Photo of the Week: Each year the City of St Joseph holds a summer public art display, "All Aboard," now in its 10th year. Andrews University is participating for the second year in a row. This year's piece, named "Flying Straight to College," was unveiled Friday, May 17. Each original letter was hand painted by Nick Jones, general book buyer for the Andrews Bookstore. Campus Signage Policy

As part of the planning of the University entrance, the Arboretum Council and the Facilities Management Committee voted temporary signage would be prohibited at the University entrance and along J.N. Andrews Boulevard. This policy was deemed reasonable because of the increased visibility of the official entrance to the University and the way-finding signs installed throughout campus. Signs placed there will be removed and can be picked up at IMC. Banners may be placed at the terminus of J.N. Andrews Boulevard on the poles provided. Reservations/arrangements to install and store banners can be made with Plant Service. When providing guests with directions to campus, weather-resistant boxes to place flyers about your event have been installed for your convenience at the large campus map at the Welcome Globe.

Flag Lowered May 15 in honor of Peace Officers Memorial Day

There are federal and state regulations that guide the flying of the U.S. flag at half staff on our campus, including the recognition of Peace Officers Memorial Day on Wednesday, May 15.

Here’s an announcement from the Michigan State Governor’s Office regarding this order to fly the flag at half staff:

President Obama has ordered the flag of the United States lowered to half-staff on Wednesday, May 15 in honor of Peace Officers Memorial Day. This recognition day falls during Police Week, May 12-18, 2013.

“It is a great honor to join with fellow Americans in paying special tribute to the law enforcement officers who serve and protect on the local, state and federal levels,” said Gov. Rick Snyder. “On this day, and every day, we say ‘thank you’ to the courageous and vigilant men and women who sacrifice much to ensure our safety, and we remember those who made the ultimate sacrifice in carrying out their sworn duties.”

There are other occasions throughout the year where the U.S. flag is to be flown at half staff. For a complete overview of those guidelines for the United States and, in particular, the state of Michigan, please review: Michigan Governor Rick Snyder’s Website: Displaying the Flag at Half Staff.
Spring Commencement One of the Largest Ever

One of the largest graduating classes in recent history—484 undergraduate students and 436 graduate students—received their degrees in the spring 2013 Andrews University Commencement services held Sunday, May 5, 2013. Three services were held to accommodate the large number of graduates. Two honorary doctorates were also awarded, as well as two J.N. Andrews Medallions. For the complete story go to Recent News on the Andrews website.

It's Easy Being Green

Registration is underway for Renaissance Kids, an architecture day camp for kids ages 5–16, held at the Andrews University School of Architecture, Art & Design. There are five weeklong sessions and one two-weeklong session offered during the months of June and July.

Kids get to experience hands-on fun with design, drafting, building, sketching, watercolors and more. While exploring the discipline and lessons of architecture, Renaissance Kids provides a fun array of hands-on projects through which children learn about history and culture, design concepts, the architect’s tools, construction and materials, community and citizenship. The projects each week will follow the theme “It’s Easy Being Green.”

2nd Graders Visit Department of Nursing

On Tuesday, May 14, 2013 at 10:30 a.m., 18 second-graders from RMES marched single file into the Department of Nursing, following their teacher Jina Yoon. The class came to learn how our students become nurses. They spent time in the Skills Lab with Mary Ngugi, the lab coordinator, learning how our students get ready for their clinical experience. They also met with Gisele Kuhn, one of our faculty, and spent time with Bob (our SimMan, a high tech mannequin) to check his pulse and check breaths per minute.

They also learned that part of nursing was teaching about health prevention and promotion. In the end, some mentioned they wanted to become nurses when they were older.

The nursing department was delighted to be visited by the 2nd grade class from Ruth Murdoch Elementary School.

Spring Commencement 2013

Andrews University’s Spring Commencement, scheduled for the weekend of May 3–5, 2013, marks a significant scheduling change. In order to provide more seating for graduates’ families, Commencement has been split into three separate services by school/college. Previously, Commencement was separated into two services: one for undergraduate and the other for graduate degree conferral.

The new schedule is:
New Bible Commentary to be Published

A major new Bible study resource sponsored by the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and Andrews University is scheduled for release at the 2015 General Conference session in San Antonio, Texas, according to Andrews University President Niels-Erik Andreasen. The Andrews Bible Commentary, the church’s first concise, one-volume commentary, is intended as a coordinated resource with the Andrews Study Bible, released by Andrews University Press in June 2010. Debunking Myths of the Howard Center

Over the years, there have been many myths and misconceptions concerning the Howard Performing Arts Center and we want to set the record straight. What follows is information you should know about the Howard Center; some is true, some is false, and some is just plain silly. Read on and discover the truth!

