A Leg to Stand On Marathon Campaign

What do 10 Andrews University students and 12,804 children from Cambodia to Colombia have in common? Why, A Leg to Stand On, of course! For us, it’s our literal legs—the ones we are counting on to carry us 13.1 or 26.2 miles on April 12 (depending on the runner). For them, it’s a prosthetic device or orthopedic care that has opened up a world of possibilities by enabling the simple act of walking.

These 12,804 children are the privileged ones, because there are still thousands more who walk and run only in their dreams. Physical deformities caused by birth defects, war wounds, or acquired disease have limited their mobility to distances that can be hopped, crawled, or carried. It doesn’t have to be this way forever! Which is why we’re using our legs to run for CHANGE… literally.

YOU can make a difference. Your support of the Andrews University ALTSO Marathon Team will help fund orthopedic care for a child in need whose family cannot afford treatment. Just $25 provides a clubfoot brace, $100 an orthotic device, $250 a prosthetic limb, and $500 corrective surgery. Any amount helps and all donations are tax deductible. Help us reach our goal of $5,000 by race day!

Adventist Forum presents: "When Loughborough Got It Wrong,"

Adventist Forum presents: "When Loughborough Got It Wrong," by Brian E. Strayer, PhD, Professor of History, Andrews University, at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, March 28, 2015, in Chan Shun Hall on the campus of Andrews University in Berrien Springs, MI.

Dr. Strayer is professor of history at Andrews University where he has taught since 1983. He earned degrees in history from Southern Adventist University, Andrews University, and the University of Iowa. He specializes in European history and Adventist history. His most recent book is the first scholarly biography of J.N. Loughborough, titled "J. N. Loughborough: The Last of the Adventist Pioneers."

About J. N. Loughborough:

Beginning his ministry in 1849, John N. Loughborough was one of the first to be ordained by the budding denomination that became the Seventh-day Adventists. Nonetheless, he outlived all the other early leaders, dying in 1924 at the age of 92. In addition to his pastoral, missionary, and administrative activities, he published two book-length apologetic histories of Seventh-day Adventism, along with extensive historical sketches published in various periodicals. Accordingly he is sometimes considered "the first Adventist historian." This presentation will examine his historical writings and interpretations in the light of modern scholarship. How do the facts he omitted and the interpretations he made affect the historical understandings his readers would take away from his accounts?

Adventist Forum is open to the public. All are welcome. For information, contact Art Robertson at robertsa2@earthlink.net or call 471-7150.

Madagascar Flood Drive

The island of Madagascar was recently hit with a Tropical Cyclone and continues to experience severe flooding due to continued heavy rainfall. Over 100,000 affected and many more now suffering from starvation due to destruction of crops.

It has estimated that it would take at least 3 more months for the water to go down due to the lack of infrastructure to properly drain the water.

A group of AU students will be traveling to Madagascar for a Study tour this Spring (May 17). With them, the students will be taking items for the children, women, and men who have been affected by the storm.

Please help us help them by donating any of the following items:

- Basic necessities and toiletries (for all ages and gender)
- School supplies
- Water purifiers
- Solar powered lanterns/flashlights
- Clothing
- Suitcases (to help transport the items)
- Cash

Any donation will be a blessing!

Items may be dropped off at the Community & International Development Program located in Buller Hall 203. For more information or if you would like to take part in the Study Tour please contact us at 269-471-6538 or cidp@andrews.edu

Teaching, Learning, and Curriculum Conference 2015

On April 1, 2015, the Teaching, Learning, and Curriculum Department at Andrews University will host the 13th annual Teaching, Learning, and Curriculum Conference. The conference theme this year is The Scholarship of Teaching. This event provides university faculty, PreK-12 teachers, graduate and undergraduate students, and other education professionals with the opportunity to present papers, posters, and demonstrations to an audience of peers and guests within a formal conference setting. In addition to student participation, TLC organizers encourage area educators, including Andrews University faculty members, to attend and to present. This year’s events currently include panel sessions presented by local educators and students in the area of urban and minority education as well as a panel session on the topic of project-based learning, and presenter registration is still ongoing. We are excited to announce that our keynote address will be presented by Michigan’s Teacher of the Year, Melody Arabo, who will speak about her experiences and convictions as an educator.
MICROBIAL METABOLISM OF PHOSPHATIDYLCHOLINE AND CARDIOVASCULAR RISK

Atherosclerosis and associated cardiovascular disease (CVD) remains the leading cause of mortality in Western Societies.

