David Iwasa, the new dean of University Towers, comes to Andrews University from Gem State Adventist Academy in Caldwell, Idaho. University Towers is comprised of Burman Hall, a men’s residence, and Damazo Hall, a women’s residence, which are connected by a shared lobby area.

Prior to his arrival at Andrews, Iwasa worked as a residence hall dean at Gem State Adventist Academy since 2004. While there, he trained and managed staff in both the men’s and women’s residence halls, developed a worship program and taught a math class. Iwasa began his career as the treasurer at Thunderbird Adventist Academy in Scottsdale, Ariz., in 1990, and became dean of men two years later. He assumed the position of vice principal of Thunderbird Academy in 1994. He has also served as business manager and administrator at several assisted living facilities in Oregon and Washington. From 1995 to 1997, he worked as an accountant at Marketing One Securities in Portland, Ore. Of the many capacities he filled, he particularly enjoyed being a girls’ dean. “Difficult but extremely rewarding and character building,” he says.

While working at Gem State, Iwasa attended a deans’ workshop at Andrews University and immediately noticed how well the Student Life team worked together. He felt God was calling him to Andrews and had prepared the way for him to arrive. He says, he “appreciates the team atmosphere prevalent in the residence halls and throughout the campus.”

He is also the owner of K.I.D. Accounting Services since 2000, a company he started himself.

Iwasa holds a Bachelor of Business Administration and an MAT in educational leadership, both from Walla Walla University. He is married and has two children.

On Thursday, Sept. 8, Camden County College will welcome award-winning journalist Murray Weiss, author of The Man Who Warned America, a profile on former FBI counter-terrorism expert and Atlantic City native John O'Neill.

O'Neill, who had spent nearly a decade investigating bombings by religious extremists for the FBI, was killed on 9/11 when terrorists crashed two planes into the World Trade Center towers, where he had just begun working as security director.

O'Neill recognized Osama bin Laden as a threat to the United States long before other federal authorities did.

The World Affairs Council of Harrisburg and Lebanon Valley College will co-sponsor a conference titled "Ten Years Later: The Aftermath of Sept. 11" on Saturday, Sept. 10, at the college's Miller Chapel. A day later, the Lebanon Valley College Conservatives will host the 9/11 Never Forget Project, in which students will create a 2,977-flag memorial on the academic quad, one flag for every life lost on Sept. 11, 2001.

Andrews University in Berrien Springs is hosting a week long event, "Memories of Sacrifice, Reasons for Hope." On Sunday, an art exhibit opened called "Post 9/11 Reflections."

Again, another useful event that isn't communicated in time to give people a chance to participate. A day or two in advance would be nice.

Twin towers survivor at LMC

Hingson has said his disability and the dog’s skills helped ensure his survival.

Andrew Green Reporting

Andrews University has a full slate of events planned for next week to mark the tenth anniversary of the September Eleventh attacks. "Memories of Sacrifice, Reasons for Hope" runs from the fourth to the eleventh, and coordinator Rebecca May tells WSJM that the university is making an effort to reflect on Nine Eleven from several different perspectives. Being an international institution, Andrews is in a position to do just that:

Listen:

Nine-Eleven will be examined from several historical and religious perspectives, and they'll have guest speakers all week -- including one man who was actually in the World Trade Center when the first plane hit:

Listen:

May tells us that the culmination of "Memories of Sacrifice, Reasons for Hope" will be on September the eleventh itself, with a morning ceremony and moment of silence at the Andrews center of campus flagpole, and then a seven PM concert at the Howard Performing Arts Center:

Listen:

She says it's almost shocking to realize it's been ten years since Nine Eleven, and the week's planners felt it important to educate the younger students on what the day means to the rest of us:

Listen:
You can see the full list of the events, which are all open to the public and free, at the following page:
Andrews University invites the community to join them in remembering the 10th anniversary of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks with a weeklong series of events, "Memories of Sacrifice, Reasons for Hope," Sept. 4–11. All events are free and open to the public.

“We’ve designed the events of this week to inspire faith and hope in God and community, to help us understand ourselves and others through reflection and dialogue, and to remember the lives lost 10 years ago,” said Rebecca May, chairwoman of the planning committee. Events include lectures, panel discussions, a gallery show, as well as prayer services Wednesday evening and Sunday morning. The events culminate Sunday evening, Sept. 11, with a concert of inspiring music by University performance ensembles with special guest U.S. Rep. Fred Upton of Michigan’s 6th District. A highlight will be Tuesday morning’s presentation by Stanley Praimnath, who was on the 81st floor of the world Trade Center, Tower 2, Sept. 11, 2011 when he saw a plane heading toward him.