Purse Theft Ends in Recovery of Items, Arrests

On Saturday, April 20, 2013, at approximately 4:18 p.m. a purse was stolen from inside of the Howard Performing Arts Center at Andrews University, which ultimately ended in the arrest of two subjects and the recovery of the stolen items.

During the afternoon hours, three men were driving a silver 2003 Volkswagen on the campus of Andrews University. Two are identified as Zachary Boomslitter of Berrien Springs (DOB: 5/1994) and Joshua Nunez of Eau Claire (DOB: 1/1994). The third subject is of Berrien Springs but is not presently charged. Around 4 p.m. Joshua Nunez and the third subject went into the Howard to use the restroom. The third subject returned to the car and waited with Boomslitter for Nunez to return. Boomslitter was the driver of the car. Nunez allegedly grabbed a purse from the auditorium and when the purse's owner saw him, she yelled and alerted bystanders that her purse had been taken. When Nunez came running from the building with the purse he was being pursued by two brave bystanders. Boomslitter decided to drive away, leaving Nunez to be captured by his pursuers. A bystander secured Nunez until Campus Safety arrived. They held him until police, who were pursuing the getaway vehicle and the other two subjects secured them and returned to the University.

Another witness saw the car driven by Boomslitter drive away and followed them off campus and into an area where they attempted to conceal themselves. Boomslitter lost control of the car while fleeing. The car was seen striking and knocking down several mailboxes and a road sign on Hillcrest Ave. The pursuit ended in the parking lot of a local nursery, where the Berrien Springs-Oronoko Township Police Department took custody. of the subjects. They all returned to the University so officers could investigate the incident.

The stolen purse was recovered. A stolen phone from a separate incident was also recovered. The car was searched and marijuana and drug paraphernalia were found and seized.

Zachary Boomsliter was lodged at the Berrien County Jail and charged at this time with reckless driving and possession of marijuana.

Joshua Nunez was lodged at the Berrien County Jail and charged at this time for larceny from a person, larceny from a building, and receiving and concealing stolen property $200><$1000.

The third subject was released at this time pending further investigation.

This is an ongoing investigation being conducted jointly by the BSOPD and the Andrews University Office of Campus Safety, and additional charges may be possible as the investigation continues.

"We wish to thank the brave citizens who involved themselves in this incident to help bring it to a successful resolution with the arrest of the perpetrators and the recovery of not only the property they saw being stolen, but ultimately other property that was later found to have been stolen," said the release from Chief Milt Agay of Berrien Springs Oronoko Township Police. "The BSOPD also wishes to acknowledge and thank the AU Office of Campus Safety for their assistance in this investigation, at the time of the incident and the continued follow up."

Celebrating 75 Years: James White Library

Wednesday, May 15
12:30 p.m., James White Library

The campus and community are invited to a birthday party for the James White Library on May 15, 12:30–1:30 p.m., in the Library’s main floor gallery area. Former directors of the Library and key retirees have been invited to participate in the celebration. All former employees, including former student workers, will be recognized. Merlin Burt, director of the Center for Adventist Research (CAR), will present a brief history of the library and the General Conference. Terry Robertson, Seminary librarian, will initiate a project of taking oral history accounts about the library from current and former staff, as part of the celebration, which he’s hoping will reveal further details about the library’s development and contribution to Andrews University through the years. Birthday cake will be served at the conclusion of the event.

Guests are also invited to view the new display in CAR that highlights 150 years of the General Conference.

The capstone event for the Library’s 75th anniversary will be an exhibit of the many and varied special collections of the Library, to be on display across campus in conjunction with Alumni Homecoming Weekend, Sept. 27–30, 2013. The exhibit will include artwork, mission artifacts and textiles, rare book collections, furniture of historical interest, and archived movie films of campus development.

Students Win Redesign Challenge

Two Andrews University students in the Department of Engineering & Computer Science won in their category of the 9th Annual Extreme Redesign 3D Printing Challenge. Andrew Roderick, a junior, and Brian Booth, also a junior, took the top prize in the College Engineering category. Both received a scholarship from Stratasys, the contest sponsor and manufacturer of 3D printers and production systems for prototyping and manufacturing. Read full story .

