Part 1: Course Information

Course Descriptions
An introduction to source-based, academic writing, including practice in summarizing, analyzing, synthesizing and reading from a critical perspective. Sections organized thematically.

Prerequisite
ENGL 115 or ENGL 117. Cannot be audited or CLEPed.

Course Learning Outcomes
The central goal of ENGL 215 is to improve on your ability to think, speak, and write analytically in both public and private forums. Outlined below are the Course Objectives and Goals for ENGL 215.

After successfully completing the course, students will be able to do the following:
1. Reproduce the MLA style in their writing and documentation.
2. Identify major arguments and important social issues in texts and scholarly articles.
3. Interpret information to develop原创 arguments related to community problems and issues.
4. Criticize information and arguments in their writing.
5. Evaluate arguments for clarity, structure, and rhetorical proficiency.
6. Construct original arguments in academic writing through a variety of genres.
7. Engage in community organization and justice from personal, civic, and spiritual perspectives.
Required Text/Material

- Clear organization of all assignments and materials on your personal computer (I recommend a folder for each class and subfolders for handouts and each of your papers/projects)
- Microsoft Word (please do not submit Google Docs, ODTs, or PDFs to LearningHub)

NOTE: Purchase textbooks through any online bookstore, such as amazon.com, which can deliver within 2 days. If you need to use financial aid to purchase textbooks, email sdestudents@andrews.edu, cutting and pasting the textbook information from syllabi, including course title and section, your full name and student ID#.

Credit Hour and Commitment

This class will take about 3 hours/day not including Sabbath. This course is offered for 3 semester credits. In a face to face 15-week semester class, that typically requires 3 hours of classroom time per week, and 6 hours of homework per week for a total of about 135 hours. This class is delivered online in 16 weeks; so you should plan to spend about 3 hours/day on this class, including reading, accessing instructional materials, interacting with your instructor and classmates, and completing homework. A schedule of due dates to accomplish this work is included in this syllabus.

Part 2: Course Methods and Delivery

Methods of Instruction

Methods of instruction include assigned readings, weekly participation in the online class discussion and peer evaluations, writing, revision, feedback, and more writing. Regular participation in the course is essential to good performance.

Technical Requirements

- Internet connection (DSL, LAN, or cable connection desirable).

LearningHub Access

This course is delivered online through LearningHub at http://learninghub.andrews.edu

Your username and password are your Andrews username and password. You need to activate your username and password to access LearningHub.

Please do this online here:
https://vault.andrews.edu/vault/pages/activation/information.jsp if you haven’t already. If you need assistance, call or email us: (296) 471-6016 or mailto:helpdesk@andrews.edu.

If you need technical assistance at any time during the course, or to report a problem with LearningHub, please email dlit@andrews.edu or call (269) 471-3960.
Part 3: Course Requirements

Important Note: This online class is not self-paced. You can arrange your schedule flexibly during each week, but you MUST participate each week. You are expected to “show up” to class by interacting in the discussion forums a minimum of two times per week. In addition, assignments are due regularly each week. Adequate Internet access during the duration of the course is critical for your participation. To be successful, plan to spend time daily on the course.

Assessment Descriptions

Essays: There are three major essays that will form the majority of your coursework: an article analysis on a selected article (NOT book review!) from Part 5 in the textbook, the Arts and Letters Daily, or another appropriate intellectual site approved by the instructor; a community problem essay, in which you select a problem and track its causes and effects; and a proposal in which you forward a solution to the problem addressed in Essay 2. To write a successful essay please read and follow carefully the methods discussed in the lessons and textbook. For more information, see the instructions for each essay. These are found in LearningHub.

Devotional Posts: You will be responsible for five weekly devotional blog posts that your classmates will view and write responses to you—you and your classmates will sign up at the beginning of the semester, so that the posts are evenly divided throughout the term. Draw from spiritual insights or the Bible for each post. Do focus on something uplifting, and avoid preaching, criticizing, and stone-throwing! This is something to inspire others and provide spiritual food! You’ll need to respond to at least ten other posts, as well.