The weeklong series of events begins on Sunday, Sept. 4, with an art gallery exhibit titled “Memories of Sacrifice, Reasons for Hope: Post 9-11 Reflections.” This exhibit runs Sunday, Sept. 4 through Sunday, Sept. 11 in the Smith Hall Art Gallery, from noon to 5 p.m. on Sundays, Sept. 4 and 11 and Monday, Sept. 5 and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sept. 6-9. An artists’ reception is planned for Thursday, Sept. 9 from 6 to 8 p.m. On display will be the artwork of Andrews’ artists Dave Sherwin, Greg Constantine, Brian Manley and regional artist Vicki VanAmeyden.

Theological and historical questions arising out of 9-11, including issues of national judgment, fulfilled prophecy, eschatology and impact on Christian missions, will be explored in a panel discussion called “Theological Perspectives on 9-11” in the Seminary Chapel on Tuesday, Sept. 6. Taking place from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., the panel discussion, consisting of Seminary professors Trevor O'Reggio, Martin Hanna, Katrina Blue, Teresa Reeve and Nicholas Miller, will allow the public to consider questions they may have regarding the tragedy of 9-11.

Also scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 6, at 11:30 a.m. is University Forum in the Howard Performing Arts Center. Stanley Praimnath, a survivor of 9-11 who was on the 81st floor of the World Trade Center, Tower 2, and saw the plane heading toward him, will give his testimony entitled, “Faith When the World is Changing,” describing how the experience has influenced and strengthened his faith in the God who spared his life. This event is sponsored by the Division of Student Life. Later that same day, from 5 to 6 p.m. in the Howard Performing Arts Center, Part II: Interactive Session with Stanley Praimnath, will be sponsored by the School of Graduate Studies & Research.

Dwight K. Nelson, senior pastor of Pioneer Memorial Church, will be accompanied by a special guest, Imam Mustapha Elturk of the Islamic Organization of North America (IONA) on Wednesday, Sept. 7. The public is invited to join them from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Pioneer Memorial Church to experience the dialogue and prayer services included in this special Interfaith Prayer Service.
Thursday, Sept. 8, begins with another University Forum, “Building Hope,” at 11:30 a.m. in the Howard Performing Arts Center. Imam Mustapha Elturk, of the Islamic Organization of North America, will be giving a post-9-11 conversation. In the evening, from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., Bridgebuilding Lectures will be held in the Smith Hall Lecture Room. Brian Manley will present “The Art of Peacemaking” and Kristen Witzel will present “Hospitality and Resilience.” Following these lectures, from 6 to 8 p.m., will be an Artists' Reception at the Art & Design Gallery in Smith Hall. The exhibit, “Memories of Sacrifice, Reasons for Hope: Post 9/11 Reflections,” will be on display from Sept. 4-11.

A Department of History & Political Sciences colloquium will be held Friday, Sept. 9 from 12:30 to 2 p.m. This faculty panel discussion, “Terror: Experiences, Perspectives and Judgments,” will take place in Room 135 of Buller Hall. The public is welcome to join this presentation to better understand the effects of 9-11 and open their minds to acknowledging differing perspectives.

On Sunday, Sept. 11, there will be a gathering at the U.S. flagpole on the University Green at 8:30 a.m. Join the nation in prayer and a moment of silence and receive a small U.S. flag. Together we will walk to the University entrance where we will plant our flags. At 8:46 a.m., the time when the first plane crashed into the World Trade Center, there will be a Moment of Silence remembering all those who were lost on 9-11. The week of events will conclude with the “Remembering 9-11 Commemorative Concert,” an emphasis of hope and patriotism through music and readings, at the Howard Performing Arts Center. This fitting concert will be performed by Andrews University choral ensembles, the Symphony Orchestra and the Wind Symphony. Special guests include Upton; Milt Richter, Berrien Springs Village president; Niels-Erik Andreasen, president of Andrews University; and Dwight K. Nelson, senior pastor of Pioneer Memorial Church.
Death of Sharon Dudgeon’s Sister

Marcia Joy Dudgeon, sister of Sharon Dudgeon (WAUS), passed away unexpectedly on Saturday, Sept. 3. She was a member of the Pioneer Memorial Church and also attended Andrews University.

The funeral will be at Pioneer Memorial Church on Sunday, Sept. 18 with Visitation at 1 p.m. and the Service at 2 p.m. Burial will be at Holland Cemetery in Holland, Mass. Halbritter Funeral Home in Niles is handling the arrangements.
