Notice of Enforcement of Traffic Regulation

Surveillance at the intersection of E. Campus Circle Drive and International Court has and will continue to increase. Motorists and bicyclists often disregard the posted stop signs. This poses significant danger of collisions.

The Office of Campus Safety may issue a citation for any vehicles failing to stop in accordance with standard traffic regulations.

Thank you for your compliance and courteous driving.

Register now for the Andrews University Music and Worship Conference
March 29–31, 2012
Academic Credit Available

The 9th annual Andrews University Music & Worship Conference is coming to campus March 29–31, 2012. Sponsored by the Center for Youth Evangelism and their partners, the Departments of Music and Christian Ministry, and the NAD Church Resource Center, this event will provide theologically-grounded training opportunities for church musicians, pastors, worship leaders, and anyone involved in worship ministry. The 2012 Worship Conference will feature a variety of presenters. Most notably, general sessions will feature speakers Michael Kelly, senior pastor of the dynamic worship community at Mt. Rubidoux Seventh-day Adventist Church; Richard Davidson, J. N. Andrews Professor of Old Testament Interpretation at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary; and Lilianne Doukhlan, professor of Hebrew and Old Testament Exegesis and author of the foremost Adventist book on worship music, In Tune With God. Presenters will discuss issues relating to creativity, diversity and excellence as well as techniques and strategies for improving worship experiences.

Workshop topics include leading music in worship, collaborative ministry, hymn singing, use of Scripture, worship and youth culture, choral music in worship, audio-visual enhancement, worship planning, and incorporating young adults in worship ministry.

Sessions and workshops will take place at the Andrews University Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, Howard Performing Arts Center and Pioneer Memorial Church.

Event registration is required and can be completed online. For registration information, a schedule of events and more, visit www.auworshipconference.org or call 269-471-8380.

The last day to add a class is January 18 Academic credit is available during this weekend long conference. The Undergraduate course is called:

MUED438 Workshop: AU Music & Worship Conference (1 credit)

The Graduate course is called:

MUED648 Workshop: AU Music & Worship Conference (1 credit)

The Seminary course is called:

CMNS523-1 Worship: Word and Music* (2-3 credits) [*Includes intensives on April 1 and 2]

If you are interested in attending the Conference for credit, simply register for one of the courses listed above. In addition to tuition, a $75 registration fee for the Conference will be charged to your account (non-refundable after January 18). Non-credit registration is available at www.auworshipconference.org until the start of the event. For more information: call 471-8352, email worshipconference@andrews.edu or visit www.auworshipconference.org.
Thursday, Mar. 15
4:30 p.m., Halenz Hall Amphitheater

All are invited to the 9th guest lectures in the 2012 Winter/Spring Andrews University Chemistry & Biochemistry Departmental Seminar Series on Thursday, Mar. 15 at 4:30 p.m. There will be two topics in one seminar session by Alaina DeToma and Joseph Braymer, who are both Chemistry PhD Candidates from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, MI. De Toma will give a presentation entitled "Flavonoids & Alzheimer's," and Braymer will present on "Detoxifying Hydrogen Peroxide." This week's seminar will not be broadcast online.
The eighth annual Ellen White Issues Symposium will be held on March 26, 2012, at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary. This year's symposium takes as its theme Ellen White’s prophetic gift and inspiration.

The featured speakers include Roger Dudley, professor emeritus and director of the Institute of Church Ministry; Jiri Moskala, professor of Old Testament exegesis and theology; Jud Lake, professor of preaching and Adventist studies at Southern Adventist University; Stan Patterson, chair of the Department of Christian Ministry and director of the Christian Leadership Center; and Katrina Blue, a doctoral candidate in theology and church history. Each lecture will be followed by a question-and-answer session; and the symposium will close with a discussion of Ellen White and current issues.

