Howard Center Presents....Telegraph Quartet
Concert at 4:00 pm on Sunday, October 12
In collaboration with the WACS Second Sunday concert series, the Howard Center presents the Telegraph Quartet. The Telegraph Quartet, from San Francisco, California, won the Grand Prize and the Gold Medal in the Senior String Division in the 2014 Fiscoff National Chamber Music Competition. This ensemble includes a first and second violin, a viola and a cello. Founded in 1987, the Fiscoff Grand Prize is an esteemed award given at the largest chamber music competition in the world. As part of the prestigious honor of winning the competition, the Telegraph Quartet is touring America's Midwest region, stopping at the Howard Performing Arts Center along the way, and will eventually go on to tour in Italy's Emilia Romagna Festival in 2015.

Producers’ Anniversary Showing of Midnight Cry! Film Screening
Producers’ Anniversary Film Screening of The Midnight Cry! William Miller and the End of the World
T. N. Mohan, long-time award winning documentary film maker, will be on campus on Wednesday, October 22, as a guest at a 20th anniversary screening of the feature-length film, The Midnight Cry! William Miller and the End of the World.

The event will be held in Newbold Auditorium in Buller Hall on the campus of Andrews University at 7:00 p.m. Co-curricular credit is available for Andrews undergraduate students.

The 102-minute film was originally released on the same date in 1994, on the exact 150th anniversary of the “Passing of the Time,” or “Great Disappointment,” that marked the culmination of the Millerite Movement and the theological impetus of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. This screening will take place on the 170th anniversary of that event.

Mohan has been a filmmaker for more than 30 years. His award-winning works focus on major aspects of the Protestant heritage. These include, among many others, feature-length or multi-part documentaries on Martin Luther, Charles Wesley, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, a 17 part series on the Apostle’s Creed, and his current project—a major series on 500 years of the Protestant Reformation.

At the screening, Mohan will give a short introduction to the film, and answer questions at the end. He will be joined by Ronald Knott, director of Andrews University Press. Knott was the associate executive producer, on behalf of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, and the chief writer. He will also give a brief introduction.

Knott said that the film remains the definitive audio-visual treatment of the rise of Adventism. It is narrated by Academy Award-winning actor Cliff Robertson, provides rich period musical and visual elements, and features expert commentary by George R. Knight and other specialists in American religious history.

“For Adventists, this screening, on the actual anniversary of that momentous day, should be more than just a historical retrospective,” Knott said. “It should be a spiritual event as well.”

The screening is sponsored by the Church History department of the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, and by Andrews University Press.

Karena Griffiths at AICER

Topic: Education in Rural Communities of Developing Countries

Hundreds of children in rural communities are denied the opportunity to continue their education after primary school because the distance to secondary school is not financially possible or safe. One issue I observed in Madagascar is the lack of quality education and the absence of secondary schools in rural neighborhoods. This presentation examines ways to improve education and the types of emphasis secondary schools may focus on to improve rural communities’ educational standards in developing countries.

Venue: Bell Hall, Room 013

Online participants to login as "Guest" at https://andrews.adobeconnect.com/_a877709416/research/ or http://www.andrews.edu/ed/aicer/researchwebinars/ whether or not they are registered Andrews students.

Microsoft Office Support

Do you have questions about Microsoft 2013? Are you working on a project and would like more one-on-one assistance on how to complete it to better meet your needs? Do you have more general questions about Word, PowerPoint, Excel, or any of the other Microsoft Office applications?

During the month of October we are offering a few opportunities for Microsoft Office Support in various buildings around campus (in the same fashion as "Moodling with Marsha"). These will be general help sessions (with no planned training agenda) opened to Faculty or Staff that have questions and would like some support in Microsoft Office.

DATE, TIME, AND LOCATION
October 8, 3:30-5:30pm Bell Hall, room 179
October 13, 1:00-3:00pm Administration Building, room 306
October 13, 3:30-5:30pm James White Library, Instruction lab in Media Center
October 15, 3:30-5:30pm Buller Hall, 2nd floor student lounge
October 20, 3:30-5:30pm Chan Shun Hall, room 224
October 22, 3:30-5:30pm Science Complex, Biology lobby

Total Lunar Eclipse

Andrews University Astronomy Club invites you to join them at Weko Beach on Wednesday from 5:30-8 am to view the second total lunar eclipse of 2014.