Each year, the graduating classes have grown, bringing with them more family members who wish to attend Commencement. According to Dalry Payne, graduation coordinator, after the spring 2012 service the administration decided to add one more commencement service to allow each graduate greater access to tickets for family and friends. Currently, each graduate will be allocated a minimum of six tickets. Depending upon the number of graduates who march, there may be more tickets available.

Online Master of Public Health Introduced
The Department of Public Health & Wellness, formerly known as the Department of Nutrition & Wellness, has received approval to offer a Master of Public Health (MPH) in Nutrition and Wellness. The Board of Trustees approved both the department name change and new degree during their
This new program is the first and only online MPH program in Nutrition and Wellness offered in the country. Offered at a 50% tuition discount, this new program will prepare health professionals for service in the church and community by building knowledge and skills necessary to enhance the health of human populations and promote a healthy lifestyle through personal and community efforts.

Emmanuel Rudatsikira, dean of the School of Health Professions, says the demand for public health professions in the workforce continues to be high across the United States and globally. Citing information from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), Rudatsikira says employment opportunities are expected to grow by 37% from 2010 to 2020, faster than the average for all occupations (14%).

"This prediction translates into about 23,200 new jobs for public health professionals over the next 10 years," says Rudatsikira. "According to the Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH), there are 62 accredited online public health programs in the United States. However, there are only two Master of Public Health programs in nutrition. Our program, with emphasis on vegetarian lifestyle and wellness, is unique and presently the only one of its kind."

Howard Performing Arts Center Committed to Being Community Resource

Did you know the Howard Performing Arts Center holds more than 200 events each year? Did you know that in addition to University ensembles, local elementary and secondary schools are able to utilize the Howard? Further, did you know the Howard Performing Arts Center is available for rental use for special events and weddings? In short, the Howard Performing Arts Center at Andrews University—designed for the performance of music and educational activities meeting fine arts standards—is committed to continuing to make the facility available to the community.

The Howard Performing Arts Center is a busy venue with 207 events last year alone. Erica Griessel, manager, says, "The needs of our Andrews University Department of Music ensembles are our top priority—choirs, operas, symphony orchestra, wind symphony, student recitals, faculty recitals and studio recitals."

Local schools, including Andrews Academy, Ruth Murdoch Elementary School, Village SDA Elementary, Berrien Springs Middle School and Berrien Springs High School, also utilize the concert hall throughout each season. The University also uses the facility to host speakers for University forums, an annual student talent show, several music festivals, and as a venue to host prospective students. In the summer months, the Howard Center is home to multi-day conferences. There is also steady interest in using the concert hall for recording purposes.

The John & Dede Howard 90.7 WAUS Studios are also housed at the Howard Performing Arts Center. In partnership with WAUS, a Second Sunday Concert Series is held on the second Sunday of each month at 4 p.m. Most concerts are free of charge and feature a classical artist.

The major donors for the building, John and Dede Howard, had a strong desire for the facility to serve not only Andrews University’s needs but also Berrien Springs and the greater Southwest Michigan community. This remains a strong priority for Andrews University administration.

"Much of our busy season is comprised of groups from the University and the community who rent the lobby or concert hall for their special event," continues Griessel. "Community groups, such as the Optimist Club of Berrien Springs, the Michigan State University 4-H Extension program, Southwest Michigan Symphony Orchestra’s Musicians in the Schools, and Lake Michigan Youth Orchestra use the Howard Center nearly annually."

The lobby of the Howard Center is also frequently rented for wedding receptions, dinner parties, banquets, business luncheons and senior photos.

Howard Performing Arts Center management plans an annual season with six to twelve concerts with visiting artists in the genres of classical, Christian contemporary, jazz, world and instrumental music.

Griessel says, "With our desire to be your home for an exceptional concert experience, we make an effort to represent both local artists as well as artists from all around the world. In the past we’ve featured Vienna Boys Choir, Sandi Patty, Canadian Brass, Brandon Heath, Dailey & Vincent, and many more."

If you’ve never been to the Howard Performing Arts Center, the current season still has several great concert experiences. On April 7, Christian contemporary artist Laura Story performs. The University Singers and Chorale perform in the annual Easter Choral Concert on Saturday, March 30, and the Wind Symphony has their spring concert on Sunday, April 21. As a finale to the season, the University Chorale and Symphony Orchestra are performing Mendelssohn's Elijah with Charles Reid, tenor, on Saturday, April 27, at 6:30 P.M.

