Happy New Year!

What a blessing to start fresh again. The year 2012 is a clean slate, a chance to once again immerse ourselves in the compassions that are "new every morning. Great is His Faithfulness."

Immerse yourself in Glimpses of Our God to add to the Sabbath School Bible Study Guides, for the first quarter. You may also want to read Redemption in Genesis for a deeper understanding of the symbolism God uses in Genesis to reveal Himself and His plan to redeem His people.

Children will love the sing-along CDs and songbook in the Kids' Time Praise project. By keeping these songs in their hearts and minds, kids also can experience God's faithfulness. Finally, be amazed by the animal stories shared in Tawny and other Good Lord Made Them All books. Even animals can demonstrate God's faithfulness, caring compassion, gentleness and love.
Redemption in Genesis

In Redemption in Genesis, John S. Nixon looks for Jesus in the Bible's beginning, and draws new, refreshing lessons from the familiar, well-rehearsed stories in Genesis. Through the filter of Jesus Christ, even the metaphors and symbols of Genesis reveal redemption anew as that which compels us to complete self-abandonment and reliance on Him.

Glimpses of Our God

In this, the companion book for first quarter 2012 Sabbath School Bible Study Guides, the author paints a vivid word picture of a holy God. Dr. Davidson shows that all study of God must come from a heart and mind trained in humility, and that ultimately, the more we know about God, the more our love for Him will deepen and intensify, leading to adoration and worship on a grander level.
