Office of Accounts Payable Closure
August 5-29, 2011

The Office of Accounts Payable will be closed for three weeks in the month of August. It will close after hours on Friday, August 5, and will not reopen again until Monday, August 29. This does not include corporate credit cards, which should be turned in by August 19. Please plan accordingly. We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause.

Fall Fellowship 2011: "A Place to Belong"
August 12–14

At the suggestion of our president, the events of this year's Fall Fellowship are planned to highlight Buller Hall, a facility designed to inspire Andrews faculty, staff and students with a sense of community—A Place to Belong. When Nethery Hall renovations are completed near the end of August, the two buildings will comprise the Undergraduate Learning Center—new spaces to further build that community among our faculty, staff and students. The addition of Damazo Hall on our campus landscape provides a new kind of living space for graduate women—a place for them to belong. Ten beautiful new guestrooms better equip us to welcome guests to our campus and help them feel like they have also found a place to belong while they're visiting.

Friday evening and Sabbath School programming will take place in the foyer and Newbold Auditorium of Buller Hall. A dedication for all employees will take place at the second PMC worship service on Sabbath. Fun and interesting Sabbath afternoon activities are also planned and you won't want to miss the corn roast on Sunday!

Fall Fellowship always includes good food and a fun time to reconnect with our campus family. Thank you for joining together as the Andrews family for Fall Fellowship 2011.

For the complete schedule of events refer to www.andrews.edu/rsvp/fallfellowship/. Please RSVP for all meals by August 5, 2011.

Nacho Libre Sign-ups and Home Suppers
Tuesday, August 16
6-8 p.m.
Nacho Libre will be held August 16, 2011 from 6-8 p.m. and all departments are more than welcome to participate.

Faculty Home Suppers
Friday, August 20
5-8 p.m.
On Friday, August 20, Student Life will be organizing a Faculty Home supper where willing faculty open their homes to a small "Family Group" of students. Each faculty volunteer will be responsible to feed 12-17 of these students. Reimbursements of up to $120 are available for food. The students will arrive at approximately 5 p.m. and there will be plenty of time to eat and fellowship before they leave at 8 p.m. for Fusion at the HPAC.

We are hoping for twenty-one homes to accommodate the new students. If a faculty or staff member is interested in volunteering to host a group or to sign-up for Nacho Libre toppings, please call the Office of Social Recreation at extension 3615 or email at socialrecreation@gmail.com

First Annual Leadership Conference
July 24-25, 2011
Howard Performing Arts Center

Creative Leadership—Playing to Your Strengths
Join us for the first annual Leadership Conference, a unique two-day opportunity to learn about your strengths and potential for vibrant and creative leadership. Program begins at 7 p.m. on Sunday evening and continues all day Monday. Registration is $25 and includes two receptions and lunch. Upon registration, Andrews University graduate students will receive a complimentary code allowing them to access the StrengthsQuest test which identifies areas of particular talent. All attendees are encouraged to take the test to gain the maximum benefit from the presentations and activities. Sponsored by the Office of the Graduate Dean, the Graduate Student Association, the Department of Leadership & Educational Administration, and the Christian Leadership Center. Register online at www.andrews.edu/grad.

Ken Tucker, the keynote speaker, presents inspiring and interactive keynote speeches that focus on helping people discover and capitalize on their specific strengths. This leads to higher achievement, greater happiness, and the development of exceptional individuals who will contribute to high-performing organizations. Tucker’s workshops transform leadership teams into cohesive, employee engaging, results-oriented decision-makers. Tucker has a global impact on organizations in the United States, Canada, South Africa, China, Brazil, the Caribbean and England.

Library Hours for Commencement Weekend, Intersession

The James White Library will be closed to all patrons on Commencement day, Sunday, July 31. Intersession hours begin Monday, August 1.
The hours are as follows:
August 1-14
Sunday:                    Closed
Monday-Thursday:   1-7 p.m.
Friday:                      10 a.m.-1 p.m.

Regular hours will resume Monday, August 15 at 8 a.m.

