Waldensian Class
Waldensian Class RELG 360-041

Need one more religious class? Travel to the ancient home of the Waldenses this June! From June 6-14, 2014 we will tour the sacred sites in the Piedmont Alps of Northern Italy, expanding student's historical and spiritual perspectives with a personal experience of faith. All costs for the trip are covered by registration for this summer course RELG 360-041 (the cost is the same as a 3 credit class on AU campus, plus a $250.00 travel fee). There are varying fees for graduate students, and community persons. Persons who wish to take this 3 credit class will need to contact Professor Kathleen Demsky, Director Architecture Resource Center (ph. 269-471-2418/ email - demskyk@andrews.edu). Please contact Professor Demsky by phone or email for the resources (books/DVDs) that will be needed prior to taking the tour, to gain knowledge beforehand, of the amazing historical sights of these ancient people of faith, which we will discover on this faith journey.

"I Had No Idea..." Raising Awareness about Eating Disorders and Body Image

"I Had No Idea..." Raising Awareness about Eating Disorders and Body Image
To promote a healthy body image and increase awareness about eating disorders on our community, the Andrews University Counseling & Testing Center will be sponsoring an interactive event during the National Eating Disorders Awareness Week (February 23 – March 1, 2014).

Faculty, staff, and students are welcomed to participate during our Awareness Event on Wednesday, February 26th, 2014, from 11:30am-2pm. All are invited to post messages of acceptance and encouragement, learn about the impact of eating disorders on mental health, discuss the role of culture and media in distorting body image, and discover ways to help a friend or family member who might be struggling with these concerns.

Also, we will be offering confidential screenings. The eating disorder screening consists of a brief, anonymous questionnaire designed to provide students with insight into symptoms they might be experiencing and receive helpful treatment and referral information, if necessary. In addition to in-person screenings during the Awareness Event, students can access an anonymous screening online at http://www.mentalhealthscreening.org/screening/andrews

Excessive preoccupation about weight and diets can lead to disordered eating habits. These unhealthy habits can be difficult to recognize, but over time, can develop into an eating disorder. The majority of students struggling with eating disorders are not receiving treatment. The screenings available help direct students to the appropriate care they need.

Eating disorders are more prevalent on college campuses than many people realize. In fact, 95 percent of those who have eating disorders are between the ages of 12 and 25. Twenty-five percent of college-aged women report engaging in bingeing and purging as a weight-management technique. And college males are not immune. Increasingly, men are feeling the pressure for physical perfection which can lead to excessive exercise and fixation on low body fat percentage.

Come, participate, and help in promoting a healthy body image and greater awareness of eating disorders in our community. For more information, contact Dr. Luis G. Cruz-Ortega at cluis@andrews.edu or call the CTC at 269-471-3470.

Spring Training for Faculty & Staff

Dear AU Faculty or Staff Member,

We’d like to invite you to our spring training for the Extended Support Network. This workshop is open to all AU faculty and staff members. In our fall semester training, we explored the experiences of international college students, identified their needs, and discussed how to assist them. The topic for our upcoming workshop is “Strengthening God’s Circle of Love on Andrews Campus: Identifying & Helping Students who are Challenged, Broken or Lost.”

We will meet at Whirlpool Conference Room in Chan Shun Hall on Friday, March 7th, 2014 from 10:30am – 12:30pm. The presenter is Dr. Joy Alexander, Associate Professor of Counseling at Indiana University South Bend.

We are welcoming any faculty or staff member who is interested in this topic, but will give priority to current Extended Support Network members. The space is limited, thus reserve your space as soon as possible by contacting Dr. Luis G. Cruz-Ortega at cluis@andrews.edu.

Presenter’s Bio:
Dr. Joy Alexander received her doctorate from Andrews University and is a licensed psychologist. She is currently an Associate Professor of Counseling at Indiana University South Bend. Having spent over twenty years on university campuses, Dr. Alexander has had the opportunity to assist many first generation college students, with the array of challenges they offer. Dr. Alexander has also facilitated workshops to church and school communities on issues pertaining to young adults in the college environment, academic difficulties, including sexual orientation, substance use, mental health, developmental tasks, and the interfacing of faith and life. Dr. Alexander has also taught in Canada, the Caribbean, and in South Korea.

