Lamson Hall's Community Service Project

If you’d like to take part in a community service project, here’s how you can help Lamson Hall help others this semester!

YOU CAN...
- Bring non-perishable and/or canned foods to go towards struggling families on campus.
- Bring shingles or nails to go towards building homes for families in need.
- Donate money in support of one of the following causes:
  - ADRA—raising money for refugees from South Sudan and Central Africa
  - Habitat for Humanity—raising money for purchasing supplies to build home for families in need of housing.

All supplies and/or money can be dropped off at Lamson's front desk or you can see a Dean during office hours from 9am-5 pm or 7pm-10:30 pm.

Howard Center Presents...Charles & Julie Reid

Concert at 7:00 pm on Saturday, November 15

Love is a most notorious subject matter for poets and musicians. This fall, join Charles Reid, Director of Vocal Studies at Andrews University, as he shares a fun evening with the love of his life, Julie Reid. Come journey with them as they explore the wonderful complexities of love. Recognized as one of his generation's leading lyric tenors, Charles has sung on many of the world's most famous stages, including nine seasons with New York's Metropolitan Opera, San Francisco Opera, Theater an der Wien, Frankfurt Opera, Deutsche Oper am Rhein, and the festivals of Bayreuth, Salzburg, Spoleto USA, Glimmerglass, and Central City. A graduate of Westminster Choir College, mezzo-soprano Julie has concertized around the world with her husband. Since moving to Berrien Springs, she has become a regular in the concert scene of Southwest Michigan.

TICKETS REQUIRED: Reserved Seating $10, Students are Free

Purchase tickets online, or call our box office at 888-467-6442 for student discounts and more information.

Mission Study Tour - Lebanon 2015
If you are an undergrad student interested in a missions in the Middle East, consider the Lebanon 2015 Mission Study Tour sponsored by the Religion Department. During May 2015, the mission team will conduct campus ministry among the mostly non-SDA students at Middle East University and the local elementary and secondary schools. If you are interested in cross-cultural ministry, if you love living and sharing your faith, if you want to learn more about mission and culture in the Middle East, contact Dr. Glenn Russell (glenn@andrews.edu). The study tour requires enrollment in 5 religion credits for the 2015 summer semester. Space is limited.

Adventist Forum Nov 15, “Suffering and the Search for Meaning”
Adventist Forum Nov 15, Richard Rice “Suffering and the Search for Meaning”

Adventist Forum presents “Suffering and the Search for Meaning” by Dr. Richard Rice from the School of Religion at Loma Linda University in Loma Linda, California, on Sabbath Afternoon at 3:30 pm, November 15, 2014, Chan Shun Hall, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, MI.

Dr. Rice graduated from Andrews University with an MDiv degree and went on to earn MA and PhD degrees in Christian theology from the University of Chicago. He served as a church pastor and taught at La Sierra University before moving to Loma Linda University where he is professor of religion in the School of Religion. He teaches graduate courses and seminars dealing with the theology of suffering, science and religion, and other topics.

He has published several books including The Reign of God: An Introduction to Christian Theology from a Seventh-day Adventist Perspective published by Andrews University Press. This is a textbook for college religion classes. In 1980 he published what has proved to be a somewhat controversial book in Adventist circles. It was originally published by the Review and Herald Publishing Association under the title The Openness of God: The Relationship of Divine Foreknowledge and Human Free Will. However, the publisher stopped distributing the book before the production run was exhausted. But it was subsequently republished by Bethany House as God’s Foreknowledge & Man’s Free Will.

Dr. Rice is credited with introducing the term “open theism” into theological discourse.
He has published a number of other books including: When Bad Things Happen to God’s People, Reason and the Contours of Faith, Believing, Behaving, Belonging, and Ministry Healing: Toward a Theology of Wholeness and Witness.
Adventist Forum is open to the public. All are welcome. For information, contact Art Robertson at robertsa2@earthlink.net or call 471-7150.

Songs of Solitude & Renewal
Saturday, November 8, 8 p.m.

