Consortium of Adventist Colleges & Universities

Andrews University (AU), Oakwood University (OU) and Washington Adventist University (WAU) have joined in partnership to make online courses available to students around the world through the Consortium of Adventist Colleges & Universities. Each partner plays a crucial role in providing flexible courses to a wide variety of students. Andrews University is the facilitating partner, ensuring students are registered in courses, coordinating course development and faculty, and supporting students through their educational experience. The college or university with whom you register furnishes transcripts.

Each university is represented within a section of this catalog. If you are already attending a partner institution, start by exploring your university’s section. You may also want to consider courses from other partner universities for transfer.

Thank you for your interest in the Consortium of Adventist Colleges & Universities. We hope that through our partnerships we will be able to meet your educational needs.

CONSORTIUM OF ADVENTIST COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Oakwood University (OU), Washington Adventist University (WAU) and Andrews University (AU) enjoy a mutually beneficial relationship in which they pool their resources to more efficiently and effectively serve college students through the Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities. Andrews University processes course registrations, coordinates faculty contracts, and provides student services. Course materials and faculty are approved by each university offering the course. All transcripts and grade reports are issued by the university granting credit for the completed course.

Guest students wishing to pursue individual courses for personal growth, certification, or to supplement a program that they are taking elsewhere, need not meet the admissions requirements for the university granting credit. Students who wish to earn a degree must apply directly to their university and meet that institution’s admissions requirements.

Catalog Effective Dates
The policies in this Consortium of Adventist Colleges and Universities (hereafter referred to as the "Consortium") catalog are effective from August 22, 2016, through August 27, 2017.

Fair Practices Statement
The Consortium admits students to college courses with no discrimination in recruitment or acceptance against any student or applicant because of race, color, ethnic background, religious affiliation, handicap, country of original, age or gender.

Admission Requirements
Students wishing to pursue individual courses for personal growth, to meet course requirements for another college or university, or to supplement a program while registered in another college or university are admitted on a course-by-course basis. It is the responsibility of the students to ensure that courses selected meet their program requirements elsewhere and that they have met any prerequisites listed for the course.

Registration Procedures
Washington Adventist or Oakwood University course registration uses the Registration Packet at andrews.edu/distance/consortiumregister.pdf. Completed forms can be faxed to 269-471-2804 or mailed to 4150 Administration Dr, Berrien Springs, MI 49104-0740.

Andrews University course registration is online, and differs for the following groups:
1. Students may request permission to take credits as guest or non-degree students by completing the guest application at andrews.edu/gueststudent. An approval email will follow in 2–3 days, with course registration steps.
2. Students who are completing a degree at Andrews University may register for Consortium courses offered by Andrews University through Registration Central.
Transcript Procedure
Transcripts for credits earned through Andrews, Oakwood and Washington Adventist Universities should be requested through the Andrews University Transcript Specialist. Transcripts do not indicate delivery format.

More information and the form are available at andrews.edu/distance/students/transcript-requests.html. Email transcripts@andrews.edu with any questions.

Note that if the student account is not paid in full, the student will be notified of the hold on transcript. If the account is clear, the Andrews University Transcript Specialist approves the transcript request and passes it on to the Record’s office of the university issuing credit. Should expedited service be needed, the student will be referred to the issuing office, to pay any additional fees directly.

University Credit for High School Students
Qualifying high school students may register for one or two interactive online courses per semester with the approval of their high school registrar and prior to graduation or completion of GED testing. Visit andrews.edu/precollege to learn more.

Course Load
Provided time to study is not a problem, full-time distance students may register for 12–16 semester credits at a time. While working or taking courses through another institution, one or two courses at a time is realistic. Students can expect to invest 45 hours per credit.

Examinations
For most courses at least one exam is required each semester. Exams must be completed in the presence of an acceptable proctor. Proctors must have academic responsibility in a university, school or workplace education setting, and be available to observe the student throughout the exam session at their work place. An exam request form within the course space requires qualification and contact information for the proctor. If approved, the Testing Center communicates with the proctor, and notifies the student when the exam is released. Exam codes are never available to students. Students in some states and countries are required to use online proctoring from our Testing Center, a service which is also available upon request for students unable to find a suitable proctor.

Students taking Consortium courses while completing courses through another institution should take exams through that institution’s testing center.

As most exams will be completed online, the student should arrange to take the exam where Internet access is available. Exam results will be visible through the gradebook, but students will not be able to access exams once they submit their answers.

All college students must present photo identification to their proctor before taking an exam. Exams must be completed in the presence of an approved proctor without the assistance of any form of media or outside help unless otherwise specified in the exam directions. The student should have no access to the exam before or after it is taken.