About the Extended Support Network (ESN):
The ESN is a formal support system comprised of selected faculty and staff volunteers, serving as first responders, and committed to enhancing the caring, safe and supportive environment for Andrews University students where they can process their thoughts, explore, and share their concerns or challenges.

Andrews International Center for Educational Research (AICER) invites you to attend a presentation:

"CASE STUDY: Root Issues in the Public Square"

Presenter: Dr. Thom Wolf, Professor of Global Studies, University Institute, New Delhi, Visiting Professor at Andrews University

Dr. Thom who has researched and published in India for 10 years will discuss his academic-and-village interface with Hindu, Muslim, Buddhist, Marxist, and secular colleagues-and-friends on the global conversation's core question: what is the best way to live life on this planet?

He will highlight WV3: the Worldvoice/Worldview/Worldvenue matrixes of the planet’s 8 major geographical lifezones which restrict-and-inhibit or release-and-empower the people within those zones according to their:

* worldvenueresultant lifestyle: their social venue of mazeway actions
* worldview reflective lens: their systemic view of mindset analysis
* worldvoiceroot luminary: their spiritual voice of mentor adoration

His lectures/dialogues on these issues have included Russian Federation Academy of Finance & Budget Moscow; Kabul University; American University of Dubai; Quaid-i-Azam University Islamabad; Lucknow University, Delhi University, Indian Institute of Public Administration; Urban Life International Vancouver; Azusa Pacific University, & Arizona State University.

Face-to-face participants meet in Bell Hall.

Online participants to login as "Guest" at https://andrews.adobeconnect.com/_a877709416/research/ or http://www.andrews.edu/sed/aicer/researchwebinars/ whether or not they are registered at Andrews University.

CHEMSEM 7: Investigating Structure and Function of Proteases

Did you know that proteins (proteases, lipases, and amylases) are intentionally used in detergents to enhance their cleaning properties?

Everyone is welcome to attend our seventh Winter-Spring 2014 session in the Andrews University Chemistry & Biochemistry Departmental Seminar Series this coming Thursday, February 20 at 4:30pm. As usual we meet in A-107 Halenz Hall.

Thursday's seminar topic is: Investigating Structure and Function of Proteases

Our guest speaker is:
Peter Lyons, Assistant Professor, Department of Biology, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, MI

Teachers are encouraged to announce this lecture in their classes and/or forward this email to their classes.

For non-Andrews faculty and students wishing to see the talk in the Chemistry Amphitheater:

There are directions given to Andrews at: http://www.andrews.edu/about/visiting/get_to_andrews.html

Here are the directions to the chemistry dept:

Minute Taking Made Easy Workshop

Are you responsible for taking minutes for a committee or faculty meeting? Or, as a committee chair, wonder what you should expect from minutes? Are you aware that minutes are a legal record of University business? Do you know what to include and not to include? Would you like to learn how to better organize them for future reference?

Please join us as we discuss the minute-taking process and how to take better advantage of this organizational tool. Dr. Alice Williams, University Archivist, will delve into this topic and help simplify the process for us.

There are two opportunities for you to participate in this workshop:

Wednesday, February 26, 12:30-1:30pm, Room 307, Administration Building
Thursday, February 27, 11:30am-12:30pm, Room 306, Administration Building

Please RSVP by sending an email to training@andrews.edu, and be sure to include your full name, ID#, email address, the department you are employed by, as well as which day you would like to attend the Minute Taking Made Easy workshop.

AUAY Presents Do You Know God

AUAY Presents with Adelante Club
Saturday 4:30 PM Student Center Rec Center

Vespers about Knowledge

Come join this Sabbath as we play an old Bible game with a twist! Located right downstairs from the cafe, very comfy location after eating Sabbath lunch. Find out how much you really know about God's word and why it is important to have your foundation rooted in Scripture. This will be the first program done together with AUAY and Adelante giving new flavor to an end of the week vespers.

