Minute Taking Made Easy Workshop

Are you responsible for taking minutes for a committee or faculty meeting? Or, as a committee chair, wonder what you should expect from minutes? Are you aware that minutes are a legal record of University business? Do you know what to include and not to include? Would you like to learn how to better organize them for future reference?

Please join us as we discuss the minute-taking process and how to take better advantage of this organizational tool. Dr. Alice Williams, University Archivist, will delve into this topic and help simplify the process for us.

There are two opportunities for you to participate in this workshop:
Wednesday, February 26, 12:30-1:30pm, Room 307, Administration Building
Thursday, February 27, 11:30am-12:30pm, Room 306, Administration Building

Please RSVP by sending an email to training@andrews.edu, and be sure to include your full name, ID#, email address, the department you are employed by, as well as which day you would like to attend the Minute Taking Made Easy workshop.

Natural Remedies & Hydrotherapy Workshop
With the current General Conference emphasis on reaching the cities through a medical missionary thrust, Andrews University is repeating its popular 6-day Natural Remedies and Hydrotherapy workshop Aug 3 through 8. Besides University faculty, Dr. Don Miller, Uchee Pines Institute; Dr. David DeRose, Weimar Center of Health & Education; Dr. Elvin Adams, US Health Works; and Dr. Norman McNulty, neurologist, will share their expertise. Especially designed for use in home and local church, the workshop aims to improve your health, prevent disease, and equip you for community outreach. For more information contact Fran McMullen at 269-471-3541 or email fran@andrews.edu.

Workshop starts Sunday, Aug 3, 5:30pm registration and ends Friday, Aug 8, 10:30am.
Tuition Freedom Day

Did you know? Because Andrews is a non-profit institution, students are charged less for their education than it costs to provide. In fact students at Andrews are only charged 65% of the actual cost. Donations from alumni, parents, friends, faculty and staff make up the difference.

February 11 marks 65% of the school year that has elapsed, and which has been paid for by students. It’s called Tuition Freedom Day because from here on out, gifts from donors are covering the cost of an Andrews education.

Come join us in celebrating our amazing donors who help make an Andrews education possible for so many students. We’ll be set up in the student center on February 11 from noon to 2:00 pm, and students are welcome to stop by, sign thank you notes for donors, and grab some treats.

Plus, be sure to attend University Forum at 11:30 am in the HPAC for a special video presentation from our students about Tuition Freedom Day!

The Sacred Theater of Knowing Meeting

"The Sacred Theater of Knowing: The Epistemologies of Hamlet on Film."

Presented by

Dr. L Monique Pittman
Director of Honors
Professor of English
Andrews University

Sabbath Afternoon at 3:30 p.m.
February 22, 2014

Chan Shun Hall
Andrews University

Dr. Pittman has provided the following autobiographical information:
A former student of the Andrews University English Department, I began teaching here in 1999. I returned because the English Department had provided me with a stimulating and nurturing place in which to develop a mature intellectual and spiritual life. I also loved and admired the comradery characteristic of the faculty relationships with each other and with their students.

After completing my B.A. in English with a minor in music at Andrews (1991), I earned an M.A. from The College of William and Mary (1993), and finished a Ph.D. in Renaissance literature at Purdue University (2000). The literature and history of the English Renaissance has fascinated me since I was a child (I even had a postcard-sized portrait of Elizabeth I in my high school locker); as a scholar and teacher, I find the Renaissance's nuanced and complex treatment of the human condition endlessly satisfying.

My husband Paul analyzes numbers instead of literature as a CPA at a public accounting firm. We enjoy entertaining, cooking, baking, kitchen gardening, and working home improvement magic.

Regarding the topic of her Forum presentation, she says, I'm considering the epistemological crisis of the sixteenth century as manifested in the play and in two twentieth-century film versions.

Revive Vespers

This week, we will still be having vespers at our usual place and time entitled, "For the Love of Christ Constraineth Us" with Melissa Bresnahan.

So many of us struggle with sin and some of us seem to face defeat day in and day out or continue to struggle with our "cross." Still others strive to keep God's law and find it to be a cumbersome load. How can you experience God's power in our lives to overcome sin? How can we find lasting peace and joy that comes from daily victories in our life? How can we experience the satisfaction that God promises to give us when we live according to His commandments? How can we help friends or family who are wrestling and struggling with their own sins or find the Christian life to be dissatisfying?

Come and be blessed at vespers this Friday as we delve into this all-important topic!

Black History Month 2014

For a full schedule of events celebrating Black History Month in February, click here. Check back often for any updates/additions throughout the month.
Andrews University invites the community to join them as they celebrate Black History Month in February. A calendar of events and speaker information is below. Any questions should be directed to the Division of Student Life at 269-471-3215. All events are free and open to the public.

Fifty years ago the Civil Rights Act was signed by President Lyndon Johnson, with Martin Luther King Jr. in attendance. This landmark piece of civil rights legislation in the U.S. outlawed major forms of discrimination against racial, ethnic, national and religious minorities, and women. It ended unequal application of voter registration requirements and racial segregation in schools, at the workplace and by facilities that served the general public. King’s role in the American civil rights movement helped bring about this legislation, and he called the act nothing less than a “second emancipation.” During black history month we pause to celebrate this legacy of freedom, and discuss the yet unfulfilled needs of equality and freedom.

The Bible scripture theme for this month’s events comes from Acts 5:29. “But Peter and the apostles answered, ‘We must obey God rather than men.’”

Death of Leona Running

Live streaming of Dr. Running’s funeral will be available at www.andrews.edu/livestream at the time of her funeral, 2 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 30.

Viewing will take place at Alfred Funeral Home, 212 W Main Street, Berrien Springs, on Wednesday, Jan. 29, from 6-8 p.m. The funeral is at Pioneer Memorial Church on Thursday, Jan. 30, at 2 p.m. Interment will take place at Rose Hill Cemetery in Berrien Springs immediately following the service. Please remember her extended family and friends as they grieve.

Niels-Erik Andreasen, president of Andrews University, shared the following statement: “During her long and productive life Dr. Running broke new ground in the University and in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. She was the first female professor at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary in Takoma Park, Md., and later here at Andrews. She was the first Adventist woman to earn a doctorate in Ancient Near Eastern Studies (Johns Hopkins University), with a specialization in ancient Syriac texts. She overcame the grief of losing her husband early in life and built her exemplary academic and professional calling. Following her retirement she continued to share her linguistic skill with graduate students (Syriac, Egyptian, Akkadian, Hebrew, Aramaic, and almost any other language these students cared to learn). And she served the University with her editorial talents, improving a good many of its publications over the years... She was an inspiration to many and an example to us all.”

Jiri Moskala, dean of the Andrews University Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, says: “Dr. Running holds a special place in the hearts of her Old Testament and Seminary colleagues and former students, who greatly appreciated her mentoring during their Seminary years. She was the first woman professor at the SDA Theological Seminary and was indeed a woman of remarkable skills and influence... We praise the Lord

Desperately in need of a job

Hello, my name is Grace, I am an MSW student who is desperately in need of a job. I am open to anything that will give me some sort of income so I can pay for my voice lessons and my upcoming music project. I design and customize little girl's church, birthday and party outfits if anyone is interested, I am highly interested in any singing opportunities if anyone knows of such or will be willing to give me the chance.
