Alexander Technique Workshop: Relaxation

Sunday, March 11
Noon and 1:45 p.m., Howard Center Lobby

Alexander Technique Workshop - Courtney Brown, Alexander Technique specialist from Chicago, IL, will present two workshop sessions on Sunday, March 11, 2012, in the Howard Center Lobby. The Alexander Technique teaches us a way of moving more freely, a way to be more relaxed in the midst of life's stresses. This class is for you if you suffer from backaches, and stiff neck and shoulders. It will help you to address harmful habits that you have built up over your life and will help you to learn how to move more freely. Each session runs for one-and-a-half hours: the first session will begin at 12:00 Noon and the second session will begin at 1:45 p.m. Wear comfortable clothes. Things to bring with you: a soft tee shirt to support your head, five or six 1/2-inch to 1-inch thick soft cover books and an exercise mat. Each session will have 15 participants.

Participants will be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis until the classes are full. Non-participants may also attend as an audience member.

Art Exhibit and Book Signing with Greg Constantine
Tuesday, March 13
3-6 p.m., James White Library

Greg Constantine, retired professor of art from Andrews University, will have an art exhibit and book signing at the James White Library on Tues., March 13, 2012 from 3-6 p.m. Illustrations from his books When Big Artists Were Little Kids and Vincent Van Gogh Visits New York will be on display and presentations will be given at 3:30 and 5:15 p.m. For those who are interested, all six of Constantine's books will be available for purchase for $15 each.

Constantine’s children’s books give readers a brief glimpse into the young lives of famous painters and architects. Using all his own watercolor illustrations and text, Constantine presents 17 famous artists to readers of When Big Artists Were Little Kids. By attempting to answer such questions as why Seurat painted with dots and what Monet’s nickname was, he suggests the possible influence certain childhood experiences had on famous artists. In Vincent Van Gogh Visits New York, Constantine uses imagination and some sophisticated humor to describe what might have happened if Van Gogh had visited New York City.

Constantine served as a professor of art for 46 years at Andrews University and is currently an artist-in-residence at the university. He has had 62 exhibitions at venues in both Europe and the United States, 18 of which were solo exhibitions in New York City. Additionally, Constantine wrote and illustrated six books, including When More Big Artists Were Little Kids, When Big Architects Were Little Kids and Leonardo Visits Los Angeles. Originally from Windsor, Ontario, Canada, he received his Bachelor of Arts from Andrews University in 1960 and his Master of Fine Arts degree from Michigan State University in 1968.

Sign up for the Jordan Field School

There is still time to sign up for the 2012 Jordan Field School! The Jordan Field School will take place from May 11-June 3. Six credits will be offered in Anthropology, Archaeology, Art, Behavioral Sciences, Communication, History, Landscape Design, and Religion, including several general education courses. The Jordan Field School offers a different experience from a traditional study tour because students will work side-by-side with Jordanians and the Jordanian Department of Antiquities on a project in their discipline. Projects include creating a landscape design for the Hisban Visitor Center, archaeology at Tell Hisban, ethnographic interviews with villagers, photo journalism, and mural painting. Tuition and a $1500 tour fee will cover airfare, room and board, and tours to Petra, Mount Nebo where Moses was buried, Jerash, the Dead Sea, the Amman Citadel, Madaba, the Jordan River and Jesus' baptismal site, the al Karak crusader castle, famous for its holdout against Saladin in the 12th century. Volunteers are welcome to join the tour without credit for $750/week + airfare. For more information, contact Jordanfieldschool@andrews.edu.

Battery Reclalm Program Introduced at Andrews

Andrews University values caring for the earth and participates in several recycling efforts that include keeping paper, aluminum cans, plastic bottles and electronics out of landfills. In February, battery recycling was added to that list. Todd Cook, a Master's of Social Work student at Andrews University, and a retired chief petty officer and military veteran, is spearheading a battery recycling initiative on campus.

