Types of Social Work License & Qualifications/Requirements needed:

License Bachelors Social Work (LBSW)	Baccalaureate social workers must work under direct supervision (in an employer-employee capacity), but, under most circumstances, do not need to demonstrate that they've served a minimum number of hours. Those that wish to practice non-clinical social work independently must demonstrate 3,200 hours of supervised social work experience gained over at least a two year period.
Licensed Master Social Worker (LMSW)	Masters, licensed. Those that wish to practice non-clinical social work independently must demonstrate 3,200 hours of supervised social work experience gained over at least a two year period.
Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW)	Masters, licensed, plus clinical hours to qualify for clinical status AND independent status

Requirements specifically for LCSW:

Master's Degree or higher in Social Work → 3200 hours of supervised work experience in the practice of clinical social work in no less than 24 months. 3200 hours shall include at least 1600 hours of direct client contact; In 2015: direct practice may include psychoeducation-to be limited to 400 hours.

Does the state allow reciprocity? How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

Yes

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

A social worker may be eligible for a reciprocal license if he has been licensed at least five years in another state and has put in at least 6,000 hours of work in behavioral health during the preceding five years. The reciprocal license is only granted if there were minimum education and/or experience requirements in place in the state at the time of licensing and the applicant wasn't grandfathered in without meeting them.

Social workers with reciprocal licensing must work under supervision for at least one year and accumulate at least 1,600 hours of experience before they can be eligible for a license upgrade (and the option of independent practice).

Does the State allow for Distance/Tele-Supervision of clinical hours for LCSW?

Receive 100 hours of clinical supervision – 50 of these hours must be individual supervision – 10 hours must be direct observation (in vivo or audio/videotape) – 25 of the supervision hours at minimum must be acquired from an LCSW

LSW	LSWs are not permitted to work in independent practice. Contract work is also prohibited. Social workers must be in employer-employee relationship for as long as they have this status.
Licensed Master Social Workers (LMSWs)	Master's , licensed
Licensed Certified Social Workers (LCSWs)	Those at the LCSW level have completed 4,000 hours of supervised work experience and are eligible for independent practice.

Requirements specifically for LCSW:

A master's degree in social work from a program accredited by the Council on Social Work Education; two-years (4000 hours) postmaster's LCSW supervised social work experience; successful completion of a Board-approved examination. Only Licensed Certified Social Workers may engage in the private/independent practice of social work. An applicant for LCSW licensure must submit documentation of two-year post-graduate LCSW supervised experience. The supervision must include an average of one hour per week of direct contact with the LCSW supervisor. Group supervision is acceptable as long as there are no more than four in the group and it does not constitute more than one-half of the total supervision requirement. For the purposes of LCSW supervision, two-years is equivalent to 4,000 hours.

Does the state allow reciprocity? How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

No formal laws

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

Arkansas does not have any formal reciprocity agreements with other states. The law allows for licensure without examination if, at the time of application, the applicant is currently licensed in another state, territory or district with standards not lower than those in Arkansas. You must meet our current minimum requirements.

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

“The Board’s statutes (Business and Professions Code Section 4996.17) set forth different requirements depending on how long the applicant held a clinical social worker license in another state. If you have been licensed as a clinical social worker in another state for at least four years, you have met the Board’s experience requirements for licensure. You will document this with the Clinical Social Worker Verification of Licensure/Registration/Certification in another state form, which is found in the LCSW Application. If you have been licensed as a clinical social worker in another state for less than four years, you must provide verification of completion that you completed 3,200 hours of supervised work experience and 104 weeks of supervision. If the licensing body in your state does not have equivalent requirements, time actively licensed as a clinical social worker in your state shall be accepted at a rate of 100 hours per month up to a maximum of 1,200 hours. You will document this with the Clinical Social Worker Verification of Licensure/Registration/Certification in another state form, which is available in the LCSW Application.

Include but are not limited to individual, group, telephone, electronic mail, audio-visual, process recording, direct observation, telecommunication (teleconferencing, fax, videotapes), and hospital rounds. The appropriate modality of supervision shall be determined by the training, education, and experience of the supervisee, and the treatment setting (i.e. urban/rural, or the availability of resources and at all times based on community standards and client needs). The level of supervision provided, including whether every case is supervised and whether the supervisor meets with the client, is determined by the education, training, and experience of the supervisee, the specific needs of the clients being served, and the professional judgment of the supervisor. Nothing in this Rule should be assumed to abridge the rights of the client to a reasonable standard of care.

Bachelors of Social Work BSW	Not licensed, may not work on the independent level
Licensed Masters Social Worker LMSW	Masters, licensed if supervision is completed
Licensed Clinical Social Worker LCSW	Masters plus supervision for a total of 3,200 hours

Delaware licenses social workers who practice at the independent level. The licensing process is lengthy. A candidate must first complete an accredited social work program that confers a master's or doctoral degree. He must then work under supervision.

Requirements specifically for LCSW:

A social worker must work under supervision for a total of 3,200 hours. At least half of these hours should be under the supervision of a clinical social worker if one is available; if a clinical social worker is not available, supervision by psychiatrist or psychologist is acceptable. In cases where appropriate supervision is not available, another master social worker may supervise – so long as the two are not supervising each other!

Does the state allow reciprocity? How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

Yes

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

An applicant for licensure who is licensed as a clinical social worker in another state shall meet all of the qualifications for licensure under §§ 3907 and 3908 of this title. The applicant shall contact the American Association of State Social Work Boards, or its successor, and obtain and provide to the Board a certified statement as to whether there are any outstanding or ongoing disciplinary actions and/or ethical violations against the applicant or whether the applicant has engaged in any of the acts or offenses that would be grounds for disciplinary action under this chapter. If you have ever held a social work license in another jurisdiction (state, U.S. territory or D.C.), arrange for the Board office to receive verification of licensure from each jurisdiction where you have held a license, sent directly from the jurisdiction to the Board office.

Does the State allow for Distance/Tele-Supervision of clinical hours for LCSW?

Not anymore

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

For any supervision commencing after the effective date of this Rule, the supervision shall take place in not less than one year, and, within the required 1,600 hours, at least 100 hours shall be one-to-one, face-to-face supervision provided by an approved supervisor, pursuant to the requirements of Board Rule 4.1.1. For supervision commencing prior to the effective date of this Rule, the supervisory contact may be on a one-to-one face-to-face basis or by live video conferencing; provided, however, that supervision by live video conferencing shall not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the total supervision in any month. Supervision by telephone or e-mail is expressly not permitted.