The Andrews University Singers present “Songs of Solitude and Renewal” on November 8 at 8:00 p.m. This choral concert will be conducted by several guest conductors including Stephanie Mauer, Chelsea Lake, and Brenton Offenback. The repertoire will include, "Cloudburst" by Eric Whitacre, "Amor del mi Alma" by Z. Randall Stroope, "Even When He Is Silent" by André Arnesen, "Prayer" by René Clausen, and "Balm In Gilead" by Jackson Berkey.

The concert centerpiece is "This House of Peace" composed by Ralph Johnson for soloists, oboe, piano and choir; commissioned for the opening of Sacred Heart Medical Center in 2008. The words are from health patients and family members, and the composition is dedicated to all health-care givers. The performance will feature renowned tenor soloist Charles Reid, director of vocal studies at Andrews University, and soprano Carrie VanDenburgh, director of choral education in the Berrien Springs public school system.

The concert will conclude with choral adaptations of "Blackbird" and "Yesterday" by John Lennon and Paul McCartney, "Skies of the Clear Blue Morning" by Dolly Parton, and "All the Things You Are" arranged by Ward Swingle.

"To Build a Home" Fundraiser: 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament

The Adventist Intercollegiate Association (AIA) comes together every year to meet with the student governments of our sister schools to become more responsive to the needs of our respective student bodies. This past year AIA took on the task to raise money for Walla Walla University's "To Build A Home" project. Our goal is to raise funds to help build a new orphanage for the children of Kasese, Uganda. With the help of AIA and its supporters, we will be raising funds and actively participating in the construction of a new home for the orphans. We need all the help we can get and hope that you will join us in our endeavor "To Build A Home".

Here are ways in which you can help:

Participate/Attend - The 3-on-3 basketball tournament on Saturday, November 15th at the Johnson Gym starting at 8pm.

Donate - Look for upcoming "To Build A Home" donation jars at the 3-on-3 basketball tournament.

Volunteer - Visit the website if you are interested in the Spring 2015 Mission Trip to Kasese, Uganda to help aid in building the walls of the new orphanage. https://aswwu.com/tobuildahome/

SPREAD THE WORD - Tell your friends and family about "To Build A Home!"

Class Gifts Bell Hall Outdoor Study Area
by Jenna Neil

An outdoor patio and study space on the north side of Bell Hall, which houses the School of Education, was dedicated during Alumni Homecoming Weekend. The courtyard was something that Dennis Woodland, emeritus professor of biology, wanted to do for several years. However, until recently there wasn’t enough money to begin the project.

That changed this year, thanks to the Class of 1964. Each year, the current 50-year class gives a gift to Andrews University—something that commemorates the years they spent at Andrews and their fond memories of campus. The reunion committee for the Class of 1964 thought this project would be the perfect gift to the University.

Stan Beikmann, retired professor of horticulture and landscape design and designer of the patio, stated that the project is important because of the “microclimate” that exists in the space.

"Whereas Andrews falls in Zones 4 and 5, because the space is enclosed on three sides and receives ambient heat from the building and protection from winter winds, we recognize that it is equivalent to a Zone 6 plant habitat," says Beikmann.

A plant habitat or "hardiness zone" refers to 1 of 12 defined areas where specific categories of plants are able to grow.

Dick Scott, director of facilities management, asked Beikmann to design the patio. The design is a natural shade garden with a semi-circular patio that wraps around a mimosa tree. Beikmann used several southern plants and other shade plants with the most color in the fall and spring when students are on campus. The design plan was distributed to more than 150 members of the class of 1964 and was met with overwhelming approval and excitement.

Arboretum/Grounds worked hard to finish the project in a six-week time frame, so the 50-year class would have the chance to dedicate the space during Homecoming Weekend at the end of September.

Materials and plants were ordered and the prep work began right away with foundations of concrete blocks. Tons of sand and aggregate were brought in along with cut stone to lay the patio. The final step was landscaping with plants and instant sod lawn. Any remaining plants and final touches will be added during the spring of 2015.

