Phonathon Campaign Kicks Off Monday, October 6
Monday, October 6, marks the kickoff for this year’s Fund for Andrews Phonathon Campaign! This annual event gives current students the opportunity to connect with Andrews alumni to verify their contact info, update them on all the exciting happenings at Andrews, and to ask for their financial support to help ensure that every student continues to receive a life-changing academic experience at Andrews.

This year marks a significant change for the Phonathon campaign. In the past, Phonathon has run for just 10 weeks during Fall semester. This year, students will be calling during both Fall and Spring semesters. “This is an exciting endeavor for the students,” says Alisa Williams, Annual Giving Coordinator for the Office of Development. “We will be able to reach even more alumni by calling both semesters, plus provide a year-long job opportunity for our fantastic group of student callers.”

This year’s Phonathon students are:
Allysha Blackman (Behavioral Sciences/Public Health)
Aldania Calderon (Psychology)
Brittany Crawford (Religion/General Studies)
Rebecca Fortune (Pre-Physical Therapy)
Ashley French (Nutrition Science)
Natalie Permaul (Pre-Physical Therapy)
Tasha Philidor (Wellness/Speech-Language Pathology)
Rose Pierre (Family Studies)
Areni Calderon – Supervisor (Business Management)
Danielle Pilgrim – Supervisor (Masters of Divinity)

Please keep this group of students in your prayers throughout the year as they connect with alumni and raise money for the Fund for Andrews, which supports student scholarships, academic research, and the heart of campus life. For more information on Phonathon and all that the Fund for Andrews supports, please visit the Office of Development website at: http://www.andrews.edu/services/development/

AFIA is a club on the campus of Andrews University that promotes Filipino culture, values, and traditions to the students of the campus and the people of the community. AFIA aims to create a diverse network of connections and relationships, bringing together anyone who may be interested in Filipino culture through a variety of events and programs. In addition to providing memorable experiences through fun events, AFIA also strives to inspire the spirit of love and support by bringing awareness to any struggles that some people in our community may be facing.

This year AFIA has collaborated with the MRSA Survivors Network in hopes of raising awareness and funds for this great organization. MRSA is an acronym for Methicillin Resistant Staphylococcus Aureus, a type of bacterium that causes serious infections, prompting more deaths than HIV. The MRSA Survivors Network is “the global leader and voice in awareness, prevention, support, and advocacy” of MRSA. To learn more about the organization, you may visit: http://www.mrsasurvivors.org/about.

The 2014 5K Rice Run will take place on 5 October 2014 at 8 AM in St. Joseph, Michigan, starting at Margaret B. Upton Aboretum. Registration is now live at http://alumni.andrews.edu/events/afia-5k-run/, costing $25 for general registration and $20 for student registration. Andrews Kicks off United Way Campaign
by Becky St. Clair

The 2014 Andrews University United Way Campaign begins October 1. This annual event encourages faculty and staff to support the local chapter of United Way, an organization that strives to provide people and families in local communities with education, income stability and healthy lives. United Way also works to provide basic needs in times of crisis.

The theme for this year's campaign is "Bursting Out of the Andrews Bubble" to support the community in which we all live. Rebecca May, campus and community relations coordinator, and Dalry Payne, executive assistant to the president, co-chairs of the Andrews University United way Employee Campaign, and Cutis VanderWaal, professor of social work and campaign advisor, lead the campus campaign.

"Healthy communities are good for all of us," says May. "It helps us build stronger, more sustainable places to live and work."

The Andrews goals this year are to raise $25,000 with 30 percent participation by both faculty and staff. Gifts of all kinds are welcome and encouraged, including gifts of volunteering with United Way. All funds will go directly to United Way of Southwest Michigan.

"We may never be able to top our 2012 incentive of President Andreasen jumping into the pool in his business suit," says May, "but we do plan to have a little fun along the way."

To help achieve these goals, for the first time this year the Andrews campus has been divided into seven groups, with 13 campus leaders acting as United Way campaign spokespersons at staff meetings and United Way rallies, and answering questions about the campaign on an individual basis.

"We've asked faculty and staff to prayerfully consider how they can support this worthy endeavor," says May. "We have made improvements in our participation over the last several years, but it's time to get more involved, better informed, and go outside our Andrews and Adventist bubble and do even more to support the needs of our neighbors."

The United Way campaign on the Andrews campus ends on October 31. For any questions or to make a donation of funds or time, consult the United Way campaign packet you received October 1. For more information on United Way of Southwest Michigan, visit uwsm.org or follow them at facebook.com/unitedwayswmich.

Barnes & Noble to Take Over Bookstore
by Jenna Neil

Andrews University administration has announced their decision to change management of the University bookstore from Tree of Life to Barnes and Noble. The full transition will take place the week of October 3–10, 2014. The store will open as a Barnes & Noble store on Monday, October 13.

"The process of deciding who to bring in as a new bookstore manager began with a recommendation from the faculty that it was time for a change," says Larry Schalk, vice president for Financial Administration.