Does the State allow for Distance/Tele-Supervision of clinical hours for LCSW?

Yes, very limited

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

Psychologists who provide supervision are cognizant of the rules relating to supervision of master's level service extenders and psychologists in training. If prior to a change in the Rules governing the practice of Psychology in the State of Idaho to allow video conferencing of supervision, a psychologist desires to modify the requirements for supervision, which may include teleconferencing supervisees, the psychologist should seek prior approval by the Idaho Board of Psychology Examiners. Distance supervision is usually intended to supplement rather than replace face-to-face supervision. Just as with face to face supervision, the supervising psychologist should be reasonably familiar with the case with the capacity to provide therapeutic coverage if the supervisee is unavailable.

Types of Social Work License & Qualifications/Requirements needed

Licensed Social Worker (LSW)	There is more than one path to licensure as a Kentucky LSW. One is a bachelor's degree from a CSWE-accredited social work program. The other is a bachelor's degree from another program, plus additional coursework as required for equivalency
Certified Social Worker (CSW)	A CSW has education at the master's level and may practice independently within his or her scope of practice.
Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW)	social worker will work under supervision for a period of two to three years.

Requirements specifically for LCSW:

The Kentucky Social Work Board requires LCSW candidates to have supervised experience prior to becoming licensed. By rule, LCSW candidates must have at least two years of post-graduate experience (minimum 30 hours per week), or three years of part-time (20 hours per week) experience. All social work experience must be supervised by a supervisor approved by the Board. Allowed supervisors are LCSWs who have been licensed for at least three years and has completed the Board's three-hour training course on supervision practices and methods.

Does the state allow reciprocity? How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

No formal reciprocity

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

Kentucky does not have formal reciprocity with any other state. If you were licensed in a state other than Kentucky, you will have to apply to become a licensed social worker using the same process first-time licensees use and pay the associated fees. As a part of the application process, you must supply an official transcript, your official ASWB scores, and verification from the state(s) where you previously held a license. If you hold an LCSW from another state, you must provide verification of a current LCSW license and a signed job description, or other verification approved by the Board, that you have been employed in clinical social work over the past five years. If you are unable to provide this verification, you will have to meet the same experience requirement stated above for an LCSW.

They do offer licensure by endorsement. To apply, you must complete an application and include the supervisory experience forms or submit documentation of acquiring 3,000 hours of supervised clinical social work experience. As an alternative, an endorsement candidate may submit proof that he or she has practiced social work continuously for two years prior to applying for licensure in Montana. Applicants using this path to licensure must submit an official transcript, three letters of reference from licensed social workers, psychologists, or psychiatrists, and they must complete a fingerprint and background check. Endorsement candidates must submit the verification of licensure form (included in the application packet) to the Montana Board. The fee for licensure by endorsement is $200

Types of Social Work License & Qualifications/Requirements needed (Maybe a table?):

LSW	Completing an approved undergraduate or graduate program and passing an exam and background check
LSW	A social worker who completes a post-master internship and passes an additional licensing exam may be granted a higher level license; this allows them to practice independently.
LISW or LCSW	The LSW may become either a Licensed Independent Social Worker (LISW) or Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW) depending on the training. LCSWs may diagnose and treat mental disorders

Requirements specifically for LCSW:

A prospective LISW or LCSW should enroll in a CSWE accredited graduate program and complete all steps for licensure as an LSW. Once licensed at this level, one may seek employment in the form of an internship. The internship experience should meet the learning objectives published by the Nevada Board. Internships must be pre-approved – prior to commencing, a social worker turns in an LISW or LCSW application and an internship application. A supervision agreement, supervisor’s plan, and job description are required. A $140 application fee should be remitted at this time. An intern must work a total of 3,000 hours under the supervision of an LISW or LCSW before they can be licensed at the independent level. Requirements should be completed over a period of two to three years. Interns fill out quarterly progress reports in cooperation with their supervisors; ongoing evaluation is a part of the process.

If an LSW seeks licensure as a clinical social worker, they must be supervised by a clinical social worker – an LCSW. The place of employment must be an appropriate clinical site. At least 2,000 hours must relate to the psychotherapeutic process.

The LISW license is dependent on passing the ASWB advanced generalist exam. The LCSW license is dependent on passing the ASWB clinical exam. The exam fee is currently $260.

Types of Social Work License & Qualifications/Requirements needed (Maybe a table?):

Candidates at any level must pass a jurisprudence exam and either take a course on New Mexico culture or demonstrate cultural competency through testing.

Licensed Baccalaureate Social Workers (LBSW)	The foundation for practice at the LBSW level is a social work degree from a CSWE-accredited social work program. Afterward, the candidate must take and pass the ASWB bachelor's level exam. He or she will need to apply to the New Mexico Board for authorization to test. If everything else is in order, the candidate may be granted a provisional license, good for up to 12 months. The provisional license is extended only in extreme circumstances (such as a death in the social worker's immediate family). At the LBSW level, application carries a $75 fee. This is separate from the $230 testing fee which is submitted directly to the ASWB. If a candidate does not pass on a first attempt, he or she may retake the exam. The New Mexico Board of Social Work Examiners does not place limits on retakes. However, a new application and application fee will be required each time. (Candidates should also be aware that the ASWB stipulates a 90 day wait period between attempts.)
Licensed Master Social Workers (LMSWs)/LCSW	Candidates for licensure at the higher levels must have master's degrees from CSWE-accredited programs. The LMSW license is granted after a candidate passes the master's level ASWB exam. However, a candidate can work under a provisional license for up to a year while meeting the requirement. There is a $100 fee associated with application at the LMSW level. The exam itself costs $230. The independent license is only granted after a social worker fulfills a 3,600 hour practice requirement. The requirement is to be met over a period of two to five years. New Mexico does accept both volunteer and paid hours. However, the social worker must be supervised by an LISW.

