Since Andrews University is known for its international student diversity, we would like to encourage students, faculty, staff and members of the community to come dressed in your traditional costumes (that are Sabbath appropriate). I am sure that all of the costumes and the colors will be a beautiful imagination of how colorful heaven will be and also to know that it is going to be a place where we can dwell in unity with each other in the presence of God.

We are looking forward to seeing you at worship. Please pray for the program and the participants so we will all be blessed and be assured of our Savior's soon return.

Andrews Photography Submission Opportunity

Greetings Photographers!

The Office of Academic Records is making some modifications to the online bulletin for the academic year 2014-2015. We are doing some design changes and would like to include an image from a current student, staff, faculty or alumni on the bulletin home page. We are looking for photographs that emphasize art or active learning here at Andrews.

We plan to collect several images from which one will be chosen for the home page. We will add a small bio and link (just below the image) to a website to highlight the photographer.

Our deadline is Friday, April 18. Department staff will then meet and decide which image will be used. Once selected, we will contact the photographer to obtain the bio information and website link.

Please submit your images by Friday, April 18, to bulletin@andrews.edu while noting the following Image requirements:

- JPG or PNG format
- No larger than 5MB
- Landscape orientation
- Please ensure photographs are consistent with the Andrews University community.

We look forward to hearing from you.

President Responds to Campus Assaults
Dear Campus Community:
I've just met this morning with our Campus Safety department, residence halls and Student Life staff, and our AUSA president regarding the crimes committed on our campus last night.

You've received some details already, perhaps through text or emails or, I hope, both.

However, I wanted to review what we know now, and how and when that information was shared with campus:

Berrien Springs-Oronoko Township Police officers as well as other law enforcement agencies were called to the campus of Andrews University shortly after 11 p.m., Saturday, March 29, after reports were made on a series of assaults and robberies.

Officers learned through an initial investigation that three different individuals were robbed at three different locations on campus (Meier Hall, outside Nethery Hall and outside Garland Apartments). Two of these individuals were current students, and the third was not a student.

Later investigation showed the three thieves attempted to take wallets, cash and ID from the victims. Two of the victims had facial injuries as a result of these assaults, and were treated on the scene.

These incidents took place between 10:57 p.m. and 11:20 p.m. The victims have reported the three suspects had a hand gun and a knife. At this point it has been confirmed that the gun used was a plastic pellet gun.

Two of the suspects were last seen running toward the woods from the Garland Apartments area.

Officers are still searching for the suspects, and police are reviewing video from different campus cameras in an attempt to identify the suspects.

Earlier today we sent a link to an image of the suspects. If you have any information about these suspects or last evening’s crimes, please contact the Berrien Springs-Oronoko Township Police at 269-471-2813 or Campus Safety at 269-471-3321.

Initial descriptions suggest that the first suspect is described as a short black male with dreadlocks and glasses wearing a gray or light blue hoodie, the second is a white male and the third is an unknown male wearing a white cloth over his mouth. One of the victims also reported that the suspect/s were wearing white tennis shoes.

As we have talked, we understand that accurate and proactive information is essential at moments like these. Several of you have asked questions about how quickly information was shared on campus, especially as residence halls were on a lockdown during this intense time of investigation.

While much of the information and details were still emerging over the first moments and hours, it’s our responsibility to let you know immediately that a campus lockdown has occurred, and to also let you know when it’s been lifted. Often, that’s been done with the RAVE alert system and email; last evening 2,839 text messages and 4,613 emails were sent shortly before 1 a.m.

Last night, we did not share that information as quickly as we should have once the residence hall lockdown began, even as we were actively working with the victims and the investigation was unfolding.

That should not have been the case. I want you to know that we are committed to understanding and sharing information immediately at times like these, and to keep you updated on this particular situation.

This note is part of that commitment to keep you informed, and we will continue to share updates as they develop.

If you are not signed up to the AU Alert system, please do so here.

Adventist Forum presents A. G. Daniells: Lessons in Leadership
Adventist Forum presents "A. G. Daniells: Lessons in Leadership" by Dr. Benjamin McArthur, Professor of History at Southern Adventist University on Saturday Afternoon at 3:30 pm, April 12, 2014, in Chan Shun Hall, on the campus of Andrews University, Berrien Springs, MI.

Dr. McArthur is a graduate of Andrews University. He subsequently earned MA and Ph.D degrees from the University of Chicago. Following graduate school, he joined the faculty at Southern where he taught history for thirty years. He then spent three years at Southwestern Adventist University where he served as academic dean. He returned to the classroom and to Southern Adventist University in 2012. His primary teaching interests are in American history, from colonial times through the early twentieth century. He also enjoys writing screenplays and has written two books on the American theater. In recent years his scholarly interest has focused on the Adventist church. He is currently involved in writing a biography of A. G. Daniells, the longest-serving president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, who is the subject of his presentation.