Dudley will open the symposium with his lecture, "Ellen White and Me." Jiri Moskala’s talk, "Can a Biblically Inspired Writer Use Literary Sources?" will explore the topic of White’s own inspiration. Jud Lake, who has recently published a book on Ellen White’s prophetic gift, will discuss a historical criticism of Ellen White in "D.M. Carriag, Ellen White, and Inspiration: A Crisis in the Making." After lunch, Stan Patterson will discuss "Ellen G. White on Leadership and Power," followed by Katrina Blue’s talk, "Threads from an Old Fabric," which will reveal new discoveries about the Holy Flesh movement in Indiana from 1899–1901, and Ellen White’s response to the movement.

The symposium is sponsored by Andrews University, the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, the Department of Church History, the Center for Adventist Research and the Ellen G. White Estate, Inc. For more information about the symposium or to register, please visit www.andrews.edu/library/car/egwsymposium.html

Cardinals Win USCAA Men's Division II Basketball National Championship

Berrien Springs, Mich.—The Andrews University Cardinals won the USCAA Men's Division II Basketball National Championship for the second consecutive year on March 10, 2012. The third-seed Cardinals successfully defended their title from the Berkeley College-New York Knights. Although they trailed in the first half, the Cardinals captured and retained the lead after an 11-2 run in the second half of the game. All-American Tyler Wooldridge was the lead scorer with 28 points followed by All-American Jerome Murray with 18 points to beat the Knights 72-58.

"This has been an unbelievable year for us," says Dave Jardine, director of Student Activities & Athletics and the Cardinal's head coach. "I'm so proud of these guys and the way they represent our institution. They truly are a blessing from God."

The championship was held in Uniontown, Penn., from March 8-10. The Cardinals advanced to the semifinals after defeating Eastern Maine on March 8. All-American Honorable Mention Matthew Little led the scoring with 32 points while All-American Tyler Wooldridge added 22 points for a final score of 99-47.

In the semifinals the Cardinals competed against St. Joseph's (Vt.), on March 9. Although they were losing 43-34 to St. Joseph with 9:41 remaining on the clock, the Cardinals took the lead with a 14-0 run and maintained their lead for the remainder of the game. The top scorer of the game was All-American Jerome Murray, who earned 17 points and 16 rebounds during the game. All-American Tyler Wooldridge made 15 points to add to a close finish with a final score of 55-52.

The United States Collegiate Athletic Association (USCAA) was founded as the National Little College Athletic Association (NLCAA) in 1966 and reorganized as the USCAA in 2001. Its goal is to allow the athletes of smaller colleges and universities to have the same opportunities in equal regional and national competition as the athletes of larger institutions of higher learning. The USCAA regularly hold national championships, honor student athletes, award All-American titles, and promote their member institutions. Currently it has 82 members in 24 states.

Battery Reclain Program Introduced at Andrews

Andrews University values caring for the earth and participates in several recycling efforts that include keeping paper, aluminum cans, plastic bottles and electronics out of landfills. In February, battery recycling was added to that list. Todd Cook, a Master's of Social Work student at Andrews University, and a retired chief petty officer and military veteran, is spearheading a battery recycling initiative on campus.

Ever since Cook visited a landfill and saw batteries and other contaminants leaking into the soil, he has been passionate about the subject of recycling. "It was very humbling," he says. Cook purchased nine containers out of his own funds to get the Battery Reclain Program launched. He painted each one bright green and placed the containers in the Administration Building, the Seminary, Meier Hall, the Department of Social Work lounge in Nethery Hall, Plant Service, the Andrews Bookstore, Lamson Hall and the James White Library.

"Batteries are a serious problem in landfills because some of the chemicals they contain (such as nickel and cadmium) are toxic and can pollute the soil and water they come in contact with," says Cook. "As Christians we should not only set the example of good faith, strong values, and high integrity and standards, but also should promote and advocate for the Planet Earth and future generations."

Andrews University takes part in the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Peer Audit Initiative and even served as a test site for the Peer Audit training. Paul Elder, manager of Plant Service, is committed to ensuring Andrews is in full compliance with all EPA regulations. Elder and Ben Panigot from the Office of Campus Safety are developing an Environmental Management System (EMS) for campus that will promote continual compliance to all EPA regulations.