	He or she will need 90 supervision hours over the course of the experience period – one for every 40 hours worked. LISW licensure is contingent on passing a second licensing exam. The social worker will take either the clinical or advanced generalist exam. Both are administered through the ASWB and carry $260 fees. The LISW application fee is $125. If a candidate later completes supervised practice requirements in another practice area, he or she can have the additional specialty added to his license.
Licensed Independent Social Worker (LISW)	Candidates for licensure at the higher levels must have master’s degrees from CSWE-accredited programs. Does the state allow reciprocity?

Yes

How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

This is also termed “licensure by credentials” in New Mexico. Social workers wishing to apply for reciprocity need to be currently licensed for a minimum of five years in good standing and must have passed the ASWB exam for the level of licensure sought. In addition, they must have obtained their respective BSW or MSW from a CSWE accredited program. Applicants for reciprocity will need to provide verification of having completed a three-credit-hour course on New Mexico cultures and have passed the jurisprudence exam with a grade of 70% or better. The New Mexico Board of Social Work Examiners will refer to this process as reciprocity. The first question we will ask is how long have you been licensed in another state? If the answer is 5 or more years, is current and in good standing. You will qualify for reciprocity! Please submit your application, fee, 2X2 photo, jurisprudence exam, scores from ASWB and a verification of your license from each state where you have or currently held a social work license. You DO NOT need to submit transcripts or verification of supervision

How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

This requires verification that the credential requirements (including examination) in the other jurisdiction are substantially equal to those of North Carolina. To be eligible, an applicant must possess the current equivalent certificate/license/registration under the other jurisdiction when they apply in North Carolina.

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

§ 90B-7. Titles and qualifications for certificates and licenses.

- (a) Each person desiring to obtain a certificate or license from the Board shall make application to the Board upon such forms and in such manner as the Board shall prescribe, together with the required application fee established by the Board.
- (b) The Board shall issue a certificate as "Certified Social Worker" to an applicant who meets the following qualifications:
- (1) Has a bachelor's degree in a social work program from a college or university having a social work program accredited or admitted to candidacy for accreditation by the Council on Social Work Education for undergraduate curricula.
 - (2) Has passed the Board examination for the certification of persons in this classification.
- (c) The Board shall issue a certificate as "Certified Master Social Worker" to an applicant who meets the following qualifications:
- (1) Has a masters or doctoral degree in a social work program from a college or university having a social work program approved by the Council on Social Work Education.
 - (2) Has passed the Board examination for the certification of persons in this classification.
- (d) The Board shall issue a license as a "Licensed Clinical Social Worker" to an applicant who meets the following qualifications:
- (1) Holds or qualifies for a current certificate as a Certified Master Social Worker.
 - (2) Shows to the satisfaction of the Board that he or she has had two years of clinical social work experience with appropriate supervision in the field of specialization in which the applicant will practice.
 - (3) Has passed the Board examination for the certification of persons in this licensure.
- (e) The Board shall issue a certificate as a "Certified Social Work Manager" to an applicant who meets the following qualifications:
- (1) Holds or qualifies for a current certificate as a Certified Social Worker.
 - (2) Shows to the satisfaction of the Board that he or she has had two years of experience in an administrative setting with appropriate supervision and training.
 - (3) Has passed the Board examination for the certification of persons in this classification.

(f) The Board may issue an associate license in clinical social work to a person who has a masters or doctoral degree in a social work program from a college or university having a social work program approved by the Council on Social Work Education and desires to be licensed as a clinical social worker. The associate license may not be issued for a period exceeding two years and the person issued the associate license must practice under the supervision of a licensed clinical social worker or a Board-approved alternate. Notwithstanding G.S. 90B-6(g), an associate licensee shall pass the qualifying clinical examination prescribed by the Board within two years to be eligible for renewal of the associate license. The associate licensee shall complete all requirements for full licensure within three renewal cycles, or a total of six years, unless otherwise directed by the Board.

How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

Apply for a license by reciprocity if you wish to reinstate a North Dakota social work license after being licensed in a different state or if your license is from another state with similar licensing requirements. If you have an out-of-date license from North Dakota and have not been licensed in another state, you will need to submit a new application and retake the appropriate ASWB exam. The steps for reciprocity are similar to those detailed above except that you do not need to submit reference forms. Instead, you must submit a License Verification Form or an official letter of licensure from each state where you were previously licensed, and the licensure rules of at least one of these states. You will still be required to complete the background checks and fingerprinting, and submit both the $25 application fee and the $75 licensing fee.

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

Does the state allow reciprocity?

No

How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

Oregon does not recognize reciprocity for licensed clinical social workers, even for experienced social workers from other states. The Oregon Social Work Board does, however, accept prior ASWB exam scores, and verified hours that were worked in another state can also be counted towards the total hours of social work experience that some social worker positions require in Oregon. Prospective social workers from other states will complete the application process followed by all applicants. Along with their application, out-of-state applicants must also provide verification that they have obtained social work credentials in other states or provinces, using the verification of license in another state form.

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

675.523 License or certification required to practice clinical social work; exceptions. A person may not practice clinical social work unless the person is a clinical social worker licensed under ORS 675.530 or a clinical social work associate certified under ORS 675.537, except if the person is:

- (1) Licensed or certified by the State of Oregon to provide mental health services, provided that the person is acting within the lawful scope of practice for the person's license or certification and does not represent that the person is a regulated social worker;
- (2) Certified to provide alcohol and drug abuse prevention services, intervention services and treatment in compliance with rules adopted under ORS 430.256 and 430.357, provided that the person is acting within the lawful scope of practice for the person's certification and does not represent that the person is a regulated social worker;
- (3) Employed by or contracting with an entity that is certified or licensed by the State of Oregon under ORS 430.610 to 430.695 to provide mental health treatment or addiction services, provided that the person is practicing within the lawful scope of the person's employment or contract;
- (4) A recognized member of the clergy, provided that the person is acting in the person's ministerial capacity and does not represent that the person is a regulated social worker; or

A candidate must apply to the Pennsylvania State Board of Social Workers, Marriage and Family Therapists and Professional Counselors for permission to test. This may be done during the final semester of the master's program. At the LSW level, the application fee is $25. The fee for testing is steeper: $230. It is paid to the ASWB once permission has been granted. A candidate then schedules his own exam at his convenience.
LCSW	In order to move up to an LCSW license, the LSW will need to complete 3,000 hours of work experience that meets Board requirements. He will not be able to do so in less than two years. Licensure Requirements • Completed, notarized application. • Fee of $70.00 for either LCSW or LICSW. • Recent passport type photograph. • Birth Certificate (original or a copy notarized as being a true copy of the original), or if born outside the United States, proof of citizenship or lawful alien status, (original or a copy notarized as being a true copy of the original). • Official Advanced Degree Transcripts from an accredited School of Social Work. • Association of Social Work Boards (ASWB) examination results. (NOTE: Successful completion of the ASWB examination IS required to obtain a license to practice social work in the state of Rhode Island. If you are applying for approval to take the examination, then you are not required to submit the examination results until AFTER you have taken the exam.) • 2 Professional Reference Forms (pages 10 & 11). Presented in sealed envelope(s) • Supervised Practice Form(s) (page 13) (LICSW ONLY).