For more information, visit us on the web at howard.andrews.edu or call the box office at 269-471-3560. Planning for the 10th season, 2013–2014, is currently underway. Management always accepts suggestions.
Commencement Class One of the Largest

One of the largest graduating classes in recent history—484 undergraduate students and 436 graduate students—received their degrees in the spring 2013 Andrews University Commencement services held Sunday, May 5, 2013.

For the first time, three services were held to accommodate the large number of graduates. 206 graduate and undergraduate candidates from the School of Health Professions and the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary marched in the 8:30 a.m. service, followed by 206 candidates from the College of Arts and Sciences at 11 a.m. A service for the 186 graduates and undergraduates marching from the Departments of Agriculture and Aviation, as well as the School of Architecture, Art & Design, the School of Business Administration, the School of Education, and the School of Distance Education was held at 2 p.m.

In addition, 24 graduate students from Vietnam, representing a larger class of graduates receiving their Master of Business Administration degrees in Vietnam, were in attendance to receive their degrees from Griggs University, owned by Andrews University and operated through its School of Distance Education.

Commencement events began at the Friday evening Consecration service with Ante Jeroncic, associate professor of theology, presenting "The Stories We Tell Ourselves..."

On Sabbath morning, G. Alexander Bryant, executive secretary of the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists and associate secretary of the General Conference, offered the Baccalaureate address, "Designed to Soar." Bryant challenged the graduates to excel beyond even their own expectations, likening them to eaglets learning to fly and preparing to "soar on."

Bert B. Beach, general secretary for the Seventh-day Adventist Council on Inter-Church Relations, was the featured speaker for the first and second commencement services. He is also the vice president for the International Commission for the Prevention of Alcoholism and Drug Dependency and the International Religious Liberty Association. His address was titled, "Hitch Your Wagon to a Star!" Beach was also presented with an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters during the 8:30 a.m. service.

Judith L. Storjfell, senior vice president and chief nursing officer for Loma Linda University Medical Center, gave an address titled "Imagine!" at the 2 p.m. Commencement service.

Professors Awarded the J.N. Andrews Medallion

Two professors were awarded a J.N. Andrews Medallion at the Andrews University commencement services on Sunday, May 5. Ranko Stefanovic, professor of New Testament at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, was awarded the medallion at the 8:30 a.m. Seminary and School of Health Professions service. L. Monique Pittman, professor of English and Director of the J.N. Andrews Honors Program, was awarded the medallion at the 11:30 a.m. College of Arts & Sciences service.

The J.N. Andrews Medallion is given in recognition of excellence in research, teaching, and service. Since it was first awarded in 1979, 94 medals have been awarded to professors and teachers at Andrews Academy.

Ranko Stefanovic earned a diploma in theology from the SDA Theological School in Belgrade, Yugoslavia in 1970. He went on to complete an administrative officer certificate in Zagreb, Croatia in 1988, and then a BA in theology and an MA in religion from the Adventist International Institute of Advanced Studies in 1989 and 1990, respectively. He completed a PhD in religion from Andrews University in 1996.

Stefanovic began his career in 1970 pastoring in the Yugoslav Seventh-day Adventist Union Conferences in Serbia, Bosnia, and Croatia. From 1996 to 1999, Stefanovic taught in the department of religion at Canadian University College, before joining the Seminary faculty in 1999. He maintains a heavy schedule of preaching, guest lecturing, conference presentations, and... scholarship, and has received numerous excellence in teaching awards. He is the author of two books, published by the Andrews University Press. Stefanovic's students describe him as an asset to the school and praise his spiritual influence in their lives.

Beloved and esteemed by colleagues and students alike, Pittman is well-known for her contributions to the field of literature and the enthusiasm she devotes to the professional development of her students. She earned a BA in English from Andrews University in 1991, an MA in English from the College of William and Mary in 1993, and a PhD in 2000 from Purdue University. She taught for three years at Pacific Union College before joining the Andrews faculty in 1999.

Pittman has written extensively about Shakespeare and popular media, and has been published in top journals in the field including Shakespeare Bulletin, Literature/Film Quarterly, and Early Modern Literary Studies. She published a monograph in 2011 entitled Authorizing Shakespeare on Film and Television: Gender, Class, and Ethnicity in Adaptation (Peter Lang, 2011). Pittman regularly attends conferences, most recently presenting at the 2013 Shakespeare Association of America conference and the 2013 Oxford University Round Table on Women and Education that took place at Harris Manchester College, Oxford University, in England.