*Please bring your Bibles to the program.
LLU Pre-Med Representative on Campus

Dr. Roddy of Loma Linda University School of Medicine will be on campus Monday, February 24th through Wednesday, February 26th to talk with students concerning a career in medicine.

Please come by the Chemistry office (Halenz Hall 225) to schedule a half-hour consultation with Dr. Roddy to discuss your medical school options. Alternate sign-up sheets are available at the MLS office and at the Biology office.
Aeolians of Oakwood University

The Aeolians of Oakwood University will perform in concert at the Howard Performing Arts Center as part of their spring tour on Friday, March 7, at 8:30 p.m. The Aeolians are under the direction of Jason Max Ferdinand and accompanied by Wayne Bucknor, chair of Oakwood University’s Department of Music. Ferdinand is in his sixth season as director of choral activities at Oakwood University.

Aeolian concerts feature choral music repertoire ranging from the Baroque era to the 21st-century, but put emphasis on Negro spirituals and work songs. The choir originated in 1946, and has been traveling widely since, including many international performances.

Tickets are only available in advance for a minimum donation of $10 to cover tour expenses. For children ages 12 and under, a $5 donation is appreciated. Tickets are available online at howard.andrews.edu as well as at the Box Office by calling 888-467-6442. There will be no ticket sales on the evening of the concert.

Doing Research: What Does It Look Like?

Andrews International Center for Educational Research (AICER) invites you to attend a research symposium on Thursday, February 20, 2014 at 5:30 pm.

Title: Doing Research: What Does It Look Like?

Presenter: Dr. Larry Burton, Professor of Teaching, Learning and Curriculum. Editor Journal of Research on Christian Education.

Dr. Burton will discuss the structure of research, the components and steps that define the process. Since thinking like a researcher is integral to all academic disciplines, students of every major will benefit from this presentation. Whether you are new to research as an undergraduate or completing your dissertation as a graduate, bring your questions to gain a clearer picture of what research looks like.

Face-to-face participants meet in Bell Hall.

Online participants to login as “Guest” at https://andrews.adobeconnect.com/_a877709416/research/ or http://www.andrews.edu/sed/aicer/researchwebinars/ whether or not they are registered Andrews students.

Revive Vespers

Join us for another Friday Vespers this week for a powerful message on Righteousness by Faith presented by Akeem James. In his message entitled, “We Would Serve the Egyptians,” Akeem, a student at the seminary, will be looking at the parallels between the deliverance of the Israelites out of Egypt and our spiritual journey as Christians. We know that we are spiritual Israel, but what if the "spiritual Egypt" is still very real in our lives? Why are we wondering in this wilderness so long? Why do we want to go back to Egypt of sin? The answer lays in Jesus our Passover. Join us and be blessed as we dig into God’s word on this all important question!

Place: Biology Amphitheater
Time: Friday, February 14 @ 7:30pm.

Dr. Peter Lyons, is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Biology at Andrews University. He received his B.S. in Biochemistry at Atlantic Union College and went on to Dalhousie University in Canada PhD in Biochemistry from. He subsequently did postdoctoral work at both Dalhousie University and Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York. Before coming to Andrews, Lyons taught for one year at Manhattan College, New York.

His research has been in yeast genetics, cell biology, and biochemistry, although most has revolved around the role of metallocarboxypeptidases in human health and disease. His model organism of choice is the zebrafish, which can be easily manipulated and observed as it develops. Combining biochemical studies with cell biology and zebrafish development provides an excellent model for seeing the full picture of how these enzymes work.

Lyons has received funding from NSERC (Canada), NIH, and the Grass Foundation. He has published in a variety of journals including Biochemistry, J. Biol. Chem., Human Mutation and Current Protocols in Protein Science.

Student Gardens Partner with Health Department
If the people can't get to the farm, bring the farm to the people. That's the philosophy behind a new partnership between the Berrien County Health Department and Andrews University's student garden to operate a mobile farmers' market this year.

Garth Woodruff, an Andrews horticulture instructor who oversees the garden project, said it is unbelievable that there are people in Berrien County who can't get freshly grown produce.