Library Children's Policy Will Be Strictly Enforced
For some time the library has had a policy that pre-school and elementary aged children (12 and under), should not be in the library without parental or adult supervision. Because of the number of unsupervised children that we are finding in the library, this policy will be strictly enforced.

Include Your Materials in the New Student Packet
In just a few weeks Andrews University will be welcoming over 700 first-time students to our campus. If your office/department would like to communicate to this group of newcomers, you may place a flyer or brochure in the New Student Packet.

Please indicate if you would like to reach new undergraduates only (500 pieces needed) or all new students

Deliver your promotional pieces to the Student Life office no later than noon on Friday, August 5, and we will be glad to include them.

Andrews Farm Veggie Stand Open

Veggie stand hours are 10 a.m to 6 p.m. Sunday to Friday.

The Andrews University Department of Agriculture vegetable/produce stand, located in the parking lot of Neighbor to Neighbor in Berrien Springs, offers the freshest produce in town.

This week’s featured items are Beet Greens, Broccoli, Cabbage, Cauliflower, Collard Greens, Cucumbers, Eggplant, Green Pepper, Kale, Pickles, Radish, Squash (summer and yellow), Swiss Chard and Zucchini.

All produce is grown at Andrews, cared for by Andrews staff and students, then harvested daily. That means the fresh greens on your dinner plate could have been hand-picked that same morning!

CREATIVE LEADERSHIP
Playing to your strengths

Join us for this unique two-day opportunity to learn about your strengths and potential for vibrant and creative leadership. Program begins at 7pm on Sunday evening and continues all day Monday.

Registration is $25 and includes two receptions and lunch. Upon registration, Andrews University graduate students will receive a complimentary code allowing them to access the StrengthsQuest test which identifies areas of particular talent. All attendees are encouraged to take the test to gain the maximum benefit from the presentations and activities.

Sponsored by the Office of the Graduate Dean, the Graduate Student Association, the Department of Leadership, and the Christian Leadership Center.

Homecoming is now mobile!

On May 30, 2011, the Office of Alumni Services published a Homecoming app to the iTunes App Store. This app provides streamlined access to all things related to Homecoming. As the event schedule and program for Homecoming 2011 becomes available it will be posted on the app and you will be notified of its availability via built-in notification on the app itself. You can also keep in touch with Andrews Alumni on Twitter by following our feed through the app, and browse an extensive multimedia library with photos from past Homecoming events and featured videos. We hope you take advantage of these awesome features by downloading the Andrews Homecoming application to your mobile device today. Simply click the link below to download to your iTunes or search for “homecoming” in your AppStore on the device itself.

Graduate Admissions Gets a New Name
Berrien Springs, Mich.—Along with a new physical location, the former Office of Graduate Admissions now has a new name: the Office of Graduate Enrollment Management. In addition, they are taking steps to streamline
The Office of Graduate Enrollment Management is responsible for recruiting and assisting students with applying, admitting and enrolling into graduate programs. "This name change better reflects our integrated approach," says Christon Arthur, dean of the School of Graduate Studies & Research.

To make room for Griggs University employees, several offices in the Administration Building were either reconfigured or relocated, including Graduate Enrollment Management. Their new office suites are located on the third floor of the Administration Building. The staff in Graduate Enrollment Management include: Carolyn Hurst, director of graduate admissions; Eileen Lesher, international transcript articulation specialist; Angelica Munoz, assistant director of graduate admissions; Lizzy Salazar, graduate enrollment coordinator; Muriel Mercaral, international transcript associate; Richard Sylvester, graduate admissions clerk; and Monica Wringer, graduate admissions coordinator.

Arthur says, "We are also working with great alacrity to fully automate the admissions process." The first step was to move graduate application processes fully online—including online recommendations. After August 1, 2011, Graduate Enrollment Management will no longer accept paper applications except for the DMin and MAPMIN.

The online application fee is more affordable than the paper application fee, resulting in savings for prospective students, plus it reduces paper waste, which is good for the environment. The information provided in an online application will be more legible, minimizing the opportunity for mistakes to occur. "There are many times when we cannot effectively communicate with students because we cannot decipher their handwritten email addresses and other information," says Arthur.

