Where in the world is the Andrews welcome globe?
Where in the world is the Andrews welcome globe?

Recently, a passerby noticed the globe was shaking in the wind and notified Plant Administration. Upon further investigation, it was discovered that some of the foundation posts and pipes were broken. As a result, a crane removed the globe on Thursday so repairs could get underway. The globe is expected to be returned to its rightful location by the end of next week, just in time to welcome our Easter Passion Play visitors to campus.

Easter Choral Concert
Saturday, April 23

Contact: Andrew Blosser  ablosser@andrews.edu  (517) 897-5054
The Andrews University choirs under the direction of Stephen Zork present the Easter Choral Concert.

The Easter 2011 choral presentation by the Andrews University Department of Music is entitled "For the Sake of the Children." The program is inspired by Jesus Christ’s words: "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Additionally, the theme of renewal for all humankind will be explored and celebrated as made possible through God’s plan of salvation. Director Stephen Zork has selected choral music and Biblical narratives that span creation, Christ’s ministry, His crucifixion and resurrection; and culminate in the earth made new.

A free-will offering will be taken to support the ongoing ministry of Saving Orphans through Health & Outreach (SOHO) that serves orphaned children in sub-Saharan Africa and areas deeply affected by HIV/AIDS.

Please call 888-467-6442 to reserve free tickets. Tickets will be available from 7-7:45 p.m. the night of the concert only. Tickets not claimed by 7:45 p.m. will be released.

Residence Hall Safety Information
The cold weather will soon be leaving us and I am certain you will want to spend even more time outside of your room. The following are a few basic crime prevention tips which could aid in the reduction of risk to yourself, your property and others.

- When you enter your residence hall, your apartment or the building area, please respect access code rules. Do not let unauthorized people (strangers) into controlled areas.
- Ensure you lock your door and windows when you leave your room—even if you are only going down the hall to visit a friend or to the front desk to check on any messages/mail. Once you are in your secured room, make sure you know who the person is before you open your door.
- Whether inside or outside your building or room, know how you will respond to a fire, tornado or lockdown drill. If you are uncertain on what to do, please ask your dean.
- Report all suspicious persons and activities to the resident aide or dean on duty. Please do so immediately and if they are not available, contact the Office of Campus Safety at 269-471-3321 or you can contact the Office of Campus Safety anonymously at http://www.andrews.edu/services/safety/contact/index.html.
- If there is an emergency call 911.
- Be watchful of your surroundings, be alert to a setting that seems out of place or something which appears odd—it is ok to be inquisitive.

The safety and security of our campus depends on everyone’s participation!

Rojelio Castillo, Operations Supervisor
Office of Campus Safety

Andrews to Host Hispanic College Day
Hundreds of local Hispanic students are expected to gather at Andrews University for Hispanic College Day on Friday, May 6. The free event brings together Hispanic students from four area counties to explore college options and register for college, attend career seminars, and hear a keynote speaker.

The students attending the College Fair represent schools in Berrien, Cass, Kalamazoo and Van Buren Counties. The students were selected by their teachers or guidance counselors based on maintenance of a grade point average of 2.0 or better, a sincere interest in college, good attendance for the year, and good interpersonal skills in the classroom.

William Navalon, director of recruitment services and coordinator of this year’s event, says, “This is a wonderful opportunity for students to get exposure to careers and mentors they would otherwise never meet. They get to see other Latinos who have walked in their shoes, yet have made it through college and have successful careers.”

The day begins at 8:30 a.m. with a college fair at the Howard Performing Arts Center located on the campus of Andrews University, followed by the keynote speech delivered by Edwin I. Hernández, a senior program officer for research, education and congregational initiatives at the DeVos Family Foundation. A research fellow with the Center for the Study of Latino Religion at the Institute for Latino Studies at the University of Notre Dame and a published author, he holds a PhD from the University of Notre Dame and a Master of Divinity from Andrews University. His research has focused on Latino religious experience, theological education, congregational studies, and the role of religious leaders in sustaining the life and commitment of socially-engaged congregations.

Following the keynote, students will break out to attend seminars geared to their age group, including career option exploration and how to pay for college. Later, students will gain additional insights into achieving their academic and professional goals by hearing from a panel of successful Latino professionals and current college students.