"It is shocking to me that in this county, where 90 percent of the land is used for agriculture, where you can't find better vegetable growing land in the region, and probably the United States, you would have food deserts in areas such as Berrien Springs, Benton Harbor and Niles," Woodruff said.

Faculty Member Wins International Competition
The Jonas Center for Nursing Excellence, Khan Academy, and the American Association of Colleges of Nursing are pleased to announce that 14 individuals have been selected to join a select group of educators working to transform how health education is delivered across disciplines around the globe. The partnering organizations launched an international competition last fall to generate interest among health profession students, faculty, and practitioners in creating innovative healthcare tutorials with videos and exercises, which will be made available for free through the Khan Academy website. This content will support graduates of nursing programs in preparation for the NCLEX-RN exam.

The competition received almost 100 submissions from individuals around the world, emerging from over 60 hospitals and academic institutions. Competition submissions represented the disciplines of medicine, nursing, pharmacy, dentistry, public health, and graduate studies in biological science. The competition winners include Leslie Samuel, physical therapy instructor at Andrews University, among others.

If you thought you had to travel all the way to the Field Museum in Chicago, Ill. to see a real wooly mammoth, think again. In fact, the most complete skeleton of a mammoth to be found in Michigan is on display in Berrien Springs, Mich., at the Andrews University Museum of Natural History.

"It's not a Field Museum, obviously," said Dr. H. Thomas Goodwin, professor of paleobiology and chairman of the biology department at Andrews, "but we do have quite a nice collection of stuff."

A moveable feast

By JOHN MATUSZAK - HP Staff Writer | Posted: Tuesday, February 18, 2014 5:00 am

BENTON HARBOR - If the people can't get to the farm, bring the farm to the people.

That's the philosophy behind a new partnership between the Berrien County Health Department and Andrews University's student garden to operate a mobile farmers' market this year.

Garth Woodruff, an Andrews horticulture instructor who oversees the garden project, said it is unbelievable that there are people in Berrien County who can't get freshly grown produce.

"It is shocking to me that in this county, where 90 percent of the land is used for agriculture, where you can't find better vegetable growing land in the region, and probably the United States, you would have food deserts in areas such as Berrien Springs, Benton Harbor and Niles," Woodruff said.

Food deserts describe places where residents do not live near stores that sell fresh food. This lack of access is linked to numerous health conditions, including obesity. Berrien County has one of Michigan's highest obesity rates.

The Berrien County Health Department has tried to close that food gap by managing the Benton Harbor farmers market. Andrews' students sell the fruits, vegetables and herbs they grow at their own seasonal market, and through Consumer-Supported Agriculture subscriptions, in which consumers sign up for a portion of the annual yield.

Woodruff has been interested in the possibility of a mobile market for several years, but has been unable to get the effort on the road.

The health department's proposal fit in with the university's mission of community service for students, Woodruff said, as well as their dedication to reaching the public.

Funding will come from the health department, through a grant from Gov. Rick Snyder's 4x4 initiative to promote a healthy lifestyle.

The mobile market will be on the road four days a week, making eight to 10 regular stops.

Nicki Britten, the health department's director of community health planning, said likely stops include Benton Harbor, Benton Township, Buchanan, Niles and Niles Township.

The Southwest Michigan Planning Commission will help target neighborhoods where the need for fresh food is greatest, Britten said.

The market will be geared to serve low-income residents with limited access to fresh food. Produce will be sold at 10 percent above wholesale prices. The market has applied to be able to accept Bridge cards used by residents receiving food assistance.
"I'm glad we're serving a large part of the county. We know it's not enough, but we're trying to do more," Britten recently reported to the Board of Health.

There is a lot of bounty to share. Last year, the Andrews' garden produced around 30 tons of produce, not counting its apple crop, Woodruff said.

The university maintains 10 acres for vegetables, three acres of Gala apples, four acres of peaches, along with patches for raspberries and blackberries, and three greenhouses.

What are some of the barriers to getting healthier food to low-income residents?

"Some of it is cost, some of it is time," Woodruff suggested. "People work hard at their jobs, with probably low wages. They come home tired, and you don't feel like chopping vegetables."

Few people are advocating the benefits of buying local food, he added, noting that even a lot of food pantries distribute processed, packaged goods.