Academic Integrity
Consortium universities expect that students will demonstrate the ability to think clearly for themselves and exhibit personal and moral integrity in every sphere of life. Thus, students are expected to display honesty in all academic matters. Academic dishonesty includes (but is not limited to) the following acts:

- Plagiarizing, which includes copying others’ published or unpublished work, and/or failing to give credit properly to other authors and creators;
- Misusing copyrighted material and/or violating licensing agreements (actions that may result in legal action in addition to disciplinary action taken by the University);
- Using media from any source or medium, including the Internet (e.g., print, visual images, music) with the intent to mislead, deceive or defraud;
- Using materials during a quiz or examination other than those specifically allowed by the teacher or program;
- Stealing, accepting, or studying from stolen quizzes or examination materials;
Questions About Financial Aid and Tuition

- Assisting another in acts of academic dishonesty.

Assignments may be discussed with the teacher or other students, tutors may help to guide a student’s work, and a variety of media may be used for additional assistance, but the actual response must be the student’s own work. Work handed in online is checked for plagiarism.

All acts of academic dishonesty are taken seriously. Any violation of this policy will be reviewed by the Andrews University School of Distance Education Higher Education Academic and Curriculum Committee for appropriate punitive action.

Textbooks Listed in Virtual Bookstore and Syllabus

Each course syllabus includes a list of required textbooks, lab kits and/or other supplies. Full descriptions of each item are available through the Andrews Virtual Bookstore at bookstore.andrews.edu.

The Virtual Bookstore provides competitive pricing on used, new and digital textbooks. If you choose to purchase elsewhere, please pay close attention to the ISBN, year of publication and edition details for each textbook. International versions differ greatly, and used textbooks through other suppliers are not always accurately listed.

Financial Aid

Financial aid is not available for guest registrations. Meet with your financial advisor at your home institution before registering for Consortium classes, to learn what financial aid may be available in consortial agreements when taking a course meeting degree requirements as a guest student elsewhere.

Retiree Tuition Discount

A retired person who has reached age 65 may receive a 50% tuition discount for up to three undergraduate or graduate credits within an academic year. To qualify, retirees must provide proof of birth date with their first registration. This discount does not apply to fees and may not be used with other discounts. Email sderegister@andrews.edu or call 269-471-6323 for more information or assistance.

Payment

Payments on account, as well as any additional fees (e.g., alternate exams), may be paid in cash (US dollars only, paid in person), credit/debit/check card, checks (payable to Andrews University), or by wire through Flywire. More information about payment methods is available at andrews.edu/services/sfs/general_information/paying/payment_options/index.html
Financial Information

Emailing credit card information is not safe. You may mail or call with your credit card information.

PAYMENT PLAN POLICY

Payment Plans and Due Dates
Tuition and fees for Oakwood or Washington Adventist University courses may be paid in full at time of registration, or by monthly payment plan. The payment plan requires all fees and 40% of tuition paid at registration; the balance of 60% may be paid in three equal monthly payments.

For registrations prior to the 15th of the month, the first monthly payment is due the 1st day of the next month. For registrations from the 15th through the end of the month, the first payment is due on the first day of the 2nd month following the registration date.

Andrews University degree students may use the monthly payment plan when registering in August or January during the registration period. Monthly payments are due by the 25th of each month.

The monthly payment plan is not available to:
1. students paying through sponsoring organizations
2. students with tuition written off during the past five years
3. students registering for Andrews University courses who are not completing an Andrews degree

See the Refund Policy for information about what is refundable.

Finance Charge Disclosure
Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is 1% per month for AU courses.

Security Interest on Refunds
Andrews holds a security interest in any refund that may be due if there is an outstanding balance.

Services Suspended
Transcript services are suspended until the account has a zero balance.

---

Pay by Phone
- 269-471-6323 for registration payments for WAU and OU
- 269-471-3326 for payments after registration

Mail Checks
Andrews University Student Financial Services
4150 Administration Drive, Berrien Springs, MI 49104-0750, USA

We reserve the right to verify availability of funds for any check received. A fee of $38 will be charged for any check returned by the bank.

Third-Party Billing
Andrews University is able to bill Seventh-day Adventist organizations, in accordance with the Adventist policy of the General Conference and region in which the organization operates. Authorization from the organization’s financial officer must accompany the registration. Payment is due within 30 days from billing. The monthly payment plan is not available to organizations. Payment of a student’s account is the sole responsibility of the student (or parent/guardian if the student is under the age of 18).

