Photo of the Week: The Office of Campus Ministries and AUSA are sponsoring a Warmth Drive to benefit those in need at Emergency Shelter Services in Benton Harbor. This organization offers aid to battered women and children. Now through December 7, you are encouraged to drop off clean blankets, hats, scarves, coats, mittens, etc. to the collection box set up outside of the Office of Campus Ministries in the Campus Center. Additional collection boxes will be set up throughout campus. For more information, contact Chaplain Jose Bourget.

Ring in the Season with the Annual Welcome Christmas Concert

Friday, Nov. 30
7 p.m., Howard Performing Arts Center

"Savior of the Nations, Come" is the theme of this year's Welcome Christmas Choral Concert at 7 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 30, at the Howard Performing Arts Center. This annual concert features the Andrews University Singers and University Chorale, conducted by Stephen Zork. Louis M. DeShantz, a prolific and published composer from Berrien County, will be the evening's featured guest.

"The centerpiece of the garland of endearing carols we will perform is the resplendent Gloria from the Messe di Gloria by Giacomo Puccini," says Zork. The repertoire of carols will also include Christmas Dinner arranged by Stephen Zork, What Child is This? arranged by Donald McCullough, Wexford Carol arranged by Milburn Price, A Boy Was Born by Benjamin Britten, and the English carol Ding Dong! Merrily On High arranged by David Willcocks, a popular 16th century French tune. The Andrews University Singers will be performing two choral compositions by special guest Louis M. DeShantz, Winds Through the Olive Trees and Dear Lord and Father of Mankind.

This concert is free and open to the public. Seating is first-come, first served. An offering will be collected.
The Symphony Orchestra Christmas Concert is this Saturday!
Saturday, Dec. 1
8 p.m., Howard Performing Arts Center

The Andrews University Symphony Orchestra Christmas Concert on Saturday, December 1 at 8 p.m. in the Howard Performing Arts Center will feature Juan Carlos Rodriguez and Carrie VanDenburgh singing traditional and sacred Christmas songs. The Orchestra will also perform Christmas at the Movies (Miracle On 34th Street, The Polar Express and others), classics by Irvin Berlin and Corelli, and the famous Nutcracker Suite by Tchaikovsky. To end the program, the audience will join a group of local singers in popular Christmas favorites arranged by Joshua Goines. The program will be conducted by Claudio Gonzalez and graduate assistants Omar Carballo and Jose Meneses.

General admission is $5.00, student and senior admission is $3.00. Call the HPAC Box Office at 269-471-3560 for tickets.

Knit-apalooza is This Sunday at the Campus Center

Sunday December 3, 2012
12-5 p.m., Campus Center

This Sunday, December 2, from 12-5 p.m., the Office of Campus Ministries will have a Knittapalooza! This is an open house for students who knit or crochet to come and craft hats, scarves, mittens or any other yarned goods they like.

It will be held in the Campus Center outside the Student Life office. Students are requested to provide their own materials (yarn, needles, etc.). If you are a student who doesn't know how to knit or crochet but wishes to learn, there will be crash courses in knitting or crocheting available. Campus Ministries will provide hot beverage options.

The items that are created will be contributed to the Warmth Drive. This drive is collecting scarfs, gloves, hats, etc., to be donated to Emergency Shelter Services located in Benton Harbor. This shelter helps battered women and children.

Hope to see you there!

Nominations Sought for the 2013 Legacy of Freedom Awards

Each year during the Martin Luther King Celebration, Andrews University presents three Legacy of Freedom Awards. In previous years honored recipients have been selected from on-campus and off-campus, from the Adventist community, and within the broader Christian community, for the work they have done which exemplifies King's values of civility and equality.

If you would like to nominate an individual or an organization for a 2013 Legacy of Freedom of Award, please submit names, reason for nomination, and supporting documentation about the nominee, to Debbie Weithers, chair of MLK Celebration, rdw@andrews.edu, or Campus Center 0300, by Wednesday, December 12. Thank you for your assistance in identifying those engaged in passionate, consistent service to others, and who honor the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Students Support Operation Christmas Child

Students from several departments in the Andrews University School of Health Professions kicked off their Christmas season by giving to children around the world through Operation Christmas Child. Sharing the good news of God’s love with hurting boys and girls is the heart of Operation Christmas Child. Along with small presents and personal items for the children, each box contains literature on the gospels, an opportunity for the child to receive Bible lessons and a copy of The Greatest Journey in the child’s native language.

