Singles 2014 Spring Retreat
April 11-13, 2014
Mt Aetna Retreat Center

Brochure/Registration Form
Lorraine Edwards was born in Brooklyn, New York and moved to Gainesville, Florida with her family when she was 6 years old. She is the third of four children and grew up in an intact family with parents who were married 39 years. She was raised in the SDA church by parents who never said “no” when asked if their children could participate in service. Lorraine was very shy and while the thoughts of speaking publicly would cause anxiety for weeks in advance; this is where she learned to proceed in faith and let God use her.

Lorraine received invitations to speak publicly – preaching at youth services, presenting at seminars, and leading out in church ministries.

As a single woman, she understands the challenges that singles face trying to live a Godly, active life in the midst of an often “family-focused” denomination. She presents on topics that focus on the single Christian and their current needs. These topics will be useful to singles regardless of whether they later marry or not.

She has a BS in Psychology and a Master of Social Work from the Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU), where she is currently an adjunct professor. Lorraine works fulltime as a social worker and manager at The Salvation Army in Central Virginia.