Ever since Cook visited a landfill and saw batteries and other contaminants leaking into the soil, he has been passionate about the subject of recycling. "It was very humbling," he says.

Cook purchased nine containers out of his own funds to get the Battery Reclalm Program launched. He painted each one bright green and placed the containers in the Administration Building, the Seminary, Meier Hall, the Department of Social Work lounge in Nethery Hall, Plant Service, the Andrews Bookstore, Lamson Hall and the James White Library.

"Batteries are a serious problem in landfills because some of the chemicals they contain (such as nickel and cadmium) are toxic and can pollute the soil and water they come in contact with," says Cook. "As Christians we should not only set the example of good faith, strong values, and high integrity and standards, but also should promote and advocate for the Planet Earth and future generations."

Andrews University takes part in the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Peer Audit Initiative and even served as a test site for the Peer Audit training. Paul Elder, manager of Plant Service, is committed to ensuring Andrews is in full compliance with all EPA regulations. Elder and Ben Panigot from the Office of Campus Safety are developing an Environmental Management System (EMS) for campus that will promote continual compliance to all EPA regulations.

"Part of the EMS includes promoting best practice guidelines for continual environmental improvements throughout campus," says Elder. "When Todd gave me the battery recycling proposal, it was clear to see this was in line with the EMS we are developing. I appreciate his initiative in making Andrews a more environmentally friendly campus."

Currently, Cook is running the program alone, however he is seeking dedicated volunteers to assist with the program. Presently, Cook collects the batteries once every two weeks or more as needed and drop them off at a battery recycling collection site, such as Lowe's or RadioShack. The types of batteries accepted for recycling are AA, AAA, AAAA, 6V, 9V, C, D, watch, hearing aid, and rechargeable batteries, including those used in hand tools.

For more information or to volunteer to help, contact Todd Cook at cooktf@andrews.edu or 701-630-4142.

Four National Merit Scholarship Finalists at Andrews Academy

Andrews Academy is pleased to announce four students are finalists for the National Merit Scholarship Award this year. Each of them are four-year Andrews Academy seniors: brother and sister Jee Yeon and Seong Min Lee, originally from Korea; Ashley Reichert of Berrien Springs, Mich.; and Kyle Whiteside of Sodus, Mich.

"We want to congratulate our four National Merit finalists. We are so proud of each of them and of every member of the class of 2012," says Robert Overstreet, principal of Andrews Academy. "We pray all of our students will continue to develop academically and spiritually throughout the rest of this school year and every year of their lives."

The finalists in each year's National Merit Scholarship program show exceptional academic ability and potential for success in rigorous college studies. Approximately 1.5 million students from 22,000 high schools entered the 2012 National Merit Scholarship program by taking the 2010 Preliminary SAT/National Merit scholarship Qualifying Tests (PSAT/NMSQT). These students are the highest-scoring entrants and represent less than 1 percent of each state's high school seniors. The students now qualify for the National Merit Scholarships, which will be awarded in the spring of 2012.

Andrews Academy is a four-year college prep school located on the campus of Andrews University.

Lake Union Headquarters Prepares to Relocate

In May of 2011, Andrews University purchased the Lake Union Conference (LUC) office complex, which is adjacent to the Andrews campus. This location is now the home for the new School of Distance Education, formerly Griggs University along with other University departments. The sales agreement allows the LUC office staff to temporarily consolidate their offices into the original building on U S Hwy 31 until a new office can be constructed. When completed, Andrews University will take full possession of the former LUC buildings and land.

An important step in the relocation took place on Monday, February 27, 2012, when a lengthy process to purchase 8.6 acres of land was completed. The new office location is on the west corner of M139 and Red Bud Trail, just one mile west of the Andrews Campus. LUC president Don Livesay comments: “Our new office will embrace the efficiencies of a smaller size and newer construction. We have intentionally chosen to remain close to Andrews University to keep our valued relationship strong.”