You can find more information about the eclipse at NASA’s Eclipse Web Site or space.com.
We'll have binoculars on hand to look for Uranus. It will be visible near the Moon during the eclipse, thus making it easier to find.

The first row of parking spaces will be reserved for astrophotographers and telescopes.

Dress warmly—you'll be glad you did!

For more information, contact Belinda Cheeseboro.

Weather permitting; cancellation will be announced via twitter.com/auastrowatch.

Phonathon Campaign Kicks Off Monday, October 6

Monday, October 6, marks the kickoff for this year's Fund for Andrews Phonathon Campaign! This annual event gives current students the opportunity to connect with Andrews alumni to verify their contact info, update them on all the exciting happenings at Andrews, and to ask for their financial support to help ensure that every student continues to receive a life-changing academic experience at Andrews.

This year marks a significant change for the Phonathon campaign. In the past, Phonathon has run for just 10 weeks during Fall semester. This year, students will be calling during both Fall and Spring semesters. "This is an exciting endeavor for the students," says Alisa Williams, Annual Giving Coordinator for the Office of Development. "We will be able to reach even more alumni by calling both semesters, plus provide a year-long job opportunity for our fantastic group of student callers."

This year’s Phonathon students are:

Allysha Blackman (Behavioral Sciences/Public Health)
Alidana Calderon (Psychology)
Brittany Crawford (Religion/General Studies)
Rebecca Fortune (Pre-Physical Therapy)
Ashley French (Nutrition Science)
Natalie Permaul (Pre-Physical Therapy)
Tasha Philidor (Wellness/Speech-Language Pathology)
Rose Pierre (Family Studies)
Areni Calderon – Supervisor (Business Management)
Danielle Pilgrim – Supervisor (Masters of Divinity)

Please keep this group of students in your prayers throughout the year as they connect with alumni and raise money for the Fund for Andrews, which supports student scholarships, academic research, and the heart of campus life. For more information on Phonathon and all that the Fund for Andrews supports, please visit the Office of Development website at: http://www.andrews.edu/services/development/

Waldensian Exhibit @ your library

Come immerse yourself in our Waldensian-themed photographic and historical exhibit! The exhibit, organized by the James White Library's Architecture Resource Center, features photos and artifacts from Andrews University's annual Waldensian tour in the mountains of Northern Italy. The Waldenses, a people persecuted for their faith, lived a simplistic lifestyle.

Listening to Classical Music

On Monday, October 6, Marianne Kordas, Andrews University music librarian, and Rev. David Alan Reed will present Listening to Classical Music at the Berrien Springs Community Library at 7pm.

Do you like Mozart's Eine kleine nacht musik? Have you wondered what makes classical music "classical"? Then this presentation is for you! We will explore the main musical genres of the early 18th century, Thomas Jefferson's violin-playing hobby, and the fascinating life of Joseph Bologne, Chevalier de Saint-Georges, an Afro-French aristocrat, swordsman, composer, and violinist known as the "black Mozart."

There will be light refreshments and a chance to win CDs. Co-curricular credit will be offered for Andrews University students. All are welcome, and admission is FREE.

Math, Physics Major Presents to NSA

Isabel Stafford, senior math and physics major, completed her internship through the math department of North Carolina State University in the Research Experience for Undergraduates program (REU).

Through REU 47 students worked on 14 different projects. Stafford worked with two other undergrads and a mentor.

"We designed a cost-efficient, permanent-magnet klystron capable of powering a future high-energy particle accelerator," shared Stafford.

Klystrons—the device Stafford and her team worked on designing—take the power from an electron beam and turn it into radio-frequency power. The problem with these Klystrons is that their power output is limited by the energy of the electron beam.

"The solution we found was putting several electron beams in the same klystron," Stafford says.

After working for almost two months, Stafford, along with her team, managed to design a multiple-beam Klystron that output about forty megawatts of power. Stafford and her group then presented these findings to the National Security Agency (NSA), and in another decade or so their design could possibly be used in what will replace the Large Hadron Collider—the most powerful particle accelerator ever built.

"My mentor, Dr. Tran, told us that a few representatives from the NSA would be dropping by to check out everyone's research," said Stafford. "They also wanted to see a few in-depth presentations about the summer's research. Dr. Tran and the other program coordinators decided that they wanted my group to present because of the success and practicality of our research."

