

TRAUMA Awareness TRAINING

What is trauma? How does it affect you and those around you? What can we do to heal? Join us as we delve into these and other questions at this free training.

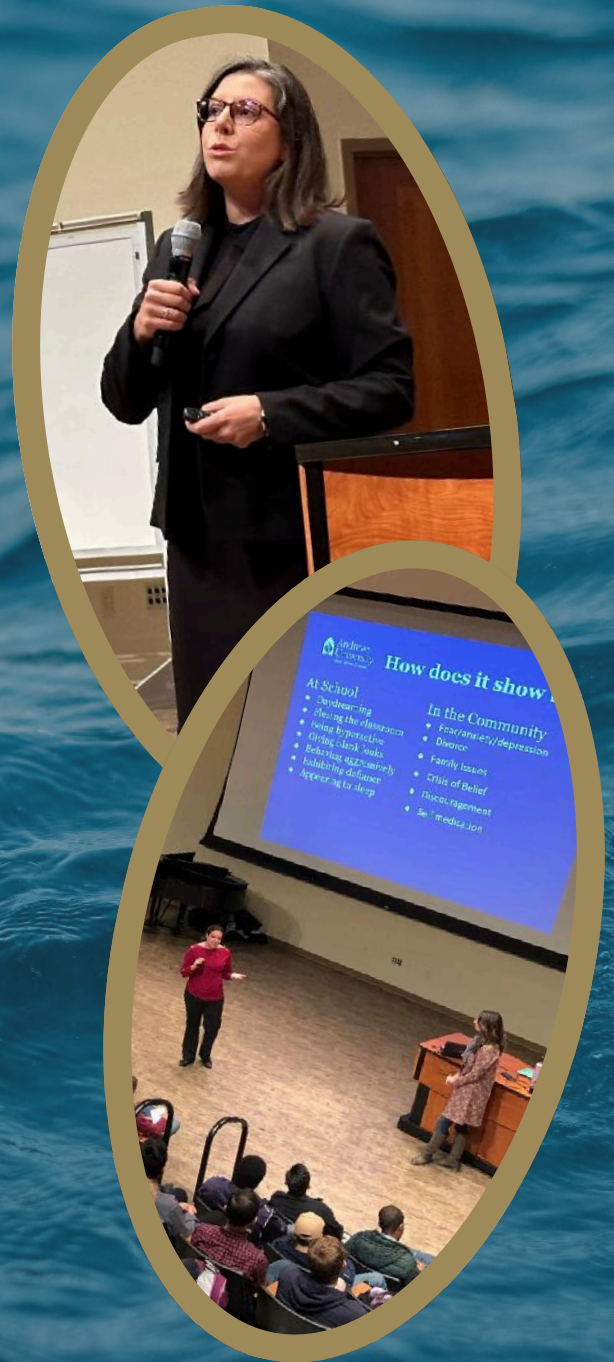

Friday, September 12
7:00–8:30 pm
Saturday, September 13
3:00–7:00 pm
(Evening Meal Included)

St Joseph Seventh-Day Adventist Church
1201 Maiden Ln
St Joseph, MI. 49085

No-cost Registration requested

Child care available for ages 5–12 with advance notice.
Registration required if requesting childcare.

Presented by:

International Center for Trauma Education & Care

Sponsored by:

The Center for Community Change

The Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary
at Andrews University

About Our Presenters

Dr. Dustin R. Young is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker (DSW, LCSW, MSW), Assistant Professor at Andrews University and Director of Strategic Initiatives with the International Center for Trauma Education and Care. She began her career working with teens and families in a residential setting in Idaho and then transitioned to community mental health on the beautiful coast of Oregon. She continues to collaborate with school districts of all grades, youth, families, children, community crisis response, and trauma-informed education with EMS responders. She focuses on supporting schools, EMS responders, and churches with mental health education, suicide prevention, trauma-informed practices, and creative skills implementation in classrooms.

Ingrid Weiss Slikkers serves as an Associate Professor of Social Work at Andrews University and is the Executive Director of the university's International Center for Trauma Education & Care. She brings over three decades of professional experience working with diverse and marginalized populations worldwide, with a primary focus on trauma treatment and recovery. She is passionate about faith and science, recognizing the profound potential this convergence holds for fostering resilience, restoration, and lasting healing.