Assigned Readings: Readings are drawn from the textbook and other online materials. The course schedule below lists the reading assignments and their due dates.

Discussion Boards and Video Conferences: The discussion in this class is intended to build community and help us to feel connected to each other. Consider it a classroom conversation, not writing! In addition, the video conferences provide the forum to provide students with direct instructional feedback.

Peer Critique: Each of the essays will be followed by peer critique. Your role is to read the selection chosen by the peer, engage in evaluative and assessment process, understand the topic of the essay, recognize its objectives and ensure that all guidelines for the essay are met. Afterwards, you will provide constructive and professional comment on the topic, writing process, and content development. For more detailed guidelines for peer critique, please see LearningHub.

Rubrics

Assessment rubrics for each major essay or assignment can be found on the LearningHub modules. Please download each, so that you know how your essay will be graded and can understand the specific requirements for your individual assignments.
Schedule:
All times in the schedule are for the U.S. Eastern Time Zone.

Part 5: Course Policies

Withdrawal and Incomplete Policies
The current withdrawal policy can be found online at https://www.andrews.edu/distance/students/gradplus/withdrawal.html. The incomplete policy is found online at http://www.andrews.edu/weblmsc/moodle/public/incompletes.html.

Late Work
Late work will not be accepted. Timely completion of all assignments is an absolute necessity due to the nature of the online course. Unless a reasonable excuse is provided, all assignments are required to be turned in on the date indicated. If you cannot complete the week’s assignments due to a medical emergency or conflict with another school’s commitments, you are responsible for making these conflicts known to your instructor and asking their assistance negotiating any extensions they may accept.

Maintain Professional Conduct Both in the Classroom and Online
The classroom is a professional environment where academic debate and learning take place. Your instructor will make every effort to make this environment safe for you to share your opinions, ideas, and beliefs. In return, you are expected to respect the opinions, ideas, and beliefs of other students—both in the face-to-face classroom and online communication. Students have the right and privilege to learn in the class, free from harassment and disruption.

Netiquette
In this course you will communicate with your classmates and instructor primarily in writing through the discussion forum and e-mail.

"Online manners" are generally known as "netiquette." As a general rule, you should adhere to the same classroom conduct that you would "off-line" in a face-to-face course. Some examples of proper netiquette are:

1. Avoid writing messages in all capital letters. THIS IS GENERALLY UNDERSTOOD AS SHOUTING.
2. Be careful what you put in writing. Even if you are writing an e-mail message to one person, assume that anyone could read it. Though you may send an e-mail to a single person, it is very easy to forward your message to hundreds or thousands of people.
3. Grammar and spelling matter. Online courses demand the same standard of academic communication and use of grammar as face-to-face courses.
4. Never use profanity in any area of an online course. The transcripts of online course discussion forums, e-mail, and chat sessions are savable.
5. When responding to messages, only use "Reply to All" when you really intend to reply to all.
6. Avoid unkindly public criticism of others. Publicly criticizing others in an inappropriate way is known as "flaming." Consider this course a practice forum for selecting your verbiage thoughtfully and professionally.
7. Use sarcasm cautiously. In the absence of nonverbal cues such as facial expressions and voice inflections, the context for your sarcasm may be lost, and your message may thus be misinterpreted.
8. In a face-to-face setting, our tone of voice and facial expressions may convey as much of our meaning as the words we use. In a written message, the subtext of your meaning may be confused or misinterpreted. Write clearly. Use active verbs.