Although Stafford has yet to decide on a career goal, she very much looks forward to graduating in May 2016 and is grateful for the experience and knowledge she has gained through this internship.

"The research program was a really great experience," she says. "I got to hang out in North Carolina with a bunch of other people who really like math and physics for a whole summer, while doing research that's actually important."

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR READING, LEARNING & ASSESSMENT OFFERS DYSLEXIA TESTING AND OTHER SERVICES

The Andrews University Center for Reading, Learning & Assessment offers assessments and interventions for multiple learning disabilities to both students and community members. One important service is dyslexia intervention.

"One in five students in the U.S. are affected by dyslexia," says Susan Barton, dyslexia and ADHD expert.

Testing services offered by the UCRLA include:

- Full psycho-educational assessments
In addition to testing services, the UCRLA offers interventions for memory, cognitive and language processing issues. They also offer one-on-one sessions for those dealing with dyslexia, preparing for the GED, or looking for study strategies.

“You or someone you know is probably struggling with reading, and as a result, learning becomes overwhelming,” says Annabelle Lopez, consultant for the UCRLA. “And that’s why we’re here—to help.”

For more information about these services or to schedule an appointment, visit andrews.edu/sed/ucrla, email ucrla@andrews.edu or call 269-471-3480. A fee is charged for services.

"Ellen Harmon White: American Prophet"

Andrews University welcomes Adventist Forum presentation "Ellen White Goes Public: The Collaborative Biography Project—Ellen Harmon White: American Prophet" on Saturday, Oct. 18, at 3:30 p.m. Terrie Dopp Aamodt, co-editor of the book and professor of history and English at Walla Walla University (College Place, Washington), will present in the Garber Auditorium of Chan Shun Hall on the campus of Andrews University. This event is free and open to the public.

Ellen White's 70-year career included numerous encounters with the public. In the 1860s and 1870s, as she began to emerge as a public speaker, she sought to add audiences beyond the Adventist gatherings that packed her and her husband's schedules.

"During an era when women were not encouraged to enter the public sphere, much less speak to 'promiscuous' (mixed) audiences, White developed a powerful public voice," says Aamodt. "She spoke on religious topics in non-Adventist churches, particularly favoring Methodist congregations, and she also became a sought-after temperance lecturer in civic halls and at open-air camp meeting venues."

White's publicists sought newspaper coverage of these events, and she welcomed reporters' questions and scrutiny. Since her death in 1915, however, her story has been re-told almost exclusively within her own Seventh-day Adventist faith.

"Audiences outside the Adventist church know much less about Ellen White today than they did at the time of her death, which was widely noted in American newspapers," notes Aamodt.

The 2014 volume from Oxford University Press, Ellen Harmon White: American Prophet, introduces her to a general academic audience, where she is little known. Aamodt will discuss past events and future trends in the ongoing story of White's relationship with the public.

Aamodt holds a degree from Washington Adventist University (Takoma Park, Maryland) and a master's in English from The College of William and Mary in Virginia. In addition, Aamodt earned a PhD in American and New England Studies from Boston University in 1986, where her dissertation examined the idea of apocalypse in the American Civil War.

In 2007 Aamodt helped form a planning group for a national academic conference on Ellen White held in Portland, Maine, in 2009. Those efforts led to the publication of Ellen Harmon White: American Prophet by Oxford University Press in April 2014, a collective biography of 18 chapters written by 21 authors. Her current project is writing Ellen White: Voice and Vision, a volume in the Adventist Pioneers biography series edited by George Knight.

School of Ed Online Program Ranks High

The Andrews University School of Education's online master's degree program in K–12 educational leadership has been ranked among the top 25 programs of its kind in the United States. BestColleges.com placed Andrews at number 17, ahead of both Michigan State University and Purdue University.

"I'm always pleased when professionals recognize the quality of our program," says Jim Jeffery, dean of the School of Education. "I especially want to recognize our excellent professors for their hard work in making this program so great."

Jeffery specifically acknowledged Janet Ledesma, educational leadership program coordinator, who spearheaded both the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) and Michigan Department of Education (MDE) accreditation for the master's in K–12 educational leadership, as well as Duane Covrig and Sylvia Gonzalez, professors of leadership and educational leadership.

