Menu Changes in Progress.
Logo Contest Extended: $200 Cash Prize Plus a Painting

Dear Entrants,

The month-long LOGO contest has been extended for the NEXT FOUR DAYS.

If you missed the deadline, here is a chance to still win $200 CASH and one of my paintings.

Each entrant has until April 8 at MIDNIGHT to submit his or her logo to wandekagayle@hotmail.com.

PLEASE ensure that the logo has the right resolution so as not to become pixelated when enlarged to poster sizes.

ALL entry information is at my facebook page: www.facebook.com/wandekagayleart.

The winner will be announced at my exhibition on April 12 at Harrigan Hall Gallery at 7 p.m.

Happy creating! :)

- Wandeka Gayle

For the most up-to-date and accurate information, please access the Class Schedule at www.andrews.edu/academics. Academic departments and service offices can pick them up from Mailing Services in Enrollment Management. If departments or offices would like the class schedules to be delivered to their department, email Kari Friestad at friestad@andrews.edu. For additional copies for students, please visit Enrollment Management on the ground floor of the Administration Building. The printed Class Schedule features a back cover letter from the Office of Academic Records regarding the transition of the Class Schedule from print to exclusively online.

Run For Japan Fundraiser
It takes hard work, commitment, and time to run a marathon—just like it’s going to take hard work, commitment, and time to restore the devastated areas of Japan. That’s why Ashleigh Walton and her five teammates are running Beach 2 Bank as a fundraiser for the Red Cross.

In October, Ashleigh will be running the Chicago Marathon. She is running as a part of the “Run Red Team,” a group of runners that have committed themselves to raising about $50 per mile, with all proceeds going to the Red Cross’s “most pressing need” category—which at the moment is Japan.

To help her raise money, her Beach 2 Bank teammates Jordan Arellano, Erica Bradfield, Ariana Cunningham, Sarah Gane, and Samantha Snively will be asking for donations as they run the Beach 2 Bank. The money they raise will go directly to Ashleigh’s Run Red fund, in hopes of raising more than her goal of $1,310.

Donations can be made by the mile or in one amount. You can give your donations in person to any of the teammates or donate at Ashleigh’s Run Red website, http://american.redcross.org/site/TR/ChicagoMarathons/COGP1LGreaterChicago13302?px=8783622&pg=personal&fr_id=1331.

For more information, contact Ashleigh Walton at walton@andrews.edu or Samantha Snively at snively@andrews.edu or 574-286-8010.

Opera Arias and Songs

April 9 at 9 p.m.
April 10, at 4 p.m.
Howard Performing Arts Center

The Andrews University Department of Music will feature its voice majors at the Howard Performing Arts Center located on the campus of Andrews University on Saturday, April 9, at 9 p.m. and Sunday, April 10, at 4 p.m. The production, "Opera Arias and Songs" will feature a selection of numbers from musicals and operas including The Sound of Music, Gianni Schicchi, Turandot, Le Nozze di Figaro, La Sonnambula and The Telephone. The public is invited to attend.

Students of Julia Lindsay, assistant professor of music (voice) at Andrews University, will perform 21 musical selections during the production. The majority of the selections are opera. Three unique art songs will be performed by students Ray Kirk, Michael Sandvik and Melanney Browne as well as one oratorio by Melissa Crewe. Lindsay is director of the production. Linda Mack, associate professor of library science at Andrews University, will provide accompaniment.

Tickets for Opera Arias and Songs can be purchased by calling the Howard Performing Arts Center box office at 269-471-3560. Admission tickets for adults are $10, seniors are $8 and Andrews University student tickets are free. Learn more by visiting www.howard.andrews.edu.

Gymnics Home Show
Saturday, April 9 at 9 p.m.
Sunday, April 10 at 6:30 p.m.
Johnson Gym on the campus of Andrews University.

Tickets are available at the door. Prices are: $5 for adults, $4 for students and $3 for children age 13 and under.

The Gymnics, a 30-member team of sports acrobats from Andrews University, offer the free show every year just before their two weekend home shows. The rich variety of the members' backgrounds and gymnastics experience contributes to team diversity, painting an accurate picture of the multicultural atmosphere found on the campus of Andrews University. Not only are the Gymnics known for their fantastic performances on the gymnastics mat but also for their anti-drug assemblies and religious programming. Learn more about the Gymnics by visiting www.andrews.edu/cas/gymnics.

Posters and Promotions in Residence Halls

When planning to advertise in the residence halls, please keep the following guidelines in mind:

- Posters must have a stamp from Student Life and can only be placed on designated bulletin boards—if you are not sure which bulletin boards are appropriate to use, ask a residence hall dean for clarification. And remember, never cover another flyer with your poster.

- Door-to-door flyers must be approved by a residence hall dean. Approved flyers can be placed under residents’ doors or if arrangements are made with a dean in residents’ mailboxes.