The following information from Wikipedia provides a brief background on A. G. Daniells: Arthur Grosvenor Daniells (1858–1935) was a Seventh-day Adventist minister and administrator, most notably the longest serving president of the General Conference. He served as secretary to James and Ellen White for one year. He later worked as an evangelist and was one of the pioneers of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in the South Pacific. He became the president of the Australasia Union Conference, and then the president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists (1901 to 1922). He led the church in developing a new level of church government, the union conference. He was the first chairperson of the Ellen G. White Estate (1915 to 1935). He was not reelected in 1922. In his retirement Daniells formed the Seventh-day Adventist Ministerial Association and Ministry magazine.

Adventist Forum is open to the public. All are welcome. For information, contact Art Robertson at robertsa2@earthlink.net or call 471-7150.

SBA Minute-to-win-it Game Night

A fun filled night of minute-to-win-it games and cash prizes. Food Provided. Hosted by the School of Business Administration.

Location: AUSA Rec Center
Time: Saturday, March 29 - 8:30-10:30 PM
Biodegradable Polymers: Polylactides and Polyglycolides

Jiyeon Rachel Lee is a junior biochemistry major at Andrews University and plans to pursue a career in dentistry.

Andrew Hong is a junior biochemistry major at Andrews University and desires to further his studies in science and medicine by joining a MD/PhD program.

A common challenge in the biomedical field is successfully introducing materials into the body without it being toxic or rejected by our own immune systems. The area of biodegradable polymers has been extensively researched just for this cause. The ability for the body to degrade and metabolize these polymers has proven to be an effective and promising area of study.

Polylactides and polyglycolides are two of many biodegradable polymers that have been discovered and characterized. Through the esterification reaction of lactic and glycolic acid oligomers, these high molecular weight polymers can be synthesized. We will look at the various properties of these polymers and their degradation which makes them suitable for medical and biological applications.
Hydrogels for Tissue Engineering

In the medical discipline, hydrogels are a popular material of choice for many applications due to their physical properties, diverse methods of synthesis, and biocompatibility. Among various applications, the use of hydrogels for tissue engineering has become a fast growing area of research. In recent studies, polyvinyl alcohol (PVA) hydrogels – a class of hydrogels synthesized by the crosslinking of PVA polymers – have been proposed as promising replacements for diseased tissue. Successful application can lead to great advancements in the field of regenerative medicine.

Swanieka Choy is a Biochemistry Pre-med major who aspires to become an OBGYN.

Abigail Saint-Juste is a Chemistry and Behavioral Science (Public Health) double major who hopes to become an OBGYN.

Rosanne Thornhill is a Biochemistry Pre-med major who intends to go to medical school to become a cardiologist.

Suspects Arrested for Campus Assaults
Andrews University received a release early this morning from Deputy Chief Rick Smiedendorf at the Berrien Springs Oronoko Township Police Department regarding the assaults that occurred late Saturday evening on our campus. It is as follows:

"Through the assistance of the FBI Violent Crimes Task Force, tips from citizens and video provided by Andrews University Office of Campus Safety, three suspects were arrested. An 'air-soft' pistol that was believed to have been used in this incident was recovered as well. All three subjects were lodged in the Berrien County Jail charged with multiple counts of armed robbery. BSOTPD is grateful for the tips received and for the assistance provided by the FBI-VCTF. Cooperation with citizens and other law enforcement agencies made it possible to close this felony investigation in a little more than 24 hours."

"While we are disappointed these events took place on our campus," says Niels-Erik Andreasen, University president, "we are grateful to those who provided information that helped lead to the quick and timely apprehension by our police department of the suspects involved in these crimes."

Update on Assaults at Andrews University
Early Sunday afternoon President Andreasen sent a message to the Andrews University campus community updating them on the events of last evening. You may find the entire text of this message on the Andrews Agenda .

Berrien Springs-Oronoko Township Police officers as well as other law enforcement agencies were called to the campus of Andrews University to work with Campus Safety shortly after 11 p.m., Saturday, March 29, after reports were made on a series of assaults and armed robberies.

Officers learned through an initial investigation that three different individuals were robbed at three different locations on campus (Meier Hall, outside Nethery Hall and outside Garland Apartments). Two of these individuals were current Andrews University students, and the third was not a student.

Later investigation showed the three thieves took a wallet, cash and ID from one of the victims. Two of the victims had facial injuries as a result of these assaults, and were treated on the scene.

