Periodicals A to Z
Finding Journals, Magazines, & Newspapers in the James White Library

To find an article in the library you need to have a citation for it. Search for an article citation in an article index. Once you have found the citation for the article you want, type Ctrl-N (or click File > New > Window) to open a second browser window. This allows you to toggle between the citation record and the Periodicals A to Z list.

1. On the Library’s home page click Find Articles

2. Click Periodicals A to Z
Viewing the Periodical Title List

1. Click on the first letter of the journal title
   Or
2. Enter the title of the periodical and click Search

3. Locate the title for which you are searching
4. James White Library Print Holdings indicates that the Library subscribes to this periodical. Click the link to see where it is located and which issues the Library owns.
5. If the journal is in another electronic index or database, click on the name of the database. Then, search for the article by title or browse by date and volume number.
Library Catalog Records for Journals

1. Title of journal
2. Most recent issue in the library. Click Latest Received to check the status of recent back issues (see page 4)
3. Table lists bound back issues. Click this button to see all back issues:

   View additional copies or search for a specific volume/copy

4. Scroll down to view additional information about this journal, including other libraries in Berrien County who subscribe to this title
5. Most periodicals are located in the Periodicals Room on the lower floor or the library. Other locations include the Seminary Library and Adventist Heritage Center.

Tip
Catalogs do not contain records for articles. Periodical indexes are used to search for articles. When looking for articles be sure you know which title is the article title and which is the journal title. This will help you search for the desired title in the correct database.

!Library Catalog Example
Recent Back Issues

1. Range of issues held by the library
2. Displays information about recent issues. Tells whether the issue is received, late, available or at the bindery.
3. Click Regular Record Display to return to the previous screen.

Issues at the Bindery

Issues which are designated To Bind may be in the Periodicals office. If the issue you need is designated To Bind, check with the Periodicals office.