Requirements specifically for LCSW:

See above, only option is a LCSW

Does the state allow reciprocity?

Yes

How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

Individuals seeking employment in generalist social work jobs in Rhode Island are not required to gain a license, so reciprocity is not an issue. However, individuals interested in clinical social worker jobs in Rhode Island are not eligible for automatic reciprocity. If you wish to be employed as a clinical social worker in Rhode Island, you must seek the appropriate license relevant to your level of experience. If you are currently or have been licensed as a social worker in a different state in the past, you must disclose this information during the licensing process by submitting the Interstate Verification Form mentioned above.

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

§ 5-39.1-8 Licenses. – (a) the department shall issue the appropriate license to applicants who meet the qualifications of the section.

(b) Prerequisites: "Licensed clinical social worker". A license as a "licensed clinical social worker" shall be issued to an applicant who meets the following qualifications:

(1) Has a doctorate in clinical social work from a duly accredited college or university or master's degree from a school of social work accredited by the council on social work education, and

(2) Has satisfactorily completed an examination for this license, or

(3) Has a comparable license, certification, or registration from the state, or another state or territory of the United States that imposes qualifications substantially similar to those of this chapter, as determined by the board.

(c) Prerequisites: "Licensed independent clinical social worker". A license for a "licensed independent clinical social worker" shall be issued to an applicant who meets the following qualifications:

(1) Is licensed under this chapter as a "licensed clinical social worker", and

(2) Has twenty-four (24) months of experience acceptable to the board, under appropriate supervision, and

(3) Has fulfilled the continuing education requirements for this license, and

(4) Has satisfactorily completed an examination for this license, or

(5) Has a comparable license, certification, or registration from the state, or another state or territory of the United States that imposes qualifications substantially similar to those of this chapter.

(d) In addition to these qualifications, an applicant for any of these titles must prove to the board's satisfaction:

(1) An age of at least twenty-one (21) years;

(2) That he or she merits the public trust;

(3) A United States citizenship or proof of other legal resident status;

(4) An absence of conviction of a felony, which is subject to waiver by the board upon presentation of satisfactory evidence that this conviction does not impair the ability of the person to conduct with safety to the public the practice authorized by this license. The applicant shall bear the burden of proving that his or her conviction does not impair his or her ability to conduct with safety to the public the practice authorized by this license;

(5) An absence of NASW sanction for violation of Code of Ethics, or other state board sanction which is subject to waiver by the board upon presentation of satisfactory evidence that this sanction does not impair the ability of the person to conduct with safety to the public the practice authorized by this license. The applicant bears the burden of proving that his or her sanction does not impair his or her ability to conduct with safety to the public the practice authorized by this license;

(6) That the applicant has not been declared mentally incompetent by any court, and if any decree has ever been rendered, that there has been a subsequent court determination that the applicant is competent; and

(7) Freedom from use of any controlled substance or any alcoholic beverages to the extent that the use impairs the ability of the person to conduct with safety to the public the practice authorized by this license. The applicant bears the burden of proving that he or she is free from use of any controlled substance or any alcoholic beverages that impair his or her ability to conduct with safety to the public the practice authorized by this license.

The Board does accept applications from out-of-state social workers. Social workers who were licensed in another state must apply for a license and submit the social work verification form with their application. Social workers will have to pay the $45 application fee* and a $5 license verification fee* and they must have their ASWB scores and an official transcript sent to the South Carolina Board. The education requirements are slightly different for out-of-state social workers who practiced independently and now wish to become licensed in South Carolina. These applicants can have an MSW or DSW from a CSWE-accredited school or a regionally accredited institution.

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?CHAPTER 110 Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation—State Board of Social Work Examiners

(Statutory Authority: 1976 Code § 40-63-10)

ARTICLE 1CONTINUING EDUCATION*110-1. Continuing Education Requirements.

A. The Board recognizes that social work is a practice of a profession which must conform to the public's expectation of professional competency. It further recognizes that structured programs of continuing education will provide licensees with opportunities for maintaining and improving competency as well as the satisfaction of new professional development.

B. As a pre-requisite for biennial renewal of the practitioner's license, the licensee must complete a minimum of 40 contact hours of accepted professional continuing education per renewal period. This requirement becomes effective during the one-year period following the January 1, 1990, license renewal date, and during each year thereafter.

C. The general guidelines for completing forty (40) contact hours of instruction are:

(1) Accepted instruction will be those courses, conferences, seminars, etc., as approved by the Board pursuant to subsection D below.

(2) Only student class hours or the equivalent will be counted as credit.

(3) Services, in hours, as a lecturer or discussion leader may be counted to the extent that they contribute to the maintenance and development of a licensee's professional competence.

(4) Except in unusual circumstances, credits will not be given for repeating an instructional course.

D. Approval for continuing education credit:

(1) Approval for continuing education credit shall be provided by persons designated by the Board upon guidelines and standards established by the Board pursuant to these Regulations.

(2) Application for continuing education credit approval shall be in the manner and form designated by the Board.

(3) Application for approval shall be processed at times, and in the manner, designated by the Board up to the date of submission of the continuing education report. The risk of disapproval shall be borne by the sponsor or applicant for continuing education credit.

HISTORY: Amended by State Register Volume 36, Issue No. 6, eff June 22, 2012.

110-2. Continuing Education Advisory Committee.

A Continuing Education Advisory Committee to recommend continuing education requirements shall be appointed by the Board so as to be representative of educators in the field of social work and licensed social workers.

110-10. Fees.