The Arboretum/Grounds team that worked on the project included two landscape students, Andi Caban and Austin Cassell, along with Noe Valez, arboretum/grounds manager, Aaron Hinman, groundskeeper supervisor, David Logan, mechanic, and Stan Beikmann. Larry Schalk, vice president for Financial Administration, 1964 graduate and class representative, along with the Offices of Alumni Services and Development, oversaw the funding of the project and kept the Class of 1964 updated on the progress.

"We want to have an outside place where students can study or faculty and staff can relax, read or have lunch," says Vicki Wiley, executive assistant to the dean of the School of Education. "This space offers exactly that. We’re very pleased with the results."

Andrews University offers our sincerest thanks to the Class of 1964 for making this study space possible.
In October, alumnus Gary Hamel (BS '75, MBA '76) presented to the School of Business Administration his very own way to "Outrun the Future." Hamel has been ranked by The Wall Street Journal as one of the world's most influential business thinkers and referred to by "Fortune Magazine" as a leading expert on business strategy.

After receiving a donation from the parents of an alumnus who were very appreciative of the progress their child had made in their career, Allen Stembridge, dean of the School of Business Administration, decided to contact Gary Hamel.

"He's a very busy man," says Stembridge, "But we got an email out of the blue from his secretary that he hadn't forgotten and had time to come. It took a year due to his busy schedule, and though he typically charges between $50,000–$75,000 to speak, Gary charged us nothing for this presentation."

It was a well-attended event targeted specifically toward business students and special guests, with an audience of about 130. Hamel focused on the future throughout the entire presentation, emphasizing innovation and change.

Hamel motivated the audience to think about "problems that are mind-bending" and asked stimulating questions like, "How do we be relentlessly optimistic?" and "Why don't we aim higher?"

"It was exactly the kind of thing that education is all about," says Brent Geraty, University legal counsel, who attended the event. "He challenged the students—all of us—to think about things as they could be rather than as they are."

"I believe our current students should not concentrate solely on the theory," says Hamel. "It's a good base but they need to go through it and forward and focus on the future."

He continued by sharing with the audience his idea of the competitive advantage.

"One way of getting that is to be ahead of the competition—to do something different, unique, and out of the box."

After the presentation Hamel socialized with the students, signed books and answered their questions.

"Hamel certainly did not come across as unapproachable," says Stembridge. "He was extremely friendly and happy to be here. I think he was pleased it was a good turnout of students, because that's who he wanted to talk to."

Students seemed very enthusiastic about Hamel's talk. Many were honored to have attended the event.

"The presentation was crisp, innovative and intellectually stimulating," says Azez Hagos, senior finance major. "It feels good when I find myself studying at a school where Gary Hamel completed his undergraduate and graduate studies!"
Veterans Day Tribute

On Tuesday, November 11, at 11:30 a.m., all faculty, staff, students and community members are invited to attend a special Veterans Day Tribute event in Newbold Auditorium in Buller Hall at Andrews University. A special gift will be given to student veterans and students who are dependents of veterans.

The program will include a slideshow and stories from those who have served.

Tuesday Choices credit is available for students who attend. Families are also welcome. This event is free and open to the public.

For more information contact Fares Magesa, veteran certifying official, at veterans@andrews.edu.
Update on Ebola Crisis

The message below was originally sent to Andrews University staff, faculty and students by Niels-Erik Andreasen, University president.

I imagine that you have joined me in continuing to follow the significant news coverage in recent months regarding the ongoing Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) crisis in three countries in West Africa: Guinea, Liberia and Sierra Leone.

There have also been Ebola cases elsewhere, including now here in the United States. All these cases are connected with individuals traveling from those three countries, or those who provided direct healthcare support to individuals with Ebola.

Both the World Health Organization (WHO) and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) have stated that there is only a small risk for an outbreak of Ebola in the United States (apart from the potential risk for those who care for or have otherwise come into physical contact with those who have Ebola). All of us, including Andrews, still need to take thoughtful precautions to ensure the safety and health of those in our communities, both in our immediate geographic community and around the world.

