GENERAL ARTICLES

THE BIG WEEK

You will remember that the week of July 13-19 was set apart by our colporteurs as a special week, a time in which every colporter, together with the field secretaries and other conference workers, would unite in an effort to see what might be accomplished. You will be interested in the records made. The Western New York Conference, although a week later with its report, established a new weekly record for the Union with sales amounting to $2361.46, with Maine very close behind with sales amounting to $2259.32. This is the first time any of our conferences have passed the $2000 mark in their weekly sales. The total sales for the Union that week were $8305.60, the result of 140 colporteurs working 4110 hours. This is an average of a little better than $2 an hour, demonstrating again that men can make a living wage devoting their entire time to the work. The largest individual record for the week was made by Brother F. B. Oaks, who in fifty hours took orders amounting to $307.25. Brother C. W. Farley, the field secretary of the Northern New England Conference, working the same number of hours, came in with a record of $305.75.

We were much pleased to see the names of Elder and Mrs. Carr accompany the list of workers forging ahead in the State of Maine. Another year we shall look for some of our other presidents in the Union to join with us in this special effort.

The field, missionary secretaries of the Union had set a goal of $1,000, and this goal was reached with six of the nine secretaries reporting. The reports are as follows:

	Hrs.	Value
C. W. Farley	50	$305 75
F. D. Wells	44	254 30
H. P. Gram	41	102 50
O. C. Weller	46	132 00
E. E. Covey	25	102 35
E. E. Franklin	38	213 10
Total	244	$1110 00

We regret that Brother F. M. Larsen, of Greater New York, was detained in the city in connection with the work of the Danish-Norwegian department that week. The report of the work of our field secretaries may still be larger when we receive reports from Brother and Sister Waldo, of the Massachusetts Conference.

Personally, I enjoyed many valuable experiences with the people in the field. Brother Wells and I worked territory that four other colporteurs thought was hard, but all we had to do was to show the precious truths contained in our books and the people were ready to purchase. Persons everywhere seemed to be anxiously reaching out for light, and hearts were touched as we explained the Scriptures to them.

Our faithful colporteurs will surely be rewarded in seeing souls saved as a result of their labors. Now is our harvest time to work.

E. E. FRANKLIN.

HARVEST INGATHERING

1919

It does not seem possible that another year of thrilling events has passed, and we are face to face with another Harvest Ingathering campaign. Prophecy has been crowding into history during the past twelve months, and we can see more clearly than ever that the end is very near. The war has closed, and the little time of peace granted us in which to finish the work is here. We must take advantage of it.

We have seen a great awakening in the interest of foreign missions. This should make our work easier. We feel confident that those who have taken part in the past will welcome the opportunity this year, and those who have not will desire to join in the work. God blessed our effort last year, and we reached our goal of $25,000. In view of the urgent calls and the fact that dollars are depreciating in value, we cannot do less in 1919. This denomination has always gone forward. Therefore, we have set the goal at $30,000, and feel confident that it will be reached. But every one must do his part.

A year ago many conferences did not begin work until late, and then the influenza plague came and hindered our work. We are getting an early start this year. Each local conference home missionary secretary has sent out the detail instructions, so you can begin at once. We believe if each one would set right to the task, the amount could be raised by the close of September.

September will be campaign month. Special days and weeks will be set apart as field days when all may have a part in this work. Most of our people have enjoyed the field days with our small books, and, having had such excellent experiences, will welcome an opportunity to broaden their efforts by gathering means to send the gospel to regions beyond. The individual goal will be five dollars a member.

As we enter upon this campaign to secure means to send more missionaries to foreign lands, let us not forget that we are to search for souls among those we visit. The Harvest Ingathering Watchman contains an up-to-date, living message. The very fact that sin-polluted hearts, steeped in heathenism, are being converted, is a sermon in itself and will break down prejudice and draw souls to God. Pray most earnestly that God will make you a real soul winner and give you success in collecting means for him. This is to be a real soul-saving campaign.

If you have not ordered your papers yet, do so at once from your tract society. V. O. PUNCHES,
A. U. C. Home Miss. Sec.

CAMP-MEETING HISTORY

FOR sometime we have been trying to gather information concerning the location and date of camp-meetings held in the conference. After careful research, we have completed the list as far back as 1870. We know of no camp-meeting held before that. If any of our brethren and sisters do know of such a meeting, we should be glad to get the information concerning the place and date.