These incidents took place between 10:57 p.m. and 11:20 p.m. The victims have reported the three suspects had a handgun and a knife. At this point it has been confirmed that the gun used was a plastic pellet gun.

Initial descriptions suggest that the first suspect is described as a short black male with dreadlocks and glasses wearing a gray or light blue hoodie, the second is a white male and the third is an unknown male wearing a white cloth over his mouth. One of the victims also reported that the suspect/s were wearing white tennis shoes.

Two of the suspects were last seen running toward the woods from the Garland Apartments area.

Officers are still searching for the suspects, and police are reviewing video from different campus cameras in an attempt to identify the suspects.

50th Annual International Food Fair
by Becky St. Clair

The 50th annual International Food Fair at Andrews University will be held in the Johnson Gym on Sunday, March 30, from noon to 7 p.m. The event has free admission and is open to the public. Food tickets will be available for sale at the door and are required for acquiring items at the various booths.

The International Food Fair is your opportunity to get a taste of world diversity without a travel agent. More than 20 international clubs at Andrews participate in the fair every year, offering authentic tastes of various countries in Europe and the Caribbean, Korea, Brazil, India and the Philippines, among others. Guests can make a meal of one cuisine or gather a little something from each ethnically decorated booth.

Hungry guests can sip bubble tea while choosing from a variety of vegetarian entrees including Samosas, Indian chapati, pansit, and the traditional rice, noodles and egg rolls. If you're looking for American fare, corndogs, pizza and some cotton candy are certain to satisfy. Brazilian flan, passion fruit mousse and numerous other pastries and cakes from a range of cultures offer a sweet finish to the meal.

The International Food Fair has been a tradition celebrating the diversity of Andrews since 1964. Nearly 5,000 people attend the event every year, raising around $30,000 annually for the participating clubs. Food tickets are sold in increments of 50 cents, with food prices ranging from 50 cents to $6. Students can charge the cost of tickets to their Dining Services accounts. For more information, contact the Office of International Student Services & Programs at 269-471-6395.

Founded in 1874, Andrews University is the flagship institution of higher education for the Seventh-day Adventist Church and offers more than 200 areas of study including advanced degrees. Its main campus is in Berrien Springs, Mich., but the University also provides instruction at colleges and universities in more than 30 countries around the world.

BERRIEN SPRINGS - Good food for a good cause.

That can describe a variety of food events from potlucks to bake sales.

What makes the Andrews University International Food Fair unique is that people can sample food from around the world and at the same time support more than 20 international student organizations.

With sunny skies and temperatures in the 50s, people flocked to the 50th annual international food fair Sunday afternoon in the Johnson Gym on the Andrews campus.

Organizers predicted that 5,000 people or more would attend the annual event and help raise $30,000 to $35,000 for student and community organizations.

As is always the case, the problem was too many food choices, not too few. Fairgoers could sample food from France to India, from Korea and China, Peru and Brazil and from the Caribbean to South Africa.

A few booths specialized in American food like ice cream, popcorn, corn dogs and cotton candy for the less adventurous.

Andrews employee Robert Benjamin was in charge of this year's fair, working to iron out any last-minute glitches and pointing people in the direction of the type of cuisine they like. It was his second year attending the food fair and first year in charge.

"What impresses me is to see the community support for the food fair and the wide variety of ethnic dishes people can sample," he said.

"We have 22 booths today with all kinds of cuisine," he said Sunday. "Each of the clubs raise the funds for their whole year of operation at the food fair. This is their only fundraiser."

During most of the year Benjamin helps out with international students, making sure they have the resources they need at Andrews. He works on a regular basis with the university's 700 foreign students who come from more than 100 countries.

Booths like the ones featuring Caribbean and Indian food were among the most popular with people waiting in lines to get some of their favorite dishes.

Andrews sophomore Michael Choi started out his food fair adventure by sampling the food from the Korean and Chinese booths. He attended his first food fair last year when he was a freshman but was familiar with the format as his high school in Washington state held one every year.

"If I had to choose a non-Asian booth, I like the food at the Brazil booth," he said.

Marianne Berdland of Berrien Springs was waiting in line outside the South Asian Student Association booth which featured Indian specialties like samosas, dal, curry and chapatis. "This is my first time here. I just want to look around and see the different kinds of food," she said. "I wanted to do something different."

South Asian Student Association co-president Iris Peter said students make most of the food at her booth but get the samosas in Chicago. She said students worked through the night Saturday into Sunday morning getting the food ready.

Curry dishes could be found in a number of the booths including the Caribbean Nations Club. President Clinton Moriah said their booth was a team effort with some students working overnight to prepare the foods and others coming in to volunteer during the hours of the food fair. When asked his favorite food, he not surprisingly said Caribbean food, although he added that it's fun to see all the different cuisines represented.

