George Barna Presents: Growing True Disciples

"Growing True Disciples: Opportunities and Challenges in Raising the Next Generation of Believers"

Wednesday, Nov. 14, 3–4:30 p.m.
Howard Performing Arts Center
4160 E. Campus Circle Dr., Berrien Springs, MI
"Transforming Children Into Spiritual Champions"
(Session is approx. 90 minutes long)
Among the chief assets of a church are its children. Our approach to their spiritual maturation must be intentional and strategic. This session describes Barna's research regarding moral and spiritual development, educational strategy, and family-church partnerships, as well as steps churches and parents may take to buck the culture and raise spiritually mature young people.

Wednesday, Nov. 14, 7–8:30 p.m.
Pioneer Memorial Church
8655 University Blvd., Berrien Springs, MI
"Revolutionary Parenting"
(Session is approx. 80 minutes long)
This session describes some of the emphases that relate to how parents facilitate a lifelong devotion to serving God through one's gifts and abilities. Barna will discuss why ministry to children matters; what the Bible says about raising kids; common but ineffective parenting strategies; and the practices of effective parents. Based on research among young adults who have grown up to serve the Lord, and interviews with their parents.

Thursday, Nov. 15, 11:30 a.m.–12:15 p.m.
Pioneer Memorial Church
8655 University Blvd., Berrien Springs, MI
"Intentional Development of a Biblical Worldview"
University Forum
Less than one out of every five born again adults possess a biblical worldview—and it is the inability to think like Jesus that prevents people from acting like Jesus. Based on his research among individuals who have such a way of interpreting reality, and insights from the churches that are effectively assisting people in the development of a biblical worldview, Barna will describe America's worldviews and how churches can become more strategically involved in facilitating a biblical worldview.

Register Now for the One project in Chicago, Feb. 11-12

Feb. 11-12, 2012
Chicago

The ONE Project is committed to the idea that a Jesus-driven, Jesus-bathed, Jesus-backed, Jesus-led, Jesus-filled, Jesus-powered, all-about-Jesus Adventist Church is the uncompromising directive from our past, the joy of our present, and the hope for our future. We claim the primal Adventist impulse: a longing to be with Jesus. We love our church. And so we want the greatest gift for it... Jesus. We believe pulpits, classrooms, worship halls, board rooms, living rooms—life!—should be drenched in the Spirit of Jesus.

The ONE Project seeks—through gatherings, conversations, web-based content, and Christ-focused publications—to stimulate preaching, worship, and adoration of Jesus within the Adventist church. Learn more at www.the1project.org.

Andrews University United Way Goal Reached!

Thanks to the enthusiasm of our campus employees, we have surpassed our participation goal and our campaign dollar goal in record time. To date, 114 individual employees have donated $11,500. Both of these numbers exceed the previous five years of Andrews United Way Employee Campaigns. I am deeply grateful for the campus spirit of generosity and support. I believe the United Way Campaign is a very visible and powerful way to provide stewardship and support to our community. All locally donated funds are distributed locally. Andrews University can become the light and salt our neighbors need, right here in Southwest Michigan.

As promised, I will now, literally, "Jump into the United Way Campaign." You are invited to come to the Beaty Pool on Thursday, Nov. 15, at 3:30 p.m. to witness my plunge. (Live streaming will be available at andrews.edu/president.) Representatives from United Way will also be on hand. Their staff has been encouraged by our increased support, and the accompanying fun, and they want to join in celebrating the successful conclusion of our Andrews United Way Employee Campaign.

Thank you, as well, to those who will be impressed to give in our final days of this campaign, which formally closes on November 14. If you haven’t given to this year’s campaign, we still welcome your pledge forms. Pledge forms may be returned to the Office of the President. The four-digit on-campus zip code is 0670.

MICHIGAN CITY — Andrew von Maur, an associate professor of design and urbanism at Andrews University, returned to Michigan City to give a presentation discussing the impact of The North End Plan, which was completed by students of the University five years ago.