Recent study suggests that there’s a connection between trimethylamine-containing nutrients entering into a microbial metabolic pathway, and the promotion of CVD.

This presentation discovers the microbial metabolism of phosphatidylcholine as a novel pathway promoting CVD.

SungJun Kim is a senior Biochemistry major at Andrews University, graduating in May 2015.

Andrews University Chemistry & Biochemistry.

Illicit Drugs: A look at Phencyclidine

Satoshi K Thiele is from Nebraska and is a senior Chemistry ACS major at Andrews University in Berrien Springs, MI. Upon graduation in May 2015, he anticipates attending graduate school where he hopes to obtain a MSE in Chemical Engineering.

Phencyclidine commonly goes by the street names PCP or Angel Dust. It is a synthetic drug with dissociative properties. Originally, designed as a general anesthetic in the 1950’s it became a popular recreational drug in the 1960’s. In the United States it is a Schedule II controlled substance. Phencyclidine is a NMDA-receptor antagonist.

This presentation will focus on the history, synthesis, and biological interactions of phencyclidine.
Ultra High-Molecular Weight Polyethylene

Tokin Kim is currently in his third year studying Biochemistry major with Chemistry minor and has plans to go to dental school after graduation from Andrews University. He is highly interested in Cancer research and loves laboratory work.

Irene Hwang is in her second year as a Biochemistry major and Business Management minor. She also has plans to go to dental school after Andrews. Not only does she really enjoy studying the natural world from a chemical standpoint, but Irene also really has a passion for music. As part of her current research topic, she is exploring how the complex process of photosynthesis requires the unique structure of magnesium in chlorophyll demonstrates the workings of something or Someone besides evolution.

Andrews Wins United Way Awards

"The mission of Andrews University has always resonated with the mission of United Way," says Niels-Erik Andreasen, president of Andrews. "That is, to improve lives by mobilizing the caring power of communities."

Andrews employees truly embraced the 2014 United Way campus campaign theme, "Bursting the Andrews Bubble," and exceeded our campaign goals. Andrews University won three awards at the United Way Campaign Celebration held last month in Benton Harbor, Michigan: a Campie Award, the Spark Award and the David J. Weichhand Award.

The totals for the last seven years of this on-campus campaign demonstrate how far the faculty and staff are willing to stretch:

United Way Campaign Totals 2007–2014

2014: 216 people gave $22,811.85!
2013: 142 people gave $16,549
2012: 135 people gave $14,538
2011: 90 people gave $9,145
2010: 87 people gave $8,401
2009: 82 people gave $10,179
2008: 48 people gave $4,800
2007: 91 people gave $11,202

In addition, Andrews University won three awards at the United Way Campaign Celebration held last month in Benton Harbor, Michigan: a Campie Award, the Spark Award and the David J. Weichhand Award.

The Campie Award is an award that recognizes successful employee campaigns that benefit fundraising campaigns. The Spark Award is given for best practices and achieving notable results in the campaign.
The David J. Weichhand Award has been presented to participants since 2007 and is named for the late president and CEO of United Federal Credit Union.

"This year’s recipient created a campaign committee composed of employees at all levels of leadership," read the award presenter at the event. "Supported by their president, their committee membership infused their organizational culture into the campaign to affect the community around them. Their success was marked by many best practices, to include kicking off their campaign with pompons, donning Live United shirts to make a splash in their parade, sharing their agency tour experiences through thoughtful organizational communication and thanking donors with a celebratory video full of bubbles!"

Campaign leaders thanked their teams in a wrap-up email, expressing how proud they were of the interest and participation of so many in a large-scale team effort.