The Board sets, determines, establishes, prescribes, and levies fees for license applications, examinations (which do not include any fees paid to any organization other than the Board administering any examination required by the Board), temporary licenses, license renewals, license reinstatements, annual licenses, and review of continuing education submissions in such amounts as are estimated to generate the minimum percentage of the anticipated appropriation or expenditures of the Board for the coming fiscal year required by applicable South Carolina law, including appropriations acts.

HISTORY: Amended by State Register Volume 36, Issue No. 6, eff June 22, 2012. 110-20. Principles of Professional Ethics

1. The social worker shall not exploit relationships with clients for personal or business advantages, other than the proper, reasonable and agreed upon compensation for his services to the client.

2. The social worker shall not solicit the clients of his employing agency for private practice.
3. The social worker will inform clients of any possible or apparent conflict of interest and shall terminate service to clients, and professional relationships with them, when such service and relationships are no longer required or in which a conflict of interest does arise, in such a manner which does not endanger the client's life.
4. A social worker shall not engage in any sexual act with a client or with a person who has been a client to whom services were provided within the past three years.
5. A social worker shall not exploit his professional relationships with clients (or former clients), supervisor, students, employees, or research participants, sexually or otherwise. A social worker does not engage in sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is defined as deliberate or repeated comments, gestures, or physical contacts of a sexual nature that are unwanted by the recipient.
6. The client/social worker relationship shall be presumed to continue to exist for a period of six months after the last provision of services except where circumstances such as, but not limited to, selection of a new therapist shows otherwise.
7. A social worker will give precedence to his professional responsibility over his financial interests.
8. A social worker shall not commit fraud and shall not represent that he performed services which he did not perform.
9. A social worker will not divide a fee or accept or give anything of value for receiving or making a referral.
10. A social worker should provide clients with accurate and complete information regarding the extent and nature of the services available to them.
11. A social worker shall not participate in or condone fraud or any other misrepresentation. A social worker shall not misrepresent professional qualifications, education, experience, affiliations, or services performed.
12. In connection with his work as a social worker, a social worker shall not practice, condone, facilitate or collaborate with any form of discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, political belief, mental or physical handicap, or any other preference or personal characteristic, condition or status.
13. A social worker shall not repeatedly fail to keep scheduled appointments.
14. A social worker who anticipates the termination or interruption of service to clients shall notify such clients promptly and seek the transfer, referral, or continuation of service in relation to the clients' needs and preferences.
15. A social worker shall respect the privacy of clients and hold in confidence all information obtained in the course of professional service except for compelling reasons. Compelling reasons shall include, but are not limited to:
 - a. Consultation with another professional on behalf of the client;
 - b. Duty to warn;
 - c. Child abuse and sexual molestation;
 - d. Statutory requirements.
16. The social worker shall obtain informed consent of clients before taping, recording, or permitting third party observation of their activities.
17. The social worker shall report to the appropriate authorities any incident, of which he has personal knowledge, of unethical social practice by any individual or organization.

Does the state allow reciprocity?

Yes

How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

Individuals with out-of-state education and/or licensing may be eligible for reciprocity in certain circumstances. If you are licensed in a state with similar requirements and, if necessary, have passed a similar exam required by the South Dakota Board based on your level of practice, you may be eligible to apply for reciprocity. You must provide official transcripts from your school(s) and verification from any state where you have been licensed as part of your application in the steps mentioned above.

CSW-PIP applicants may need to provide further evidence of supervised work conducted in other states to be eligible to practice independently right away. You must include this evidence as part of the application packaged mentioned in the steps above. These applications are only reviewed approximately three times per year and application packages must be received at least 30 days prior to a scheduled board meeting in order to be eligible for review.

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

36-26-15.1. Licensure of persons graduating from social work programs in candidacy status. The board shall issue a license as a certified social worker or social worker to any applicant who:

- (1) Meets the requirements for a certified social worker or social worker except whose baccalaureate or master of social work degree is from a program in candidacy status with the Council on Social Work Education; and
- (2) Has passed an examination prepared by the board for this purpose.

Any license granted under this section shall automatically expire if the social work baccalaureate or masters of social work program fails to maintain candidacy status or is denied accreditation. The social worker shall inform the board of any change in the social work program candidacy status.

Supervision must be provided by a mental health professional. Master's degrees in psychology, marriage and family therapy, or professional counseling are also acceptable. Supervised practice is not required of an SSW candidate who has education at this level. The ASWB bachelor's level examination is another requirement for licensure. Pre-approval is required. The candidate will turn in the application to the Board at this time. An $85 nonrefundable fee should accompany the SSW application; this is separate from the testing fee.
CSW	In order to get the CSW license, a person needs a doctoral degree or a master's degree from a CSWE-accredited program. One may apply for licensing at a lower level – SSW – after having completed the first year of their studies. This will entail passing a basic licensing exam. Before he or she can be licensed as a CSW, they will need to take a higher level exam. The Utah Board will accept passing scores on either of three ASWB exams: master's, advanced generalist, or clinical. The candidate may attempt the licensing exam as early as the last semester of their master's program provided he or she obtains a letter from the program Chair. Official

	transcripts should be sent directly from the awarding institution when they become available. A candidate who has not yet met the examination requirement but wishes to begin work may apply for the Certified Social Worker Intern credential. There is an $85 fee. While credentialed as an intern, a candidate cannot accrue hours toward clinical licensing.
LCSW	A Certified Social Worker will need to work under supervision a minimum of two years to get the clinical license. The Certified Social Worker will need training in crisis intervention, intermediate and long-term treatment, and therapy with individuals, families, and groups. The clinical supervisor must be an LCSW. The clinical supervisor will take professional responsibility for the CSW and will also provide consultation. During this time, the social worker will accrue 4,000 experience hours. At least 1,000 of these hours must be spent doing mental health therapy – only the actual sessions can be counted toward this requirement. At least 100 hours must be spent in face to face sessions with the supervisor. There is no upper limit on the time a candidate spends meeting experience requirements. A prospective LCSW must pass the ASWB clinical exam (if the LCSW candidate did not do so when meeting requirements for a lower license). At the LCSW level, a $120 fee is charged for application processing.

R156-60a-302c. Training Requirements for Licensure as an LCSW.

