Need a Grade 6-9 Partner Class Studying the Great Depression

A Southwestern, rural Michigan eighth grade class, studying the Great Depression, would like to connect through Skype, with a class from a different region in the United States (or elsewhere in the world). The students are interested in finding out how a different region of the United States (or the world) experienced the Great Depression. The Michigan students will PowerPoint to present discussion on the effects of the Great Depression in this part of Michigan.

Dates: February 22 – March 3 (M-F) (pick a date you can do)
10:40 – 11:25 a.m. EST

Quotes from Past Participants:

- I cannot stress it enough from taking this course that we have missed the mark. Service learning curriculum is just what the doctor ordered in our educational system to make learning connected to life resulting in greater academic growth.
- Thanks to Shelley for inspiring me to make our meaningless school fairs into service learning opportunities!
- The thought keeps coming to me that Jesus is coming soon. That our time of free influence is very short and we need “an army of youth, rightly trained” as EGW writes. This class is a first step to training that army, thus fulfilling the purpose of SDA schools and justifying the expense of our existence!
- I thought [before] that service learning was a way to legitimize the time spent on community service to the parents and constituents. Now I see that it is an integral part of learning because it gives the students a reason to develop skills and study the subjects related to the project.

- This course has been extremely valuable. I wish it was required for all SDA educators!
- I really liked what you said about community service. Not only will I never look at community service the same way after taking this class, I never want to do JUST community service again! I think all of our eyes have been opened to what service truly is, and may we all be faithful in spreading the word to the rest of our colleagues not fortunate enough to take this class.