Currently, we have no students who have come to us directly from Guinea, Liberia or Sierra Leone. Also, while Andrews operates in locations around the world, there are no affiliated academic partner programs in any of the three countries affected by Ebola.

On this campus, as we seek to understand and carefully respond to this health crisis, Andrews will incorporate several safety precautions and protocols, as urged by both the WHO and CDC. We will:

- For at least the next three to six months, prohibit University-sponsored travel from or through countries with Ebola (Guinea, Liberia, Sierra Leone), and encourage individuals connected with the University to do the same
- Follow the CDC and WHO guidelines for monitoring/movement for Ebola exposure, including the Oct. 22 update
- For any apparent direct contact with Ebola patients by members of the University community, self-monitoring and voluntary isolation separate from the main campus will be instituted for a 21-day period. As appropriate, Provost and Student Life offices should be informed if there is suspected contact by a faculty, staff, student or student family member.
- Additionally, with any reported instance of apparent contact or risk by a member of the University's community, the University will work immediately, closely and directly with the county's Public Health Department and medical officials
- Encourage our campus community to continue to practice common sense safe hygiene, especially with the approach of the flu season, including ongoing careful washing and sanitizing of hands

While there is no current significant or direct risk to Andrews University in particular, please know that we will continue to monitor any and all official information releases regarding this public health emergency, update our protocols and react accordingly.

You can follow ongoing updates and information on Ebola issues around the world at the links below:

An Evening of Love Songs

On Saturday, Nov. 15, at 7 p.m., vocalists Charles and Julie Reid will explore the wonderful complexities of love through song at the Howard Performing Arts Center. Accompanying Charles and Julie on the piano will be Beatriz Ritzenthaler. The duo will perform selections in Italian, French and German, coupled with hits from Broadway classics such as "Les Misérables" and "The Fiddler on the Roof."

Charles Reid is director of vocal studies at Andrews University. He is recognized as one of his generation’s leading lyric tenors and has sung on many of the world’s most famous stages, including nine seasons with New York’s Metropolitan Opera, San Francisco Opera, Theater an der Wien, Frankfurt Opera, Deutsche Oper am Rhein, and the festivals of Bayreuth, Salzburg, Spoleto USA, Glimmerglass and Central City.

A graduate of Westminster Choir College, mezzo-soprano Julie has concertized around the world with her husband. Since moving to Berrien Springs, she has become a regular in the concert scene of Southwest Michigan.

Tickets are required. They are $10 for general admission, $5 for Andrews University faculty and staff, and free for students. Tickets can be purchased online or at the box office by calling 888-467-6442.

Mobile Farm Market Puts End to Food Deserts
A mobile farm market is making a difference in Michigan one vegetable at a time. Andrews University said due to its success this summer they are going to expand next year.

According to the USDA, there are four large food deserts in Berrien County. They include a part of Benton Harbor, Niles, Buchanan, and Berrien Springs. Every Monday the market would stop at the Ferry Street Resource Center so residents could buy nutritious food.

One woman said she loved the recipes the dietitian would provide.

Pauline Washington said, “They picked it that morning and they brought it, they were selling it, plus showing us how to cook it!... the grocery store is not close to where I live! nothing is close to where I live!”

Mobile Farm Market Proves Success
Be Healthy Berrien’s mobile farm market, operated with Andrews University, had a fruitful first season and will continue to grow, the Berrien County Board of Health heard Wednesday.

Nicki Britten, director of community health planning, reported that 60 percent of survey respondents said they were eating more vegetables as a result of shopping at the mobile market.

The project was launched last summer to sell produce grown at Andrews’ student gardens and orchards. The mobile market made stops in low-income neighborhoods in Benton Harbor, Benton Township, Buchanan, Niles and Berrien Springs, where residents have limited access to fresh fruits and vegetables.

The health department and Andrews “consider this a very successful pilot year of this program,” Britten said.