In addition to teaching and publishing, Pittman finds time to mentor student research, guiding the scholarship of numerous graduate and undergraduate students who have presented their research at Honors Symposia and at various professional conferences. Her students have pursued or are currently pursuing advanced degrees at such institutions as Emerson College, Berkeley Theological Union, Western Michigan University, Ball State University, the University of Maryland, Northwestern University, Salisbury University, University of Florida, University of Toronto, Columbia University, and her alma mater, Purdue University.

Upon being presented with the medallion, Pittman received a standing ovation from her Honors students and alumni, many of whose research she has mentored and who have gone on to significantly influence the scholarly community. She is the youngest woman to receive the J.N. Andrews Medallion.

Honorary Degrees Awarded

Two individuals were also honored with honorary doctorates: Burt B. Beach and Faith Lou Esham.
Born in Switzerland to American missionary parents, Beach received his early education in Switzerland, and then completed his college work at Pacific Union College in 1948. He attended Stanford University and the University of California (Berkeley), then earned a PhD from the University of Paris, graduating magna cum laude in 1958.

Beach has been called a statesman and the Adventist church leader best known to other church world leaders. A panelist for 25 years on the American Religious Townhall weekly telecast, and its editorial director for the past 15 years, Beach has served as president of the International Commission for the Prevention of Alcoholism and Drug Dependency (ICPA) and as vice president of the International Religious Liberty Association (IRLA).

Before he retired from the General Conference in 2005, Beach held positions including president of the Adventist Italian Training College in Florence, chair of the History Department at Columbia Union College, director of the Education Department at the General Conference, and secretary of the Northern Europe-West Africa Division. Beach also served as director of Public Affairs and Religious Liberty, general secretary of the GC Council on Inter-Church Relations, and secretary general for the International Religious Liberty Association. For 32 years, Beach also served as the secretary of the Conference of Secretaries of Christian World Communions.

Beach was awarded a Doctor of Humane Letters at the 8:30 a.m. service.

Faith Lou Esham has enjoyed a career in opera for more than 30 years. She has performed in major opera houses on the concert stage in the United States and in Europe. Esham continues to be active in all aspects of singing and currently serves as an adjunct assistant professor at Westminster Choir College in New Jersey.

Born in Kentucky, Esham graduated from Columbia Union College, now Washington Adventist University, in 1970, and then enrolled at the Julliard School of Music where she completed a master’s degree, studying with noted teachers Adele Addison, Beverly Johnson, and Jennie Tourell.

She made her operatic debut in 1977 singing the role of Cherubino in The Marriage of Figaro at New York City Opera. She debuted three years later in Europe as Nedda in Nancy. In 1983 she played Micaela in a movie version of Carmen directed by Francesco Rosi with Placido Domingo playing Don Jose. In addition, Esham has appeared in major roles at the Vienna State Opera and at the Geneva Opera in 1984, leading to her Metropolitan Opera debut as Marzelline in Fidelio in December 1986. Esham has performed a number of roles in Mozart’s operas, including The Marriage of Figaro over 100 times.

Esham received the Concours International de Chant in Paris in 1981 and a Grammy award in 1984 as Principal Soloist, Best Opera recording for the year. Esham is also known for her proficiency in singing in the languages associated with opera, including French, a particularly difficult one for operatic singing. She actively promotes and has performed in the work of contemporary composers.

After performing "Bist Du bei Mir (If Thou Art With Me)" at the 11 a.m. service, Esham was awarded a Doctor of Fine Arts.
Registration is underway for Renaissance Kids, an architecture day camp for kids ages 5–16, held at the Andrews University School of Architecture, Art & Design. There are five weeklong sessions and one two-weeklong session offered during the months of June and July.

Kids get to experience hands-on fun with design, drafting, building, sketching, watercolors and more. While exploring the discipline and lessons of architecture, Renaissance Kids provides a fun array of hands-on projects through which children learn about history and culture, design concepts, the architect’s tools, construction and materials, community and citizenship. The projects each week will follow the theme “It’s Easy Being Green.”

Each year, students attending the two-week session (Session 7) have an opportunity to participate in a real-world building project. This year, students will build (pending final approval process) a series of new landscape elements around the Andrews University campus using environmentally friendly local stone and artwork created during earlier Renaissance Kids sessions. In past years, students have contributed to design ideas and actually built a paved sitting area in front of the Curious Kids Museum in St. Joseph; constructed an arbor outside of the Andrews University School of Architecture, Art & Design; and created decorative pieces for and installed a Whisper Dish permanent exhibit at the Curious Kids Discovery Zone in St. Joseph, Mich.

