Jan & Feb 2014 Online Workshops Sponsored by SDE

The School of Distance Education is sponsoring Sloan C Online Workshops for Andrews full time, adjunct, part time, and consortium faculty.

We've paid for another 25 seats in these workshops in 2014. Here is a comment from an adjunct faculty member who participated in 2013:

I found them all very helpful, especially the workshop on how to enhance distance learning with audio and video. The feedback I received on my assignments both from the facilitator and the other participants helped me maximize the learning experience. I am very grateful for being offered the opportunity to take these classes and I would recommend every lecturer to do at least one workshop a year to learn more about what tools and literature is available online to further develop their skill-set.
