Music & Worship Conference
You are invited to attend the tenth annual Andrews University Music and Worship Conference, January 9-11, 2014. Hosted across the University’s campus, this ministry of the Center for Youth Evangelism is also sponsored by Andrews University’s Department of Christian Ministry and Department of Music, and the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists. The event will provide biblically-rooted training for church musicians, pastors, worship leaders, and anyone involved in worship ministry.

A complete list of presenters, workshops, and worship experiences will be available at: www.cye.org/mwc. Don’t miss this exciting opportunity to learn, be inspired, and earn academic credit.

Students interested in attending the Conference for credit simply need to register for one of the courses listed above. In addition to tuition, a $95 registration fee for the Conference will be charged to your account (No refunds will be given for this event. Please substitute someone to attend in your place if you find you will not be able to attend).

Non-credit registration is available at www.cye.org/mwc up until the start of the event. For more information email worshipconference@andrews.edu or visit www.cye.org/mwc.

Academic Credit Available:
- MUED438 Workshop: AU Music & Worship Conference
- MUED648 Workshop: AU Music & Worship Conference
- GSEM648 Workshop: Word & Music
- CHMN523 Worship: Word & Music

Mission Trip and Class
MISSION TRIP TO THE MIDDLE EAST - SPRING BREAK - March 2014
There will be a spring break mission trip to Beirut, Lebanon to conduct campus ministry and friendship evangelism. The tour is sponsored by the Department of Religion and includes gen ed religion classes taught by Pastor Russell. Students must register for the 4 credits of tour classes and there is a $400 tour fee. Enjoy sharing your faith? Want to explore God's call to missions? Want to learn about another culture? If you’ve been thinking about missions, this class might be for you. Contact Glenn Russell (glenn@andrews.edu) as space is limited - but we do need a few more male students on the team!

Winter Clothing
Dear Campus and Community friends:

We are writing to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for your generous donation of winter clothings. We have received many donations and many of these items have already been given to the neediest of international students. If you have not had the opportunity to donate as of yet, you still have the opportunity to do so. We will gladly accept additional donations of these items. We have had specific requests for both men and women boots and shoes.

Our office is located in the Campus center building within the Department of Student life. Once again, we thank you for your generosity to help someone in need.

Biology Poster Presentations

Who & What: Poster presentations from undergraduates taking BIOL464, Systems Physiology: As a capstone lab experience, the Systems Physiology students will do a mini-poster session to report on experiments that they have designed and performed during the semester. I've invited Gary Burdick and Keith Mattingly to attend, and have sent out an invitation to STEM faculty as well.

When: 2 poster sessions on Wednesday, Dec 4, 9:30-10:20 am and 2:00-3:00 pm (Half of the students will present at each session)

Where: We will display the posters in the Biology commons.

Faculty Technology Showcase

Faculty Technology Showcase: These monthly showcases are presented by faculty with Q&A sessions. The next Faculty Technology Showcase is scheduled for Wednesday, November 20, from 12:30-1:30pm. Discuss challenges and responses to the popular use of mobile devices. What are the effects on our human interactions? At home? In the workplace? In the classroom? What are some appropriate responses? How can we guide our students to more balanced living with technology?

Lunch is provided and RSVP is required.

Please click here for more information and to RSVP.

Bikes for Cuba

BIKES FOR CUBA
The Master of Divinity Program at Andrews University needs your help! Participating in a mission opportunity in Havana, Cuba this March, we are raising funds to provide Bible workers and pastors with 100 bicycles that will aid in their ministry. Equipping a pastor/bible worker with a bicycle does not only mean affordable transportation, but means speeding up the soul winning process as well.

Make a contribution today. Your donation of only $150 will buy a bicycle for a Bible worker or pastor in Cuba. For more information, contact the MDiv office at mdiv@andrews.edu or 269.471.3538 or click here.

Live United!

With less a few days to go, Andrews employees are pushing toward the finish line! However it's not just about reaching our campus goals, but about the people who will be served because of the support we help provide. If you haven't done so already, be sure to read about the wonderful services related to education, income, health and basic needs that United Way can provide to our community when we all do our part. And you may discover a service that would be helpful to someone you know! Visit their website. Then pull that form out of the pile on your desk, fill it out and send it back to the President's Office at 0670. Thank you for Living United!

AICER Symposium - College Accreditation

Andrews International Center for Educational Research (AICER) invites students and faculty to attend a symposium on college accreditation on Thursday November 14, at 5:30 p.m.