"It was a huge step in letting our community neighbors know that Andrews cares about our community outside of the Andrews bubble," says Rebecca May, campaign coordinator and director of campus & community relations at Andrews. "Most importantly we did our part and made great strides in helping the under-resourced in our community."

March Board Briefing
by Becky St. Clair

Late Tuesday afternoon, March 3, President Andreasen gave an overview of board actions from the March board meeting and subcommittees, held March 2 and 3, 2015.

First he reviewed the following new appointments and change of roles:

New staff appointments:
Aimee Vitangcol Regoso, registrar
David Stratton, STEM enrollment coordinator

New/reappointed department chairs:
Hyun Kwon, Department of Engineering & Computer Science (new)
Pedro Nava, Department of International Language Studies (reappointment)
David Nowack, Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry (reappointment)
Karen Reiner, Department of Medical Laboratory Sciences (new)
Curt VanderWaal, Department of Social Work (reappointment)
Carole Woolford-Hunt, Department of Graduate Counseling & Psychology (new)
Allan Walshe, Department of Discipleship & Religious Education (reappointment)

Emeriti:
Stan Beikmann, assistant professor emeritus
Emilio Garcia Marenko, registrar emeritus
Jim Jeffery, dean emeritus
Miroslav Kiš, professor emeritus

During each board meeting a few minutes are devoted to educating the board members on a topic that is of great importance to the University. This time Deborah Weithers, associate dean for Student Life, presented on Title IX, a federal mandate that requires all colleges and universities to treat all students equally regardless of gender.
“Though Title IX began with concerns about sports,” explained Andreasen, “it has become more about sexual violence on university campuses, and comes to the forefront whenever there is an issue of sexual misconduct at a school.” Provost Andrea Luxton is the Title IX Coordinator for Andrews University. The deputy coordinator for student complaints regarding students is Deborah Welthers and the deputy coordinator for student reports regarding faculty and staff is Dennis Waite, assistant professor of counselor education and counseling psychology.

Andreasen then shared important numbers from the Finance and Operations Committee.

“Fall semester saw us nearly a million dollars behind budget,” he said. “That is mostly due to a drop in enrollment and therefore shortfalls of tuition income. At this point in spring semester we are behind budget by around $500,000—making an estimate of about $2.5 million behind budget at the end of the school year.” Despite this challenging report, Andrews had budgeted for a deficit of $2.8 million, so if the projection holds, said Andreasen, there will be a small gain.

The board adjusted the percentage of this year’s income on which next year’s budget is based. Typically at 98 percent, the budget for fiscal year 2016 will instead be based on 95 percent of undergraduate enrollment income.

It was also voted to increase the amount scheduled for refinancing on the current loan for Buller and Damazo Halls. This will be used to repair the aging electrical infrastructure that caused a campus blackout last fall. An additional proposal was to begin adding the standard processing fee for individuals using credit cards to pay for tuition fees. This will add approximately $350,000 of income.

Andreasen also shared that Good News TV, a low-power television station owned by a local individual who recently died, was left to the University. The television and broadcast equipment will be utilized by the Department of Communication.

The Advancement report included two things of particular note, Andreasen said.

“First, total endowments for student scholarships and professorships are calculated to stand at $75 million,” he reported. “Secondly, the funding currently dedicated for the Health & Wellness Center initiative is now at $15.5 million. This is not quite enough for us to break ground yet, but we are assured by our University Advancement team that there are several ‘asks’ on the table to pull together the final dollars to start this important initiative.”

The Governance Committee presented that the next constituency meeting, which takes place every five years during board meeting, will be in March 2016. Board positions based on GC office held, including that of chair, could change in July 2015 during the General Conference Session in San Antonio, Texas, and additional changes could occur due to the constituency meeting in March 2016.

The committee also reported that three new members had been appointed to the Governance Committee—Dana Wales, Clifford Jones and Sandra Johnson—to replace members rotating out.