Incomplete applications will also become a thing of the past. Applicants can start the online application, then save it to finish later if needed. Once completed, the online application will detect if there is missing information and will not submit until all required information is included. "There are times when applicants expect an admission decision but we cannot process their application because it is incomplete," says Arthur.

José Bourget is moving his ministry—to the other side of campus. Effective July 1, Bourget is the newest member of the chaplain team in the Office of Campus Ministries. He will be the chaplain for outreach and is replacing Keren Toms, who recently married and moved from the area.

For the past year, Bourget has served as the assistant director of the Center for Youth Evangelism (CYE). There he was responsible for a number of ministries including Cruise with a Mission, Church of Refuge, We-Care short-term mission trips and daytime programming for the International Pathfinder Camporee. In this role, he also had an opportunity to work closely with numerous Andrews students.

Ron Whitehead, assistant to the president for spiritual life, says José is a uniquely qualified pastor to lead Campus Ministries’ outreach programs. “He knows this campus so very well and is already networked with faculty and staff. José has proven his leadership ability by serving as a conference young adult associate youth director and he has an ‘over-the-top’ love for both young adults and Andrews University.”

“This is the place where dedicated faculty and staff inspired and prepared me to change the world,” says Bourget. “I am humbled and excited to offer the same to this generation of Andrews University students.”

Born in the Dominican Republic, Bourget grew up in a small Hispanic church in Detroit, Mich. During his years of study at Andrews University, Bourget worked in a variety of leadership roles at the Center for Youth Evangelism, as practicum director for the Department of Religion & Biblical Languages and as head student dean for the men’s residence halls. Following graduation in 2002, Bourget served as a pastor, youth pastor and associate director for Young Adult Ministries in the Illinois Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Bourget is a co-founder of MyTown Ministries, a partnership between the Illinois Conference and Andrews University connecting students to a church following graduation. He also co-created Oasis, a network of young adults from various Chicago churches who serve, worship and fellowship together. Bourget was also part of the student leadership team who developed Mosaic and Fusion, both innovative student-focused worship gatherings on the campus of Andrews University.

“José has a transformational love for God that will help students seek spiritual knowledge, affirm their faith and change the world right here while they are in school and to continue to change the world after graduation,” says Whitehead.

José married Marlene Santiago in 2003. They have two young children, Sophia and Jonah. As a family they enjoy taking adventures at the park, laughing at silly things and trying new cuisines.

Who doesn’t like having the ability to do things on their own? As a senior at the Berrien County Mathematics and Science Center, the Research Chemistry class has allowed me to do experiments on my own. I had the ability to change procedures, chemicals, reactants, catalysts, additives, and solvents. With the abundance of projects to choose from, I chose to look into the ability to attach Vitamin B₃ or Niacin, to any common drug via an acylal carbon.

My project consisted of making Niacin-based acylal hybrid drugs. Niacin is one of the essential human nutrients. It is involved in DNA repair and in production of steroid hormones. Niacin helps to decrease LDL cholesterol (bad cholesterol), while increasing HDL cholesterol (good cholesterol). Vitamin B₃ is found in meat, enriched whole-grains, and fortified cereals.

I ran many experiments to try and develop a method to prepare Niacin-based acylal hybrid drugs. This method was a two-stop process. The first step of the process worked the majority of the time, while the second step proved to be very intriguing. The second step involved many ‘trial and errors’ throughout the project. I had to go back and change the way the procedure was being run. This meant varying the reagents, catalysts, and solvents in order to achieve the best results.

A few of my experiments showed that our project goal was being achieved, but many of my other experiments failed. This failure, to which I am not used to, taught me many new life lessons. The major lesson I have learned from this is that life is full of failure, and in order to succeed in life, you must have the ability to overcome this failure to get to your goal. No matter the requirements, you must always put forth your best effort in order to overcome.

With that said, my research experience was phenomenal. I learned many new lab techniques and instrumentation to use in my college experience and even in my daily life. Not only have I learned the practical laboratory aspects of research and experimental chemistry, but the life lessons that follow through with it. I am sure I will always reference back to what I learned in Research Chemistry every day of my life. I am so thankful to have taken this class and I do not regret this choice at all.