Session 1: $145
   June 10–14, 8:30 a.m.–12 p.m.
   For ages 7–9
Session 2: $145
   June 10–14, 1:45–5:15 p.m.
   For ages 10–12
Session 3: $145

Adventist Review: Walking the Newsbeat

By Debbie Michel
I sat in my office overlooking the Rockefeller Plaza ice rink and was overcome with a mixture of anxiety and relief. Anxiety, because I had made the decision to leave my job at NBC News without any other prospects in sight; relief, in that the daily grind chronicling the latest devastation had reached its end.

It was the culmination of 11 years chasing leads showcasing the worst of humanity: the Heaven’s Gate mass suicide; Washington, D.C., sniper shootings; JonBenêt Ramsey murder; September 11; and stories labeled “nature’s wrath,” such as Hurricane Katrina. Read full story.
Edith Davis, Adventist Educator, 99,
Passes to Her Rest
Mentored students at Andrews Academy, Middle East College (Posted May 10, 2013)

BY MARK A. KELLNER, News Editor

As a little girl growing up in Hyde Park, Vermont, Edith Davis attended a one-room schoolhouse. Years later, "Miss Davis," as she was known to legions of students, would be an educator, mentor, and counselor to hundreds of young Seventh-day Adventists in the U.S. and countless students in Beirut, Lebanon.

Edith Davis passed to her rest May 1, 2013, at the age of 99, at Lakeland Specialty Hospital in Berrien Center, Michigan, not far from Andrews Academy, where she spent many years of service, and the Village Seventh-day Adventist Church in Berrien Springs, where she had been a member for 33 years and was one of the congregation's first two women elders.

Davis received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1935 at Atlantic Union College in South Lancaster, Massachusetts, with majored in English, Bible, and education. In 1950 she earned her Master's degree from Pacific Union College in Angwin, California, with a major in education and a minor in English. In 1965, she received a master's degree from Andrews University, reversing the order of her PUC studies. She also did postgraduate work at Andrews to earn her teaching certification.

From 1944 until 1960, Davis served as a Seventh-day Adventist missionary in Beirut, Lebanon, teaching at church–owned Middle East College. There, she served as Dean of Women, Registrar, Chairman of the Education Department, Chairman of the Language Department, and Principal of the Secondary School.

Earlier, Davis worked in an eight-grade elementary school in Gardner, Maine, a Junior Academy in Portland, Maine, and as a Bible Instructor in the Northern New England Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Several cousins survive Davis. A memorial service is expected to be held at the Village...
Church, with interment in Hyde Park, Vermont.

Wilfrida Ruiz, 91, Died May 19

Wilfrida Ruiz, 91, died at her home in Berrien Springs on Sunday, May 19, 2013. She was the mother of Willyta Ruiz-Wamack, housing coordinator for University Towers, and Luz Ruiz, administrative assistant for the School of Architecture, Art & Design.

Wilfrida dedicated her life as an Adventist educator for 31 years in her native country of Peru. She was preceded in death by her husband Esteban Clodomiro Ruiz who died in 1975. She retired in 1981 and decided to move to the U.S. to join her two daughters in Texas. In 1989 she moved to Berrien Springs, following Willyta and Douglas Wamack who were here to pursue their studies. While at AU, she was able to fulfill her longtime dream that was postponed when she had to take care of her husband after he became ill. In 1995, at age 73, she received her master’s degree in Religious Education. Wilfrida slept in Jesus at her home with both daughters at her bedside. She will be surely missed.

Funeral services will be held on Friday, May 24, at Pioneer Memorial Church. There will be a visitation from 12-1 p.m., with a funeral service at 1 p.m. Burial in Rose Hill Cemetery will follow. Online messages for the family may be left at www.allredfuneralhome.com. The family requests that memorial donations be made to the Architecture Missions Group for Palpa School, c/o School of Architecture, Art & Design.

Please remember Willyta, Luz and their entire family in your thoughts and prayers at this difficult time.

Richard Schwarz, 87, Died May 16

Richard Schwarz, prominent Seventh-day Adventist historian, teacher and administrator, passed away last Thursday, May 16, in Hawaii. Schwarz taught at EMC and later Andrews University much of his career, specializing in the history of the Adventist Church. His book, Light Bearers to the Remnant, was published in 1980. He also served in administrative posts late in his career including a brief time as acting president of Andrews University in the early 1980s.