"Caribbean food is the best food," he said. "It tastes good, is spicy and is also nutritious."

He said Caribbean cuisine is diverse, with Spanish, English, French, Haitian and Jamaican influences. Two of the most popular dishes are curry and roti which is like a tortilla.

"With the curry, we've taken an Indian dish and made it our own," he said.

A club that always has American food is the Pathfinders Club of middle and high school students from Pioneer Memorial Church. Club advisor Jonathan Burt said his club has been a part of the food fair for nearly 50 years and always gives people a choice of American favorites like popcorn, corn dogs and cotton candy.

More than 70 club members helped out with the food fair to raise money to go to an international campout in Oshkosh, Wis.. They also wanted to collect donations to help a Haitian Pathfinders Club attend.

Pillow Drive

Hug a lonely hurting foster kid by donating a new pillow and pillowcase for them. Many kids have to leave everything behind when they come into care. According to the Department of Human Services, a pillow to hug, one that is theirs and they can take with them can bring such comfort when their world is bad. To provide foster kids with this comforting pillow, a Pillow Drive is under way to collect NEW Pillows and Pillowcases.

Pillows and Pillowcases can be dropped in decorated boxes at the following locations:

- Village Do It Hardware,
- Campus Ministry Andrews University,
- Pioneer Memorial Church--2 Lobbies,
- WAUS Howard/Performing Arts Center,
- Countryside Academy--Benton Harbor, South Shore
- Women’s Health Care--St. Joseph,
- Niles Westside Adventist Church/School--Niles.

First Haitian American SDA Group Guest Day

We will have a community guest day on April 12, 2014. First Haitian American Seventh-day Adventist Group will honor six social institutions who greatly contribute to our communities: The president of Village, Deputy Chief of Police, Methodist Church, T&T auto repair, Mobile Home Park. If someone can be there to cover the whole service from 11:00am to 1:00pm and write a story about it that will be awesome. In the afternoon we have a benefit concert with Progressive Baptist Choir, Bell Choir, Journey, and Girls of Mercy at 5:00PM. The donations will go to support a devastated Seventh-day Adventist Church in Haiti and our free breakfast ministry in the Mobile Home Park every Sabbath.

All Nations Church Service March 29, 2014

On Sabbath March 29, 2014 the church service at All Nations will honor Senior Citizens in our community. Our speakers will be Joy Alexander and Deborah Lewis-Spates. The title of the message is "Ask Them About it". We invite everyone to celebrate their story with us.

Loma Linda University Health TV show to air nationally on PBS’s WORLD Channel beginning April 4

LOMA LINDA, CA., March 18, 2014 – Loma Linda University Health’s (LLUH) first national TV show will soon reach 72 million American households. “Life on the Line,” which features courageous individuals and turns their journeys into a moving documentary series, premieres on PBS’s WORLD Channel on April 4, 2014 at 6:00 p.m. ET/PT.

“Working on this series has been an amazing experience,” said Patricia Kelikani, director of Advancement Films at LLUH. “This show isn’t just about the doctors, but how real people find meaning in the midst of a tragedy. This is where the real story lives and their strength of spirit shines.”

Narrated by celebrity host and journalist, Lisa Ling, and produced by the 12-time Emmy Award winning team, Advancement Films, “Life on the Line” zeroes in on Loma Linda University Health—which serves one-quarter of Southern California—and equips medical teams to travel around the world. The show follows patients from Southern California to the Amazon, Haiti, and Egypt as they all fight a similar battle: to stay alive.

The series features six unique half-hour episodes:

- Ep. 1 – “Heart to Heart” tells the story of a family whose newborn baby desperately needs a heart transplant to survive.
- Ep. 2 – “Out of the Rubble” captures the life of an 8-year-old Haitian boy who was trapped under earthquake rubble for three days.
- Ep. 3 – “End it Now,” follows three child abuse victims as they learn to move beyond the trauma and live their lives to the fullest.
- Ep. 4 – “Baby Blue” shows how doctors from opposite sides of the globe collaborate to save Egyptian babies born with congenital heart disease.
- Ep. 5 – “Armed for the Challenge” features an athlete who sets out to prove that disability doesn’t mean inability.
Ep. 6 – “Anchoring Hope” features a medical boat from Loma Linda University providing much needed health care services for people living in the underserved Amazon jungle.

“Life on the Line” will air on Fridays with repeats throughout the week. During each viewing, two episodes will appear back-to-back. In addition to airing on the WORLD Channel in April, the show will air on PBS stations throughout the country in July. For the full schedule, episode previews and more information about the show visit www.lifeontheline.tv.
