Comments from past participants:

- I also think this course should be required by all teachers! Service Learning is a new term to me but for some years now, I have been trying to present opportunities for learning that is relevant to the students and I believe that Service Learning has just become my favorite format!

- Why would anyone WANT to teach using the old methods? I’m thankful for classes like this that show me ways to “beef up” my teaching methods.

- The thought keeps coming to me that Jesus is coming soon. That our time of free influence is very short and we need “an army of youth, rightly trained” as EGW writes. This class is a first step to training that army, thus fulfilling the purpose of SDA schools and justifying the expense of our existence!

Integrating Technology and Service Learning

The North American Division of Seventh-day Adventist "Journey to Excellence" lists 10 goals for curriculum in Adventist schools. Two of these goals are not always easy to integrate into the curriculum: #4) Responsible Citizenship, and #10) Career and service. How does the busy elementary or secondary teacher fit these goals into the already overpacked curriculum? This course will help educators realize the importance of developing service projects for their students, discover what is happening in the world of "service learning," learn how to integrate content with service, and complete a project to help impact their own community through service learning. This course addresses the National Educational Technology Standards for Teachers I-IV.

Prerequisites: Participants should have completed AVLN’s Integrating Technology in the Curriculum or equivalent course (must be proficient with their available technology, such as Word, Excel, Access, PowerPoint, FrontPage or other web design program; all of these may not necessarily be used but may be incorporated into participant's projects).

This instructor-led course is completely online. It is organized around 6 weeks of discussion, experiences, and application assignments.

Course Dates: October 3 - November 11, 2011 (Fall 2011 LSU credit)

Time Commitment: 6-8 hours per week

Course Syllabus

Instructor: Shelley Bacon

What is required of me as a student?
You should be able to work independently and discipline yourself to complete work in within the timeframe given. The course is offered over eight weeks, and you'll need to commit to six to eight hours a week. Each week you will have assigned readings, various experiences to reflect on, and you'll discuss the readings and experiences with fellow participants.

I'm Ready To Sign Up. What Do I Need to Do?

1. Make sure you meet the prerequisites:
   - Do you have basic computer skills? Can you save a file and find it again?
   - Are you comfortable browsing the Internet? Do you regularly use email with a reliable email address?
   - Do you have consistent reliable Internet access throughout the duration of the course? (Note: special arrangements can be made for the summer if you are offline on vacation for no more than a week during the course.)

2. Do you have time for this course? Have you looked at your schedule and determined how you will get 6-8 hours in per week? The course is organized so that best participation includes an hour or two a day Monday through Friday, with the weekends used to catch up if necessary.

Payment:

- Mail check to AVLN; 1001 White Cottage N.; Angwin, CA 94508
- OR Pay with secure credit card payment online.
- OR Supply contact information for your employer if your institution is paying.

Please make sure your check or verification letter from your employer arrives by the 2nd week of class. Otherwise, your login will be disabled until your payment arrives.

Withdrawal Refund
If you decide to cancel, you must do so by the end of the first week of the class; otherwise you will be charged the full amount.

Incomplete Policy
A participant must submit an incomplete request form before the end of the 4th week of class. Incomplete grades will only be granted in emergency situations beyond a student's control. Otherwise the participant will receive the grade earned.

Certificates and Grades
Please note that course certificates and grades will be sent only when it has been paid for and has been successful completed.

Note on Graduate Programs
AVLN classes are not part of a graduate program; therefore it is up to the student to determine if their university will accept AVLN classes towards a graduate program.

K12 Teachers Needing Credit for Recertification: Please note that all courses are offered ONLY for graduate credit now.

Register Now and also complete the Credit Form.

Note: Your registration is not complete until you receive a confirmation email and you have completed the Credit Form. Be sure to click through all the registration screens to confirm.