Title: What Accreditation Means and What Accreditors Are Looking for

Presenter: Dr. James Jeffrey, Dean of the School of Education, Andrews University

The School of Education (SED) offers the most accredited programs of any school or college at Andrews University. Why does the SED hold so many accreditations? Because earning a degree is a significant achievement and an important investment for our students and their futures. Since so much of their future success depends on their educational foundation, the quality of the education a student receives, makes a huge difference.

Earning a degree from a highly accredited program, verifies that the quality of the educational experience students have received meets the standards of the profession. It also increases and enhances employment opportunities and permits entry to a profession through licensure, registration, and certification.

The SED holds accreditation from NCATE, NASP, CACREP, the State of Michigan, and the NAD Office of Education. We are currently pursuing APA (American Psychological Association) accreditation for our PhD program in Counseling Psychology. Accreditation informs the public that the SED operates at the highest levels of educational quality and integrity.

Dr. Jim Jeffery, Dean, has led the SED through three highly successful NCATE accreditation visits. As well, he is one of very few Adventist educators who are NCATE Board of Examiner members. In this capacity, he has been a member of visiting teams for the past 5 year and has visited 3 Catholic universities, an historically black Baptist college, the Teacher’s College at Columbia University and several other private denominational colleges across the US.

Because of his experiences, Dr. Jeffrey is in a unique position to explain why accreditation is so important - and what accreditors look for when they arrive on a campus.

Face-to-face participants meet in Bell Hall 013.

Film Class Attends Film Festival
As part of his "Directing the Documentary" class at Andrews University, Paul Kim, associate professor of Documentary Film, debuted a program to take his students to the Toronto International Film Festival this past summer and is considering opening up this opportunity to the entire Documentary Film program.

The Toronto International Film Festival is one of the two most prominent film festivals in the world, the other being the Cannes Film Festival in France. Because of worldwide exposure of the Toronto festival, Kim feels that this opportunity is important to get his students involved with film in a big urban area.

Music Professor Performs in Europe
New to the Andrews University faculty, Charles Reid, classical performer of opera and oratorio, has already demonstrated his immense talent by currently singing Don José in Georges Bizet's opera "Carmen" at Theaterhagen in Hagen, Germany. Commuting between performances and the Andrews campus, Reid serves as associate professor and artist-in-residence as well as coordinator of vocal studies for the Department of Music. His roles include...
Biology Alumnus Receives Award

Lui, a 1968 biology graduate of Andrews University, was recognized for his leadership in the successful promotion of private pathology practices and his ongoing contributions to organized pathology at the local, state and national levels.

Teacher Prep Program Rated Excellent

The Andrews University Teacher Preparation Program has once again been declared an exemplary program by the State of Michigan. With a score of 68/70, the program has ranked Exemplary for the last seven years. This ranking is a result of evaluation based on a set of criteria from the Michigan Department of Education for the 2011-2012 school year.

Film Grad Makes Personal Documentary

At the age of 10, Pieter Damsteegt, a 2013 graduate of documentary film and photography at Andrews University, was diagnosed with Ankylosing Spondylitis, a long-term type of arthritis affecting the bones and joints at the base of the spine and their adjoining joints like hips, neck and shoulders. The joints become swollen and inflamed and, over time, the affected bones join together. A few years later he found out he also had Crohn’s Disease.

“I live a pretty exciting life,” he says with a smile.

Depression Awareness Day

Oct. 10, 2013, the Andrews University Psychology Club, PSI CHI, and the Andrews University Counseling & Testing Center held an event for National Depression Screening Day and Mental Health Awareness Week. The purpose of the event was to raise awareness about depression on campus, to build a community of open conversations that allows students to know that there is help available and to create a support system in which students are encouraged and lifted up in their struggles.
As part of his "Directing the Documentary" class at Andrews University, Paul Kim, associate professor of Documentary Film, debuted a program to take his students to the Toronto International Film Festival this past summer and is considering opening up this opportunity to the entire Documentary Film program.

The Toronto International Film Festival is one of the two most prominent film festivals in the world, the other being the Cannes Film Festival in France. Because of worldwide exposure of the Toronto festival, Kim feels that this opportunity is important to get his students involved with film in a big urban area.

"One challenge I see with film today is that so much of what we are familiar with and so much of what we consume is mainstream," says Kim. "Mainstream is not that diverse. When you go to a festival like the Toronto International Film Festival you get a chance to see films that break the norms of what we typically watch on a weekly or monthly basis."

The films presented in Toronto usually have plot lines that break social standards that the students may not be familiar with. It can help them develop different perspectives and consider in which direction they want their careers to go.