New Degree in International Agriculture Development

Did you know that in 2010 there were 925 million hungry people in the world? That is about 13% of the earth’s population. Poor nutrition plays a role in about 5 million child deaths per year. Although the world produces enough food to feed everyone, the poor often lack access to land and water to grow food, or income to purchase it.

Starting in Fall 2012, the Department of Agriculture will be offering a new degree in International Agriculture Development, designed to address issues related to global food security. The degree will provide students with hands-on training in agriculture and animal science, foundational courses in international development and public policy, and international experience through study tours and internships. Graduates will be prepared to work in government, the private sector or non-profit organizations, such as ADRA. Graduates will also be eligible to complete an MA in Community and International Development at Andrews University in only one additional year. For more information, contact the Department of Agriculture at agri@andrews.edu or call ext. 6006.

Register for the 2012 Natural Remedies and Hydrotherapy Workshop

This year’s Natural Remedies and Hydrotherapy Workshop is scheduled for August 5-August 10 and is sponsored by the Andrews University Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary. The focus will be on the skilful use of natural remedies, water and nutrition in times of illness and health. The workshop is limited to 60 participants so early registration is encouraged. Registration closes July 25.

A number of health and wellness professionals will be presenting: Agatha Thrash, MD, Uchee Pines Institute; Don Miller, ND, Uchee Pines Institute; David DeRose, MD, Weimar Center for Health & Education; Vicki Griffin, Michigan Conference Health Department; David Village, MSPT, Andrews University; and Gerard Damsteegt, workshop director, MPH, RD, Andrews University.

This five day workshop involves 30 hours of lectures and demonstrations along with hands-on labs. All participants who successfully complete the workshop will receive a certificate of achievement. Graduate credit (1-4credit hours) is available for MA, MDiv, MAPMin students.

The lectures and labs will include topics such as how to treat the common cold or fever; charcoal therapy; use of garlic and other medicinal herbs; treating sprains and strains; hydrotherapy and the immune system; and much more.

Pastors and their spouses, health professionals and anyone who is interested in natural remedies or hydrotherapy is invited to attend this popular workshop. The workshop fee is $350. Repeat attendees and spouses are entitled to a 50 percent workshop fee discount (labs only if not full).

An informational brochure is attached. For more information, visit www.andrews.edu/go/nrhw/ or e-mail fran@andrews.edu.

New Team Members in the Office of Human Resources

The Office of Human Resources has recently had some staffing changes that include two new additions to their team.

Maria Velez is the new payroll supervisor in the Office of Human Resources. She is replacing Amy Waller who left in December 2011. Velez most recently worked as the administrative assistant/service records assistant in that office. She has a Bachelor of Business Administration with a concentration in finance and a Master of Business Administration, both from Andrews University.

Inez A. Reyes is the new administrative assistant/service records assistant in the Office of Human Resources. She replaces Maria Velez. Reyes most recently worked as a certified pharmacy technician (CphT) for Family Fare Pharmacy in Dowagiac, Mich. Previously, she has worked as a mentor manager in the MARK mentoring program at Mildred C. Wells Academy in Benton Harbor, Mich.; a concierge for Errand Solutions in Elmhurst, Ill.; and an assistant sales director for AmeriSuites, Itasca, Ill. She has a Bachelor of Business Administration from South Carolina State University and a Master of Media Communication from Governors State University in University Park, Ill.

Tiffani Grigsby is the new employment/benefits manager in the Office of Human Resources. She replaces Katrina Wright-Rayhill. Grigsby most recently worked as a human resource generalist for Cancer CarePartners of Mishawaka, Ind., and prior to that, she filled the same role at Goshen Health System in Goshen, Ind. She has a Bachelor of Business Management and is currently studying for her master’s in business management with a specialization in human resources, both from Indiana Wesleyan University. After living in Goshen, Ind., for 12 years, Grigsby relocated to Berrien Springs in December 2011.