International Music Competition
The fourth annual International Music Competition at Andrews University took place on Sunday, March 27, in the Howard Performing Arts Center on the campus of Andrews University. The event was sponsored and organized by the Andrews University Department of Music and features a different area each year (piano, strings, voice or winds). Read full story.

Art Exhibit Aids Children in Need
University student Ryan McCabe is painting with a purpose this semester. Ryan, a graphic design major, presented his BFA Senior Thesis Exhibition on Tuesday, March 22, at the Andrews University Smith Hall Gallery. The exhibit was called "The Least of These" and it sought to find sponsors for children in need around the globe. Sponsorships were made through Compassion International, a Christian child advocacy ministry that provides hope for youth in poverty. Read full story.

VGPS Secures Grant Monies for Third Straight Year
The Village Green Preservation Society (VGPS), the environmental club at Andrews University, has applied for and received a grant to support recycling efforts on campus. The grant of $474 was provided by Berrien County through the School Recycling Grant Program, a program that exists to provide monetary support for school waste reduction, recycling projects and activities that support environmentalism. This is the third consecutive year VGPS has received the grant. Funds will be used to provide recycling bins in Bell Hall and the Center for Adventist Research (CAR). Read full story.

Transition to Online-Only Class Schedule
Andrews University is transitioning the Class Schedule from a print version to exclusively online. The 2011–2012 Class Schedule will be the final printed schedule and is available online at www.andrews.edu/go/classes. The 2012–2013 academic year Class Schedule will be the first exclusively online version. The transition to an online schedule will offer campus the most up-to-date information, in addition to being cost-efficient and environmentally friendly. Often, the Class Schedule is outdated before it is even distributed. For example, in fall 2010 and spring 2011, departments submitted more than 580 schedule change forms after the schedule was printed. An online-only Class Schedule will save the University print costs of nearly $4,000 each year and eliminate more than 6,000 printed copies from eventually ending up in a landfill. The online Class Schedule is searchable by department, subject, time and meeting days. The online Class Schedule will expand to include links to the final exam and Week of Spiritual Emphasis schedules, course and lab fees, important calendar dates, and many other necessary links. Students, teachers and advisors will also be able to download and/or print up-to-date copies of the schedule, and a class planner link is available for students. If you have questions or suggestions that will make this resource more helpful to you, please e-mail to registrar@andrews.edu. A taskforce group dedicated to enhancing the quality and usability of this product will review your feedback.

MOODLE TRANSITION IS IN FULL SWING

To help us make sure we get all of your data out of D2L, please fill out this questionnaire found at the following link: http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/moodlemove

Backup Courses

With the move to Moodle the DLiT will be doing a backup of all the courses. However it is also recommended that you keep your own backup copy of your course(s). The steps are:

- Click on the specific course
- Click on edit course (lower right side of the navigation bar)
- Click on import/export/copy components
- Check export
- Click next
- Select all components
- Click next
- Click next (this confirms the components to export)
- When the export summary shows Green Check marks, click done
- Click on the "click here to download the export Zip package"
- Click save, choose where to save the zip file

If you have a lot of content you may need to divide the content into more than one download. These download gets the content, quizzes, and document. If you need the student grades you do to follow the steps below to backup the gradebook.

Backup Gradebook

- Click on the gradebook
- Click on export grades
- Select Org Defined ID, Points Grade, Last name, and First name
- Make sure all gradebook items are checked
- Click Export to CSV
- A box will pop-up, "your file is ready to download"
- Click on the file
- Click save
- Select where to save it to
- Click save

Your file may save automatically without asking where you want to save it to. If that happens, the download files maybe in the C: Drive. For any questions, please feel free to contact us.

International Music Competition

The fourth annual International Music Competition at Andrews University took place on Sunday, March 27, in the Howard Performing Arts Center on the campus of Andrews University. The event was sponsored and organized by the Andrews University Department of Music and features a different area each year (piano, strings, voice or winds).

This year’s focus areas were wind, brass and percussion. A group of five musicians selected from a pool of national and international applicants were chosen to perform for the event based on submissions of recorded performance. Finalists in this year’s competition, including their instrument, home country and current university, were: Ricardo Flores, trumpet, United States/Mexico, Andrews University alum; Daniel Mendoza, clarinet, Venezuela, Andrews University; Tyler Rand, oboe, United States, Southern Adventist University; Debra Rosengren, flute, Canada, Andrews University; and Paige Wright, flute, United States, Southern Adventist University.

Participants performed two movements of contrasting styles at the competition and were awarded based on decisions by the judge’s panel. The prizes for first and second place ($1,000 plus a solo performance with the Andrews University Orchestra or Wind Symphony for first and $500 for second) was shared between Daniel Mendoza and Tyler Rand. Each received $750. Third prize ($300) was awarded to Debra Rosengren. Fourth prize ($200) was awarded to Ricardo Flores, and fifth prize ($100) was awarded to Paige Wright.

