Important Information about Start of Spring 2012 Semester

Students will return to campus the weekend of January 6-8, 2012.
Registration is on Sunday, Jan. 8, 2012.
The first day of classes is Monday, Jan. 9, 2012.

Provost Andrea Luxton says, “In the committees discussing the start of the semester it has been voted that offices and individuals dealing with registration will need to be open to students from noon to 5 p.m. on registration day, Sunday, Jan. 8.” This should allow for all the registration and advising processes to flow smoothly.

Note: This does not mean every employee must be present on Registration Sunday; however, all offices and academic departments need to ensure there is adequate coverage to ensure the best possible service to our students, who will have questions and registration needs on Sunday, Jan. 8.

Andrews Celebrates at the Downtown Berrien Springs Christmas Open House

Andrews University students, staff and faculty helped kick off the Christmas season with our neighbors in Berrien Springs at the town's annual Downtown Open House, "Kindle Your Christmas Spirit." This event offers members of the Berrien Springs community a chance to gather for an evening of festive fun with something for everyone. An estimated 700 members of the community filled the streets of downtown Berrien Springs to enjoy cookies, hot chocolate, Christmas crafts for kids and a chance to see inside many businesses.

Since the first Downtown Open House held five years ago, members of the Andrews University Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) Club have offered face painting. Student volunteers don Santa hats and decorate hundreds of small rosy cheeks with snowflakes, Christmas trees and stars, to name a few. This year, nearly 300 children enjoyed the free painting.

Ann Gibson, co-sponsor of SIFE, says, "Because of our continued involvement, we now have community members seeking us out at the 'Kindle the Christmas Spirit' event because they have enjoyed the interaction between the SIFE students and their children in the past."

Each year, Andrews' participation has grown. This year, the Office of Integrated Marketing & Communication shared building space with the SIFE team. Andrews volunteers assisted children in making a Christmas garland to hang on the town's Christmas tree located in Memorial Park. The children also made pinecone bird feeder ornaments to hang on the tree. "Everyone enjoyed sharing a cheery warm cup of Rosy Glow tea—a specialty from our own Dining Services—compliments of Andrews University," says Rebecca May, director of campus relations and events at Andrews University.

The Easter Passion Play team found a creative way to bring the story of Jesus to life through a Live Nativity. Two Andrews students, Amarilis Rodriguez and Heber Garcia, were dressed as Mary and Joseph while sitting in a makeshift stable surrounded by a baby cow, chickens, sheep and even a miniature horse. Young and old alike enjoyed petting the animals and the Live Nativity was a fitting way for the Easter Passion Play team to participate in the event.

"Andrews is blessed to be part of a community that values bringing people together," says José Bourget, a chaplain in the Office of Campus Ministries and producer for the Easter Passion Play. "Through the various festivities that each season brings, it's great to see Berrien Springs—our hometown—come together especially now to celebrate peace, unity and goodwill to all men."

Andrews University also provided pencils to Santa, who then handed them out to the children who came to share their wish list with him.

"It is our privilege to link arms with our little village on various community events and special occasions. Although there are dozens of resources available to the community on our campus, relationships are best built through personal contacts, not general invitations. We hope and pray that the influence of Andrews University in Berrien Springs will enrich the community we call home, in ways both large and small," says May.

Murray is College Science Teacher of the Year in Michigan

Desmond Murray, assistant professor of chemistry in the Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry at Andrews University, was selected by the Board of the Michigan Science Teachers Association (MSTA) as the College Science Teacher of the Year for 2012. Murray will be formally recognized at an awards ceremony on March 9, 2012, at the 59th Annual MTSA Conference in Lansing, Mich.

This award is given to science teachers in four areas: elementary, middle school, high school and college. The winning teachers are chosen for their use and modeling of best practices, inspiring their students, demonstrating innovative teaching strategies, being excellent role models for students and fellow educators, demonstrating leadership, and exhibiting a passion for science and teaching.

Other 2012 science educator awardees are: Mary Lindow, Battle Creek Area Math and Science Center (High School); Susan Tate, Whitehall Middle School (Middle School); and Rebecca Durling, Discovery Elementary School (Elementary School). Gary Abud of Grosse Pointe North High School received Science Teacher of Promise and the Informal Science Educator of the Year was awarded to Sarah Halson, environmental education manager at The Greening of Detroit, a non-profit organization.

Murray says, “I believe my single most important teaching innovation is promotion, implementation and continuous improvement of early research participation (ERP) at both the high school and college levels. This provides youth with unique opportunities to conduct authentic research four to eight years before it is traditionally done. The implementation of ERP at the high school and college levels has clearly demonstrated they are capable and eager to begin early research participation.”

Murray describes his early research participation programs as ‘incubators of innovators’ that engage students in research and discovery including synthesis of sunscreen materials; sensors for toxic substances found in the environment, agricultural pesticides and chemical warfare agents; and new ‘hybrid’ drugs that offer the potential of reducing the number and cost of drugs while increasing their efficacy.

Murray has taught at Andrews University since 1995. In addition to his college level teaching load, he also instructs grades 10 and 12 in chemistry for the Berrien RESA Math & Science Center, which is located on the campus of Andrews University. He was recognized as the "2010 Thought Leader in Education" by the Business Review West Michigan. Murray is passionate about his ChemSem Blog, an innovative way for chemistry and biochemistry majors to communicate online about current scientific research, and ChemSem Live, a live streaming broadcast of the Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry's weekly guest speaker lecture series. Murray also works in collaboration with the Benton Spirit, a community newspaper, on LabTales and ChemicVerses, a way for students to communicate science and research to a general public readership.

Murray is the founder of BEST Early (Building Excellence in Science & Technology), a nonprofit that has been providing science- and research-related apprenticeships for high school and college students for 10 years. Additional information about each of these programs can be found at www.bestearly.com.