The Department of Physical Therapy became heavily involved when Esther Jones, Collection Center Coordinator for Operation Christmas Child and administrative assistant in the Department of Physical Therapy, and Sarah Hythecker, vice president of the Physical Therapy Class of 2014, set a dream in motion. Hosting a packing party in October and several collection dates between October and November, physical therapy students and staff were able to pack just under 100 boxes. This is the second year that PT has been involved in Operation Christmas Child. Wanting to get more people around campus excited about this ministry, Hythecker invited department chairs from the School of Health Professions to get their students and faculty involved.

Through Chapel announcements and Operation Christmas Child posters hung across campus, students were able to see that just a simple, small gesture could make a big difference. Participation meant packing a shoe box with small gifts, donating $7 online or including it in the box and then dropping it off on the collection days.

"As a physical therapy student my spare time is limited. What I like about Operation Christmas Child is that participation is quick and easy. All you have to do is purchase items to include in the box, make an online donation, and pack the box. Quick and easy!" says Hythecker. "I can only imagine the joy the little girl receiving my box will experience. She will find colorful hair accessories, a toothbrush and toothpaste, a teddy bear, a coloring book and crayons, a notebook and pencils, some candy, and most importantly she will learn about the love of Jesus Christ."

As students from the Department of Physical Therapy encouraged others to join in, many lent a helping hand. The Department of Speech-Language Pathology & Audiology hosted a packing party in October, resulting in approximately 50 shoeboxes. Students from the Departments of Nursing and Nutrition & Wellness packed boxes on their own time. In total, students from across the Andrews campus ended up donating 212 packed shoeboxes to Operation Christmas Child.

From Andrews, the boxes were taken to the Niles Adventist School, a regional collection site. Operation Christmas Child is no stranger to Niles Adventist School. The school has been involved for the past 16 years, and during that time more than 158,000 gift boxes have passed through the site. This year alone, 23,701 shoeboxes were collected at the Niles Adventist School collection site.

This year, with the expected shoe box collection of over 9 million boxes worldwide, OCC expects to pass a significant milestone—collecting and delivering shoe boxes to more than 100 million children since it was established in 1993 by Samaritan’s Purse, a Christian relief and evangelism organization.

Even though the main collection drive has come to a close, shoeboxes can be “packed” online by visiting www.samaritanspurse.org/giving/buildabox.

The Department of Speech-Language Pathology & Audiology hosted an Operation Christmas Child packing party on Sunday, Oct. 28. Student Kathy-Ann and Darah Regal, department chair, each participate by packing a box full of small toys, personal hygiene items, basic school supplies and a personal letter to the child who will receive the box. A Healthy U Programs Available to All Faculty and Staff

A Healthy U’s mission is to nurture the optimal development of a healthier mind, body, and soul for all Andrews University employees by promoting a lifestyle based on the eight principles of health. Current programs available to faculty and staff include:

SetUp
Participants track mileage for both walking and hiking for the week. Pedometers are provided for those who need them and can be worn all day during the work week (Monday to Friday). Points and prizes will be given out based on participation and progress. Winter term runs from Dec. 3 to March 29.

Weight Loss Challenge
The kick-off for this event will take place on Jan. 18 at 12:45 p.m. (the weigh-ins start at 12 p.m.). Each weigh-in is followed by a “Helpful Hints” seminar that provides information and discussion on a weight loss and maintenance topic. Each session lasts 10 weeks and costs $20 (half of which is reimbursed by Human Resources) and can be charged to the employee’s account. Participants can join at anytime within the first 4 weeks and must attend the final weigh-in (the week before the finale) in order to be eligible for a prize.

October Board Report

President Niels-Erik Andreasen presented his Board Briefing on Oct. 30 to faculty and staff in the Newbold Auditorium of Buller Hall.

Among the consent items presented to the Board was a diversity report prepared annually by the Office of Human Resources. The report measures the percentages of students, staff and faculty belonging to different ethnic groups. Andreasen noted, "There was a distinct uptick among the Asian student population across the University and also in the Hispanic population in our graduate programs."

Andreasen shared Provost Luxton's board report of several measurements of University performance. One report related to first-year to second-year student retention rates. The retention rate at Andrews is around 75%, the expected rate nationally is just above 70%. "That's based upon expectations and national norms for institutions that have admission policies like ours," said Andreasen. Luxton also informed the board of a focused visit from the North Central Accreditation Association's Higher Learning Commission in March 2013. They will take a closer look at Andrews' assessment of off-campus programs, board operations and roles of senior administration.