"Part of the EMS includes promoting best practice guidelines for continual environmental improvements.
“...throughout campus,” says Elder. “When Todd gave me the battery recycling proposal, it was clear to see this was in line with the EMS we are developing. I appreciate his initiative in making Andrews a more environmentally friendly campus.”

Currently, Cook is running the program alone, however he is seeking dedicated volunteers to assist with the program. Presently, Cook collects the batteries once every two weeks or more as needed and drop them off at a battery recycling collection site, such as Lowe’s or RadioShack. The types of batteries accepted for recycling are AA, AAA, AAAA, 6V, 9V, C, D, watch, hearing aid, and rechargeable batteries, including those used in hand tools.

For more information or to volunteer to help, contact Todd Cook at cooktf@andrews.edu or 701-630-4142.

CM Radio's Internet Mission: Bringing Listeners Closer to Jesus

What was once a small online radio station operating off of just one computer in a single room, is now reaching out to encourage and inspire not only the campus and community of Andrews University in Berrien Springs, Mich., but listeners from all over the world.

Using a $15,000 sponsorship from the North America Division of Seventh-Day Adventists Communication Department, CMRadio began as a ministry of the Center for Youth Evangelism at Andrews University in 2002. Originally focused on young adults, it was then known as AYRadio (Adventist Youth Radio) and housed on a single computer in a small office. It was quickly determined CMRadio had a ministry to share beyond campus. In 2005, AYRadio became CMRadio and moved into its permanent studio located in the Office of Campus Ministries in Andrews University Campus Center. Read full story.

It was quickly determined CMRadio had a ministry to share beyond campus. In 2005, AYRadio became CMRadio and moved into its permanent studio located in the Office of Campus Ministries in Andrews University Campus Center.

Yet, CMRadio reaches much further than just the area around Andrews. The station has listeners on nearly every continent, from such varied places as Kenya, Australia, Japan, Argentina, the Bahamas, and the Netherlands. "It's amazing how far CMRadio reaches!" says Richard Parke, a volunteer who serves as station manager for CMRadio. "You can listen to it anywhere in the world at any time. All one needs is an Internet connection and you're immediately connected with Andrews."

"CMRadio's mission is to bring Jesus closer to the lives of its listeners through spiritually uplifting music and programming," says Parke. The station plays current Christian contemporary and gospel music, as well as music from some classic Christian artists like Michael W. Smith and Amy Grant.

CMRadio operates with the help of just a few committed volunteers. It is the only station that airs Andrews University Campus Chapel live throughout the school year. CMRadio's website also has interviews with artists who perform at the Howard Performing Arts Center such as Take 6, Committed and Sandi Patty.

In addition to providing Christian music, CMRadio offers several syndicated Christian programs including 20 the Countdown Magazine, Keep the Faith, and Walk the Way. Sabbath morning programs include Scriptural Pursuit, Your Story Hour and live audio from the worship service at Pioneer Memorial Church. In February 2012, CMRadio added a new program to their lineup called Under the Radar.

"Under the Radar highlights some of the best undiscovered and under-appreciated tunes from Christian artists," says Richard Parke, station manager for CMRadio. "Host David Trout shares stories, spiritual insight, and exclusive artist interviews to discover the depth of faith and creativity found in the music."

The day's song lineup is posted on line, but listeners aren't tied to a pre-selected playlist. "Listeners are able to request a song and within the next three minutes, it will play!" says Lindsey Pratt, assistant station manager and a theology student at Andrews. Pratt is one of only four enthusiastic volunteers who donate their time and energy to CMRadio's mission of spreading the Word of God through the medium of music.

"It has been a blessing to work at CMRadio," says Pratt. "There is so much inspiring music that anyone can listen to online for free."

