Easter Choral Concert

Saturday, April 23
8 p.m., Howard Performing Arts Center

The Easter 2011 choral presentation by the Andrews University Department of Music is entitled "For the Sake of the Children." The program is inspired by Jesus Christ's words: "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Additionally, the theme of renewal for all humankind will be explored and celebrated as made possible through God’s plan of salvation. Director Stephen Zork has selected choral music and Biblical narratives that span creation, Christ’s ministry, His crucifixion and resurrection; and culminate in the earth made new.

A free-will offering will be taken to support the ongoing ministry of Saving Orphans through Health & Outreach (SOHO) that serves orphaned children in sub-Saharan Africa and areas deeply affected by HIV/AIDS.

Please call 888-467-6442 to reserve free tickets. Tickets will be available from 7-7:45 p.m. the night of the concert only. Tickets not claimed by 7:45 p.m. will be released.

You're Invited! Easter Passion Play at Andrews University

Ticket registration now open for the Andrews University Easter Passion Play performance on April 23, 2011. This is an interactive indoor and outdoor walk-through experience for the entire family depicting the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Experience the Jewish marketplace, the Last Supper, his arrest in the Garden of Gethsemane and trial in Pilate’s court. And there’s nothing quite like witnessing Christ emerging victorious from the tomb. To reserve your place please go to www.passionplay.andrews.edu and click reservations to pick your desired rotation. Rotations last approximately 90 minutes, please arrive 30 minutes prior to the start of your scheduled rotation. If you have any questions or would like to make a phone reservation please call 269.471.8360 or 1.800.253.2874. Registration ends on April 21 so make your reservation today!

Students Organize Buller Hall Construction Worker Recognition Event

On Wednesday, April 20, the Department of Communication class, COMM480 Communicating for Community, arranged a Buller Hall Construction Recognition event. The event, specifically coordinated to recognize the construction workers, was held in the Johnson Gym. Cyreka Jacobs, AUSA president, presented them with a large thank-you card on behalf of the Andrews University student body. The workers also received a student-designed T-shirt. "We are grateful to the Construction Team for their hard work and dedication to "building a lasting impression,“ says Ashleigh Burnett, administrative assistant for the Department of Communication.

1st BEST Early Research Symposium

Berrien RESA and Building Excellence in Science & Technology (BEST) host 1st BEST Early Research Symposium

Berrien County Mathematics & Science Center students to present research and demonstrate college-level lab techniques

More than 20 high school seniors representing 8 schools in Berrien and Cass counties will showcase "reinvented science education" at the 1st BEST Early Research Symposium on Wednesday, April 27, at 12:30 p.m. The Symposium will take place in Room A-107, the Chemistry Lecture Hall of Halenz Hall in the Science Complex on the campus of Andrews University. The public is invited to attend.

The 1st BEST Research Symposium highlights Berrien Regional Education Service Agency’s (Berrien RESA) Berrien County Mathematics & Science Center’s senior-level chemistry students’ research projects. The research projects and the restructured grade 12 class were designed and developed by Andrews University Assistant Professor of Chemistry and Mathematics & Science Center instructor, Dr. Desmond Murray. Through this class, students receive a "reinvented science education" by using a non-traditional, laboratory-intensive and research-focused approach to the process of scientific discovery.

"The innovation Dr. Murray uses as he instructs our students continues to astound me,” said Tonya Snyder, Berrien RESA Berrien County Math & Science Center Coordinator. "The laboratory techniques our students are engaging in provide a unique opportunity for them to get excited about research. And, by providing a public forum for the students to present their research (through the BEST Research Symposium), they truly understand all the components of scientific exploration; from creating a hypothesis to sharing their discoveries with the world."
At the Symposium, students will share their research with dignitaries, Andrews University faculty and staff, their families and the community. They will also demonstrate how to use modern instrumentation and university-level lab techniques that they have mastered while researching topics such as dyes, novel fragrances/flavors based on ginger, hybrid drugs of ibuprofen and Vitamin C, biocompatible polymers, biodegradable cosmetic chemicals, and molecular sensors with potential forensic applications.

Dr. Murray explained that early hands-on participation in science research allows high school students to begin contributing to the advancement of knowledge. This experience also increases their understanding of the innovation process.

"Early research participation provides the students with their initial steps towards becoming independent researchers and innovators," said Dr. Murray. "The BEST Early Symposium allows students to share both their research findings and experiences. It also gives the public an opportunity to see up close the potential scientific and societal value of engaging students early in the processes of discovery, research and innovation."

Other faculty members at Andrews University are taking notice of what these students are learning.

"Chemistry is best learned by actually doing," said Andrews University Department Chair and Professor of Biochemistry, D. David Nowack. "Through research, high school students become better trained, more motivated citizens of society. The Andrews University Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry has greatly benefited from students whose first real exposure to chemistry came through such early hands-on experiences."

