The Faith Three Angels Ministries had faith that God would provide. Their service truck that was used to pick up food, clothing and furniture was old, in disrepair, and was left to rot away. The rental of a service truck was using up the center’s budget. This past summer a low mileage, great condition, beautiful truck was found. But the center didn’t have the $13,000 to purchase the truck.

Reginald Hardwick believed nothing was too hard for God. His Facebook friends heard about the community service work he had been doing for the church, and asked him how they can help. He shared the needs of purchasing a new truck and to his amazement, he received $7,000 dollars! The Faith 3 Angels received $4,000 dollars from a walk against hunger fundraiser and another $3,000 from a church member. With the extra money they will print “Faith Seventh-day Adventist 3 Angels Community Service – Touching Hearts, Lifting Spirits, and Sharing the Goodness of Jesus Christ” on the side of their new truck.

Pathfinders and Adventures prepared about 250 thanksgiving baskets for those in need. The Adventist Community Services of the Faith Seventh-day Adventist Church in Connecticut set up work stations and instructed the youth on what was needed to be done at each station. The young people assembled bags, sorted canned goods, onions, carrots, apples, and oranges. The children, even the older ones were so excited. One little adventure said, “Wow! We’re helping hungry people.” The Adventures also made thanksgiving cards that went with each basket.
This is one small way to get young people involved and teach them about serving and reaching their community. What a blessing.