Andrews Kicks off United Way Campaign

by Becky St. Clair

The 2014 Andrews University United Way Campaign begins October 1. This annual event encourages faculty and staff to support United Way, an organization that strives to provide people and families in local communities with education, income stability and healthy lives. United Way also works to provide basic needs in times of crisis.

The theme for this year's campaign is "Bursting the Andrews Bubble" to support the community in which we all live. Rebecca May, campus and community relations coordinator, and Dairy Payne, executive assistant to the president, co-chairs of the Andrews University United way Employee Campaign, and Cutis VanderWaal, professor of social work and campaign advisor, lead the campus campaign.
"Healthy communities are good for all of us," says May. "It helps us build stronger, more sustainable places to live and work."

The Andrews goals this year are to raise $25,000 with 30 percent participation by both faculty and staff. Gifts of all kinds are welcome and encouraged, including gifts of volunteering with United Way. All funds will go directly to United Way of Southwest Michigan.

"We may never be able to top our 2012 incentive of President Andreasen jumping into the pool in his business suit," says May, "but we do plan to have a little fun along the way."

To help achieve these goals, for the first time this year the Andrews campus has been divided into seven groups, with 13 campus leaders acting as United Way campaign spokespersons at staff meetings and United Way rallies, and answering questions about the campaign on an individual basis.

"We've asked faculty and staff to prayerfully consider how they can support this worthy endeavor," says May. "We have made improvements in our participation over the last several years, but it's time to get more involved, better informed, and go outside our Andrews and Adventist bubble and do even more to support the needs of our neighbors."

The United Way campaign on the Andrews campus ends on October 31. For any questions or to make a donation of funds or time, consult the United Way campaign packet you received October 1. For more information on United Way of Southwest Michigan, visit uwsm.org or follow them at facebook.com/unitedwayswmich .

Howard Center Presents... Telegraph Quartet

Telegraph Quartet will perform at the Howard Performing Arts Center on the campus of Andrews University on Sunday, Oct. 12, 2014, at 4 p.m. The group is the 2014 Grand Prize and Gold Medal winner of the 41st Fischoff National Chamber Music Competition. Their concert repertoire includes one of Joseph Haydn's most ambitious chamber string quartet pieces, the first string quartet by American Pulitzer-prize-winning composer Leon Kirchner, and a string quartet dedicated to the Crown Prince of Sweden by Felix Mendelssohn.

The quartet, comprised of Eric Chin (violin), Joseph Maile (violin), Pei-Ling Lin (viola) and Jeremiah Shaw (cello), are from San Francisco, California. Their Fischoff Competition winner's tour brings them across America’s Midwest region as well as the Emilia Romagna region of Italy in the summer of 2015.

Founded in 1987, the Fischoff Grand Prize is an esteemed award given at the largest chamber music competition in the world.

Tickets are required. They are $5, or free for Andrews University faculty, staff and students. Tickets can be obtained online at Howard.andrews.edu or at the box office by calling 888-467-6442.

The Howard Performing Arts Center is a premier 850-seat concert hall on the campus of Andrews University. Founded in 1874, Andrews University is the flagship institution of higher education for the Seventh-day Adventist Church and offers more than 200 areas of study including advanced degrees. Its main campus is in Berrien Springs, Michigan, but the University also provides instruction at colleges and universities in over 30 countries around the world.

Professors Speak: Ebola Small Threat in U.S.
By JOHN MATUSZAK - HP Staff Writer | Posted: Friday, October 3, 2014 6:00 am

BENTON HARBOR - This year the Berrien County Health Department and Andrews University brought fresh fruit and vegetables to the neighborhoods of low-income residents with a mobile farm market.

Next year, they will offer to bring these nutritious foods right to the doorsteps of residents receiving government food assistance.

The Board of Health on Wednesday accepted a $100,000 grant from the Michigan Department of Community Health that will be used, in part, to work with Andrews University to offer their Consumer-Supported Agriculture program to those receiving SNAP food benefits.

Some of the grant funds will be used to buy equipment for Union Park in Benton Harbor.

In a Consumer-Supported Agriculture program, customers pay a fee before the growing season for a share of a farm's yield. Andrews runs a CSA operation through its student garden and orchards.

Nicki Britten, the health department's director of community health planning, said they will work out the details to make the CSA affordable for those receiving benefits through the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, or SNAP.

