The ministry of Amazing Facts is joining with the Generation of Youth for Christ Southeast (GYCSE) to present The Ultimate Purpose, a four-part series that will help Christian college-age students navigate the complex life-decisions of a secular world through a biblical perspective. The event, hosted by Pastor Doug Batchelor, will be televised live on 3ABN, October 11–13, from the campus of Southern Adventist University in Collegedale, Tenn. Pastor Doug says, “Young people are facing extraordinary challenges to their faith in the world that we've never seen before, especially in light of social media and modern communications. I hope to show them that engaging their spiritual life not only offers their best hope, but it is also the key to every other important choice they'll make.” During the series, Pastor Doug will speak on a number of critical issues that touch college-age people, including:

1. What Is Truth? — Thursday, October 11
2. How Did We Get Here? — Friday, October 12
3. Why Is There Evil? — Saturday (11:00am ET), October 13
4. Where Am I Going? — Saturday (7:00pm ET), October 13

Each session will feature a live Q&A session, heartfelt messages, and inspirational music. Pastor Batchelor adds, “Ultimate Purpose will address the big questions and concerns felt by those in college—who are at perhaps the biggest crossroad of their lives—and show them that lasting fulfillment and real success can only come to a life centered in God.”

- If your church would like to be involved and receive a church kit—including postcards, posters, and other outreach resources—please call 916-434-3880 and ask for Sue.

A book titled Ultimate Purpose is also being produced in connection with the series, featuring four leading authors—Jon Henderson, Dave Steward, Ivor Myers, and Doug Batchelor—who struggled to find meaning in their lives but who eventually found their ultimate purpose in life after learning about the love of God.

Dr. Alan Parker, professor of missions and evangelism and sponsor of the GYCSE student group at Southern, says, “Students often know about God but struggle to connect with Him personally. But these same young people can provide the energy the church needs to reach the world in this generation. Ultimate Purpose will be a powerful way to help them understand their true value and their need.”

Ultimate Purpose is part of an ongoing campaign by Amazing Facts to reach young people with age-focused spiritual content at critical stages in life. For instance, their Amazing Adventure series reached elementary-aged children, while Most Important Questions gave high school students practical, biblical answers to common challenges faced by teens.

This new series promises to be a fresh, dynamic, and practical program that will help college-age students rediscover God and His calling on their lives. More details will be available here as the broadcast nears.