Horn Museum to Host Rare Exhibit
At a time when many archaeological museums at religious-affiliated schools in the United States are struggling to add to their displays, the Siegfried Horn Museum at Andrews University (AU) will soon host an exhibit of 48 ancient artifacts, reports the New York Times.

“...countries that house remains of the ancient world have become determined to keep archaeological finds within their borders,” explains the New York Times article. Furthermore, small museums often lack “the financial resources to buy works or borrow actively from other collections.” Because of these constraints, Dr. Constance Gane, curator of the Horn Museum and assistant professor of archaeology and Old Testament at AU, told Adventist Today that the museum is thrilled to exhibit the ceramic figurine fragments.
A mobile farm market is making a difference in Michigan one vegetable at a time. Andrews University said due to its success this summer they are going to expand next year.

According to the USDA, there are four large food deserts in Berrien County. They include a part of Benton Harbor, Niles, Buchanan, and Berrien Springs. Every Monday the market would stop at the Ferry Street Resource Center so residents could buy nutritious food.

One woman said she loved the recipes the dietitian would provide.

Pauline Washington said, "They picked it that morning and they brought it, they were selling it, plus showing us how to cook it!... the grocery store is not close to where I live! nothing is close to where I live!"

The director of the student gardens at Andrews University said his data shows that the program was a great success.

Garth Woodruff said, "60% of the people felt that they were eating healthier inside their own homes. 47% of the people heard their neighbors talking more about health than they did the summer before."

Woodruff said that students grow the majority of the fruits and vegetables that they sell in the truck.

Woodruff said, "Somebody with an EBT card which is food stamps, buys fresh produce at a farmers market, they can get a two for one deal so they can basically spend two dollars for everyone dollar of cost."

He said 30% of their patrons paid with food stamps. Stephen Erich said "It was kind of a dream, a dream
Erich drove the mobile farm market to the Ferry Resource center in Niles every Monday this summer.

Erich said, "When I first got there there were maybe four kids that would come every week! At first when they would come they wouldn't know what to do and they were really shy and then they started helping out! So then they jumped in and they would help us unload the stuff and put it back up and then they would ask for their pay."

Andrews University said they hope to expand the program into the fall next year, and they are also looking into a delivery service where vegetables would be taken straight to people's front door.
BENTON HARBOR - Be Healthy Berrien's mobile farm market, operated with Andrews University, had a fruitful first season and will continue to grow, the Berrien County Board of Health heard Wednesday.

Nicki Britten, director of community health planning, reported that 60 percent of survey respondents said they were eating more vegetables as a result of shopping at the mobile market.

The project was launched last summer to sell produce grown at Andrews' student gardens and orchards. The mobile market made stops in low-income neighborhoods in Benton Harbor, Benton Township, Buchanan, Niles and Berrien Springs, where residents have limited access to fresh fruits and vegetables.

The health department and Andrews "consider this a very successful pilot year of this program," Britten said.

But the program has a long way to go toward being self-supporting, she said. The mobile market had about $4,000 in revenue, and cost about $40,000 to operate, mostly from grant funding.

The market further needs to do a better job reaching residents receiving government food assistance, Britten said. Only about $300, or 7 percent of revenue, came from Bridge card holders.

This was partly due to a vacancy in the marketing staff, a situation that has been resolved and will not be repeated in 2015, Britten said.

Members of the Be Healthy Berrien coalition, including the health department, and Andrews officials agreed that it will take time to fully establish the mobile market and to change shopping and eating habits.

There are many encouraging signs. About half of customers on a given day were repeat customers, and more than 80 percent lived within a mile of the market stops. About half heard about the market through word of mouth from neighbors.

Customers liked the variety offered at the market, which sold 34 types of vegetables, seven kinds of herbs and seven varieties of fruit.

Customers asked for more fruit, which the market managers provided by buying produce from the Benton Harbor Wholesale Fruit Market to supplement the items grown at the university.
A survey will be conducted in Benton Harbor to determine what kinds of fruits and vegetables customers prefer.

The project deserves continuing support, as evidenced by the financial assistance provided to sustain and expand offerings, Britten said.