Another part of the effort is education, Woodruff said. The market is working with Lakeland HealthCare to include cooking demonstrations to introduce buyers to new foods and quick and easy recipes. The student garden website, augardens.com, also posts recipes.

The health department has applied for a grant from the Conservation Fund to provide cooking demonstrations at the Benton Harbor market.

Along with promoting a healthier diet for residents, the garden operation has many benefits for students, Woodruff said.

About 20 students participate throughout the growing season, and another 30 volunteer to work 10 hours on the farm during the semester.

With the farm stand and the CSA operation, the students gain the experience of running a business, and earn money for tuition, Woodruff said. Internships also are available.

They get to work outside and take some of the vegetables home, he added.

In a blog entry, Woodruff tells of students going out to the fields before dawn to pick and sort the produce, and the happy chaos in the warehouse as the food is packed and shipped out.

"The smells, sounds, sights, touches and even tastes of 101 minutes in that place were more positive and energizing than anyone could describe and it truly took my breath away," Woodruff wrote.

“Khan Academy is excited to welcome this diverse group of content creators who possess the right mix of energy and expertise needed to advance our mission to provide a free world-class education for anyone, anywhere,” said Rishi Desai, MD, MPH, Program Lead for Medical Partnerships at Khan Academy. “The dynamic content developed by this group will serve as a rich resource for health professionals and the public worldwide.”

“This competition clearly captured the attention of an international audience of health educators with an eye for evolving traditional teaching methods for contemporary audiences,” said Darlene Curley, RN, MS, FAAN, Executive Director, Jonas Center for Nursing Excellence. “We are pleased to support this effort to spark innovation and enthusiasm around using technology to develop instructional content that can benefit all healthcare providers, including nursing students preparing for the national licensing exam.”

“The collaborating organizations are committed to providing cutting edge teaching tools that will serve as a resource for ongoing learning and refreshment for nurses and other healthcare providers,” added Jane Kirschling, PhD, RN, FAAN, President of AACN.

The competition winners have been invited to further sharpen their technical skills by participating in a training camp with Khan Academy educators on March 2-9, 2014 in California. To read more about the winners, see https://www.khanacademy.org/about/health-competition.

About the Jonas Center for Nursing Excellence
The Jonas Center for Nursing Excellence, established in 2006 by Barbara and Donald Jonas, is dedicated to improving healthcare by advancing nursing scholarship, leadership and innovation. Its two main programs are the Jonas Nurse Leaders Scholar Program, which aims to address the dire shortage of nursing faculty by preparing nurses with doctoral degrees to step into this critical role, and the Jonas Veterans Healthcare Program, which seeks to improve the health of veterans by supporting doctoral-level nursing candidates committed to advancing veterans’ healthcare. These programs currently support more than 250 doctoral scholars nationwide.

About Khan Academy
Khan Academy is a 501(c) 3 non-profit with a mission of providing a free world-class education for anyone, anywhere. Khan Academy provides free online educational materials (e.g., practice exercises, instructional videos, dashboard analytics, teacher tools) that support personalized education for users of all ages in a scalable way. In the last two years, the organization has delivered over 330 million lessons and 1.6 billion exercise problems. Currently, it has 10 million users per month and over 4 million exercise problems completed each day. Khan Academy covers subjects from basic Math to college level Biology and Art History.

About the American Association of Colleges of Nursing
The American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) is the national voice for university and four-year college education programs in nursing. Representing more than 740 member schools of nursing at public and private institutions nationwide, AACN’s educational, research, governmental advocacy, data collection, publications, and other programs work to establish quality standards for bachelor’s- and graduate-degree nursing education, assist deans and directors to implement those standards, influence the nursing profession to improve health care, and promote public support of baccalaureate and graduate nursing education, research, and practice.

Death of Leona Running
Live streaming of Dr. Running’s funeral will be available at www.andrews.edu/livestream at the time of her funeral, 2 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 30.

Viewing will take place at Alfred Funeral Home, 212 W Main Street, Berrien Springs, on Wednesday, Jan. 29, from 6–8 p.m. The funeral is at Pioneer Memorial Church on Thursday, Jan. 30, at 2 p.m. Internment will take place at Rose Hill Cemetery in Berrien Springs immediately following the service. Please remember her extended family and friends as they grieve.