(1) In accordance with Subsections 58-60-205(1)(e),(f) and (g), and 58-60-202(4)(a), the 4,000 hours of clinical social work and mental health therapy training qualifying an applicant for licensure as an LCSW shall:

(a) be obtained after completion of the education requirement set forth in Subsections 58-60-205(1)(d) and (g) and shall not include any clinical practicum hours obtained as part of the education program;

(b) be completed over a period of not less than two years;

(c) unless this Subsection (2) applies, be completed while the applicant is licensed as a CSW;

(d) be completed while the applicant is employed by a public or private agency engaged in mental health therapy;

(e) be completed under a program of general supervision by an LCSW meeting the requirements of Sections R156-60a-302e and R156-60a-601; and

(f) include the following training requirements:

(i) individual, family, and group therapy;

(ii) crisis intervention;

(iii) intermediate treatment; and

(iv) long term treatment.

(2) An applicant may apply to the Division for an LCSW license without complying with this Subsection (1)(c) if:

(a) the applicant qualifies for a license exemption under Subsection 58-1-307(1)(a); or

(b) the applicant completed training in another jurisdiction, which training is completed:

(i) while the applicant is licensed as the equivalent of a CSW; or

(ii) while the applicant is not required to be licensed while engaged in the practice of certified social work.

R156-60a-302d. Examination Requirements.

(1) In accordance with Subsection 58-60-205(1)(h), the examination requirements for licensure as an LCSW include passing the Clinical Examination of the ASWB or the Clinical Social Workers Examination of the State of California.

(2) In accordance with Subsection 58-60-205(2)(e), the examination requirements for licensure as a CSW shall include passing the Masters, Advanced Generalist, or Clinical Examination of the ASWB.

(3) In accordance with Subsection 58-60-205(4)(e), the examination requirements for licensure as an SSW shall include passing the Bachelors Examination of the ASWB.

(4) Applicants requesting additional time to complete any ASWB exam in accordance with Subsection 58-60-205(5) shall complete an ASWB application for special arrangements approved by the Division.

Types of Social Work License & Qualifications/Requirements needed (Maybe a table?): Requirements specifically for LCSW:

A prospective LCSW needs to enroll in a graduate program that is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE).

After graduation, the social worker candidate must put in 3,000 hours of supervised work experience. During this time, she or he is registered but not licensed; to be in compliance with state rules, the candidate needs to be entered on the state's roster of non-licensed psychotherapists.

The social work trainee may be supervised by a licensed psychiatrist, psychologist, mental health counselor, or clinical social worker. She or he will need an hour of face to face supervision for every 40 hours spent on the job. At least half the direct supervision hours must be individual. The other hours may be in a group setting with up to eight trainees in attendance.

The supervisor will eventually fill out a report for the licensing agency, that will attest to the number of practice and supervision hours, describe the nature of supervision, evaluate the candidate, and make a recommendation for or against independent licensing.

Licensure also depends on passing a nationwide licensing exam. The prospective social worker becomes eligible to take the clinical examination after receiving their master's degree. The LCSW candidate must turn in the first portion of the licensing application to Vermont OPR in order to receive testing authorization. At this point, she or he may schedule their own exam through the Association of Social Work Boards (ASWB). The exam is administered via computer and is available at sites around the country. Examination results will be sent directly to Vermont OPR from the ASW

How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

If you have a social work license from a state that does not have similar or as challenging requirements compared to the proposed requirements in Vermont, you might still be able to acquire a license through reciprocity if you have no disciplinary action against you in any state where you have previously been licensed, you have practiced for at least 1,200 hours every year for at least five years, and the Director of the Office determines that your experience compensates for the lesser licensure requirements. In this pathway you would still be required to pass the Vermont jurisprudence exam before being licensed.

2.3 QUALIFICATIONS FOR LICENSURE AS A CLINICAL SOCIAL WORKER. As set forth in the Act, the basic qualifications for licensure are (1) a graduate degree from an accredited social work program, (2) two years of supervised practice, and (3) passing the examination. In addition, the applicant must submit the names of three persons who can attest to his or her professional competence. Those persons must have the same qualifications as a clinical supervisor. (A) Degree requirement: A master's or doctoral degree in social work from an accredited social work program. (B) Supervised practice: Two years of supervised practice, beginning no earlier than the completion of the graduate program. The applicant must submit satisfactory supervision reports. The Office will provide forms. If the supervision was not by a licensee in one of the professions listed in Rule 2.1(4), the Director, with the advice of the Advisors, will determine on a case-by-case basis whether that supervisor is Administrative Rules Relating to Clinical Social Workers Page 4 licensed or certified in a profession substantially equivalent to those listed, based on information provided directly from the licensing authority of the other jurisdiction. An applicant will receive credit in an area of practice only if the clinical supervisor is knowledgeable and experienced in that area, and only for work that is acceptable to the supervisor and satisfies the requirements of these rules. Face-to-face supervision may be in either an individual setting, between the supervisor and the applicant, or in a group setting, including the supervisor and up to eight trainees. Of the total hours of supervision, at least half must be in an individual setting. (C) Examination: The Office currently administers an examination selected by the Director. The passing score is established by the use of objective psychometric standards. The examination will be given at least twice a year at a time and place set well in advance. Applicants can get more information about the examination from the Office. Results of examinations are normally available within 60 days.

LSW	To become an LSW, one needs an undergraduate degree from a CSWE-accredited program or one that has candidate status. A student may apply for a temporary permit (and permission to take the licensing exam) when the candidate is in the final semester. Temporary permits require a written request. After receiving permission, the candidate will schedule an exam with the Association of Social Work Boards. If a candidate has a degree that does not meet the above requirements but is closely related (for example, psychology, sociology, or counseling), the candidate may be eligible for employment with West Virginia Health & Human Services – if there is critical need, and a suitable LSW cannot be found. In this case, the candidate will apply for a provisional license. The candidate will need to pass a civil service exam. If the candidate works under provisional licensing for a solid four years, and meets additional requirements, the candidate will become eligible for the standard license. The candidate will need to complete 12 semester hours of social work coursework while he or she holds provisional licensing. The candidate will also have a continuing education requirement. Candidates who graduated from related programs in an earlier era – before July 1, 2000 -- are eligible to work under provisional licensing in other settings.
LGSE/LCSW	In order to be eligible for an LGSW license, a candidate needs a master's degree from a CSWE-accredited program. The West Virginia Board provides social work licenses to out-of-state applicants provided they meet the qualifications (i.e. they have passed the appropriate exam, have the minimum education requirement, and have the required experience) for the license in which they are applying.