At this time, Andreasen proposed to the Governance Committee that, in memory of the University’s late board member Dolores Slikkers, who served nearly 30 years, her husband Leon Slikkers be invited to complete her term.

“We put a bouquet of flowers on her desk where her nameplate was, said a few words about Dolores and voted to extend the invitation to Leon,” says Andreasen. “He was very happy to do it, and will be present at our next board meeting.”

Finally, the executive session of the board meeting discussed ways to better understand and adjust financially to the shift in enrollment. Though the freshman population has continued to shrink, continuing students are holding steady. Graduate students have shown a slight decline in number and the School of Distance Education is still growing.

“We know that now and for the next few years the number of high school and academy graduates is going down until about 2020,” said Andreasen. “Then it should start increasing again—not terribly high, but it will go up again. So we're in a tough market right now, and the executive committee is concerned about coping with this fact financially. It’s an institution-wide issue that we ought to deal with together, and we will.”

Gymnics at Pacers Game & Gymnics Home Show

Andrews University’s Gymnics presented the halftime show for the Indianapolis Pacers basketball game on Thursday, March 12. The Gymnics is a traveling noncompetitive acrosport gymnastics team that uses tumbling, handstands and flying to share God’s good news.

The Gymnics have performed all around the nation and the world over the last 50 years. Recent trips have taken them as far as Canada and California as well as numerous trips around the Midwest states. In the past the team has traveled as far as Europe and Russia.

The group has performed NBA and NCAA halftime shows, the most recent being this Indianapolis Pacers game. The Gymnics also provide anti-drug and wellness rallies at middle schools and high schools, vespers and church services at academies and clinics for aspiring gymnasts. One of their more recent school presentations was here in Berrien Springs at the Berrien RESA Center.
The Gynmics operate under the motto that is proudly displayed on their jackets: “Pray, Practice, Perform,” under the leadership of their coach, Eric Paddock.

All are welcome to attend the team’s year-end home show on Saturday, April 11, at 9 p.m. or Sunday, April 12, at 3 p.m., both in Johnson Gym on the campus of Andrews University. This event takes place during the weekend celebrating their 50th anniversary as a team. Tickets available at the door.

Steel Band Concert March 22

Andrews University welcomes the Walla Walla University (College Place, Washington) Steel Band to the Howard Performing Arts Center on Sunday, March 22, at 7 p.m. The concert will feature guest artist Liam Teague, hailed as the “Paganini of the Steel Pan,” from Northern Illinois University (DeKalb, Illinois). Musical styles featured in this concert will include Caribbean (Calypso, Soca, 2-3 Son, Reggae), South American (Samba, Bossa Nova), jazz and classical.

WWU's steel band, under the direction of Brandon Beck, has been in existence since 2002 and has toured the West Coast twice, the East Coast five times and has also toured to the island of Bermuda. They have performed with world-class steel pan artists Victor Provost, Gary Gibson and Tom Miller.

During their 2013 performance in Walla Walla, Washington, guest artist Gibson announced to the audience that he considered that year's WWU Steel Band "one of the best collegiate steel bands in the nation."

Guest artist for the March 22 concert at Andrews University, Liam Teague, currently serves as head of steel pan studies and associate professor of music at NIU. He has received many awards in his homeland of Trinidad and Tobago, including the Humming Bird Award (silver) for "loyal and devoted service." He has also won a number of notable competitions such as the Trinidad and Tobago National Steelband Festival Solo Championship and the Saint Louis Symphony Volunteers Association Young Artist Competition.

"We are excited to perform with astounding steel pan performer Liam Teague," says Beck. "He will not only perform solos at the concert, but he does us the honor of playing with us on several pieces. We look forward to this event very much."

His commitment to demonstrating the great musical possibilities of the steel pan has taken Teague to Europe, Asia and Australia, as well as North and Central America and the Caribbean.

Teague has collaborated with prominent musicians such as Paquito D'Rivera, Dave Samuels, Zakir Hussain and Evelyn Glennie. In addition to commissioning a number of significant composers to write for the instrument, Teague has had many of his own compositions published, and has produced eight solo albums.