'Rhythm of the Dance' comes to Mendel stage

BENTON HARBOR - The National Dance Company of Ireland will perform their two-hour Celtic dance and music extravaganza, "Rhythm of the Dance," at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Lake Michigan College's Mendel Center Mainstage, 2755 E. Napier Ave.

Featuring a live band, three tenors and 22 Irish dancers, "Rhythm of the Dance" traces the journey of the Irish Celts through song and dance. For decades, the Celtic clans of Leinster and Ulster were at war, driven into battle by their rulers' lust for land and power. Following the last great battle, with the Emerald Isle left in ruins, two great Celtic warriors stand to rebuild with the hope that one day the Emerald Isle shall stand united.

Since its debut performance in 1999 in Norway, "Rhythm of the Dance" has played to over 4.5 million fans in 44 countries worldwide and appeared live on Chinese TV for a millennium celebration to an audience of 700 million viewers.

Tickets are $22-$32.

For more information, call 927-1221 or visit lmc mainstage.org

Pickle Project to play today at nature center

BENTON HARBOR - The Deep Fried Pickle Project performs at 3 p.m. today at the Sarett Nature Center, 2300 Benton Center Road.

The Coloma-based duo of Alan Selvidge and musical partner Daniel J. Daniel, which recently released its new children's album "Green & Bumpy," combines quirky, homemade instruments with the harmonica, tenor banjo and mandolin for a sound that pays homage to Appalachia, honky-tonk and hokum traditions while exploring a wealth of bluegrass, folk and Americana roots music.

Tickets are $7-$10, $1 for children.

For more information, call 927-4832 or visit www.sarett.com.

Andrews hosts exhibit, book signing Tuesday

BERRIEN SPRINGS - Greg Constantine, retired professor of art from Andrews University, will have an exhibition and book signing from 3-6 p.m. Tuesday at Andrews University's James White Library, 1400 Campus Drive.

Illustrations from his books "When Big Artists Were Little Kids" and "Vincent Van Gogh Visits New York" will be on display, and copies of all six books will be available.

Constantine served as a professor of art for 46 years at Andrews University and is currently an artist-in-residence at the university. He has had 62 exhibitions at venues throughout Europe and the United States, including 18 solo exhibitions in New York City.

Admission is free.

For more information, call 471-3379, email matacio @andrews.edu or visit www.andrews.edu.
BERRIEN SPRINGS — Ernie Haase is feeling more blessed than usual these days.

The founder and frontman of the unconventional gospel quartet Ernie Haase & Signature Sound, which performs Saturday at Andrews University's Howard Performing Arts Center, is celebrating last month's release of "Here We Are Again," their first recording of all original material in four years.

"We just started the tour and the response has been incredible," Haase says by telephone while traveling through Tennessee. "It's like reaping and sowing. It's been a two-year season of writing and recording and now we're able to see it become something more than music, just by touching people the way it does. That's the most exciting part of what we do."

It's now been 10 years since Haase, a long-time member of the famous Cathedral Quartet, started Signature Sound. The quartet, which also features Devin McGlamery (lead), Doug Anderson (baritone) and Ian Owens (bass), has since become one of the most influential groups in Southern gospel music. They've won Gospel Music Association Dove Awards for Southern Gospel Album of the Year and Southern Gospel Recorded Song of the Year ("Get Away Jordan") in 2008 and Southern Gospel Recorded Song of the Year ("Reason Enough") in 2009.

Q: "Here We Are Again" is your first record in four years. What can you tell me about the response to it so far?

A: The song that seems to be making the biggest impact is "Sometimes I Wonder," which I wrote about three years ago when I just experienced a loss in my family and my co-writer lost both his parents to cancer. We grieve but we grieve with hope. So we wrote it with harmony and hope. The Bible says when it comes to Heaven there's a half that has not been told. So we all have our questions. Do they think about us anymore? Do they know we're OK? It doesn't answer any great eternal questions but it let's people know that God is taking care of them, and it's a song that touches everybody because everyone has experienced loss.

Q: Now growing up in Evansville, Ind., did you always know this is what you wanted to do or did it come later?