The health department will contract with Andrews to operate the mobile market in 2015, with $43,000 from a Michigan Health and Wellness grant. That amount is up a bit from last year's $36,000.

Andrews and the health department are expanding their offerings with a Community-Supported Agriculture program that will allow low-income participants to buy produce that will be delivered to their homes.

That effort is being backed by a $100,000 grant from the Michigan Department of Community Health. The county health department will use part of the funds to contract with Lakeland Healthcare to provide cooking classes, nutrition education videos and recipes aimed at encouraging greater consumption of nutritious foods.

The Berrien Community Foundation has awarded the health department a $5,000 grant to continue its cooking demonstrations at the Benton Harbor farmers market.

Huge need for Winter clothings

Greetings from the Office of International Student services, Andrews University. Winter is just around the corner and many of our international students are not used to it. Many of them come with little or no preparation for it. So, we are soliciting from you winter clothings (jackets, gloves and hats) and winter boots. If you have gently used ones that you plan to give away or replace this winter, we will be glad to receive them from you and pass them on to our neediest students.

You may drop them off in the Student life department in the Campus Center building between 9 - noon and 1:30 - 5 pm on Mondays and Wednesdays and from 9 am - 11:30 am and 1:30 - 5 pm on Tuesday and Thursdays. On Fridays, we are open from 9 am - noon.

If you have donations that need to be picked up, please call us at (269) 471 6395.

Thank you so much for your generosity and we want to thank you in anticipation of these gifts.

God bless you and have a blessed season of Thanksgiving and Christmas celebrations.

About Chef Mark Anthony

My name is Mark Anthony and I have traveled across the country doing hundreds of healthy cooking shows in every state in the country including Hawaii. Alaska is my last state and they’re booked for October 2011. I also do regular cooking shows on 3ABN Worldwide Television.

Over the past few years, I have lost 80 pounds! I have also dropped my cholesterol from 263 down to 118, and I have never felt better! It is all from living a vegan lifestyle. That’s what I teach at my live cooking shows; How to cook healthy and save money doing it. It’s not mysterious or difficult and I want people to know that it is realistic.

I have also enclosed a couple of articles from the dozens of writings that have been done about these amazing accomplishments. The country is really into the healthy lifestyle right now.

I also want to mention that I do these events for FREE. That’s right, totally FREE. It’s free for the people attending, and it’s free for the facilities conducting these events. I have done these events at hospitals, churches, senior centers, universities, and local conventions.

This is all about teaching the community about how to get healthy and stay healthy. It’s about motivating them off all the processed food and chemicals that cause killer diseases such as atherosclerosis, high cholesterol, high blood pressure and diabetes, and getting back to the healthy lifestyle we used to have here in America.

My shows are a fun and exciting program. I cook everything right in front of the crowd, while teaching principles of healthy cooking. I do watermelon sculptures and even paint eight foot paintings with my hands. It’s not your ordinary boring cooking class. I also illustrate the connection between body, mind, & spirit. It is actually proven that when we get physically healthier, we also get mentally healthier, and that we also have better spiritual connections. It’s so amazing how our bodies are connected in so many different ways.

Suffering and the Search for Meaning
Adventist Forum presents "Suffering and the Search for Meaning" by Dr. Richard Rice from the School of Religion at Loma Linda University in Loma Linda, California, on Sabbath, Nov. 15, at 3:30 p.m. in Garber Auditorium, Chan Shun Hall, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan.

Rice graduated from Andrews University with an MDiv and went on to earn an MA and PhD in Christian theology from the University of Chicago. He served as a church pastor and taught at La Sierra University before moving to Loma Linda University where he is professor of religion in the School of Religion. He teaches graduate courses and seminars dealing with the theology of suffering, science and religion, and other topics.