He has also served as musical arranger of the TCL Group Skiffle Bunch Steel Orchestra and Starlift Steel Orchestra for Panorama, the most prestigious steel band competition in the world.

General admission is $9; students (with ID) and seniors are $5. Tickets for this concert can be purchased at howard.andrews.edu, or by calling the Howard Center box office at 888-467-6442.
Faculty & Staff Awards Celebration 2015

The theme for the 2014 Andrews University Faculty and Staff Awards celebration was "An Evening of Fun and Recognition." On Sunday, March 1, hundreds of faculty and staff gathered in the Howard Performing Arts Center for this annual event recognizing their coworkers and colleagues.

The evening's entertainment was a mockup of the popular TV game show "Family Feud" called "Family Fusion," featuring seven teams of four individuals from the honored years-of-service groups plus a team of retirees called "Once Upon a Time." Participants were required to guess the top three answers from a survey of 16 questions that was sent to all faculty and staff three weeks in advance. David Nowack, professor of biochemistry, did a masterful job as host for the evening.

A surprise tribute was given to Niels-Erik Andreasen, celebrating 20 years as president of Andrews University, and Demetra, who has served graciously at his side.

Just after accepting the presidency of Andrews in 1994, Andreasen was quoted in a FOCUS editorial. "The whole nation talks about failing public education and the risks that presents to our future. We must not allow Christian education to fail. That cannot be. With God's help, it must succeed, and if it is to remain Christian education it must be good education. A bad Christian education is a contradiction in terms. If we dare call it Christian it must be good in every respect. To seek this goal in every plan and decision made in Andrews University is the chief assignment of the university president and everyone who works here."

The Andreasens were thanked for setting Andrews on a true-north direction and leading the way together.

"Dr. and Mrs. Andreasen, we're so glad you said yes to Andrews 20 years ago," stated Stephen Payne, vice president for Integrated Marketing & Communication, who presented the award. "We believe the future of Adventist education and Andrews University is stronger because of your God-honoring leadership."

Additionally, recognition from the Faculty Senate was given to Teresa Reeves, associate professor of New Testament contexts and associate dean, Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary and Marcella Myers, associate professor of physical science and chair, Department of History & Political Science. Both of these women were instrumental in reshaping the structure and role of the current Faculty Senate.

Each year at this event faculty and staff are given recognition through the Years of Service Awards, Excellence in Service Awards, Faith Development Leadership Award, Daniel A. Augsburger Excellence in Teaching Awards, and Siegfried H. Horn Excellence in Research & Creative Scholarship Awards.
Day for the Pi

Pi lovers at Andrews University celebrated National Pi Day on Thursday by eating pie. And lots of it. Karen Johnson-McWilliams of the university’s math department said the school provided 25 pies and 64 cheesecake squares, which quickly disappeared.

She said she cut the 8-inch pies into eight pieces and the bigger pies into 16 pieces, which gave her 320 pieces when you add in the 64 cheesecake pieces.

So, how many eight-inch pies did she have?

You do the math.

For most of America, Pi Day is Saturday, when the calendar and clock will combine for two moments to read: 3-14-15, 9:26:53 - or pi to its 10th digit. Andrews celebrated Thursday before classes ended for spring break.

Israeli Doctors Share What They've Learned Treating Their Enemies

This month marks the fourth anniversary of the start of the Syrian Civil War. In an effort to shed light on the conflict, Andrews University in Berrien Springs invited two people with first-hand experience with the war to talk about their experiences. Two doctors, who work to save the lives of people considered their enemy.

"Whether they're enemies or not... they're people," Ohad Ronen, Senior Surgeon, at Galilee Medical Center, said.

BERRIEN SPRINGS - Pi lovers at Andrews University celebrated National Pi Day on Thursday by eating pie. And lots of it.

Karen Johnson-McWilliams of the university's math department said the school provided 25 pies and 64 cheesecake squares, which quickly disappeared.

She said she cut the 8-inch pies into eight pieces and the bigger pies into 16 pieces, which gave her 320 pieces when you add in the 64 cheesecake pieces.