A: It's something that's always been a part of in my life. My church didn't have a concert series so I didn't know there was a business. But whenever company would come over mom and dad would say, 'Hey, get Ernie in here!' I'd sing and dance. I think God just wired me this way. I really feel like this is what I was put on the earth to do.

Q: So what was your big break? Was it with Cathedral Quartet?

A: Yep, that was it. I was 15 years old when they came to Evansville, Ind., and I was just bit by the bug. That's who I wanted to be a part of. I got all their records and always tried to match the tenor singer. Ten years later they heard me sing and asked me to join them. When that happened God really smiled on me. They really paved the way.

Q: After the Cathedral Quartet's farewell tour in 1999, you founded Ernie Haase & Signature Sound. Tell me a little bit about the sound that you strived for as a band leader and how that's shaped the group?

A: To really find your niche you have to be true to who you are. People love harmony, so if it's done right and married with a great lyric it's going to find its audience. I think using that with a fresh, new and honest approach on an eternal old truth is what makes us different.

Q: So for those out there looking up to Ernie Haase & Signature Sound the way you looked up to the Cathedral Quartet, what advice would you give them?

A: It's just like my dad says, show up for work every day no matter how you feel and what's going on in life, if you give your very best God will bless it. And he has. That's been my success story. jbonfiglio@TheH-P.com

Obituary for Elly Helen Economou
Elly Helen Economou, 83, died Thursday, Feb. 9, at Lakeland Regional Medical Center in St. Joseph, Mich. A private burial service was held on Thursday, Feb. 16, at Rose Hill Cemetery in Berrien Springs, Mich. A memorial service in celebration of her life is scheduled for Saturday, March 24, at 4 p.m. in Pioneer Memorial Church on the campus of Andrews University.

She devoted her entire life to serving the Seventh-day Adventist Church and provided exceptional teaching at Andrews University full-time for 31 years and part-time for an additional two years after her retirement.

Elly Economou was born May 6, 1928, in Thessalonica, Greece, to George and Helen (Vrettopoulou) Economou. Most of her primary and secondary level studies were acquired at home under the guidance of private tutors. She spent six years in the Greek-French "Ecole d'Etudes Secondaires et Supérieures" of her native Thessalonica, where she graduated with special awards. She began higher education at the Anatolia Greek-American College and finished with honors. She came to the United States in 1962 and earned a BA in 1966 from Pacific Union College, Angwin, Calif., majoring in biblical and modern languages.

For graduate studies she came to Andrews University, where she earned a master's degree in biblical languages in 1967. In 1972, she began post-graduate studies at the University of Strasbourg, France, where she deciphered a number of papyri dating back to approximately 300 B.C. for the National Library of Strasbourg. Before completing her PhD in December 1975, she also did research at the Ecumenical Institute of Bossey, Switzerland, and the archives of the World Council of Churches in Geneva. The title of her dissertation was "The Greek-Orthodox Church and her Relations with the Heterodox Churches." It was characterized as a monumental work by the jury, which unanimously voted for its publication as a valuable contribution to the Ecumenical Movement.

Elly was fluent in English, French, German, Italian and Spanish as well as modern Greek. She also had knowledge of 10 other modern and ancient languages. She began her teaching duties at Andrews as an instructor in the University's modern languages department and joined the Department of Religion & Biblical Languages in 1976.

She was a member of many professional organizations, including the Society of Biblical Literature, the Adventist Language Teachers Association, the American Association of University Professors, the American Academy of Religion and the International Religious Liberty Association. Economou was listed in a number of publications including the Dictionary of International Biographies, World Who's Who of Women in Education, World Wide Academy of Scholars, Community Leaders and Noteworthy Americans, and Who’s Who of Women.

As a member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church of her native Thessalonica, Elly served as an interpreter, youth leader, secretary, treasurer and writer. During her lifetime, Elly translated into Greek several religious books, including the Conflict of the Ages Series, and a number of other publications. She also wrote Beloved Enemy, her life story, published in 1968.