"It is good to have Andrews moving through the musical world like an institution that promotes students' excellence and competitiveness," says Claudio Gonzalez, conductor of the Andrews University Orchestra and Sinfonietta. "Considering previous experiences, we have had higher ranked artists playing concerts as winners with the Andrews University Orchestra... In my opinion, that is one of the benefits for our music department and for Andrews at large."

The 2011–2012 International Music Competition will feature performers from the area of piano. To be eligible, participants must be between the ages of 17 and 27 or currently enrolled in a masters/undergraduate degree program or high school from any country. To request application forms or additional information, contact Carlos A. Flores, Andrews University International Music Competition director at 269-471-3555 or via email at cflores@andrews.edu.
Art Exhibit Aids Children in Need

University student Ryan McCabe is painting with a purpose this semester. Ryan, a graphic design major, presented his BFA Senior Thesis Exhibition on Tuesday, March 22, at the Andrews University Smith Hall Gallery. The exhibit was called "The Least of These" and it sought to find sponsors for children in need around the globe. Sponsorships were made through Compassion International, a Christian child advocacy ministry that provides hope for youth in poverty.

Ryan painted 20 portraits of children for the event. Each was labeled as "high priority" by Compassion, meaning that he/she has been in need of sponsorship for over a year. At the exhibit, attendees could sign up to sponsor a child whose painting was on the wall. As an incentive, he promised sponsors they could keep the child's painting at the end of the event.

A sponsor himself, Ryan was inspired for the theme after hearing a chapel talk in January by professor Duffy Robbins of Eastern University:

"He [Duffy Robbins] talked about his experience with sponsorship through Compassion, and I realized I'm actually in a position to sponsor a kid," says Ryan. "The reason I had become inspired to do that was because the idea had been presented in the right way. I wanted to present that same information in a way that would make people catch on to it, so even a group of college students would want to sponsor."

After careful planning and prayer, he contacted Compassion and asked for 20 more children's information packets. When he received their photos, he went to work, spending nearly four hours on each painting and building their wooden frames.

Ryan spent days before the event in constant prayer, hoping even ten children would receive a sponsor. Much to his amazement, an impressive crowd showed up for the exhibit, and each child received a sponsor in just 24 hours.

"He [Duffy Robbins] talked about his experience with sponsorship through Compassion, and I realized I'm actually in a position to sponsor a kid," says Ryan. "The reason I had become inspired to do that was because the idea had been presented in the right way. I wanted to present that same information in a way that would make people catch on to it, so even a group of college students would want to sponsor."
“It blew me away,” says Ryan. “I was not expecting this kind of a reaction so immediate and visceral in the amount of people that showed up. I was hoping for the best, and it ended up being ten times better than what I was expecting.”

Today, Compassion International helps more than one million children in 26 countries. The ministry was founded in 1952 and provides children in poverty with food, shelter, education and health care, as well as Christian training.

More Recycling at Andrews

The Village Green Preservation Society (VGPS), the environmental club at Andrews University, has applied for and received a grant to support recycling efforts on campus. The grant of $474 was provided by Berrien County through the School Recycling Grant Program, a program that exists to provide monetary support for school waste reduction, recycling projects and activities that support environmentalism. This is the third consecutive year VGPS has received the grant. Funds will be used to provide recycling bins in Bell Hall and the Center for Adventist Research (CAR).

"VGPS hopes the new recycling bins will help people realize that no matter what you think about global warming or the politics of oil drilling, our world is finite and we should do what we can to care for it," says Larnell Smith, VGPS president. "We are only the temporary stewards of this planet, and it is our hope that through this new recycling system, it will be easier to be a good steward at Andrews University."

Looking for ways to spread the message of VGPS, officers originally planned to write a grant for Bell Hall only because of the high number of students and faculty in the building each day. They also hoped to familiarize students in the School of Education with proper recycling techniques.

"We thought it would be a great influence on future educators to have recycling bins available in their place of study," says Lamell. "That way, when they go to their new place of employment, they will be in the habit of recycling and perhaps implement recycling programs in future work places where there are none."

The group also received a request from the staff at the Center for Adventist Research to implement recycling in their area, "Which we happily did!" says Lamell. Additional funding from the Office of the Provost will help promote the new bins on campus and educate students and faculty about recycling methods.

This spring’s grant marks a total of four grants awarded to the University through VGPS, including grants for the residence halls, Administration Building, Ruth Murdoch Elementary School and most recently Bell Hall and the Center for Adventist Research. VGPS’ mission is to continue to apply for recycling grants so students, faculty and staff will eventually have access to recycling in every building on campus. Plans for next year’s grants are currently underway.