You do the math.

For most of America, Pi Day is Saturday, when the calendar and clock will combine for two moments to read: 3-14-15, 9:26:53 - or pi to its 10th digit. Andrews celebrated Thursday before classes ended for spring break.

Pi Day is a big deal for those inclined toward math, science and engineering.

Mechanical engineering senior Robert Polski wrote pi out to 120 digits on the chalkboard by memory Thursday just for fun.

"Last year, I memorized 200 digits," he said.

While some of the students were very interested in pi, most had other agendas.

"I think people just want an excuse to have free pie," engineering freshman Kumar Balasingam said.

Pi is the ratio of a circle's circumference to its diameter. It starts with the numbers 3.14 and continues to infinity, never repeating. People have spent countless hours calculating the next number in pi, which has been calculated to five trillion digits. The more digits you use in your calculations, the more perfect the circle is.

"It's one of the most revolutionary discoveries of math," senior math major Danielle Martin said.

Polski said there's no reason to go past the first 12 digits of pi because at that point, you are measuring at the atomic level.

"I don't think there would be an instrument to measure after that," freshman engineering major Gianluca Ciccopiedi said.

Truly die-hard pi lovers will eat a piece of pie at exactly 9:26:53 a.m. Saturday, thus honoring the first 10 unrounded digits of pi - 3.141592653.

Make sure you say those are the first 10 unrounded digits of pi. Since the next number is five, you would have to round up to 3.141592654 to use the number in calculations, said biochemistry sophomore Alex Acre. He said many of the National Pi Day T-shirts are wrong because they don't round up.

Rhoda Johnson, office manager of Physics Enterprises at the university, said it's cool that National Pi Day and her birthday are on the same day, but she has other plans for the morning.

"I love birding," she said. "I'm planning to spend the day out at (Warren) Dunes."

She's more excited that she will be turning 42, which has nothing to do with pi but is another nerdy number, she said.

In "The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy" by Douglas Adams, 42 is "The Answer to the Ultimate Question of Life, the Universe, and Everything," though no one remembers what the question was.

"The stars are aligning nicely," she said.

And so is the pie.

Two doctors, who work to save the lives of people considered their enemy.

"Whether they're enemies or not....they're people," Ohad Ronen, Senior Surgeon, at Galilee Medical Center, said.

Ronen estimates his hospital has treated about 700 Syrians since the Civil War began.

Head of Galilee Medical Center's Emergency Department, Arie Eisenman, said, "We were all surprised because until now, the Syrians have never tried to have any kind of connection with Israel."

He says Syrians had no choice, but to enter Israel seeking treatment for their wounds. Their own medical infrastructure has been destroyed. The two doctors emphasize they treat everyone the same.

"We are instructed not to ask them questions, we don't want to ask them...it's not our interest and we don't know who they are," Eisenman said.

The doctors say treating the Syrian patients has sometimes been challenging.

"Sometimes they wake up, they realize they are in enemy land in Israel, they want to go back. So sometimes we cannot complete the whole plan," Ronen said.

But one memorable patient did return. He arrived in Israel with his lower jaw shattered.

"He was very malnourished. He couldn't eat. Could hardly breathe," Ronen said.

He helped, rebuilding the young man's jaw using a 3D printer.

"We are considered enemies, but under certain circumstances, enemies do not count. What counts is what you can do in order to save their lives," Eisenman said.

The doctors say many of the Syrian patients they treat are women and children under eighteen. They get caught in the crossfire of the Civil War.

BERRIEN SPRINGS, Mich. -- Two Israeli doctors spoke at Andrews University Thursday about their experience treating hundreds of wounded Syrians in a war zone hospital.

More than 1,500 casualties of the Syrian civil war have been treated in Israel to date.

The doctors said that both rebels and ISIS members are treated equally.

“We give them treatment as any other human being,” Dr. Ohad Ronen said. “They’re not considered enemies when they are in our hospitals. They’re just human beings.”

Organizers hope that the hundreds of students who attended Thursday’s event will learn how to work together and reach out for peace around the world.