He has published several books including "The Reign of God: An Introduction to Christian Theology from a Seventh-day Adventist Perspective" published by Andrews University Press. This is a textbook for college religion classes. In 1980 he published what has proved to be a somewhat controversial book in Adventist circles. It was originally published by the Review and Herald Publishing Association under the title "The Openness of God: The Relationship of Divine Foreknowledge and Human Free Will." However, the publisher stopped distributing the book before the production run was exhausted. It was subsequently republished by Bethany House as "God's Foreknowledge & Man's Free Will."

Rice is credited with introducing the term "open theism" into theological discourse. He has published a number of other books including: "When Bad Things Happen to God's People," "Reason and the Contours of Faith," "Believing, Behaving, Belonging: Finding New Love for the Church," and "Ministry Healing: Toward a Theology of Wholeness and Witness."

Adventist Forum is open to the public. All are welcome. For information, contact Art Robertson at robertsa2@earthlink.net or call 269-471-7150.

What others say...

An Administrator
- “Attending the Great Controversy Tour was a high point in my ministry. I am so thankful I went. The question I had to ask myself at the close of the trip was, ‘Could I stand fast and true like the reformers did?’ In the cave where 150 Waldensian believers were smoked to death, I recommitted myself to the Lord and to ministry. I’m so thankful for the opportunity to have attended this trip.” John Loor, Jr., Executive Secretary, North Pacific Union Conference.

A Busy Doctor
- “This tour was like a spiritual pilgrimage for me—a highlight of everything I’ve ever done. I was very blessed in every way, and motivated to continue to study the Reformation and give presentations to both SDAs and non-SDAs. It is a tour for the serious student of church history. The more one studies ahead of time, the more you will be able to take advantage of the trip.” Ron Fleck, M.D., Washington.

A Pastor
- “This tour is a unique opportunity to learn church history in a way consistent with Seventh-day Adventist fundamentals. I wish many more Seventh-day Adventists could attend and get a clearer vision of the price of our faith and the truth we hold.” Mark Duarte, Pastor, Hawaii.

A Director
- “Amazing, wonderful, life-changing. Every SDA should take this, starting with the administrators, pastors and teachers! My third GC Tour and I would go again in a heartbeat. So much to learn, re-learn.” Sue Patzer, North Pacific Union Conference.

10. Signature First Traveler ________________________________ Date ____________________

    Second Traveler ________________________________ Date ____________________
Surface Transportation: All transportation as described in the itinerary will be via air conditioned deluxe motor coach designed for highway travel.

No Smoking/Alcohol Policy: No smoking or use of alcoholic beverages is permitted on the coaches during daily touring.

Hotel: In general, three and four star hotels have been selected. The prices are based on double occupancy. For single occupancy there will be a surcharge.

Meals: A vegetarian buffet breakfast and vegetarian dinner are included in the tour price. On Sabbaths, lunch is included.

Tour Price Does Not Include: Airfare, passports, visas, or laundry. Drinks at meal time are not included. Each person must pay for all beverages, including bottled water.

Baggage: The bus has limited storage. Therefore each person is allowed a maximum of one suitcase with combined length, width and height of 62 inches (to not exceed 50 lbs). A hand bag and camera case are also allowed. If one plans to buy new luggage, consider getting luggage with wheels.

Deposit and Payment: The cost of the land tour is $2820. To reserve a place on the tour, one needs to send a check or money-order of $500. The tour price is subject to the exchange rate of the US dollar to the Euro. A significant decline of the value of the dollar may increase the tour price. However, there will be no price changes after full payment has been made. Checks/money orders should be made out to GC Tours, and mailed to GC Tours, PO Box 171, Berrien Springs, MI 49103. Credit card payments are possible but with a 3.5% service charge. Payment balance is due January 15, 2015.

Extra Charge: Those who damage or lose the audio receiver or headset must accept the responsibility for repair or replacement of the parts in question. Each receiver costs $110.

Agency Responsibility: Christian Heritage Media acts as a management agent for the Great Controversy Tour. Christian Heritage Media cannot be held responsible for personal injury, loss or theft of passenger’s baggage, for any delay or cancellation due to war, terrorism, natural disasters, strikes, financial collapse, disruption of advertised schedules or other causes beyond their control, or any change due to exchange rates. (Buy travel insurance!)

