A few years ago, I was standing in line, holding my youngest daughter, Rebecca, in the Piggly Wiggly grocery store (a grocery store chain in the South) when I felt a tap on my shoulder. As I turned around an older lady stood there smiling broadly with the two teeth in her mouth. She looked up at me and said, “Ain’t no denying that youngen; she looks jest like you!”

I smiled and replied, “She does, doesn’t she?” I felt the pride any parent feels as I delighted in finding similarities between my daughter and myself.

Our school slogan for the 2011-2012 school year here at the academy has been: “It’s All about Jesus.” This is both a powerful and prodigious slogan, as we’ve worked very hard to make this academic year all about Jesus. Assuredly, we have consistently kept this slogan at the forefront of all that we’ve done and intended to do. Prayerfully, we have truly attempted to support all students along in their journey at AA. In the area of academics, spiritual growth, and service, I can confidently say that this year has been all about Jesus.

I wonder if your child’s experience this year has been “All about Jesus?” Did they see Jesus in teachers, principal, in the academia, or even in the “fun” things in which they participated? I hope so! As a Seventh-day Adventist Christian high school, at Andrews Academy, we feel that it is imperative that everyone reflect the image of Jesus Christ.

I am so proud to be a part of a terrific school family where the image of God is at the forefront of all that we say and do. We’d love for anyone to be able to say to Jesus about any of us, “There ain’t no denying that one!”

Teacher Appreciation Week

Senior Worship Weeks

We have been blessed by the depth and breadth of advice seniors have been sharing with the rest of the school this week. It has been a tradition for seniors during the last weeks of school to give advice to underclassmen. It is often a time to share humorous stories from their high school experience as they share Christian advice on many issues.

These presentations are very impressive. Please go to Andrews Academy FB page to read one of the rough draft transcript from our chapel together and for many other pictures & stories from the school year.