The family is planning a memorial service at Pioneer Memorial Church on Sabbath, July 27, at 4 p.m. Those who wish to may send cards or notes to his wife, Joyce F. Schwarz, 44-115 Nanamoana St, Kaneohe HI 96744.

Please remember the family during this time of sorrow.

Steven P. Vitrano, Former Professor Dies on May 4

Steven P. Vitrano, emeritus professor of preaching, worship and evangelism, died on May 4, 2013, in Auburn, Calif. Vitrano served Andrews University for 40 years, from 1958-1998, as a professor of religion and philosophy, serving both in the religion department as well as the Seminary. Local services include a visitation from 4-6 p.m. on Saturday, June 8, at Allred Funeral Home in Berrien Springs, and a graveside service at 10 a.m. on Sunday, June 9, at Rose Hill Cemetery in Berrien Springs. Online messages may be left for his family at www.allredfuneralhome.com.

Buchanan Art Center Gallery Public Reception

4 Dimensional Journeys–Cone 5 Stoneware by Susan Sutherland Barnes and Mixed Media by Christopher Beikmann

Buchanan Art Center
117 West Front St, Buchanan MI
Friday, May 24
6:30-8:30 p.m.

This exhibit opens on Wednesday, May 22, and runs through Saturday, July 6, 2013.

About Susan Sutherland Barnes: Born and raised in Niles, Mich., printmaker, fiber-artist and ceramist, Susan Sutherland Barnes graduated with a BFA from Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame, Ind. From 1982-1990 Sutherland Barnes worked at Fernwood Botanical Garden and Nature Preserve in Buchanan, Mich., as the Arts and Crafts Coordinator, where she planned and implemented the arts education program and taught classes for adults and children. In 1990 her husband Richard [Rick] Barnes was transferred by AT&T to Martinsburg, W.Va., where Susan continued to work in art education and administration, creating studio art part-time. In the mid-90s, another job transfer for Rick resulted in a move to the Council Bluffs, Iowa/ Omaha, Neb. area where, in 1997, Susan established WindRiver Designs, her first clay and fibers studio, and began to pursue her art full-time. She also became active in area galleries including the Artists' Cooperative Gallery, the longest running cooperative gallery in Nebraska. There, Susan was president of the Board of Directors and helped design and promote arts outreach programs for area youth. In 2012, a desire to be closer to family prompted a move back to Michigan, where Susan presently maintains a full-time clay and fibers studio in Paw Paw, Mich.

With regard to this show, Sutherland Barnes states: “I've recently rediscovered working in the garden and it is, in some ways, like finding one's creative voice on the long way home. There is a necessary process and each step along the way needs the step that came before and the one that will be coming after. As in my life and as an artist, there is a common rhythm in those steps that calms, connects and reminds me. This is where my voice began. Creative process is a mode of travel and the world outdoors is an open road.”

About Christopher Beikmann: A former, standout student of Susan Sutherland Barnes at Fernwood; Niles native Christopher Beikmann graduated with a BBA in advertising and minor in art from Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo in 1999. He then worked for global ad agencies JWT and Y&R managing digital media campaigns for Ford Motor Company in both Detroit and Denver from 2000 through 2012. Working in both digital art and mixed media; Beikmann often blends sublimation and giclee reproduction techniques with hand-painting, embroidery and other textures. His digital artwork has been licensed internationally for use on device skins, cards and gifts as well as for TV and print. His complex and colorful works have also been shown in numerous galleries in the Santa Fe Arts district of Denver, Colo. In 2012, Beikmann founded Da Vinci Case, a device case accessory company focused on artisan cases for smart phones and mobile devices. His artisan cases have been sold all over the world and were recently featured in Vogue magazine. He currently resides in Aurora, Colo.

The Buchanan Art Center features three galleries with rotating exhibits of regional artists’ works, a program of educational art classes for all ages, and a gift shop offering works of local artists. Current hours are Monday–Thursday, 10 a.m.–6 p.m., Friday 10 a.m.–5 p.m., and Saturday 10 a.m.–4 p.m. More information, including a schedule of classes, can be obtained at the Center by calling 269-697-4005, or by visiting their

Female Roommate Needed

Looking for someone to share an apartment in July or August for an entire school year. Either an undergraduate senior or graduate student.

