Course Description: A study of American political institutions and behavior, primarily on the national level. May be applied to the history major.

Required Text:

Course Objectives: We shall examine the foundations and development of American government. This will comprise a study of the Mayflower Compact, the Declaration of Independence, the U.S. Constitution, the constitution of the state of Michigan, the three branches of the national government, federalism, political parties, bureaucratic institutions, public opinion, the media, the electoral process and the role of civic engagement and the rights of citizens in the United States and Michigan. In addition, this course seeks to familiarize students with the vocabulary of politics, equipping them to understand and explore the ways in which democratic ideas and institutions are adapted to nations with diverse histories and cultures.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:
1. Exams: There will be three exams, each weighted equally. Exams will be composed of a combination of true and false statements, multiple-choice answers, and short essay questions. The exams are not cumulative. In fairness to other students, late exams will be given only in the event of a documented medical disability or a death in the student’s immediate family. Present such documentation the first time you broach the subject with me. Conflicts with work schedules, school schedules, vacations or non-emergency family matters are not valid reasons for missed exams.
2. Quizzes: There will be twelve quizzes given, one per week. Each quiz will be worth ten points. The purpose of the quizzes is to encourage attendance and to test your daily reading and learning. Since your two lowest quizzes will not be counted, no make-up quizzes will be given.

3. Class Participation: Class participation includes attendance, punctuality, preparedness, attentiveness, and contribution to class discussion. One class period a week will be devoted to Socratic questioning regarding reading assignments.

4. Book Review: Students are expected to read one book (250 pp. minimum) on the topic of American politics and write a critical review, to be turned in as indicated on the course outline.

Grading:
Exams: 3 Exams worth 60 points each. 180 points
Quizzes: 10 quizzes worth 10 points each. 100 points
Book Review: 50 points
Class Participation: 20 points
TOTAL POINTS POSSIBLE: 350 points

Attendance Policy: Attendance is required. More than five absences will result in forfeiture of the 20 point participation component, as will excessive tardiness, early departure, un-preparedness, disruption, and inattention.
