AICER Symposium Roundtable
The Andrews International Center for Educational Research (AICER) would like to invite you to attend roundtable presentations by the School of Education graduate students on "Nurturing spiritual Growth in Public and Private Spaces."

Presenter: Cora Clark,
Spirituality in the Public Place

In her book The Soul of Education: Helping Students Find Connection, Compassion, and Character at School, Rachel Kessler (2000) calls for educators to recognize and nurture the spiritual needs of their students. Considering the pluralistic nature of most twenty-first century societies, the question of how spirituality fits (or ought to fit) into the public school curriculum, poses some delicate challenges. As Adventist educators, we too value spirituality and the integration of faith and learning. What can we learn from Kessler’s ideas and methods?

Presenter: Cheryl Logan
Pathfinders’ Leadership Training Curriculum

Master Guides serve in many roles within the SDA church, as Adventurer and Pathfinder staff, in children’s ministries, and as pastors. In this symposium we will look at the training given to volunteers who are becoming Master Guides, and the current curriculum transitions.

Date: Thursday, March 27, 2013

Face-to-face participants meet in Bell Hall, Room 013.

Online participants to login as “Guest” at https://andrews.adobeconnect.com/_a877709416/research/ or http://www.andrews.edu/sed/aicer/researchwebinars/ whether or not they are registered at Andrews University.

Biodegradable Polymers: Polylactides and Polyglycolides

Jiyeon Rachel Lee is a junior biochemistry major at Andrews University and plans to pursue a career in dentistry.

Andrew Hong is a junior biochemistry major at Andrews University and desires to further his studies in science and medicine by joining a MD/PhD program.

A common challenge in the biomedical field is successfully introducing materials into the body without it being toxic or rejected by our own immune systems. The area of biodegradable polymers has been extensively researched just for this cause. The ability for the body to degrade and metabolize these polymers has proven to be an effective and promising area of study.

Polylactides and polyglycolides are two of many biodegradable polymers that have been discovered and characterized. Through the esterification reaction of lactic and glycolic acid oligomers, these high molecular weight polymers can be synthesized. We will look at the various properties of these polymers and their degradation which makes them suitable for medical and biological applications.
Hydrogels for Tissue Engineering

In the medical discipline, hydrogels are a popular material of choice for many applications due to their physical properties, diverse methods of synthesis, and biocompatibility. Among various applications, the use of hydrogels for tissue engineering has become a fast growing area of research. In recent studies, polyvinyl alcohol (PVA) hydrogels – a class of hydrogels synthesized by the crosslinking of PVA polymers – have been proposed as promising replacements for diseased tissue. Successful application can lead to great advancements in the field of regenerative medicine.

Swanieka Choy is a Biochemistry Pre-med major who aspires to become an OBGYN.

Abigail Saint-Juste is a Chemistry and Behavioral Science (Public Health) double major who hopes to become an OBGYN.

Rosanne Thornhill is a Biochemistry Pre-med major who intends to go to medical school to become a cardiologist.

The theme for the 2014 Andrews University Faculty and Staff Awards celebration was “An Evening Among the Stars.” On Sunday, March 2, hundreds of faculty and staff gathered in the Howard Performing Arts Center for the event celebrating stars among their coworkers and colleagues.

The evening’s entertainment also focused on "stardom" from among Andrews faculty and staff: Act I featured the Gane family performing Allegro from "Concerto Grosso in D minor" by Vivaldi; Act II shone the spotlight on six faculty and staff members who climbed Mt. Kilimanjaro; Act III was a performance of a traditional Malaysian dance by eight staff and community members; and Act IV featured Mickey Kutzner, research professor of physics, demonstrating inertia and bravery by lying under a board of 1,000 nails and having a cinderblock shattered with a sledgehammer on top of it.

Concluding the evening’s entertainment, Dave Faehner, vice president for University Advancement, well-known for his presentation of "Dave’s Top Ten" reasons to attend Andrews University during Convocation, presented “Dave’s Top Eight” reasons to work for Andrews University.

Each year at this event faculty and staff are given recognition through the Years of Service Awards, Excellence in Service Awards, Faith Development Leadership Award, Daniel A. Augsburger Excellence in Teaching Awards, and Siegfried H. Horn Excellence in Research & Creative Scholarship Awards.

Click on each name to hear an audio recording of the tributes given to each recipient at the event.

Horn Museum Featured in Local Story
If you've ever driven into Berrien Springs, chances are that you've driven right past the Horn Archaeological Museum at Andrews University. But, have you ever stopped and gone into the unassuming building that once served as a bank?

If you haven't, then you have no idea the ancient treasures that lie inside, waiting to be discovered by visitors, just as they were discovered by archeologists on desert digs.

"We have quite a nice collection, actually," said Dr. Constance Gane, curator of the museum and assistant professor of archaeology and Old Testament at Andrews. "Altogether, we have almost 9,000 artifacts."

Educational Fund Established for VanderWaal Children
Former NAD Communication Director
Owen Troy Has Died

It is with deep sadness that we announce the passing of Elder Owen Troy, who served as the Communication Director of the North American Division from 1980 until his retirement in 1995. Troy was living in Berrien Springs, Mich. with his wife Ann and next door to their daughter Carmelita. He suffered numerous injuries from a fall at his home last week and passed away early on Sunday morning, March 2.