That could include a different level of membership, or allowing monthly payments with Bridge cards instead of a lump payment, Britten said.

This year the health department, as part of the Be Healthy Berrien consortium, worked with Andrews to operate a mobile farm market that made regular weekly stop at locations in Benton Harbor, Benton Township, Buchanan and Niles.

This project targeted low-income neighborhoods where residents live in "food deserts" with no access to stores that sell fresh fruit and vegetables. The mobile market accepted Bridge food assistance cards.

The health department also coordinates with the city of Benton Harbor to operate a farmers market.

People with limited incomes often lack reliable transportation, as well, Britten said. While the mobile... market was successful in bringing healthy foods to neighborhoods, the CSA program will bring it right to their homes, she said.

Participants in a CSA program select the types of produce they would like to receive.

The health department won't just dump baskets of food on residents and leave.

The CSA project will include cooking classes and recipes for those unfamiliar with how to prepare some of the available produce.

This is an extension of the nutrition education programs the health department has been offering.

Peggy Hamel, the clinical and community health services manager for the health department, reported Wednesday that her office had been approved for a $42,500 grant to continue its SNAP education program. The health department provides a 35 percent match.

This will be the second year the department has run the education program that took place at six food pantries in Benton Township, Coloma, Harbert, Niles and St. Joseph.

The project was funded with a combination of federal, state and local money.

The goal was to encourage people on a limited budget to make healthy food choices, said Cierra Pfotenhaurer, a recently hired public health nutritionist.

That includes making half your plate fruits and vegetables, at least half your grains whole grains, and switching to fat-free or low-fat milk and milk products, she said.

The message was spread through group and individual lessons, including cooking lessons, along with recipe cards and print and video ads.

Lessons were offered on selecting and storing fresh fruits and vegetables, planning meals, and preparing kid-friendly snacks. The participants were given storage containers, oven mitts and snack containers with flip-up lids.

The program has seen some success. Food pantry customers in Harbert reported that their daily consumption of fruit and vegetables had almost doubled from the first SNAP Ed visit in the spring to the most recent in September.

Plans for the coming year include "Cooking Matters" classes. The program is looking for a food pantry with access to a kitchen, and might hire a chef.

"A lot of people don't know how to cook, believe it or not," Hamel said.

SNAP Ed is providing the tools and the knowledge to overcome those barriers, she said.

Duane McBride, chairman of the Board of Health, said that most county residents don't eat enough fresh produce, and the numbers are getting worse.

He said these kinds of programs can have the most impact on children, which research shows can be trained to prefer healthy foods.

Preparing a healthy meal can be done on a busy schedule, said County Commissioner Cathy Thieneman, liaison to the board.

"People assume it takes longer to cook than to go through the drive-through of a restaurant," Thieneman said. "It doesn't."

Dr. Beverley Sturges honored with 2014 Faculty Clinical Excellence Award

Dr. Beverley Sturges received the 2014 School of Veterinary Medicine (SVM) Faculty Clinical Excellence Award in recognition of her exceptional commitment to patient care, outstanding clinical instruction for DVM and residency training, and her expertise and achievement in research to advance the discipline of clinical neurology and neurosurgery.

Dr. Sturges earned her BS and MS degrees from Andrews University and her DVM from Oregon State University. She pursued private practice in the USA for five years followed by four years in Sydney, Australia. Dr. Sturges returned to Davis to complete her residency in neurology and neurosurgery in 1998, became board certified in the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine in Neurology and joined the School’s faculty team.

Dr. Sturges is currently a Professor of Clinical Neurology and Neurosurgery, which involves a significant clinical commitment to one of the busiest clinical services at the teaching hospital. Faculty colleagues, students, and residents have described Dr. Sturges as creative in the operating room, with amazing skills and accuracy. She is recognized not only for her expertise, but for her investment in teaching veterinary students and young specialists to excel in their chosen fields of professional interest. As a teacher and mentor she expects her students to be focused, work hard and be dedicated to providing outstanding patient care services. Dr. Sturges is also viewed as compassionate and “very in-tune with the concerns of her owners.”

Dr. Sturges has pursued the advancement of clinical research with specific interest in intracranial and spinal neurosurgery and stem cell therapy for brain and spinal cord injury. She is extremely well respected at the state, national and international level for her expertise in clinical neurology and neurosurgery, and has been described as one of the premier neurosurgeons in veterinary medicine.