Refund of Small Balance
Because of the cost of processing, any credit balance less than $5 will not be refunded unless specifically requested. Students who pay by credit card or who use Flywire (www.flywire.com) will be refunded through the same method. Refunds will be made to the original payee, unless the original payee instructs Student Financial Services otherwise.
REFUND POLICY

The tables to the right summarize the tuition and fee refunds available at the time of withdrawal. Reference the table fitting the term and type of course registered.

Note that students who do not complete their coursework within the course time period must re-register in the course(s), pay tuition and other required fees, and start the course over again.

Withdrawal and Cancellation
Cancellation occurs when a student terminates a course of study before beginning it. Withdrawal occurs when a student terminates a course of study after Andrews University begins providing educational services. The drop (or withdrawal) fee, as applicable, is $35.

Withdrawal Procedure
• If you live near campus, complete the drop/add form to withdraw per policy applicable.
• If you do not live near campus, email sderegister@andrews.edu to withdraw per policy applicable. Include the specific course number and name, your student number and full name, and any instructions on returning a refund.
• Payment of withdrawal fee is due before the withdrawal is processed.

Andrews University was first established in Battle Creek, Michigan, as Battle Creek College. Since its 1874 founding, the University has become a center of Christian education for students from across North America and around the world. Since 1989, “U.S. News & World Report” has ranked Andrews among America's top 242 “national universities.”

Andrews offers a variety of programs leading to associate, baccalaureate, master’s, specialist and doctoral degrees. Along with emphasizing excellence in teaching, the University encourages research in order to enrich the learning process and to benefit the church and society at large.
OVERVIEW

As the facilitating partner of the Consortium of Adventist Colleges & Universities, Andrews University offers associate and bachelor’s degrees in religion and liberal arts, as well as courses for non-degree students.

Statement of Mission
Andrews University, a distinctive Seventh-day Adventist Church institution, transforms its students by educating them to seek knowledge and affirm faith in order to change the world.

Andrews University students will:

SEEK KNOWLEDGE as they:
- Commit to a mindset of intellectual discovery
- Demonstrate the ability to think clearly and critically
- Communicate effectively utilizing multiple media
- Understand the arts, letters, and sciences from a Christian point of view

Accreditation
Andrews University is accredited through the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and the Board of Regents of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. In addition, Andrews holds membership with many associations and accrediting bodies specific to disciplines and degree programs.

Nondiscrimination Policy
Admission to Andrews University is available to any student who meets the academic and character requirements of the University and who expresses willingness to cooperate with the policies. Because Andrews University is sponsored and financed primarily by the Seventh-day Adventist Church, the majority of its students are Seventh-day Adventist. However, no particular religious commitment is required for admission; any student who will be comfortable within its religious, social and cultural atmosphere may be admitted. The university does not discriminate on the grounds of race, color, creed, national or ethnic origin, sex, weight, height, marital status or handicap.

Course Repeat Policy
Students may repeat a course in which they receive an unsatisfactory grade. In such a case, the record of the first attempt is not erased. However, in the case of undergraduate students only, the credits and quality points earned in the course with the higher grade are used to calculate the GPA. In the case of graduate students the course may be repeated once. The credits and quality points earned in the most recent course will be used to calculate the GPA. Course grades may be replaced only by grades for course work repeated on campus. When a course with a laboratory is repeated, the laboratory part must also be repeated. In sequence-type courses (course numbers ending in 1, 2, or 3) a student who earns an F for one semester must repeat that course before being permitted to enroll or remain enrolled in courses that follow in that sequence. A student who earns a D in such a course should counsel with the teacher as to the wisdom of continuing the course.

Transcripts
Transcripts should be requested following the procedures listed on page 7. Students who need their transcripts expedited will be charged a 24-hour in-office processing fee plus express mailing expenses, which differ by location. For more information, visit www.andrews.edu/services/registrar/alumni_former_students/transcript_requests/.

COURSE REVISIONS
As new editions of textbooks and learning materials are published, courses listed in this catalog are revised and new ones added. For information on the status of a course, check with our Consortium Registration Coordinator prior to registration.

COURSE DEFINITIONS
Self-paced open learning courses (section 901) can be started at any time, are student-paced, and are not eligible for federal financial aid.

Self-paced full term courses (section 902) have fixed start and end dates, flexible assignment schedules and fixed midterm and final exam due dates, and are eligible for federal financial aid. Students set assignment schedules for each half of the term; but must complete the first half by midterm; and the second half by the final exam.

Interactive online (section 999, 998, 997, etc.) courses have fixed start and end dates, assignment and exam due dates, and are eligible for federal financial aid. Instructors set assignment deadlines and create an interactive learning community. Sections 950, 951, etc., are offered for eligible high school and academy students.