As a result, a committee was formed and began meeting last spring. The committee was made up of three faculty members, one academic dean, the provost, the chief financial officer, two support staff from IT and the bookstore, and two students. Together they discussed various options, settling on four finalists. Barnes & Noble was ultimately chosen because they are one of the biggest vendors who provide this type of service.

Bookstore inventory will stay very much the same, from textbooks and general reading books to food, apparel and office supplies.

"One of the main things we can be assured of is quality service for students and faculty alike," says Schalk.

The bookstore will be closed October 3–10 for the transition. No business will be possible during this time, including textbook purchases.

No cost for kids in preschool up to fifth grade!

And with school pictures around the corner for Berrien Springs students, volunteers say it was the perfect time to set up shop.

“We discovered that October 1 is picture day at Mars and Sylvester Elementary,” said Rodlie Ortiz, Pastor at Pioneer Memorial Church. “We said what a perfect opportunity. Let’s come in just a few days before picture day on a Sunday and we’ll give free haircuts so they can look good for picture day.”

But volunteers wanted to make sure students had some fun after their fresh cuts as well.

So they put on a fun fair, which included playing games with college students, painting pumpkins and getting their faces painted.

Ebola a small threat to U.S.

By LOUISE WREGE – HP Staff Writer | Posted: Friday, September 26, 2014 6:00 am

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The Ebola virus ravaging West Africa poses little threat to the U.S., a researcher told an Andrews University audience Thursday.

But doing nothing about the deadly outbreak is not an option.

If nothing is done to stop the spread, officials at the Centers for Disease Control estimate that by January, 550,000 people in West Africa will have contracted Ebola and 300,000 will have died, according to Robert Stahelin, associate professor in the chemistry department at the University of Notre Dame.

He spoke Thursday to chemistry students at Andrews University in Oronoko Township.

If the Ebola virus reaches the United States, he said the virus will not have the same impact it is having in Africa. He said he is confident it would be quickly contained and there would be few deaths. He said the virus spreads through bodily fluids and direct contact, so patients need to be isolated, which local medical facilities are ready to do.

In addition, he said supportive care with fluids and electrolytes is important while a person is fighting the virus, things that are also easily available in the United States.

He said there have been almost 3,000 deaths in almost 6,000 cases of Ebola in West Africa since the current outbreak began in December 2013.

"But the CDC estimates that this has been grossly underreported," said Stahelin, who is also an associate professor of biochemistry and molecular biology at the Indiana University School of Medicine - South Bend. "There could be as many as 2.5 times the cases and fatalities that have been reported thus far."

Unlike previous outbreaks, he said this one centers around large cities like Monrovia, the capitol of Liberia, which has about 1 million people.

The largest outbreak previous to the current one was in 2000, when there were around 470 patients and about half of them died, he said.
He said many people don't know that there has been a second, independent outbreak of the Ebola virus in the Republic of Congo. He said genetic sequencing shows that it's a different strain of the virus.

"In that outbreak, there have been about 68 cases and about 41 fatalities so far," he said.

He said ever since the first outbreak of Ebola in Zaire in 1976, there has been an outbreak every few years. But those outbreaks have been much smaller than the current one.

Stahelin said he doesn't study the Ebola virus itself, but one of its proteins called VP-40. He said that protein allows the virus to replicate. If a drug can be found to inhibit that protein, he said that will help slow Ebola's spread.

One of the problems with the Ebola virus is it isn't round like most viruses, making it difficult to produce a vaccine for it. Instead, he said Ebola has long, sometimes branched filaments.

Stahelin said the best way to keep the Ebola virus from spreading is if the people in West Africa believe what is being taught to them about how to stop the spread.

"One of the problems now is resistance," he said. "We've had a few deaths in Guinea, where a village essentially attacked some people who were there to communicate how to be clean with Ebola and how to not transmit the virus. Even the Red Cross, while bearing bodies ... were attacked by some people."

He said the region has had prior conflict, which is making it difficult.

"If people aren't buying in, it could be a real big problem," he said.

He said there hasn't been an Ebola outbreak before in West Africa, so there hasn't been education on the virus in this region.

"We've had people hiding from doctors. People not going in when they get sick," he said. "If you don't go in when you get sick, your family takes care of you. You might die, but then they get the virus and someone has to take care of them."

In West Africa, he said they are finding that every person with the virus is infecting on average another two people.

"That's where you get the exponential growth in the outbreak," he said.

He said traditional burial rituals are also helping spread the virus.

"In many of these countries, the ritual is to have everyone kiss the body," he said. "Especially early in death, that's really bad because there's still a lot of bodily fluids on the face, and the body can still transmit the virus even though it's died for a number of hours or even a day or two."

He said symptoms appear between two and 21 days after exposure.

"People usually succumb to the virus in two to three weeks. If they live longer than three weeks, they're usually in the recovery phase," he said.
But the virus can cause lifelong problems for survivors. Many of the secondary health problems are similar to rheumatoid arthritis, he said.

He said many people believe, but it isn't certain, that the Ebola virus lies dormant in fruit bats.

Prayer for LaRonda Forsey’s Hospitalized Son

Update: You can keep up to date with everything going on with Drew’s progress on the Pray 4 Drew 4C Facebook page.