Niels-Erik Andreasen, president of Andrews University, shared the following statement: “During her long and productive life Dr. Running broke new ground in the University and in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. She was the first female professor at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary in Takoma Park, Md., and later here at Andrews. She was the first Adventist woman to earn a doctorate in Ancient Near Eastern Studies (Johns Hopkins University), with a specialization in ancient Syriac texts. She overcame the grief of losing her husband early in life and built her exemplary academic and professional calling. Following her retirement she continued to share her linguistic skill with graduate students (Syriac, Egyptian, Akkadian, Hebrew, Aramaic, and almost any other language these students cared to learn). And she served the University with her editorial talents, improving a good many of its publications over the years... She was an inspiration to many and an example to us all.”

Jiri Moskala, dean of the Andrews University Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, says: “Dr. Running holds a special place in the hearts of her Old Testament and Seminary colleagues and former students, who greatly appreciated her mentoring during their Seminary years. She was the first woman professor at the SDA Theological Seminary and was indeed a woman of remarkable skills and influence... We praise the Lord.
Berrien Springs Camera Club March Meeting

The Berrien Springs Camera Club will meet on Wednesday, Mar. 5, at 7 p.m. in the Berrien Springs Community Library at Cass and Union.

Cheryl Thomas, president, states that for the March meeting members are invited to submit up to 5 digital images for projection and critique. They may wish to turn in pictures rejected by judges during recent competitions.

The club’s monthly meetings alternate between competitions, with three judges at each one, and other kinds of presentations. Members always notice how very subjective judging can be: Sometimes an image that is "out" one month may be resubmitted in another competition, with different judges, and receive "honor" status.

The March meeting will feature some of these rejected images and let the whole group try to decide why they were not accepted and how they could be improved. Submission guidelines can be found on the club’s Web site.

The public is welcome. To submit pictures, one must be a member. Refreshments are served at each meeting.

Roommate Needed (Female) at Beechwood Apartments

My current roommate is moving out and I'll be needing someone to move in by the 1st of March. The apartment is right on AU campus, second floor, next to the laundry room, has two bedrooms, shared kitchen, bath, and living room. Rent is $355 a month. I'm looking for someone who is an adventist; au senior or graduate; friendly to room with; willing to share common expenses (toilet paper, paper towel, etc), respectful of belongings, respectful of one's studies, and wouldn’t mind having friends over from time to time. A little about myself I'm an adventist, 24 years old, work at Andrews Academy while working on my masters, and very nice. I'd like to meet with you if you're interested and if we're a good fit we'll talk about the next process of getting you moved in.

Desperately in need of a job

Hello, my name is Grace, I am an MSW student who is desperately in need of a job. I am open to anything that will give me some sort of income so i can pay for my voice lessons and my upcoming music project. I love music with passion( write my own songs by Gods grace) and desire to share the love of God with others through my music ministry. I am 27 years old, warm, obedient , God fearing woman. I design and customize little girl's church, birthday and party outfits if anyone is interested, I am highly interested in any singing opportunities if anyone knows of such or will be willing to give me the chance. I will also write and sing songs for special occasions if needed .Thanks

Massage Therapist

Are the stresses of work and study getting to you? Would you like to boost your athletic performance? Do you have a muscle ache that just won’t go away?

Ray McAllister, an Andrews alumnus who despite total blindness is now a licensed massage therapist, invites you to visit Healing’s Rays Massage. Proficient in deep tissue, sports, and relaxation massage, Ray can relieve aches, help you tone muscles, and give you the energy boost to finish studies. He also offers hydrotherapy, hot stone massage, reflexology and now hot bamboo massage. His wife, Sally, is a certified aromatherapist and will be present for female clients. She sells home-made aromatherapy blends.

Introductory cost is only $25 for your first hour, $15 per half hour, for students all the time. Contact Ray for regular, competitive rates. 30 no-cost massages are available for those with Adventist Risk Management insurance, including sponsored seminary students.