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

§25-1-3. Qualifications for License

3.1. An applicant qualified under the provisions of W.Va. Code §30-30-1, et. seq. may receive a social work permit from the Board, a license as a social worker, graduate social worker, certified social worker, or independent clinical social worker, or apply for an inactive or emeritus status license. A temporary licensee is not eligible for a social work permit, inactive or emeritus status license.

3.1.1. A licensed social worker may place a license on inactive status by formally requesting and receiving the approval of the Board and shall not perform the duties of a social worker during this period.

3.1.2. A licensed social worker may receive an emeritus status license by formally requesting and receiving the approval of the Board. An emeritus status license requires twenty (20) years of social work practice experience and retirement from the active practice of social work. An emeritus licensee is not required to comply with the continuing social work education requirements in Section 8 of this rule. Upon receipt of the Board's approval in writing, an emeritus status licensee may engage in the active practice of the profession of social work, including supervision, for up to twenty (20) hours per week.

3.2. An applicant may receive a social work permit by formally requesting and receiving the approval of the Board.

3.2.1. A social work degree candidate enrolled in an undergraduate, graduate or doctoral social work program at a college or university accredited by the Council on Social Work Education may receive a social work permit by formally requesting and receiving the approval of the Board, and is eligible to register to take a licensing examination when enrolled in the final semester of coursework leading to the conferring of the degree, provided; the social work program director or dean provide a written statement to the Board that the applicant is expected to matriculate; the degree candidate not receive a social work license until an official college transcript is provided to the Board indicating that the degree is conferred, and; all other requirements for licensure are met.

3.3. An applicant may learn if he or she is eligible for a temporary license by completing an application provided by the Board. To meet the educational requirement for a temporary license, an applicant, with the exception of employees of the Department of Health and Human Resources, shall have earned a four-year academic degree prior to July 1, 2000 from a recognized, academically accredited college in a field related to social work. Related fields include sociology, psychology, counseling, interpersonal communication, human services, elementary education, secondary education, special education or other related fields as determined by the Board. The Board shall issue a temporary license certificate only after it has determined an applicant's eligibility and received written evidence of qualified supervision and employment in a position requiring a social work license.

3.3.1. Prior to the issuance of a temporary license, an applicant shall submit to the Board:

- (a) An official transcript showing the applicant completed a four-year academic degree from a recognized, academically accredited college in a field related to social work as determined by the Board;
- (b) A specific plan for meeting the requirements to maintain a temporary license, including the promise of paid employment in a position requiring a social work license and the agreement of an eligible licensed social worker to provide supervision; and,
- (c) Three professional references and documentation that the applicant is of good moral character and has never been convicted of a felony.

3.3.2. Prior to conversion of a temporary license to a formal license as a social worker, an applicant shall:

- (a) Pass an examination approved by the Board;
- (b) Document four years of continuous, supervised employment in the field of social work;

(c) Earn continuing social work education contact hours totaling at least eighty (80) hours every two years. Of these, at least eight (8) contact hours shall be in subjects related to professional social work values and ethics, including the code of ethics, earned in formal workshop or conference settings, and no more than twenty (20) contact hours may be earned in individual professional activities; and

(d) Provide a sworn statement to the Board in six month intervals to indicate he or she is complying with a written plan and meeting all other requirements to maintain the temporary license.

3.3.3. An employer or prospective employer of a temporary license applicant shall provide the Board, upon request, a statement of whether the temporary license holder has satisfactorily performed the duties of a social worker while under his or her employ.

(a) An employer may be required to document to the Board, upon request, that he or she has engaged in a reasonable effort to recruit and hire a licensed social worker, graduate social worker, certified social worker or independent clinical social worker prior to the issuance of a temporary license for a prospective employee.

3.3.4. The requirements of Subsection 3.3 of this Section are to effectuate the Board's goal of meeting the need for professionally trained social workers in West Virginia. However, the Board recognizes the unique position of the Department of Health and Human Resources and, therefore, has created a limited exemption to the requirement that applicants for licensure obtain a degree in social work after July 1, 2000. This exemption is granted with the understanding that the Department will diligently pursue hiring professionally trained social workers. The Board and the Department shall file a progress report with the Joint Committee on Government and Finance on their efforts to achieve this goal on or before December 1, 2000.

3.3.5. The supervisor of a temporary licensee shall provide upon request a sworn statement to the Board indicating:

(a) The supervisor is licensed in West Virginia as a graduate social worker, certified social worker, or independent clinical social worker;

(b) The supervisor has engaged in face-to-face supervision with a specific temporary licensee in an amount not less than the equivalent of one hour per month on at least a quarterly basis; and

(c) The temporary licensee has satisfactorily performed the duties of a social worker while under his or her supervision.

3.3.6. A supervisor may supervise no more than fifteen (15) temporary licensees unless a written waiver has been granted by the Board allowing the supervisor to exceed this number.

3.6. An applicant may make up to four (4) attempts to pass the examination recognized by the Board. An applicant who fails to pass the examination after four (4) attempts shall petition the Board in writing prior to attempting the examination an additional time. The Board may approve, approve with conditions, or deny a petition.

3.7. An applicant for licensure as a social worker, graduate social worker, certified social worker or independent clinical social worker may receive a license with waiver of the requirement for passage of an examination if the applicant:

(a) Is licensed under the laws of another state which are equal to or greater than requirements for licensure in West Virginia as a social worker, graduate social worker, certified social worker, or independent clinical social worker;

(b) Has previously passed an examination required or recognized by the Board;
and

(c) Is eligible under all other requirements for licensure with the exception of examination.

3.8. A licensee may remove a license from inactive status and return to active practice by formally requesting and receiving the approval of the Board. The applicant shall provide a sworn statement indicating that he or she has never been convicted of a felony, has not engaged in behavior which constitutes professional misconduct, and intends to meet all requirements to maintain the license following activation.

3.8.1. The Board may require the applicant to submit recent professional references, or similar documentation of continuing eligibility, prior to removing a license from inactive status after a period of two or more years.