Running around Toronto in order to see as much as possible, Kim took his students to a dozen films over the course of five days. The filmmakers and some of the actors attended the showings and were taking questions from the audience to discuss their work.

"It's about watching and discussing films in a condensed form," Kim continues. "We're trying to raise awareness about the culture of film. To think critically about film and consume it as part of a community rather than consuming film alone in your dorm room behind a computer purely for escapist mechanisms. That's hard to do but important."

There were a total of seven students who ventured to Toronto with Kim and those students will be using what they saw and discussing it throughout the semester during class. Kim feels as though this experience was important to expose the students to something bigger and broader than anything they have seen before.

"It was intense. This was new for me, too, and it was big," says Kim.

The Documentary Film program at Andrews University focuses specifically on non-fiction which sets it apart from other schools with film programs. Documentaries tend to embrace the social component giving filmmakers a sense of civic responsibility as they approach their work. The students are encouraged to get their work out into the community and engage people by having conversations that would not otherwise take place.

"The power of cinema is considering life and situations in ways that people wouldn't have otherwise," Kim states.

Kim encourages his students to get out of their comfort zone. They cannot get proper material without taking to people, going to people's houses, talking on the phone and establishing those relationships between the filmmaker and the subject of the film that are absolutely essential. Differing from fictitious films, documentary films require you to be present and to talk to real people as well as engaging the community and enacting social change.

"You have to build the relationship and in that process you change and you become a part of what's happening. You don't just work behind the camera on a blank piece of paper, you have to engage."

BERRIEN SPRINGS - When Typhoon Haiyan hit the Philippines last Friday, it hit pretty close to home for a group of Andrews University students.

Members of the Andrews Filipino International Association are working hard this week to raise funds for disaster relief while waiting for word about loved ones.

Students are taking time for a prayer service at 7:30-8:30 p.m. tonight in the seminary chapel.

"We will be praying for the people there, and it will be a time to reflect and comfort each other," AFIA President James Magbanua said.

The typhoon ripped through the central part of the country, and an estimated 10,000 people or more are believed to have died.

Magbanua and other AFIA members have been raising funds during the lunch and dinner hours at the Andrews Campus Center and plan to do other fundraisers in coming weeks. This week, students are accepting cash donations and are selling AFIA beanies and sweatshirts.

Magbanua said the AFIA student group is among the largest on campus with 250 members, about 80 or 90 of whom are actually Filipino. He said many of the Filipino students grew up in this country but have family members in the Philippines.

He said his family lives in a part of the Philippines not as hard hit by the typhoon. Other students helping with the fundraising Wednesday have relatives in the Philippines and have heard from most of them.

Rolane Diya said her parents are back in the Philippines temporarily, having gone last week to visit family.

"They're safe and our relatives are safe, they just got rain where they are," she said.

Felicia Brennan said her relatives back in the Philippines are all OK.

"The typhoon took off the roof of the house of one of my family members, and the home of another relative was flooded, but they're OK," she said.

Students said another one of their members hasn't been able to reach her family. She has seen their names on a list of survivors, but hasn't been able to talk to them, they said.

Club sponsor Fares Magesa said one of the other club sponsors, Arlene Saliba, is still trying to get word about her family.

"She's heard from one cousin but still hasn't heard about another cousin who is still missing," he said.

"Your heart goes out to all the people over there. The images you see are really hard and are ones like..."
9-11 that you'll remember."

The students expect to have fundraisers into the future as the nation works to rebuild and recover.

"The biggest concern now over there is the lack of food and water for those who have survived," Diya said. "There's no food or water and there's a lot of disease."

The funds are going to Adventist Development Relief Agency and to the General Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists in the Philippines. People interested in donating can mail checks to Andrews Filipino International Association, Andrews University, P.O. Box 312, Berrien Springs MI 49103 and put "Philippine Flood & Earthquake Victims" in the memo.

Online, people can visit the www.andrews.edu/go/afia website, which will take people to links where they can donate. People can also go to the www.adra.org website to donate to that organization.

Magesa said the greater community is involved in relief efforts, including the Michiana Fil-Am Seventh-day Adventist Church in Berrien Springs. That church took up an offering last Saturday and will also probably do other fundraisers. He said the two largest Filipino communities in the area are in Berrien Springs and St. Joseph, where many attend the St. Joseph Catholic Church.
Residents learning fate of family members in Philippines

BERRIEN COUNTY, Mich. -- The Red Cross is estimating that nearly 10,000 people in the Philippines are dead after Typhoon Haiyan destroyed most of Tacloban City. Local residents have been trying to get in touch with relatives to see if they are okay.