Academic Accommodations

Students who require accommodations may request an academic adjustment as follows:

1. Read the Andrews University Disability Accommodation information at https://www.andrews.edu/services/sscenter/disability/
2. Download and fill in the disability form at http://www.andrews.edu/services/sscenter/disability/accommodationsreqform.pdf. Preferably type answers. To save a digital copy, 1) print to file and save or 2) print and scan. Email the completed form and disability documentation (if any) to success@andrews.edu or fax it to (269) 471-8407.
3. Email sdestudents@andrews.edu to inform the School of Distance Education that a disability has been reported to Student Success.

Commitment to Integrity

As a student in this course, and at the university, you are expected to maintain high degrees of professionalism, commitment to active learning, participation in this course, and integrity in your behavior in and out of this online classroom.

Commitment to Excellence

You deserve a standing ovation based on your decision to enroll in, and effectively complete this course. Along with your pledge of “commitment to Integrity” you are expected to adhere to a “commitment to excellence.” Andrews University has established high academic standards that will truly enhance your writing and communication skills across the disciplines and in diverse milieu with many discourse communities in the workplace.

Honesty

Using the work of another student or allowing work to be used by another student jeopardizes not only the teacher-student relationship but also the student’s academic standing. Lessons may be discussed with other students, tutors may help to guide a student’s work, and textbooks, encyclopedias and other resource materials may be used for additional assistance, but the actual response must be the student’s own work. A student who gives information to another student to be used in a dishonest way is equally guilty of dishonesty.

Any violation of this policy will be taken before the Higher Education Academic and Curriculum Committee for appropriate punitive action.

Part 6: Additional Reading: An Annotated Bibliography

These sources may provide you additional assistance with your writing and help you sharpen your composition, revising, editing, or grammar skills:

The authors, themselves academics, demystify the revising and editing process by explaining how to revise. They present several drafts and demonstrate the ways in which writing can be made more concise and more meaningful. They also provide lists of techniques or areas in composition to examine when you go to revise or edit a draft of work. This is a helpful text when you’ve passed the composition stage and are looking to tighten your prose.

Graff and Birkenstein unpack the composition process for scholarly argument by presenting templates of academic argument. They demonstrate ways to develop a thesis, and structures for expanding on that thesis in your writing. They also provide means of entering an academic conversation by showing how you engage with scholars and include their work in your own writing. This book is helpful during the composition stage, as it shows you how to organize your thoughts and understand paragraphs as discrete units of text that build upon each other to form your overall argument.

Harris, Joseph. Rewriting: How to Do Things with Texts. Utah State UP, 2006. This volume further assists with the composition process by treating writing as an intellectual pursuit, one that must be adapted for various tasks in the academic writing process. Harris walks readers through the different ways to engage a scholar, as well as forwarding your own argument within a scholarly essay. This book builds on the Graff and Birkenstein text with more sophisticated techniques for entering a scholarly conversation and becoming a more developed writer, at the academic and intellectual levels.

Marius, Richard. A Writer’s Companion. 4th ed., McGraw-Hill Humanities/Social Sciences/Languages, 1998. Marius demonstrates how to become a better writer at the line and page levels alike. He discusses transitions, word choice, and many other components of writing that comprise an essay, an article, or a book. Marius further instructs the reader how to create an academic style. This is a helpful book for revising and developing your writerly voice.

Strunk, Jr., William, and E.B. White. Elements of Style. 4th ed., Pearson, 1999. Considered to be one of the most essential style guides of the twentieth century, The Elements of Style teaches concise writing. In this slim volume, you learn how to use proper grammar and eliminate non-essential words in order to create the most potent content possible. This is a helpful book if you find yourself stumbling with phrasing, generating meaning from your content, or trimming down unnecessary language in your prose.

In this humorous and no-nonsense approach to grammar, Truss unpacks several common punctuation marks, their erroneous usage, and ways to correctly sprinkle them in your writing. Her use of absurd and practical examples alike assists students in understanding their mistakes and correcting them for a lifetime of proper punctuation. This is a helpful text for English-language learners, or those who still struggle with where to place the apostrophe or can’t seem to figure out a semi-colon beyond a smiley-face emoji.