Elly was known for her exemplary generosity, evidenced by her legendary hospitality to thousands of students, community members and international guests over the years. She was an inspiring combination of the biblical Mary and Martha, known for both her love of learning and her joy of feeding guests in her home. She traveled extensively around the world, visiting 80 countries; observing and studying the cultural and historical backgrounds of other peoples, as well as their languages. She also enjoyed reading, writing, embroidery, photography and music.

Elly was predeceased by both of her parents. Her father George was an officer of the Greek Army and her mother Helen lived with her for many years at their home in Berrien Springs until her death in April 1994. Her brother Andreas, who still resided in Greece, died in October 2011. She is survived by her cousin Vasileios Papageorgiou, his wife Charikleia (Stergiou), and their son Dan Paris and daughter Eudoxia. A large host of former students, faculty and staff colleagues, and friends will miss her. "Rest well, until the resurrection morning."

Dean Phillips was found deceased in her home on Wednesday, Dec. 21, 2011. The cause of death was hypertensive cardiovascular disease. Arrangements are being handled by Allred Funeral Home.

Valerie Phillips, Assistant to the Dean, Has Passed Away

Valerie Phillips, assistant to the dean for University Towers, was found deceased in her home this morning, Wednesday, Dec. 21. The cause of death is not yet known. She was 56-years-old.

Dean Phillips dedicated 31 years of her professional career to Andrews University. She joined the Andrews family in 1980, first as an assistant dean and, since 1986, as an associate dean of women for Lamson Hall. In August of 2011, she transitioned from Lamson Hall to serve as assistant to the dean for University Towers.

Valerie graduated in 1972 from Union Springs Academy in Union Springs, N.Y. She studied behavioral science, religion and English at Atlantic Union College, where she graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in 1978. During college, she worked as an aide at Worcester Memorial Hospital in Worcester, Mass. In 1978, Valerie took an assistant chaplain position at Battle Creek Sanitarium and Hospital where she stayed until 1980.

In 1980, Arlene Friestad, who was then dean of women at Lamson Hall, invited Valerie to speak at the first annual Womanhood Week at Andrews. Dean Friestad was so impressed by Valerie she invited her to join the residence hall staff at Lamson Hall.

Dean Phillips not only ministered to the ladies in her care at Andrews, she shared reflections and insights gained from her experiences as a regular columnist for the Adventist Review.

Valerie was known for her warm and compassionate spirit, her quick wit and exceptional wisdom, and care for her students. At the 2011 Faculty Staff Awards Banquet at Andrews University, Valerie was honored for 30 years of service. In her award tribute, Frances Faehner, vice president for Student Life, said of Valerie, "Among her many unique gifts, Valerie makes an intentional effort to note and remember the special interests (favorite food, collections, etc.) of her residents. She is known for countless acts of unexpected kindness that are especially meaningful to students missing the comforts of home and family."

Dean Phillips is survived by two sisters and one brother.

Funeral arrangements are pending. Additional information will be shared as it becomes available on the Andrews website.

Tomato Plants for Sale: Proceeds Support Congo Church Planter Missionaries

Spring is on the way, have you purchased your tomato seeds?

For years I have grown several varieties of tomatoes, way more than I have room to plant. So, I have given excess plants away to my neighbors, friends and tossed the rest in the garbage.

This year I am going to do something more positive by turning my excess plants into a Sabbath School Investment project.

If you want to reserve inexpensive healthy plants for May planting Email me. I will send you the list of six tomato varieties plus all the other vegetables you may want to grow from plants vs. seeds.

The plants, depending on size, will range from $1.00 - $2.50.
They will be in peat pots that may be planted directly into your garden.

Do yourself a favor by eating the most delicious and nutritious vegetables possible on this earth plus save money while helping to support the Congo Church Planter missionaries.

Send your email to: helloworld1@comcast.net

P. S.
100% of the profit will support Congo Church Planter missionaries.