"I know a lot of people have worried that this was going to be a plan that sort of sat on a shelf, but I think it's fair to say that hasn't happened," von Maur said. "Just from the perspective of building a consensus and rallying the public behind a vision, not necessarily in a literal sense..., but a recognition that there is potential... has been a huge accomplishment for what was really a cheap, student-conducted project."

Von Maur pointed out that although the city may not have come as far as it would have liked in five years, it had made significant improvements in certain areas, like its efforts to modify its zoning codes to reflect a long-term vision for the design of future structures in the city.

Von Maur also said the city's investment in the Elston Grove project, its plans to increase the number of small parks in the city's north end and its push to bring Artspace, a housing development for artists, into the city's downtown, are all significant improvements for the city.

The professor added that the way the downtown district had embraced an art's movement was another important boost for the city --- just as important, in some respects, as what he called the "hardware" improvements needed in the city - that is, modifications of streets, buildings and public spaces.

Von Maur said "software" changes, or changes in the mentality and vision of the community, were equally important to the city's goal of maintaining a vision for the future of its north end.

"One smart way to explore things the city can do - even if there maybe isn't any money for things like improvements to the Trail Creek (corridor) or NICTD (Northwest Indiana Commuter Transportation District) tracks, is to invest in things like the arts movement, which is a way to keep interest and life in the town, and that's something that not highlighted enough by professionals like me." von Maur said.

Von Maur's presentation was also significant in that it omitted going into detail about several key elements of the city's north end. Von Maur omitted to offer a formal opinion about the city's choice about where to relocate its NICTD tracks; however he did feel the city should keep them in its north end.

"We felt, even if we didn't accomplish anything else, that if we could convince the city to keep the tracks in the north end, that would be an accomplishment," von Maur said. "...If the tracks were to move out of the north end... that would be like the final nail on the coffin."

That said, von Maur said he did not know the best way for the city to keep the tracks in the north end without cutting off access by some commuters to the beach.

Von Maur also did not address NIPSO's power plant in his presentation, even though the Andrews University plan urged the city to "seize every opportunity it can to ensure the removal of the cooling tower as soon as possible."

Von Maur said when the project was conducted, he was advised to focus his plan on "low-hanging fruit" --- or things the city could more easily accomplish than moving the power plant because the cost of such a venture might have distracted from other, more readily accomplished, improvements.

Overall, von Maur said the city should feel positive about the accomplishments it has managed in the past five years, which in light of the recession, he saw as remarkable.

"People are realizing there is potential here, and they are supporting a vision for its future," von Maur said.

(Session is approx. 90 minutes long)
Among the chief assets of a church are its children. Our approach to their spiritual maturation must be intentional and strategic. This session describes Barna's research regarding moral and spiritual development, educational strategy, and family-church partnerships, as well as steps churches and parents may take to buck the culture and raise spiritually mature young people.

Wednesday, Nov. 14, 7–8:30 p.m.

"Revolutionary Parenting"
(Session is approx. 80 minutes long)
This session describes some of the emphases that relate to how parents facilitate a lifelong devotion to serving God through one's gifts and abilities. Barna will discuss why ministry to children matters; what the Bible says about raising kids; common but ineffective parenting strategies; and the practices of effective parents. Based on research among young adults who have grown up to serve the Lord, and interviews with their parents.

Thursday, Nov. 15, 11:30 a.m.–12:15 p.m.
Pioneer Memorial Church
8655 University Blvd., Berrien Springs, MI
"Intentional Development of a Biblical Worldview"
University Forum
Less than one out of every five born again adults possess a biblical worldview—and it is the inability to think like Jesus that prevents people from acting like Jesus. Based on his research among individuals who have such a way of interpreting reality, and insights from the churches that are effectively assisting people in the development of a biblical worldview, Barna will describe America's worldviews and how churches can become more strategically involved in facilitating a biblical worldview.