I'd prefer the apartment:

- to be within walking distance to Andrews, either AU apartments, George Street apartments, or others
- has one bedroom that you wouldn't mind sharing or a two-bedroom
- have laundry facilities on-site or nearby

I'll be starting my master's program in Special Education. I'm 23 years old, easy to get along with and do not mind having friends over. I work at Andrews Academy. Anything else you'd like to know about me, please contact me at umanam@andrews.edu.

Rooms for Rent

Individual Rooms for Rent (roommate option is allowed to defray cost). ENTIRE HOUSE NOT FOR RENT.

I will be starting the DPT program at Andrews University in the fall and will be staying at this house. Looking for other students who are interested in renting a room.

Refer to the other ad titled "Rooms For Rent in Newly Remodeled Home" for pictures.

Four bedrooms available for rent in this beautiful home located in Niles, Mich. (The bedrooms are approximately 14’x11”) with two full baths and one half bath. The house will be completely furnished with the exception of the bedrooms. There will be silverware, dishes, glasses and appliances (washer and dryer, microwave, stove, fridge and freezer, and dishwasher) all available for those renting a room.

New carpets in every room and the house has been repainted and remodeled with new flooring (tile and wood). If you are not familiar with the Niles area, it is a bigger city than Berrien Springs, offering a wide variety of places to eat and shop, including a nearby Goodwill, Walgreens, Walmart, Big Lots, fresh meat and produce market, etc. all within a mile or two from the house. There are also lots of lakes/rivers nearby if you enjoy the outdoors.

We can talk about the cost if you are interested. Feel free to email/call/text if you have any questions at 586-871-4805.

Student Movement Staff Wanted
The Student Movement is looking for staff for the 2013-2014 school year! We are currently working to build a team of talented, committed students who will completely revolutionize student journalism on the Andrews University campus. All positions will require meeting attendance, innovative thinking, and the willingness to work as a team.

Previous experience is preferred, but not required. All you must have is a passion for truth and storytelling – and good writing skills.

We are currently hiring for the following positions:

News Editor
In charge of finding and assigning stories about campus news – big events, policy changes, campus disturbances, etc.

Ideas Editor
This section deals with opinions, perspectives, and controversial topics. This editor must be devoted to balance, fairness, and quality in writing – and they’ll need to find writers can discuss issues intelligently every week.

Sports Editor
This person needs to be excited about AU Sports! The section includes Cardinal news, Intramurals, and other campus athletics.

People Editor
Andrews students are interesting and diverse. This section will tell their spotlight them and the interesting things they’re doing – whether that’s climbing a mountain, backpacking through Indonesia, or learning how to play the bagpipes. This editor must constantly look for fascinating people and tell their stories.

Arts & Entertainment Editor
This section spotlights local artists, reviews campus arts events, and includes reviews and musings on various topics related to entertainment and the arts.

Assistant Layout Editor
Content doesn’t matter if it’s unreadable. This graphic designer will assist the Layout Editor in designing the newspaper every week.

Multimedia Manager
Responsible for website content creation and maintenance. May also use Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, and other social media to promote the SM.

Business Manager
In charge of managing the budget and, perhaps the most important task, making sure everyone gets paid!

Distribution Manager
This person gets the paper from hot off the presses and into the hands of students. This job requires a lot of legwork – and we’ll be trying to increase circulation this year.

If you are interested, please send a brief statement of purpose, resume, and (where applicable) 2-3 writing samples to melodieroschman@yahoo.ca.

Board of Directors Needed for NAMI
The local chapter of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) is looking for up to five interested persons for our Board of Directors.

These persons must be willing to attend one meeting per month and participate in any applicable projects or events the group might have. This is not a paid position, and the qualified candidate must be willing to pay the $35 per year membership fee to become a member of NAMI. If the applicants are approved by the board, these board positions will be voted in by the membership in September.

We could really use your help. If you are interested in becoming a board member of NAMI, please contact Debbie Wise at 269-830-5625.

Grant Writer Needed for NAMI
The local chapter of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) is looking for a grant writer to find at least $20,000 of funding per year to support our mental health education classes, two support groups, and an office space with miscellaneous expenses.

For more information about our group or this opportunity, please contact Debbie Wise at 269-830-5625. This is not a paid position, and the qualified candidate must be available to attend all fundraising meetings for the year.

Our local chapter covers Berrien, Van Buren and Cass counties, but we have had such limited funding that we have not had a presence in all three counties.

We could really use your help.