The SVM Faculty Award for Clinical Excellence was established in 2014 in order to honor professorial or staff veterinarians in the SVM who demonstrate exceptional, sustained, and significant achievements in patient care, clinical instruction, and advancing clinical veterinary medicine. This award recognizes faculty whose ability, dedication, character, and leadership contribute significantly to the reputation of the School’s clinical programs.
BERRIEN SPRINGS, Mich.--- Now that school is back in session, it is time to smile wide for the yearbook picture.

Some people in southwest Michigan wanted to make sure students looked their best.

On Sunday afternoon, hair stylists across Michiana snipped, braided, and buzzed in a studio set up in the Berrien Springs High School gym.

The selling point?

No cost for kids in preschool up to fifth grade!

And with school pictures around the corner for Berrien Springs students, volunteers say it was the perfect time to set up shop.

"We discovered that October 1 is picture day at Mars and Sylvester Elementary," said Rodlie Ortiz, Pastor at Pioneer Memorial Church. "We said what a perfect opportunity. Let's come in just a few days before picture day on a Sunday and we'll give free haircuts so they can look good for picture day."

But volunteers wanted to make sure students had some fun after their fresh cuts as well.

So they put on a fun fair, which included playing games with college students, painting pumpkins and getting their faces painted.

Anne Paris, 1934-2014

October 7, 1934 - August 5, 2014

Anne Parris, 79, of Berrien Springs, passed away Tuesday afternoon, August 5, 2014, at her home. A Memorial Service will be at 3 p.m. Sunday, August 10, at All Nations Seventh-day Adventist Church in Berrien Springs, where she was a member. Friends are invited to visit with the family at the church from 1 - 3 p.m. prior to the service. Inurnment will be next to her husband in Ft. Custer National Cemetery. Memorial donations may be made to Berrien County Cancer Service. Allred Funeral Home, Berrien Springs, is serving the family, and online messages may be left at www.allredfuneralhome.com.

Anne was born October 7, 1934, in Saskatchewan, Canada, the daughter of Oscar and Anna (Hendrickson) Akre. She married Eddie Parris in Boulder, Colorado, on July 15, 1956. She earned a Bachelor’s degree in music from Andrews University, and in addition to caring for her family, she had worked at the Andrews University Bookstore. Survivors include two daughters: Laurena Parris of Orlando, Florida, and Sharilyn Pisarsky of Traverse City, Michigan; four sons: David of Belleville, Wisconsin; Keith (Carol) of Colorado Springs, Colorado; Donald of Ypsilanti, Michigan; and Jerry of Berrien Springs; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; and a brother, Mervyn Akre of Victoria, British Columbia. Anne was preceded in death by her husband, Eddie; and two sisters: Ruby (Victor) Caruso and Alice Ferraro.

Prayer for LaRonda Forsey’s Hospitalized Son

Update: You can keep up to date with everything going on with Drew’s progress on the Pray 4 Drew 4C Facebook page. Drew, son of La Ronda Forsey, associate dean for the School of Distance Education and K-12 principal for Griggs International Academy, was in a bicycle accident on Tuesday evening, July 22. La Ronda and a friend drove through the night to get to the hospital to be with him. Drew sustained serious head trauma and broken scapula. His lungs were bruised from the impact so he is on a ventilator but at times breathing on his own.

It is believed that Drew’s bicycle tire malfunctioned throwing him over the handlebars landing on his head. His helmet was smashed and pushed off to the side of his head, so he received some abrasions. Cyclists happened upon Drew lying in the ditch and called 911. One was trained as a first responder and was able to assess Drew’s condition and inform the ambulance team when they arrived.

Birth Doula

Are you expecting a baby?! Getting a birth doula for you and your family should be next on your to-do list!

Having a birth doula is becoming recognized as a game changer in improving physical outcomes and the emotional well-being of mamma and baby.

A couple of services provided include: teaching grounding techniques for early labor, hand/foot massages for early and active labor, teaching excellent movement and positioning techniques for labor, helping to relieve back labor, breastfeeding tips/advice...and much more!

Come on, I know you’re just a tad bit curious. So let your curiosity get the best of you and look into it!!

The initial consult is complimentary so you have got nothing to lose.
