Periodicals A to Z Guide

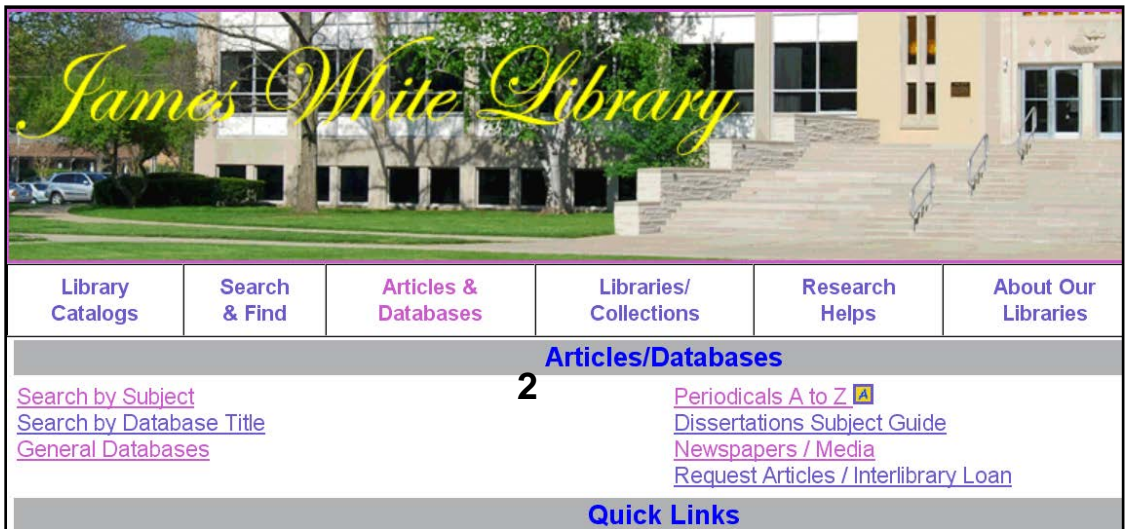

Periodicals A to Z is a listing of periodicals available in the electronic or print version from the Library. After you have found an article citation in an index, consult the Periodicals A to Z list. Open a second browser window and type or paste the journal title in the Periodicals A to Z search box, toggling between the citation record and the Periodicals A to Z list. Some databases have a link to the Periodicals A to Z list.

Getting Started

1. On the Library's home page click Articles/Databases.

2. Click on Periodicals A-Z.

Viewing the Periodical Title List

1. Enter the title of the periodical,
2. Click on the first letter of the journal title,
3. OR Browse journals by subject.

The screenshot shows the James White Library website. At the top is a banner image of the library building with the text "James White Library" in a yellow script font. Below the banner is a navigation menu with links: Library Catalogs, Search & Find, Articles & Databases, Libraries/ Collections, Research Helps, About Our Libraries, and Help / Services. Below the menu is a search form with a dropdown menu labeled "Title begins with" and a text input field. A red "1" is placed above the input field. Below the form is a link "Citation Linker" and a section "Browse print and electronic journals by title" with a red "2" above it. Below this is a list of letters from A to Z and "Other" in blue, with a red "3" above the "Browse e-journals by subject" link.

4. Locate the title for which you are searching.
5. James White Library Print Holdings means the Library subscribes to the physical copy. Click on the link to see the location and issues available.
6. If the journal is in an online database, click on the name of the database. Then search for the article by title or browse by date and volume number.

The screenshot shows the search results page on the James White Library website. At the top is the same navigation menu as in the previous screenshot. Below the menu is a search form with a dropdown menu labeled "Title begins with" and a text input field. A red "4" is placed above the input field. Below the form is a link "Citation Linker" and a section "Browse print and electronic journals by title" with a red "5" above it. Below this is a list of letters from A to Z and "Other" in blue, with a red "6" above the "Browse e-journals by subject" link. Below the search form is a search result for "Journal of American History" with a red "4" above it. The result includes the title "Journal of American history (Bloomington, Ind.) (0021-8723)", a link "Look up Article", and a link "More full text options". Below the title are three links: "James White Library Print Holdings", "JSTOR Arts & Sciences I Archive Collection", and "EBSCOhost EJS".