Born on June 10, 1927, at the White Memorial Medical Center in Los Angeles, Calif., he grew up in Pasadena, Calif., where his father worked as a pastor. They also lived in Huntsville, Ala. and Chicago, Ill. Troy graduated from Pacific Union College and was hired by the Northern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. He received his Masters of Religious Communication degree from Andrews University in Berrien Springs, Mich.

In 1964 Troy was called to serve in West Africa as a missionary to the countries of Sierra Leone and Ghana, a position he held until 1966. He also served in the country of Trinidad and Tobago from 1971 to 1977. In 1980 Troy was elected as the first Communication Director of the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists, where he was instrumental in the creation of the department and the role that it played in the internal and external communications of the church.

“Owen was a visionary who took communication in new directions for the Seventh-day Adventist Church,” says Kermit Netteburg, who followed Troy as Assistant to the NAD President for Communication in 1995. “He helped the Church return to a focus on public audiences and away from one that was more internally focused. He was truly the first communication director in the division and initiated much of the Church’s first Internet-based communications. He also stressed that the Church start researching new forms of communication”.

Troy also served on the board of Three Angels Broadcasting Network (3ABN), the first 24-hour television network that featured the message of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, a position he held for 17 years. Troy and his wife, Ann, moved to Thompsonville, Ill., the home of 3ABN, in 2005, so that they could work as volunteers at the network, and lived there until 2010 when they moved to Berrien Springs, Mich.

Troy is survived by his wife Ann, daughter Carmelita and son Owen.

Memorial Service and Fund

The memorial service will be at 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, March 19, at the Michiana Fil-Am Seventh-day Adventist Church, 8454 Kephart Lane, Berrien Springs, MI 49103-9569

In lieu of flowers the Troys are asking that donations be made to 3ABN for the Owen Troy Fund.

Obituary

William Stephen “Steve” Wright, 70, of Berrien Springs, went to be with his Lord and Savior Jesus Christ on Thursday, March 13, 2014, at Royalton Manor in St. Joseph, with his daughter Hannah and sister Diane by his side. Steve is survived by his daughter, Hannah JoAnne Marston of Temperance, Michigan; grandchildren, Winzor Johanna Marston and Bryce James Marston; and his sisters, Diane Kliemchen of Sawyer and Wanda “Sue” Marcussen of Buchanan. He is also survived by his nieces, Cindy Kliemchen of Stevensville and Vanessa Kliemchen Froman of Wayne, Illinois; and great-nieces, Collin and Conner Froman. Steve was born on February 1, 1944, to his parents LaVerne and Virginia Wright in Buchanan, Michigan. He graduated from Galien High School in 1962. He attended classes at Grace College, Lake Michigan College, Andrews University, Western Michigan University, and graduated with high honors from Michigan State University with a B.S. in Industrial Arts Education. He held a Michigan State teaching certificate. Steve worked for many years as a water well driller, having learned the trade from his father. Steve loved to travel. In doing so, he was able to see 37 of our 50 states. He was also able to travel abroad, visiting London, Jordan, Paris, Rome, Tropez, Nice, and Monte Carlo. Steve loved Belize and was fortunate enough to be able to spend more than a year of his life there. When Steve was not traveling he enjoyed reading, genealogy, watching sports, art projects, meeting new people, talking and spending time reading the Holy Bible while praying to get closer to his Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Visitation will be from 6 p.m. Monday, March 17, at Allred Funeral Home in Berrien Springs, where a celebration of Steve's love for life will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday, March 18. Berrien Springs Camera Club April Meeting

Berrien Springs Camera Club

The Berrien Springs Camera Club will meet on Wednesday, Apr. 2, at 7 p.m. in its usual venue, the Berrien Springs Public Library at Cass (Old 31) and Union.

This month’s program consists of a competition of prints and digital images submitted by members. The selected topics for the month include:

1. Things in the Sky and
2. Vents/Grates/Manhole Covers.

Three additional categories are appropriate for all of our competitions:

1. Nature (nothing domesticated, nothing of a human origin),
2. Portraits, and
3. Open (any other subject).

The second select category will certainly challenge the creativity of members. How many people sally forth to take beautiful photos of manhole covers? But sometimes a topic is chosen precisely to challenge creativity. It may be surprising to see what some members submit. And those who can’t warm up to that subject can always opt for Things in the Sky. This is their chance to show that unique cloud formation, balloons, airplanes, skylights, treetops, fireworks, or almost anything else they can think of shooting against the sky.

Prints, at least 5” x 7” in size, should be mounted, with the title and photographer’s name on the back. Instructions for submitting images in digital form are available on the club’s blog:

http://photoclub.berrienspringsmi.us/http://berrienspringscameraclub.blogspot.com/

All are welcome, either to observe or to join. Anyone who wishes to join may submit photos to the competition, up to 10 projected images and/or 10 prints. Refreshments will be served.

Spring into Gardening

It’s that time of year again for gardening enthusiasts to begin prepping and planning for the spring gardening season. Many of you may already have seed catalogs piling up in various places around the house and been enjoying looking over the bright colors and yummy produce selections (something especially fun to do when it gets dark and dreary outside). Others may be enjoying tasty greens grown in their own winter-garden greenhouse.

Join us for a gardening seminar with Darryl Hosford April 13 from 4 - 6 p.m. in the Village Church Family Center.