I graduated from Berrien Springs High School this past Spring and plan to begin college this Fall at Grand Valley State University, Allendale, MI, to major in Math and minor in Accounting. I am a workaholic but do enjoy spending free-time playing basketball with my friends.

LabTales

"Those who tell the stories rule the world." -- Hopi American Indian Proverb (also attributed to Plato).

If only the test tubes could speak! Since they don’t, here’s the next best thing – stories from the front lines of cutting-edge research told by young, excited independent researchers.

LabTales are descriptive, ‘popular-styled’ accounts written by students about their laboratory research experiences. Emphasis is on the experience rather than a detailed technical lab report. Experiences highlight the lessons learned and insights gained from early hands-on participation in the processes of research, discovery and innovation.

LabTales is a reflection by students, high school and college, about being involved for the very first time in real independent laboratory research. This is where the journey begins for all new products, services and technologies we use everyday, from Viagra to iPods, from Lasik surgery to flat screen TVs.

LabTales show you don’t need a PhD to do real research nor do you need eight years of science courses to make real discoveries. The starting point is a curious mind. High school and early college students are Not Too Young To Research.

The stories you will read in the coming weeks are from students in Andrews University Professor Desmond Murray’s 2011 Berrien RESA Math Science Center Grade 12 class. 22 students working in teams of 2 conducted 11 different organic chemistry research projects that included synthesis of dyes; novel fragrances/flavors based on ginger; hybrid drugs of ibuprofen, Vitamin B and Vitamin C; biocompatible polymers; biodegradable cosmetic chemicals; antifungal agents; conducting polymers and molecular sensors with potential forensic applications.

Students were required to complete written assignments regarding various aspects of how real scientists think and about their journey from idea to marketable product. In addition, each research group give a professional Power Point presentation and lab demonstration of instruments and techniques at the 1st BEST Early Research Symposium held on April 27, 2011 (http://www.bestearly.com/best-symposium-celebrates-early-research-participation). Funding for the research and LabTales came from National Science Foundation grants awarded to Professor Murray.

Chemistry is all around us, it surrounds us, its within us, it is us - from dawn til dusk and from dust to dust. Chemistry is everywhere, it is more omnipresent than surround sound and as diverse as the universe. It is the air we breathe, the water we drink, the beautiful sunset over Lake Michigan, the bright colors of Spring and even our thoughts.

Chemverses are thoughts, words and verses of students, high school and college, on everyday, everywhere chemistry. Chemistry becomes personal not just universal; it becomes intimate not just larger than life; it becomes engagingly essential not just the central science.

Students interact with and interpret the common, the mundane, and the obvious and discover within not just data, facts, charts and graphs, but a living multiverse of knowledge and insight. Experiencing chemistry from the pages of a textbook or even from the sights, sounds, and smells of chemistry lab is necessary but not sufficient. The story must be told, applying mind to matter, imagination to experience, is what writing does.

This is ChemiVerses.

What you will read below are selected essay excerpts from high school and college students collected over time.

ChemiVerses, No. 1: Thermochemistry in Our Daily Lives
July 15, 2011, 2:01 pm
When I realized at the beginning of the school year that I was taking Grade 10 chemistry I figured it would just be a boring science class with some math involved and a bunch of terms to memorize. I actually thought chemistry was very irrelevant to life and my career path for the future, and did not want to pay attention in class.

However, after completing the course I see that everything I do has something to do with chemistry. Playing sports, cooking, driving to school, getting out of bed, making breakfast are some of the many normal activities I do every day; I never would’ve guessed these things involved chemistry at all.

Not too long ago I ran a half marathon. I sweated like crazy, burned a ton of calories, and got extremely tired. The last thing on my mind was chemistry, but who would’ve guessed all the processes in my body that happened was chemistry in motion. Without thermochemistry I would’ve passed out from heat during my race. Moreover, I realized in awe that everything that is made up of matter is related to chemistry; no matter where I turn chemistry is involved.

All the simple daily activities we do are chemistry, every aspect of our life is affected by it, that's what makes chemistry a thing of beauty.