Benton Harbor Celebrates!
You are invited to the party – Benton Harbor’s two-year long birthday party.
It’s your birthday, Benton Harbor. Let’s come together and celebrate.

Why Benton Harbor Celebrates?
On March 14, 1865 -- 150 years ago -- Brunson Harbor became the village of Benton Harbor. Then on June 5, 1891 -- 124 years ago -- the state of Michigan granted a charter and Benton Harbor was incorporated as a city. These historical events were confirmed via documents received by the Benton Spirit Community Newspaper from the Secretary of State for Michigan. So, within the next two years Benton Harbor has a lot of celebrating to do!!!

In celebration of this history, Benton Spirit will observe in our publication, online and in hardcopy, the sesquicentennial (150 years) anniversary of the name change in 2015 and continue throughout 2016 in celebration of 125 years of Benton Harbor as an incorporated and chartered city.

What can you do?
1. Create your own birthday greeting for March 14, 2015. Tell Benton Spirit about it. Send us a copy of your greeting, along with your picture (if desired). Upload your greeting to the Benton Harbor Celebrates Facebook page or email it to bentonspirit@bentonharborcelebrates.com or mail it in using the attached form. Birthday greetings received by March 15, may be published in our March 19 edition.

2. Join the Benton Harbor Celebrates Facebook group. Updates will be placed there.

3. Send us your ideas, photos, videos, and stories about people, places and events (past and present) that you want published in Benton Spirit as part of our two-year celebration. We want to hear from every group, every church, every business, every school, every resident and everyone who loves Benton Harbor.

How can you reach us?

Great Lakes Shipwreck Diver to Present at 2015 Lecture Series

The Michigan Maritime Museum will be holding the third lecture of their 2015 Lecture Series with speaker Jim Scholz. Scholz will be giving a presentation on his shipwreck diving experiences and discoveries in the Great Lakes during his presentation, “What Lies Beneath.”

Scholz has been a SCUBA diver for over 30 years, gaining his initial certification on a shipwreck in the cold, dark and deep North Atlantic Ocean off the coast of New Jersey. Shortly after, he moved to Michigan and started diving the Great Lakes, only to find that the shipwrecks are more abundant, better preserved, and the only place in the world where you can find fully intact wooden Lake Schooners waiting to be discovered. He has assisted in locating three shipwrecks in Lake Michigan and is currently President of the Southwest Michigan Underwater Preserve. His mission is to work to locate, identify, preserve, and educate the public on the shipwrecks and bottomlands of the Great Lakes, and the joy of diving the cold, fresh waters.

Scholz will be speaking on the Michigan Maritime Museum Campus on March 28th at 2pm. The lecture series will continue on the last Saturday of the following months and feature a variety of topics and speakers.

Admission is $8 for adults and $7 for seniors. There is no admission fee for Museum members. Light refreshments will be provided. Become a member and attend each additional lecture at no cost. It is the perfect time to become a member!

The Michigan Maritime Museum is dedicated to the preservation of Michigan Great Lakes waterways, maritime history, and culture. Located at the drawbridge in South Haven, the museum is a 501 (C3) organization and donations are tax deductible. For more information call 1-800-747-3810 or visit michiganmaritimemuseum.org.

Looking for Single Occupancy apartment with kitchen

I am looking for living space somewhere this coming Fall-Spring semesters 2015-2016 near campus (<2 miles) for just myself. I'm more than happy to share the space with house/apartment mates, but given my often strange sleep habits (I'm a night owl), I'd rather not share with a roommate so as to not disturb them.

The major selling point of any place is the kitchen -- It's my reason for leaving the dorm. I'm a fairly clean and neat person -- I clean up after myself, and I'm not opposed to sharing a kitchen, so long as the other users are also clean. I have no qualms about pets, but have no pets of my own. I'm looking to pay somewhere in the $3-450 range (which seems fair to me).

I can be best reached by email at vyhmeise@andrews.edu whether you're looking for a roommate or looking to rent a place. Thanks!