The Office of Human Resources includes Payroll, Benefits, Employment and Training & Development. It is located on the second floor of the Administration Building.

Passing of Paul Burdick, Father of Gary Burdick

Paul Burdick, father of Gary Burdick (professor of physics and associate dean of research), passed away on Monday, March 5, 2012, at home in Ooltewah, Tenn., after a prolonged illness at the age of 80.

From 1962 to 1972, he lived in Berrien Springs where he and his wife Bille shared a home on Willo Drive and were active members of Pioneer Memorial Church where he served as deacon.

He is survived by his wife Bille (Ooltewah, Tenn.), his two sons Gary (Berrien Springs, Mich.) and Richard (Montrose, Colo.), his two brothers Al (Lincoln, Neb.) and John (Falls Church, Va.), seven grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Memorial Service for Elly Economou

Elly Helen Economou, 83, died Thursday, Feb. 9, at Lakeland Regional Medical Center in St. Joseph, Mich. A private burial service was held on Thursday, Feb. 16, at Rose Hill Cemetery in Berrien Springs, Mich. A memorial service in celebration of her life is scheduled for Saturday, March 24, at 4 p.m. in Pioneer Memorial Church on the campus of Andrews University.

She devoted her entire life to serving the Seventh-day Adventist Church and provided exceptional teaching at Andrews University full-time for 31 years and part-time for an additional two years after her retirement.

Elly Economou was born May 6, 1928, in Thessalonica, Greece, to George and Helen (Vrettopoulou) Economou. Most of her primary and secondary level studies were acquired at home under the guidance of private tutors. She spent six years in the Greek-French "Ecole d'Etudes Secondaires et Supérieures" of her native Thessalonica, where she graduated with special awards. She began higher education at the Anatolia Greek-American College and finished with honors. She came to the United States in 1962 and earned a BA in 1966 from Pacific Union College, Angwin, Calif., majoring in biblical and modern languages.

For graduate studies she came to Andrews University, where she earned a master's degree in biblical languages in 1967. In 1972, she began post-graduate studies at the University of Strasbourg, France, where she deciphered a number of papyri dating back to approximately 300 B.C. for the National Library of Strasbourg. Before completing her PhD in December 1975, she also did research at the Ecumenical Institute of Bossey, Switzerland, and the archives of the World Council of Churches in Geneva. The title of her dissertation was “The Greek-Orthodox Church and her Relations with the Heterodox Churches.” It was characterized as a monumental work by the jury, which unanimously voted for its publication as a valuable contribution to the Ecumenical Movement.

Elly was fluent in English, French, German, Italian and Spanish as well as modern Greek. She also had knowledge of 10 other modern and ancient languages. She began her teaching duties at Andrews as an instructor in the University's modern languages department and joined the Department of Religion & Biblical Languages in 1976.

She was a member of many professional organizations, including the Society of Biblical Literature, the...
Alexander Technique Workshop: Relaxation

Sunday, March 11
Noon and 1:45 p.m., Howard Center Lobby

Alexander Technique Workshop - Courtney Brown, Alexander Technique specialist from Chicago, IL, will present two workshop sessions on Sunday, March 11, 2012, in the Howard Center Lobby. The Alexander Technique teaches us a way of moving more freely, a way to be more relaxed in the midst of life's stresses. This class is for you if you suffer from backaches, and stiff neck and shoulders. It will help you to address harmful habits that you have built up over your life and will help you to learn how to move more freely. Each session runs for one-and-a-half hours: the first session will begin at 12:00 Noon and the second session will begin at 1:45 p.m. Wear comfortable clothes. Things to bring with you: a soft tee shirt to support your head, five or six 1/2-inch to 1-inch thick soft cover books and an exercise mat. Each session will have 15 participants. To reserve a spot in the one of the sessions, email Julia Lindsay at jlindsay@andrews.edu. Participants will be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis until the classes are full. Non-participants may also attend as an audience member.