According to Dr. Murray, surveys of past students indicated that for more than 85 percent of them, this course was their first hands-on experience conducting independent lab research. Further, 89 percent felt the experience was positive and important, 76 percent indicated greater interest in research, and 80 percent suggested that they would like to continue taking research classes. For one student in particular, the experience has compelled her to change her intended college major.

"Taking this class has influenced my career choices," said Bridgman High School senior Stephanie Burkhard. "I love doing the lab work so much that I changed my major to include chemistry whereas before I really didn't like chemistry at all... (because of this class) I plan to do some research starting as a freshman in college because there is so much out there to be discovered."

The 1st BEST Early Research Symposium is sponsored by the Benton Spirit Community Newspaper, the Andrews University Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry, BEST Early Research, Berrien RESA and the Berrien County Mathematics & Science Center.

Where in the world is the Andrews welcome globe?

Recently, a passerby noticed the globe was shaking in the wind and notified Plant Administration. Upon further investigation, it was discovered that some of the foundation posts and pipes were broken. As a result, a crane removed the globe on Thursday so repairs could get underway. The globe is expected to be returned to its rightful location by the end of next week, just in time to welcome our Easter Passion Play visitors to campus.

U.S. ambassador to Suriname tops bill at Andrews commencement

By H-P STAFF

BERRIEN SPRINGS - The U.S. ambassador to Suriname will be among the featured speakers during Andrews University Graduation Weekend, April 29-May 1, the university announced.

Ambassador John Nay, an Andrews alum, will speak at graduate level commencement, which begins at 8:30 a.m. May 1. Pardon K. Mwansa, vice president for the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will speak at undergraduate commencement, which starts at 11:30 a.m. May 1.

Seating is by ticket only.

Commencement festivities begin April 29, with the consecration service in Pioneer Memorial Church and will continue with the baccalaureate church service, Sabbath afternoon certification and dedication services, Sabbath vespers, the President's Reception and commencement services Sunday morning.

Nay became the 13th American ambassador to Suriname in August 2009. Before arriving in the South American nation, Nay was consul general at the U.S. Consulate in Toronto and has served as office director for African Regional and Security Affairs in the State Department's Bureau of African Affairs.

Nay received a bachelor's degree from Andrews in 1976 and a master's from Andrews in 1983.

Mwansa earned his bachelor's from Andrews in 1986. He holds a master's in divinity from Andrews and a doctorate in ministry from Andrews.

In 2010, he was re-elected to a five-year term as vice president of the General Conference. He has served the Seventh-day Adventist Church for more than 30 years in many positions, including those as a literature evangelist, district pastor, departmental director at the conference and union, and associate director at General Conference levels, union and division president.

He also serves as chancellor and board chair at the Adventist University of Africa, Hope TV and chairman of the General Conference Session Planning Committee.

L. Monique Pittman, professor of English and director of the J.N. Andrews Honors Program at Andrews University, is the speaker for Consecration at 8 p.m. on April 29.

On April 30, Angel M. Rodriguez, director of the Biblical Research Institute of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will present the Baccalaureate address. Rodriguez will speak at 8:15 a.m. for the undergraduate service and at 11:20 a.m. for the graduate service. Both services are in the Pioneer Memorial Church. At 8:30 p.m. a Sabbath Vespers will be held at the church. Immediately following vespers (at about 9:15 p.m.), the President's Reception for graduates and their families will take place in the Great Lakes Room of Dining Services.

Berrien Springs Camera Club Meeting
Thursday, May 19
7 p.m., Berrien Springs Public Library

The Berrien Springs Camera Club will not hold its monthly meeting on the first Wednesday of the month in May, as it does most months, but instead will meet on Thursday, May 19, at 7 p.m. in its usual location, the Berrien Springs Public Library at Cass (Old 31) and Union. May is the month for the final competition of the year, when prints and digital submissions that were judged acceptable in competition during the current season will be reviewed again. Three judges will select the top five projected images and prints, in the categories of Nature and Open (everything else).

The club’s season runs from September to June, with four competitions each year. Besides two special topics each competition, three other categories are always acceptable: Nature, Portraits, and Open. The special topics for this season were as follows: for October: Bugs/Insects, and Eyes; for December: Wild Animals, and Events; for February: Candids, and Trees; and for April: Road/Trail/Path, and Panoramas.

Anyone is welcome to come and enjoy viewing the images, seeing how the club operates, and learning from the judging process. Refreshments will be served.

Employment Opportunity at DK Security Services

DK Security Services is a Michigan-based company that began in Kentwood about 16 years ago. We provide a variety of services to numerous different clients. This job posting is for a temporary account lasting approximately two weeks. Our hope is that as the students are heading home for the summer, they may be looking for a summer job to make some money. We may be able to provide them with that opportunity.

If you have any questions, please call (616) 656-0123 and ask for the Human Resources Department.