The Finance Committee reported on the University’s financial operations since the beginning of the fiscal year, May 1, 2012. To date, the University is performing $100,000 behind budget. “Since the University's overall operating budget is near $90 million, Larry Schalk, our chief financial officer, says we are pretty close to budget,” Andreasen explained.

A report from the Seminary Subcommittee shared the news of Denis Fortin's decision to return to full-time teaching after serving as dean of the Seminary for the last six years. Andreasen will be chairing the search committee for a new Seminary dean.

Andrew von Maur, associate professor of architecture, and students from the Campus Design Studio class in the School of Architecture, Art & Design, presented an update on the new Campus Master Plan to the board. "They are finding it to be quite a formidable task," said Andreasen. The new plan, which will set the path for the next 10 years of campus development, will be ready for presentation to the board in time for their March meeting.

The external audit report was presented to the audit committee of the Board, chaired by Dana Wales. He presented the report to the Board from the audit committee and it was a clean audit. Andreasen noted there were no corrections on the audit and appreciation was expressed to Larry Schalk and his team of accountants who prepared the reports.

A report from the President’s Council shared their affirmation of the health and wellness initiative at Andrews, which includes plans for a new health and wellness facility. Andreasen shared that three working groups have been formed and assigned tasks: a facility committee, chaired by Larry Schalk; a fundraising committee, chaired by Paul Stokstad and Chuck Randall; and a program committee, charged with enhancing the all-around health and wellness of Andrews University. The fundraising committee announced to President's Council that approximately $8-$9 million in support of a new health and wellness facility has been identified. This represents slightly less than half of the total anticipated cost.

Preliminary budget assumptions for next year were also presented. One major goal is to slow up tuition increases. Last year, it decreased from 5% to 4.5%; this year the goal is to have a 3.5% expected gain and still make budget. There is also a 3.5% increase in operations, which is a Board mandated increase.

The Andrews Dairy report indicated that while the price of milk is up, the cost of feed has also increased, making any profit margins slim. Financial Administration is monitoring milk prices and selling on the futures market.

Financial support from the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists is expected to increase by 2%. The North American Division's support, which is tied to wage increases, is expected to increase by 1.2%. The Board voted to authorize Andrews University to finalize the budget based on the expected increase, provided it does not exceed 4%. Tuition rates can then be established in early 2013, allowing Student Financial Services to inform prospective students about their available financial packages in advance of the March board meeting.

The report from the Governance Committee included the annual evaluation of the president of Andrews University. The Governance Committee also took a look at the way Andrews’ administration is structured. Andreasen shared charts showing the current reporting structure. The board will need to vote on the charts before Andrews can share them with the Higher Learning Commission during their upcoming visit.

The Academic Subcommittee chaired by Lisa Beardsley, reported authorization for the Department of Speech-Language Pathology & Audiology to introduce a master's degree as soon as possible.

There were also a number of faculty and staff appointments:

The 2012 issue of Envision has a cover story entitled “G.I. Joe Rivera” which is a profile of a student at Andrews University as well as several other profiles of students. “We feature some students who’ve tackled some pretty daunting challenges head-on,” said Debbie Michel, associate professor of communication and editor-in-chief of the magazine. The stories focus on “the power of God in their lives.”
It also features articles on many topics of special interest to students, including ways to stay energized, how to get a great internship, and how to erase student loan debt. It is the fourth annual issue of the magazine produced by a collaborative effort of Andrews students from multiple academic programs, including those from classes on Publication Production, Advanced Media Writing, Publication Design, and Studio Photography.

“It was a great experience and I learned a lot about how a magazine works,” says Tacyana Behrmann, one of the magazine’s student editors. After her first year working on the magazine, Tacyana feels that she learned something about the business of journalism. “It gave me a look into the magazine publishing world—what it takes and the work that goes into it,” she says, describing how she used the campus “grapevine” to find stories for the magazine. Tacyana was one of about 50 students who were involved in producing this issue.

“The students have once again outdone themselves providing top-notch writing, photography and design,” said Michel. “It’s a great portfolio piece for them to show what they can do, in settings as close to the real world as a college environment allows.” Students experience every step of the production of a magazine, including writing, editing, design and photography.

Envision is available for purchase for $2.50 at the Gazebo, the Andrews Bookstore, Apple Valley Market, Harding’s and the Adventist Book Center located near the campus in Berrien Springs, Michigan. Interested individuals outside the area can contact Debbie Michel at dmichel@andrews.edu.