"As recycling becomes more visible on campus, I hope it will continue to raise our awareness of our God-given responsibility to care for Creation," says Tom Goodwin, VGPS sponsor. "I’ve enjoyed working with these students, who have high ideals and are willing to put effort into making AU a better place."

The emergence of spring at Andrews University brings with it an opportunity to witness to the community.

Since 2003, Andrews University has hosted its annual Easter Passion Play on campus, drawing thousands of audience members from across the country to each event. With the help of more than 600 community and student volunteers, the eighth annual Easter Passion Play will return on Saturday, April 23 to celebrate the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

"Families will love the Easter Passion Play because it is interactive learning," said Ron Whitehead, executive producer of the Easter Passion Play. "The Bible story comes alive with the sights, sounds and smells of Bible times. It is the most powerful story ever told."

The first Easter Passion Play on the campus of Andrews University was produced in 2003 under Whitehead's vision and direction. Since its beginning, the production has grown from attracting a 5,000-member crowd to an estimated 10,000 expected at this year's production.

The indoor/outdoor walk-through experience begins at the Howard Performing Arts Center with a short video welcome and the opening scene. Then, visitors head outdoors to be part of the crowd at Jesus' triumphal entry into the Jerusalem marketplace. The audience will then be guided through the sights, sounds, smells and tastes of the marketplace, complete with live animals and food samples. Continuing on the journey, participants will experience a Roman encampment, hear Christ’s words at the Last Supper and witness the arrest of Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane.

The reality of Christ’s sacrifice is depicted through a moving crucifixion scene followed by a lights-and-sound show in the darkened Johnson Gym. The production culminates here with the savior emerging victorious from the tomb.

Hospitality staff will greet and assist participants as they exit the gym. Free refreshments will be available at the Hospitality Tent sponsored by Pioneer Memorial Church. Visitors can take a moment to reflect in the Prayer Room and/or ride a free shuttle bus back to main event parking areas.

"Being part of the Easter Passion Play is all about service," said Dave Fernandez, Spanish student at Andrews University. Fernandez portrayed the role of Jesus during the 2009 and 2010 Easter Passion Plays. He said: “You have to pray for God to humble you and let him be seen through you… When you allow yourself to be broken and used — it’s an incredible blessing."

Individuals, families, church and school groups are encouraged to reserve wristbands early for this event. Wristbands will be given at the first scene and can be reserved online for free at www.passionplay.andrews.edu. The first rotation will begin at 10 a.m. followed by new rotations every 30 minutes until 6:30 p.m. The Spanish rotations will take place at 3 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. Participants To volunteer, visit www.passionplay.andrews.edu and click on the “Volunteers” link. Volunteers must complete a registration form and receive approval in order to participate in the event. Non-speaking roles are still available.

Founded in 1874, Andrews University is the flagship institution of higher education for the Seventh-day Adventist church, located one-half mile east of the U.S. 31 Bypass in Berrien Springs.
Korean students help Japan

Local News

By DEBRA HAIGHT - H-P Correspondent

BERRIEN SPRINGS - Imperial Japan's occupation of Korea is far from a fond memory for Koreans who lived through it.

And the legacy lingers for those born decades after Japanese soldiers left in 1945 after 36 years of often brutal occupation.

But the death and devastation from Japan's March 11 earthquake is touching Korean hearts at Andrews University in Oronoko Township.

The leader of a campus Korean club said the need to help Japan proved an extra incentive for boosting club sales at Sunday's 47th Annual International Food Fair in the university's Johnson Gym.

"We are also planning to do something with the Korean church to collect money," Jinwook Lee said at the event. "Everyone is donating and wants to be involved. Japan ruled over our country for 36 years, but with the calamity, it has opened our hearts to help."
Lee said the Korean booth raised the most money at last year's fair, and volunteers were hoping to do as well this year.

He said volunteers came from the university's two Korean clubs, the Korean Andrews Student Association and the Andrews Seminary Korean Student Association as well as the Korean Seventh-day Adventist Church in Berrien Springs.

The fair is a major fundraiser for the 20 international student organizations, and it's a major cultural event.

The university is home to about 600 international students, representing some 100 nations. With family and relatives, the international community in the Berrien Springs area numbers about 2,000 people.

As it does every year, the Pioneer Memorial Pathfinders Club offered American staples such as popcorn, ice cream, hot dogs and cotton candy.

People with more adventurous taste buds could enjoy the eastern cuisines of the Philippines, China, Southeast Asia, South Pacific, India and Korea as well as samplings of European and African cuisines.

They could also try food offered at the Haitian, Caribbean and Brazilian booths for food from this hemisphere.

Some dishes vary little from what Americans eat, though with different names. Some dishes are native to more than one area.