After three long days, Eia Racasa finally heard from her family in Tacloban City.

Racasa says waiting to hear whether her family survived has been terrifying.

She says her friends at Andrews University have helped her cope.

"Talking in class and letting them know my family made it through, it brought up a lot of emotion," said Racasa.

Professor Arleen Saliba found out a cousin is still missing.

"There's a bridge between the two islands so he took his motorcycle and he couldn't get through because the roads were washed out and there were landslides and trees in the way," said Saliba.

Andrews University's Filipino International Association is organizing a fundraiser for victims in the Philippines.

"They will need medical supplies because a lot of people have been hurt and I think a lot of it will go to food and some temporary shelter for these folks," said Saliba.

The Filipino International Association will be holding fundraisers throughout the week and will be accepting donations online. Click here for more information.

BERRIEN SPRINGS - Changing M-139 through Berrien Springs and Oronoko Township can make a big difference when it comes to encouraging private development in the corridor, researchers concluded.

Andrews University professor Andrew Von Maur reported results of the M-139 corridor study Wednesday.

"The road is the public realm and zoning is the private realm," Von Maur said in a forum. "Both have to work together."

Von Maur and Andrews graduate architecture students have spent much of the fall meeting with property owners in the corridor and collecting their ideas. They've used the ideas to draft plans on what changes can be made physically and in zoning.

The plans will be turned over to the Williams & Works planning firm. Williams & Works will work with the village and township to see how zoning changes can accommodate the development expected with the extension of water and sewer lines.

Von Maur and the students studied eight sections of M-139 from the St. Joseph River bridge north to the township's boundary at Linco Road.

Some of the ideas revealed at Wednesday night's meeting at the public safety building on Snow Road included building highway medians in the village and township. The students proposed a median and possible marker at Ferry Street.

"Having a median with trees and maybe a marker there slows down traffic and has place-making potential to welcome people to the village," he said.

Von Maur reminded people of the January 2010 accident that seriously injured Sheryl Vance as she tried to cross Ferry at Main on a snowy wintry morning. He said putting a median on Ferry and Cass Street would slow down traffic and get people to pay more attention to the businesses there.

He cited statistics showing that fatalities and severe injuries can occur when pedestrians are hit by vehicles going 36 miles per hour or more.

He said the need to slow down traffic downtown was brought home to him when he was walking his son to school across Cass Street and almost got hit.

The students proposed a median on Cass between Mars and Union and even on the stretch of the highway that goes past the fairgrounds and Apple Valley Market. "Rebuilding the roads so that they are slower and more pedestrian friendly could have a huge impact on private investment," he said. "Slower traffic also helps people see the businesses more."
The Michigan Department of Transportation owns the road.

Von Maur said paint or different material to make the road look narrower could be a good idea.

He said retailers often think installing medians hurt sales, but studies show the opposite.

He said Main Street is busier than Grape Road in Mishawaka, though it has medians.

The final meeting for the Andrews phase of the corridor study comes Dec. 11 when Von Maur will meet with village and township officials in a public meeting at the public safety building at 7 p.m.

Welcome and Format

- Community forum
- Goals
  - Discuss potential project
  - Discuss project potential
  - Dialogue
- We anticipate this to last +/- 90 mins
- Please hold questions until the end of the presentation. Pencil and paper available for written questions.
What this is and is NOT

- Tonight is a chance for direct dialogue about the future of our community.
- It is a chance to discuss the community’s needs and desires.
- It is not a sales pitch from your elected leaders.
- And it is not a “here’s what we’re going to do” speech. We are here to listen.
- It is a “HOW CAN WE WORK TOGETHER” SESSION!
What does the potential project look like?

Blue line = Water
Red line = Sewer
What the potential project DOES NOT look like
What the potential project DOES NOT look like

What does the potential project look like?

Blue line = Water
Red line = Sewer
How will we pay for it?

- Total cost estimated at $4.8 million
- Grants and other funding assistance
  - Federal sources
  - State sources
  - County sources
  - Local sources
    - Developers, interested parties
- If we cannot pay 100% of construction cost, maybe a small monthly surcharge for new users.
How will we NOT pay for it?

- No millage
- No tax increase
- No assessment district
- No front footage charge
- No additional side streets

No one wants to feel like they are paying for someone else’s benefit.
What else is different than before?

