centers Special Olympics Youth programs, i.e. YMCA or YWCA Sports leagues Camps and outdoor recreational programs Nonprofit, social service and religiously-affiliated organizations	Obtain experience with community-based programs, camps, youth groups, etc. through paid, intern or volunteer positions. Get involved in campus activities and seek leadership roles. Learn to work well with people from varying backgrounds with varying abilities.
FAITH-BASED RECREATION Administration Program Management Facility Management	Churches Synagogues Mosques Para-church organizations, i.e. Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Campus Crusade for Christ	Understand the relationship between religion, sport and recreation. Participate in faith-based recreational programs, and seek leadership experience. Develop skills for working in multi-cultural environments. Research major programs such as AWANA and CYO (Catholic Youth Organization). Attend training seminars that target sport and recreation in religious organizations such as RecLab.

AREAS	EMPLOYERS	STRATEGIES
RECREATION RETAILING Management Buying/Purchasing Small Business Ownership	Department stores Specialty shops Pro shops/Club stores Sporting goods stores Outdoor outfitters	Obtain a part-time job or internship in sales to gain experience, as these positions are often stepping stones to higher-level opportunities. Develop excellent interpersonal, communication and customer service skills. Hone management and persuasion techniques. Seek experience in all retail areas including purchasing, stock control and merchandise display and promotions. Pursue expertise in a recreational area such as hiking, fishing, boating, skiing or hunting. Take additional coursework in business or pursue a business minor. Plan to work long and/or irregular hours, including holidays.

EDUCATION

Teaching Research Administration Student Affairs including: Student Activities Campus Programming Campus Recreation, i.e. outdoor recreation programs, facilities management, fitness programming, intramural/club sports	Colleges and universities Public and private schools (K-12) Public and private preschool programs (e.g., Head Start) Programs servicing children and adults with special needs	Earn a graduate degree for teaching at the college and university level. Research the process for teacher certification in the K-12 system, which varies by state. Seek part-time or summer jobs working with youth. Serve as a tutor, peer mentor, resident assistant or student advisor. Utilize campus recreational programs and facilities, including intramural sports, as a first step in pursuing student affairs positions.
---	---	---

AREAS

EMPLOYERS

STRATEGIES

THERAPEUTIC RECREATION

Administration/Management:
 Programs and Staff
 Evaluation and Documentation
Specialties:
 Intervention
 Aquatic Outdoor

Rehabilitation hospitals/centers
Nursing homes
Senior centers
Adult daycare centers
Assisted living facilities
Residential facilities
Psychiatric facilities
Community mental health centers
Substance abuse centers
Recovery centers
Correctional facilities
Educational facilities
Camps and outdoor recreational programs

Pursue a major in therapeutic recreation or a program with a therapeutic recreation focus.
Volunteer and intern in therapeutic recreation settings such as camps, senior centers and rehabilitation facilities.
Demonstrate ability to work as part of an interdisciplinary team with physicians, nurses, physical and occupational therapists.
Earn relevant licensure or certification; regulation varies by state. Consider specializations in areas such as aquatics, intervention, outdoor recreation and art therapy.
Exhibit patience, creativity, motivational skills and a high comfort level working with people of all ages including those who are sick or disabled.

GENERAL INFORMATION

- An undergraduate degree is sufficient for entry-level recreation positions. A graduate degree may be required for administrative positions and teaching/research positions at universities and colleges.
- Obtain summer, part-time, internship or volunteer experience in camps, recreation/fitness centers, social service organizations, tourist attractions, etc.
- Develop solid background of recreational and leisure theories and therapeutic practices.
- Develop broad knowledge base of recreational activities such as athletics, music, arts and crafts, nature, dance, drama, etc.
- Hone leadership and supervisory skills for coordinating and directing others in various activities.
- Obtain Certified Therapeutic Recreation Specialist (CTRS) credential offered through the National Council for Therapeutic Recreation Certification for some positions. Certification in first aid and safety, CPR or lifeguarding may be helpful.
- Demonstrate strong interpersonal, verbal and written communication skills and the ability to work on a team.
- Learn to interact effectively with people of various ages, backgrounds and ability levels.
- Exhibit physical agility, stamina and a motivational spirit. An interest in working outdoors is essential for some positions.
- Join related professional associations. Attend state/national professional association conferences.
- Seek knowledge of U.S. and world geography, history, social customs and languages for some opportunities.
- Consider participating in the Walt Disney College Program.