Passports and Visas: Participants are responsible for securing their passports and visas. The countries to be visited are: Italy, Switzerland, Germany, and France. Persons with US Passports do not need special visas for these countries. Persons of other nationalities should check with their consulates/embassies and obtain their own visas as necessary. Christian Heritage Media cannot be held responsible for those who fail to obtain proper travel documents. Christian Heritage Media cannot refund persons whose visas do not arrive in time for the tour.

Final Travel Documents: Travel documents, including a hotel list with addresses will be mailed to tour participants within the last two or three weeks prior to departure.

Itinerary Change: It is possible that the daily itinerary may be adapted by unforeseen circumstances. The tour hosts reserve the right to make itinerary adjustments deemed necessary for any reason.

Travel Insurance: We strongly recommend that each participant take out travel insurance to protect against financial loss if one has to cancel or interrupt the trip due to sudden illness or other unforeseen circumstances. You may like to check with your local travel agency for their insurance recommendations.

Cancellation: In the event that a tour participant who has paid cannot go on the tour because of unforeseen circumstances, the following will apply: All cancellations are subject to a $50 administration fee, per person. Cancellations before January 1 will receive a full refund, less administration costs. Cancellations after January 15 forfeit the deposit; 45-30 days before the tour 50% of tour price; 29-0 days 100% of the tour price. It is therefore strongly recommended to have travel insurance to protect in case of any emergencies or valid, necessary cancellations. 100% of cancellation fees may be covered by the optional travel insurance protection plan (mentioned under the Travel Insurance section) provided premium has been paid and reasons for cancellation are insurable. Cancellations must be submitted in writing and dated. Depending on whether airline tickets have been purchased or not cancellation fees are sometimes waived by Christian Heritage Media if a substitute can be found to take your place on the tour. If the trip is cancelled due to political circumstances a full or partial refund, less administrative costs, will be issued.
“I especially appreciated the places visited with the fulfillment of Bible prophecy! The Bible ‘came alive’ and was very meaningful! It was educational, a step back in history and most interesting. It was nice to meet and associate with many wonderful people! Very well organized! I could highly recommend taking this tour!” Reatha Ekvall, retired, tour guide at Adventist Village in Battle Creek, Michigan, Florida.

Room needed for part of spring semester
Room needed for a male, Andrews University graduate student from January 4 to March 12, 2015. Looking for a clean, small, and most importantly, quiet living space within 1–2 miles of campus.

Please contact me if you are sure that I can reserve that space. Some facts I would like in the contact would be:
1) Is this a house or an apartment complex?
2) If it is an apartment complex, how strictly is noise regulated? (I need it to be very quiet).
3) Is there a bathroom for just me or is it shared with other people (and how many people)?
4) What is the exact address? (So I can calculate distance)
5) How much is rent going to be and are utilities/internet included.

Missing Dog

Dog Name: Payton

Description:

Additional information:
When lost the dog was wearing a purple collar. The collar had a name tag for the dog. The tag had her name on it (Payton Tucker) and also had my phone number, 269-277-2706. Also the dog had a metal chain type leash about 3 feet long.

Location Lost:
At about 530pm on Saturday October 11-2014 I was with the dog at the dog park in Kiwanis in St. Joseph near Langley and Pearl Street. Payton got away and went up the wooded hill that ends up in the sub-division on the Langley side of the park.

Customer Service Representatives Opportunity
¿Hablas Español?
Adventist Information Ministry is looking to hire temporary, dedicated Spanish Customer Service Representatives for an outbound calling campaign. AIM is a ministry of the North American Division which answers the toll-free numbers for many of the church’s media ministries. Because of this we are looking for people with a strong dedication to the soul-winning mission of the Adventist church.

Job Description
Base Pay: $9/Hour
Employment Type: Part-Time/Temporary (2–3 weeks)
Job Type: Customer Service
Responsibility: Call people, update their contact information, offer prayer, etc. Training will be provided.