- The local municipalities are not going to make you connect.
- Village is offering a 5-year, no-interest payment plan IF you choose to connect.
- If you do not connect, and you live within 200 feet of the line, and your private system fails, we would like you to connect and you will be charged in full at that time.
- Connection is optional.

PUBLIC HEALTH CODE (EXCERPT)
Act 368 of 1978

333.12753 Structures in which sanitary sewage originates to be connected to public sanitary sewer; approval; time.

Sec. 12753.

(1) Structures in which sanitary sewage originates lying within the limits of a city, village, or township shall be connected to an available public sanitary sewer in the city, village, or township if required by the city, village, or township.

(2) Structures in which sanitary sewage originates lying outside the limits of the city, village, or township in which the available public sanitary sewer lies shall be connected to the available public sanitary sewer after the approval of both the city, village, or township in which the structure and the public sanitary sewer system lies and if required by the city, village, or township in which the sewage originates.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4), the connection provided for in subsections (1) and (2) shall be completed promptly but not later than 18 months after the date of occurrence of the last of the following events or before the city, village, or township in which the sewage originates requires the connection:

(a) Publication of a notice by the governmental entity which operates the public sanitary sewer system of availability of the public sanitary sewer system in a newspaper of general circulation in the city, village, or township in which the structure is located.

(b) Modification of a structure so as to become a structure in which sanitary sewage originates.

(4) A city, village, or township may enact ordinances, or a county or district board of health, may adopt regulations to require completion of the connection within a shorter period of time for reasons of public health.

Popular Name: Act 368

© 2002 Legislative Council, State of Michigan

Structures in which sanitary sewage originates lying within the limits of a city, village, or township shall be connected to an available public sanitary sewer in the city, village, or township if required by the city, village, or township.

“New and existing businesses in Oronoko Township will be clean, responsible, economically viable and located in attractive commercial developments. The Township will encourage a mix of businesses providing meaningful employment opportunities.”

“Identify economic development tools to attract, retain and enhance local businesses.”
2010 Master Plan—Goal #5

- “Commercial and industrial areas along M139 will be served with public water and wastewater systems. Expansions of these systems will be carefully coordinated with the future land use plan of the Township.”
- “Avoid leapfrog development”
- “Develop a utility plan with Village”
2010 Master Plan—Goal #6

- “To provide the highest levels of service to its residents, Oronoko Charter Township will be a leader in fostering positive and productive relationships with the Village of Berrien Springs, neighboring communities, and Andrews University”
- “Work with Village, Andrews, and impacted property owners in the development and implementation of a corridor plan for M139 between the Village and US 31 interchange”
2010 Master Plan—Goal #11

- “Oronoko Township will become known as a unique agricultural destination, drawing visitors from throughout the region.”
- “Construct attractive gateway features at the US 31 interchanges”
- “Undertake promotional efforts to attract visitors”

What does growth have to do with taxes?

Taxable Value Growth
(in millions)
What does growth have to do with taxes?
What does growth have to do with taxes?

Not Without Growth
Financial Trends

- Revenue decreasing or flat
- Expenses increasing or flat
- Stagnant at best; going backwards at worst
- Budget is difficult to balance with rising expenses and decreasing revenue.
Choices

- Increase taxes
- Reduce or eliminate services
- Broaden the tax base through growth
Can we really be part of the economic solution?

- People are willing to invest millions of dollars in our community.
- Additional businesses are not only additional tax dollars
  - Jobs—maybe closer to “home”; less commute
  - Jobs—maybe part-time for students or moms
  - Jobs—maybe provides the person to buy your house when you would like to sell
Growth

- Is an option
- Requires water and sewer upgrades/extensions
- Will pay for itself
- Can help meet the community’s needs
- Will help make the most of opportunities
- Can be directed
- Can complement downtown
- Can help change financial trends.

- It will be different.

Massage Therapist

Are the stresses of work and study getting to you?
Would you like to boost your athletic performance?
Do you have a muscle ache that just won’t go away?

Ray McAllister, an Andrews alumnus who despite total blindness is now a licensed massage therapist, invites you to visit Healing's Rays Massage. Proficient in deep tissue, sports, and relaxation massage, Ray can relieve aches, help you tone muscles, and give you the energy boost to finish studies. He also offers hydrotherapy, hot stone massage, reflexology and now hot bamboo massage. His wife, Sally, is a certified aromatherapist and will be present for female clients. She sells home-made aromatherapy blends.

Introductory cost is only $25 for your first hour, $15 per half hour, for students all the time. Contact Ray for regular, competitive rates. 30 no-cost massages are available for those with Adventist Risk Management insurance, including sponsored seminary students.