Past student participants in Hispanic College Day have had positive feedback. One student said the seminar presentations, “gave me options I didn’t know I had, and now I am able to pay for college.”
Hispanic College Day began in 1984, and grew from a need to ensure Hispanic students, who are traditionally most at risk for not being able to attend college, had access to a source of information regarding college and career options. It was first hosted by the Van Buren Technology Center. Due to increased participation and an interest for more exposure to a college campus, local colleges and universities now do the hosting. Last year's event was held at Western Michigan University.
Herald-Palladium: U.S. ambassador to Suriname tops bill at Andrews Grad

The U.S. ambassador to Suriname will be among the featured speakers during Andrews University Graduation Weekend, April 29-May 1, the university announced.

Read full story.
BERRIEN SPRINGS - The U.S. ambassador to Suriname will be among the featured speakers during Andrews University Graduation Weekend, April 29-May 1, the university announced.

Ambassador John Nay, an Andrews alum, will speak at graduate level commencement, which begins at 8:30 a.m. May 1. Pardon K. Mwansa, vice president for the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will speak at undergraduate commencement, which starts at 11:30 a.m. May 1.

Seating is by ticket only.

Commencement festivities begin April 29, with the consecration service in Pioneer Memorial Church and will continue with the baccalaureate church service, Sabbath afternoon certification and dedication services, Sabbath vespers, the President's Reception and commencement services Sunday morning.

Nay became the 13th American ambassador to Suriname in August 2009. Before arriving in the South American nation, Nay was consul general at the U.S. Consulate in Toronto and has served as office director for African Regional and Security Affairs in the State Department's Bureau of African Affairs.

Nay received a bachelor's degree from Andrews in 1976 and a master's from Andrews in 1983.

Mwansa earned his bachelor's from Andrews in 1986. He holds a master's in divinity from Andrews and a doctorate in ministry from Andrews.

In 2010, he was re-elected to a five-year term as vice president of the General Conference. He has served the Seventh-day Adventist Church for more than 30 years in many positions, including those as a literature evangelist, district pastor, departmental director at the conference and union, and associate director at General Conference levels, union and division president.

He also serves as chancellor and board chair at the Adventist University of Africa, Hope TV and chairman of the General Conference Session Planning Committee.

L. Monique Pittman, professor of English and director of the J.N. Andrews Honors Program at Andrews University, is the speaker for Consecration at 8 p.m. on April 29.

On April 30, Angel M. Rodriguez, director of the Biblical Research Institute of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will present the Baccalaureate address. Rodriguez will speak at 8:15 a.m. for the undergraduate service and at 11:20 a.m. for the graduate service. Both services are in the Pioneer Memorial Church. At 8:30 p.m. a Sabbath Vespers will be held at the church. Immediately following vespers (at about 9:15 p.m.), the President's Reception for graduates and their families will take place in the Great Lakes Room of Dining Services.

What others say...

A Church Leader
• “Attending the Great Controversy Tour was a high point in my ministry. I am so thankful I went. The question I had to ask myself at the close of the trip was, ‘Could I stand fast and true like the reformers did?’ In the cave where 150 Waldensian believers were smoked to death, I recommitted myself to the Lord and to ministry. I’m so thankful for the opportunity to have attended this trip.”
John Loor, Jr., President, Montana Conference.

PEOPLE FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE HAVE LOVED GOING ON THE GREAT CONTROVERSY TOUR.

A Busy Doctor
• “This tour was like a spiritual pilgrimage for me a highlight of everything I’ve ever done. I was very blessed in every way, and motivated to continue to study the Reformation and give presentations to both SDAs and non-SDAs. It is a tour for the serious student of church history. The more one studies ahead of time, the more you will be able to take advantage of the trip.”
Ron Fleck, M.D., Washington.

A Young Person
“Wow! This was an amazing tour. I am surprised that more families with teens don’t do it. Perhaps they do and I just don’t know…but it really taught me about how our church began and also about what we, as the final generation will face. When we climbed the Casteluzzo it made me think about what I would have done. Would I have recanted, or kept my stand? Thank you so much for providing this tour! May God bless us as we near the end, and let us remain faithful.” (Marzanna Lawson, 15 years old, California)

Employment Opportunity at DK Security Services

DK Security Services is a Michigan based company that began in Kentwood about 16 years ago. We provide a variety of services to numerous different clients. This job posting is for a temporary account lasting approximately two weeks. Our hope is that as the students are heading home for the summer, they may be looking for a summer job to make some money. We may be able to provide them with that opportunity.

If you have any questions, please call (616) 656-0123 and ask for the Human Resources Department.