My home school is Andrews Academy where I play guard on the Lady Cardinals basketball team. On weekends I enjoy going shopping, hanging out with friends, and just generally getting away from school. I plan on pursuing a wide career path of photography, international relations, perhaps a double major of some medical field, and emergency relief for human rights infringements.
Summer Graduation

Date: July 13, 2011
Contact: Benjamin D. Schoun, general vice-president for the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and Weymouth Spence, president of Washington Adventist University, are among the featured speakers for the Andrews University graduation weekend, July 29–31, 2011.

Commencement events begin Friday evening with the consecration service in the Pioneer Memorial Church and will continue with the baccalaureate church service, Sabbath afternoon certification and dedication services, Sabbath vespers, the President’s Reception and finally, the graduate and undergraduate commencement service Sunday morning.

Richard Davidson, J.N. Andrews professor of Old Testament interpretation at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, will offer the Consecration address, “Flame of Living Fire!” on Friday, July 29 at 8 p.m. in Pioneer Memorial Church.

Benjamin Schoun, general vice president for the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and chair of the Andrews University Board of Trustees, will present the Baccalaureate address, ”The Call,” on Sabbath, July 30 at 11:20 a.m. at Pioneer Memorial Church.

Schoun’s career in ministry has included serving as president of Adventist World Radio, president of the Atlantic Union Conference and the Northern New England Conference. Schoun spent 13 years at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary as a professor, program director and associate dean. He is a triple alumnus of Andrews University, holding a Bachelor of Arts, Master of Divinity and Doctor of Ministry.

Additional departmental services are planned for Saturday, July 30, beginning with a Seminary Dedication Service at 4 p.m. in the Seminary Chapel. The Medical Laboratory Science Certificate Ceremony will take place in the Pioneer Memorial Church Youth Chapel at 5 p.m. At 5:30 p.m., the Social Work Recognition Service will take place at the Fil-Am Seventh-day Adventist Church in Berrien Springs.

At 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, July 30, a Sabbath Vespers tribute to parents, faculty and students will take place at Pioneer Memorial Church. Immediately following vespers (approximately 9:15 p.m.), the President’s Reception for graduates and their families will take place in the Great Lakes Room of Dining Services.

Weymouth Spence, president of Washington Adventist University, will give the Commencement address. Commencement begins at 9 a.m. on Sunday, July 31, at Pioneer Memorial Church. The title of his address is “Make the Decision, Change the World.”

Prior to serving as the 19th president of Washington Adventist University, Spence served as the senior vice president for Academic Administration for Atlantic Union College and dean of the School of Health Professions at Baptist Health System, to name a few. He holds a Bachelor of Science from Atlantic Union College, a Master of Science from Central Connecticut State University and a doctorate from Nova Southeastern University.

Commencement seating is by ticket only. A live streaming link will be provided at www.andrews.edu/graduation on the day of Commencement, Sunday, July 31. For more information and/or a full schedule of events, visit www.andrews.edu/graduation.
HLC Approves Griggs Merger

Andrews University has received some very positive news from the Higher Learning Commission. At its June 23, 2011 meeting of the Higher Learning Commission Board of Trustees, the board approved the merger of Griggs University into Andrews University. The Higher Learning Commission is the regional accrediting agency for institutions of higher education in the 19 states that comprise the North Central Region.

Andrews University assumed ownership of Griggs University & International Academy in November 2010. Since then, work has been underway to relocate Griggs operations from Maryland to Michigan, with much of the physical relocation occurring during July 2011. This action formally affirms the establishment of the School of Distance Education at Andrews University.

According to a public disclosure statement from the Higher Learning Commission, Andrews University will evaluate all Griggs programs and merge programs, as appropriate, into the Andrews academic structure. Currently, the Higher Learning Commission’s accreditation extends to and includes only the Griggs programs that Andrews evaluates and integrates into its own academic departments. Griggs University and its programs are nationally accredited by the Distance Education Training Council.

Within six months of the Board approval, a site visit will take place from the Higher Learning Commission to ascertain progress on the merger. A visit from the Higher Learning Commission, previously scheduled for 2012-13, will also further review, among other things, Andrews’ progress in integrating Griggs’ students and programs into Andrews University.

