

The Andrews University Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary is a learning and worshiping community of culturally diverse people, called to serve our Creator God, the Seventh-day Adventist Church, our congregations and our world, by preparing faithful and effective leaders to make disciples of all nations and proclaim the everlasting gospel of Jesus Christ in the setting of the three angels' message of Revelation 14. Students from other faith communities are welcome and respected.

Recognizing its responsibilities to the Seventh-day Adventist Church and its moral witness to the world, the seminary does not knowingly admit persons into its programs of study who engage in behaviors inconsistent with the high calling of ministry.

Answers submitted in this document will not necessarily result in denial of admission to any individual because we recognize the power of God's transforming grace in people's lives, and His prerogative to call into ministry whomever He chooses.

After this completed form has been reviewed by the seminary counselor it will be retained in a secure file and its contents will not be shared with any third party, except when a signed release from the applicant is provided. However, in some cases seminary administration will be advised about what is disclosed on this form.