BA/BS	An individual with a bachelor's degree in a human service field like sociology, psychology, or criminal justice may apply for a social work training certificate. He or she must take additional coursework to satisfy equivalency requirements. This includes social welfare policy, human behavior in the social environment, and practice methods for social workers. If the trainee is not in a position to accrue a year of experience working with clients under the supervision of a licensed BSW or MSW, he or she will need to complete an internship. The Social Work Section of the Wisconsin Department of Regulation and Licensing provides detailed information regarding which courses and programs meet their eligibility requirements for the Social Work Training Certificate. The training certificate is good for 24 months and then must be renewed.
LCSW	A prospective LCSW should enroll in an accredited graduate program that has a clinical concentration and a clinical internship. At the time of application, he or she must include syllabi for the psychopathology course and two other clinical courses (unless their school was the University of Wisconsin or Loyola, which are pre-approved). The prospective LCSW should also have had clinical field work as part of the graduate program. If there was no clinical field work completed, he or she will have to do an additional 1,500 hours of supervised work (beyond what is usually required). In order to attain the LCSW, a social worker must work under supervision for a period of at least two years and until such time as he or she accrues 3,000 hours of supervised practice. During this time, he or she must have 1,000 hours of face to face contact with clients. The clinical supervisor may be a psychologist, a psychiatrist, a clinical social worker who has met experience requirements, or another board-approved professional. The social worker will need an hour of direct face to face supervision for every hour that is worked. The clinical license is dependent on passing the clinical level ASWB exam.

Does the state allow reciprocity?

Yes

How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

The Board does allow reciprocity for social workers already licensed in another state. They will review each application on an individual basis, and generally accept those from states with substantially equivalent licensing standards. To apply for reciprocity, you will use the application form corresponding to your desired licensing level, pay the fee ($160 as of October 2015), complete a verification of credential form, complete the Wisconsin open-book exam, and submit the rules and regulations of your state of licensure to the Board for review.

Both are administered by the Association of Social Work Boards. The certification fee is $300. This does not include the fee for examination. The CSW must work under clinical and administrative supervision for the duration of the time that CSW holds this credential.
LCSW	The first step toward LCSW licensure is completion of a CSWE-accredited graduate program. After graduation, the candidate will seek credentialing as a PCSW. This will entail submitting an application and requesting supplemental materials such as transcripts. The applicant will also need to submit a $150 fee. While licensed as a PCSW, the social worker must accrue at least 3,000 hours of work experience. A minimum of 1,200 must be direct clinical client hours. The PCSW will need 100 hours of direct supervision during this time. Supervision

	must be individual or triadic (no more than one other supervisee in attendance) and should occur at regular intervals over an 18- to 36-month period. The social worker will need to take either the clinical or advanced generalist exam before the LCSW credential can be issued – the social worker may attempt the exam as soon as the provisional license has been issued. Up to three examination attempts are permitted under normal circumstances. Although the provisional license is issued for only three years, it is sometimes extended when a licensee makes a written request and demonstrates good cause. The social worker will be expected to have completed either the experience or examination requirement. If he or she isn't finished accruing the supervision hours, he or she may be granted an extension of up to three years. If he or she has fulfilled this requirement, but has not yet passed the exam, they may be granted an extension of up to six months. The social worker will pay a $200 fee to convert the provisional license to a clinical one.

Does the state allow reciprocity?

Yes

How can one moving from another state get the LCSW?

Wyoming does offer reciprocity for both social work certification and licensure. To be eligible for CSW reciprocity, you must have a BSW from a CSWE-accredited school and be actively licensed in a state with similar requirements. You must send an application package that includes the CSW by reciprocity application form, a non-refundable $300 application fee (as of January 2016), a copy of your documented right to legal presence in the US, a state license/certification verification form, three professional references, a supervision agreement (if you will be providing clinical services), an official transcript from your BSW, and a professional disclosure statement. It is also possible to apply for the LCSW if you are already licensed in a state with similar requirements. To apply for LCSW by reciprocity, you must submit the LCSW by reciprocity application form, a non-refundable $350 application fee (as of January 2016), a copy of your right to legal presence in the US, a state license/certification verification form, three professional references, your MSW or DSW transcript, and a professional disclosure statement. If you are licensed in a state that does not have similar requirements to Wyoming, you may apply for the provisional license to gain more experience and eventually work towards obtaining your LCSW.

What is the actual language in the statute for this to happen?

33-38-106. Requirements for licensure and certification

(a) The board shall issue a license as a professional counselor, marriage and family therapist, clinical social worker or addictions therapist to any applicant who files an application upon a form and in the manner prescribed by the board, accompanied by the appropriate fee and who furnishes satisfactory evidence to the board of the following:

(i) The applicant has reached the age of majority;
(ii) The applicant has no felony convictions, and no misdemeanor convictions involving moral turpitude, although exceptions to this requirement may be granted by the board if consistent with the public interest;

(iii) The applicant has received a master's or doctorate degree in one (1) of the disciplines identified from an accredited program and institution of higher education, which is professional in content and which meets the academic and training content standards established by the board. The board shall use the professional training and experience standards of the appropriate professional associations as established by the rules and regulations;

(iv) The applicant has demonstrated knowledge of one (1) of the fields of professional counseling, marriage and family therapy, clinical social work or addictions therapy in general by passing a standard examination which may be written or situational, as the board prescribes. The board may develop, adopt and administer appropriate examinations. The board shall establish specific provisions for examination of applicants for licensure in the specific discipline at reasonable times and places at least twice each year;

(v) The applicant has demonstrated that he has completed three thousand (3,000) hours of supervised clinical experience including a minimum of one hundred (100) hours of face-to-face individual clinical supervision from a qualified clinical supervisor.

(b) Certification under this subsection shall allow practice as a certified social worker only under the supervision of a qualified clinical supervisor and subject to any other restrictions which may be specified by the board. The board shall grant certification as a certified social worker to any applicant who files an application upon a form and in the manner prescribed by the board, accompanied by the appropriate fee and who furnishes satisfactory evidence to the board of the following:

(i) The applicant has reached the age of majority;
(ii) The applicant has no felony convictions, and no misdemeanor convictions involving moral turpitude, although exceptions to this requirement may be granted by the board if consistent with the public interest;

(iii) The applicant has received a baccalaureate degree in social work from an accredited program and institution of higher education, which is professional in content and which meets the academic and training content standards established by the board. The board shall use the professional training and experience standards of the appropriate professional associations as established by the rules and regulations