Drew, son of La Ronda Forsey, associate dean for the School of Distance Education and K-12 principal for Griggs International Academy, was in a bicycle accident on Tuesday evening, July 22. La Ronda and a friend drove through the night to get to the hospital to be with him. Drew sustained serious head trauma and broken scapula. His lungs were bruised from the impact so he is on a ventilator but at times breathing on his own.

It is believed that Drew’s bicycle tire malfunctioned throwing him over the handlebars landing on his head. His helmet was mashed and pushed off to the side of his head, so he received some abrasions. Cyclists happened upon Drew lying in the ditch and called 911. One was trained as a first responder and was able to assess Drew’s condition and inform the ambulance team when they arrived.

Currently Drew is in Erlanger hospital in Chattanooga Tennessee. While it has not yet been determined what

ASAP Ministries Vespers at All Nations Church

Jee Won maintains an exciting and diverse performing career as a pianist and solo vocalist. He gained national attention when his multi-media soundtrack “Lotus” was presented at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in 1999. One year later, he was given the opportunity to embark on a seven-country concert and workshop tour sponsored by Yamaha Pianos. What a blessing Jee Wong has been through using his talents for the Lord! We are grateful that Jee Wong has chosen to represent ASAP Ministries through benefit concerts that help the needy in Southeast Asia.

During the 45-minute vespers service provided at All Nations Church coming Friday evening, October 4, Jee Wong will engage in ministering to the young people through music, testimonies, and prayer. Admission is free and all donations from the concert will go towards spreading the Gospel to the poor in Southeast Asia.

Day of Action for Seniors

Community seniors need your help. According to the Weather Channel, last year’s winter was one of the coldest on record in Michigan, and sources predict the upcoming winter to be no different.

If you already signed up to volunteer - that’s great, feel free to forward this email to a friend or co-worker. If you haven’t signed up yet, please make sure to do so by Friday, October 10th.

Volunteer teams are needed to rake leaves, clean gutters, and weatherize windows for seniors citizens in your community! These activities can be difficult, if not impossible, for seniors. They can easily fall, strain muscles or simply not be physically able to do the work. But with your help, seniors could be ready for winter!

Thursday, November 6, 2014 marks the 4th Annual Day of Action for Seniors where volunteers LIVE UNITED by helping Berrien & Cass County seniors winterize their homes. The goal is to serve 200 senior citizens in our community all on one day! To reach that goal, we need 500 volunteers!

Sign Up Here
Volunteer Sign Up Deadline is October 10, 2014

Eau Claire SDA Church for Sept. 27

Eau Claire SDA Church
6562 Naomi Road
Eau Claire, MI 49111

Sabbath Speaker: Pastor Gary Thurber
Sermon Title: "Opening Our Hearts"

Church Service 10:50 am
Sabbath School 9:15 am
The monthly meeting of the Berrien Springs Camera Club will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 1, at 7 p.m. in the Berrien Springs Public Library at Cass (Old 31) and Union. This month's program consists of a competition of prints and projected images, submitted by members, the first competition of the current season.

As usual, there will be two select topics for the month. In addition, "Nature" is always an acceptable category, as are "Open" (any subject) and "Portraits." The two select categories for the October competition are "Rocks" and "Marinas." The former could include rocks of any size or substance, but must be the main focus of the picture. The latter can bring out visits to marinas around the world or close to home, overviews or close-ups. "Nature" photos are to show nothing from human hands (no wires, fences, cultivated flowers, etc.). Thus a member can submit images in any of five categories or a combination thereof, though extra points are given for acceptances in the two select categories.

Prints, at least 5" x 7" in size, should be mounted, with the title and photographer's name on the back. Digital submissions, however, need to be sent in ahead, with instructions for submitting them on the club's blog site: http://berrienspringscameraclub.blogspot.com/

Any member may submit up to 10 projected images and/or 10 prints for the competition, but no one is obligated to do so. Pictures are shown one at a time, and three judges score them by machine. The total points determine whether a photo is rated "honor," "acceptance," or "out." From the "honors," a Slide-of-the-Month and a Print-of-the-Month are selected. Photographers' names are not revealed for the "out" category. No one need feel embarrassment; this is a group of friends sharing experiences and tips for better photography.

All are welcome, either to observe or to join. Refreshments will be served.
Introductory cost is only $25 for your first hour, $15 per half hour, for students all the time. Contact Ray for regular, competitive rates. Ask about free, limited-time massage doula services to reduce the pain, stress, and length of labor in childbirth. 30 no-cost massages of any type are available for those with Adventist Risk Management insurance, including sponsored seminary students.

According to the American Diabetes Association, diabetes is the biggest public health crisis of the twenty-first century. Nearly 26 million children and adults in the United States have diabetes, including 7 million people who have not yet been diagnosed, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. In 2010, about 1.9 million new cases of diabetes were diagnosed in adults age 20 or older. In addition, another 79 million adults are estimated to have pre-diabetes, a condition that increases the risk for diabetes. Early diagnosis of the disease is critical to successful treatment in order to delay or prevent complications such as heart disease, stroke, blindness, and kidney disease.