Independent study courses (section 901) consist of a course outline, readings and papers delivered online.

Oakwood University

Oakwood University was founded by the Seventh-day Adventist Church in 1896 as a coeducational institution. From its humble beginnings as Oakwood Industrial School with an enrollment of 16 students, it has grown to its current enrollment of over 2,000 students. Today, Oakwood University offers degree programs in the arts and sciences, business, education, nursing and health professions, and religion and theology. The University is accredited to grant associate, baccalaureate and master’s degrees.
OVERVIEW

Oakwood University, since joining in 1999, continues as a partner in the Consortium of Adventist Colleges & Universities. Through the Consortium, Oakwood offers courses for students who need the flexible scheduling that online courses provide. Students are able to supplement their degree programs without being confined exclusively to class schedules or to a campus. Course-work taken through this Consortium will not provide the student with all the courses necessary to complete an Oakwood degree program; nor is it intended as a substitute for an on-campus experience.

Mission Statement
The mission of Oakwood University, a historically black, Seventh-day Adventist institution, is to transform students through biblically based education for service to God and humanity.

Accreditation
Oakwood University is accredited by:
- The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award associate, baccalaureate and master’s degrees. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4501 for questions about the status of Oakwood University. The Commission is to be contacted only if there is evidence that appears to support significant noncompliance by Oakwood University with a requirement or standard.
- The Adventist Accrediting Association of the Department of Education of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Oakwood University offers programs accredited by:
- Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs
- Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics
- Council on Social Work Education
- National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education
- National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission

Oakwood University offers programs approved by the:
- Alabama Board of Nursing
- Alabama State Department of Education

Equal Opportunity Commitment
Oakwood University is committed to providing equal opportunity for all qualified persons. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, gender or handicap in the administration of its educational and admissions policies, financial affairs, employment policies and programs, student life and services, or any other University-administered program.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Course Repeat Policy
The student may select to repeat a course. Both the original and repeat grades are entered on the student’s permanent record. In all cases, the best grade for the repeated course will be accepted for credit and used to calculate the cumulative GPA.

Transcripts
Transcripts for OU courses completed through this Consortium should be requested following the procedures listed on page 7. Transcript policy and fees for expedited requests are available at http://www.oakwood.edu/academics/registrars-office/transcript-requests

Format(s) Available: Self-Paced Open Learning
HEBREW PROPHETS
(3 semester credits)
An introduction to the 16 prophetic books of the Old Testament. As agents of change in their societies, the prophets challenged economic exploitation and other forms of social injustice. Students will consider people who speak within the prophetic tradition today.
Format(s) Available: Self-Paced Open Learning

INTRODUCTION TO THE NEW TESTAMENT
(3 semester credits)
An introduction to the theological convictions of the earliest Christians through a study of the literature found in the New Testament. Students will consider the social situations of the writers and their churches, as well as the convictions concerning Jesus Christ that shaped their writings.
Prerequisites: RELB 160.
Format(s) Available: Self-Paced Open Learning

DANIEL
(3 semester credits)
Apocalyptic literature was first created by Jewish communities as they wrestled with the problem of evil. After a brief overview of apocalyptic writings found in the Old testament, students will study this unique style by doing a close reading of the book of Daniel.
Format(s) Available: Self-Paced Open Learning

REVELATION
(3 semester credits)
Christians modified Jewish apocalyptic literature by including and emphasizing the life and work of Jesus Christ. In this course, students will be challenged to learn principles for interpretation and to experience this final book of the Bible as they explore its relevance for contemporary faith and life.
Prerequisites: RELB 251 or permission of instructor.
Format(s) Available: Self-Paced Open Learning

KNOWING AND SHARING CHRIST
(3 semester credits)
Explores how Christians can better understand their faith in Christ and comfortably share it in the context of today’s busy, multifaith society. The course will help students discover powerful motives and effective, easily-implemented strategies that will enable them to communicate the gospel actively in ways that are compatible with their personality and abilities.
Format(s) Available: Self-Paced Open Learning

BIBLICAL PREACHING AND PRACTICUM
(3 semester credits)
An introduction to the principles governing sermon construction and the development of a theology of preaching. Careful attention is given to the structuring of various types of sermons as well as to the dynamics of delivery styles. Course requirements include required videotaped sessions and evaluation by the instructor and fellow students. Further opportunities are created to apply the homiletical principles through class presentations, guest lecturers and specialized assigned readings. Students are assigned to preach in area churches, where they are monitored and evaluated.