Property rehab bill becomes law

LANSONG - Gov. Rick Snyder has signed a bill that allows local governments to offer property tax exemptions for vacant or obsolete property being rehabilitated within Commercial Rehabilitation Districts.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Sharon Tyler, R-Niles, passed in the House on June 23 and passed in the Senate on June 30. The new law allows local governments to decide which qualified facilities will receive 1- to 10-year exemptions from property taxes.

Tyler said the act "gives local governments across the state another way to fight urban blight by encouraging companies to redevelop existing or abandoned commercial structures."

Andrews to break ground on new hall

BERRIEN SPRINGS - Ribbon cutting for the first part of the new undergraduate learning center on the Andrews University campus is set for 11 a.m. July 29, the university announced.

The new facility is called Buller Hall and is on the site of the former Griggs Hall on the eastern side of the campus near the Johnson gym and the bookstore.

Buller Hall is named after lead donors Allan and Mickey Buller, who met in 1939 at Emmanuel Missionary College, the forerunner of Andrews.

The new building connects with the existing Nethery Hall through an interior walkway. The new building contains seven classrooms and an amphitheater. The old Griggs Hall only had four classrooms.

The grand opening for the new Undergraduate Learning Center, which includes Buller Hall and the renovated Nethery Hall, is planned for Sept. 29.

Paw Paw Lake boat parade set for July 23

COLOMA - The Paw Paw Lake Association will have its annual boat parade at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, July 23, the association announced.

Registration begins at 3 p.m. at the Paw Paw Lake Yacht Club. Boats will circle the lake counter-clockwise until 5:30 p.m. There will be prizes. A party, including kids games, follows at the club.

Boaters need not be club or association members to participate. RSVP Kent Walczak by July 20 at kent@fipdevelopment.com. The rain date is July 30.
Prayer Request for Robson Marinho
Robson Marinho and his family request your prayers as they are facing some medical challenges. Please keep them in your prayers during this uncertain time.

Thank You from the Lewis and Chaffee families
We offer grateful thanks to you, our friends at Andrews University, for your love and support during the recent loss of our mother, Fonda Chaffee. She loved Andrews and Berrien Springs, but, most of all, she treasured her friendships, personal and professional. Thank you for all of the cards, calls, letters and plants that blessed us in her honor. We look forward with hope and joy to Jesus’ soon return.

Contact: GenaidaB@callaim.org Category: Classifieds » Employment Opportunities
Adventist Information Ministry seeks someone with computer experience and/or education to work as an Assistant in our IT department. AIM is a ministry of the North American Division which answers the toll-free numbers for many of the church’s media ministries. Because of this we are looking for a person that has a strong dedication to the soul winning mission of the Adventist church.

The IT Assistant position works directly with and under the supervision of the IT Department Supervisor. They will also work with other student IT personnel. They will also communicate to and work closely with AIM Administration and Management.

This position is being offered to students with a corresponding background in IT or who are currently well along in the Computer Science major (sophomore and above). The applicant should qualify for employment under the student labor policies of Andrews University. Usually an internship credit can be arranged with your department.

We are looking for someone who will invest themselves in this ministry for longer than a school year, hopefully several years. Essential to the job is being a self-starter, someone who can figure out what needs to be done and do it. We anticipate that the person we hire will work about 15 hours per week when school is in session and up to full time during most vacations and summer.

AIM works primarily in a Windows environment. On any given day the IT Assistant can be involved in one or more of the following areas:
- Network design and maintenance
- Setting up or maintaining Servers
- Maintaining offsite backup system
- Maintaining Exchange Sever and email management
- Maintaining or modifying our sophisticated software-driven phone system
- Maintaining workstation computers, monitors, phones, speakers, etc.
- Building new computers for workstations
- Supporting our mail order and shipping software
- Management of inventory controls
- Helping Management with special projects
- Helping employees with log in or working equipment issues
- Any other IT related issues that might arise
- *Setting up or maintaining databases
- *Maintaining and improving our primary software program
- *Developing or maintaining reports for management or clients
- *Maintenance and development of our website(s)
- *Documenting software, procedure or policy development
- *Other students have primary responsibilities in these areas.