Thinking it would be of interest to our brethren and sisters, we are giving the information which we have been able to gather:

1870—Bordoville, Vt.
1871-72—Richmond, Vt.
1873-74—Wolcott, Vt.
1875—Milton, Vt.
1876—Essex Junction, Vt.
1877-78 Morrisville, Vt.
1879—Essex Junction, Vt.
1880-81—Morrisville, Vt.
1882-83—Montpelier, Vt.
1884-85—Burlington, Vt.
1886-87—Vergennes, Vt.
1888—Randolph, Vt.
1889—St. Albans, Vt.
1890-91—Essex Junction, Vt.
1892—Cambridge Junction, Vt.
1893—Waterbury, Vt.
1894-95—Morrisville, Vt.
1896-97—Rutland, Vt.
1898—Bennington, Vt.
1899-1900—St. Johnsbury, Vt.
1901-2—Barre, Vt.
1903—Randolph, Vt.

1907-8—Waterbury, Vt.
1909—Richmond, Vt.
1910—Burlington, Vt.
1911—White River, Vt.
1912—Manchester, N. H.
1913—Montpelier, Vt.
1914—Claremont, N. H.
1915-16—White River Jct., Vt.
1917—No Meeting, Sickness in Vt.
1918—Lebanon, N. H.
1919—Brattleboro, Vt.

You will notice the last date is yet to come. It is August 14-24, 1919, in Brattleboro, Vermont.

How many of these camp-meetings have you attended? No doubt you have had great blessings in all that you have attended, but we believe that no camp-meeting was better than the one we are planning this year, and we trust you will make every effort possible, and even great sacrifice, in order to be present at this one.

SYRACUSE BAPTISM

ON Sabbath, August 16, the writer will meet with the Syracuse church, and a baptismal service will be conducted at the close of the three o'clock meeting. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance.

H. C. HARTWELL.

NOTICE

A FEW weeks ago we mentioned an opportunity for men who would like permanent employment who have children of school age. The Babcock Company has been manufacturers of agricultural implements for a number of years at Leonardsville, N. Y. This company is owned by Seventh-day Baptists, and the factory does not run on Saturday. They have difficulty to secure enough employes of their own denomination and are glad to employ Seventh-day Adventists. As an inducement to some of our people to locate at Leonardsville, Mr. Babcock has offered to give four hundred dollars this year towards maintaining a church school if at least five Seventh-day Adventist families will move to this town so that the father can work in the factory. He offers to pay thirty cents an hour. Three of our brethren have responded to the previous notice thus far, and they are waiting to learn if there are at least enough more to make the number five. Any who wish to take advantage of this opportunity may address the writer. We advise that all interested persons write for further particulars so as to have a thorough understanding of the matter before making any move.

H. C. HARTWELL.

ITEMS

BRETHREN C. L. KILGORE AND W. M. VENORN spent several days at the office recently auditing the conference books.

At the time of this writing we never had so many orders for tents and rooms so long before the opening of camp-meeting.

If any have musical instruments that they can play fairly well, they are requested to bring them with them to camp-meeting to help with the music.

Professor Gerald E. Miles arrived in Rome last week to begin visiting a number of our churches in the interests of students for Lancaster Junior College.

There is One upon whom we can depend to be at our camp-meeting. He has urged us not to forsake the assembling of ourselves together, and he has given his promise to always be present where his people are gathered together in his name.

Brother and Sister George Israel and Brother Fred Pierce, all of Battle Creek, Mich., made a short visit to the office last week. They were on their way to South Lancaster. Many of our people will remember them as workers in the conference office a number of years ago.

Mrs. Pines, of Melrose, Mass., has been spending a number of days with her sister, Miss Alberta Denison, who is doing stenographic work in our office. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Denison. Doctor and Mrs. Pines and little daughter expect to start for Florida the first of the week to connect with the Florida sanitarium.

GOUVERNEUR

We were happily surprised to have Elder Hartwell and family stop at our place for a few minutes while on their way to Canton Sabbath afternoon, July 19, where they were to hold general services the following Sunday. We are glad that Gouverneur has not been forgotten by our brethren.

Our people here are anxiously looking forward to the time when we may have an effort to follow up the work that Brother H. P. Gram started while here over a year ago.

HOW OUR SMALLER BOOKS AND 'PRESENT TRUTH' PREPARED
THE WAY FOR THE LARGER ONES

ONE of our colporteurs recently called at the home of ex-Senator Pratt to canvass for one of our large books. He told Brother Robert Thomas, before he had an opportunity to show him his prospectus, that he had recently bought a little book from one of the Seventh-day Adventist ministers on the Norwich trolley car, which he thought was one of the best he had ever read on the question of the Sabbath. He asked our brother if his book was published by the same people. Upon answering in the affirmative, the Senator gave his order without any canvass.

As we have given out thousands of copies of Present Truth also, our canvassers tell us that this good work has been a decided help, because in some instances they would never have had any chance of access to some of the conservative Southern New England homes. The continued numbers of Present Truth create a desire for Bible present truth.

TAKE COURAGE, FAITHFUL COLPORTEUR

RECENTLY a lady in the Western New York Conference gave her heart to the Lord, and is now a faithful Sabbath-keeper, as the result of reading a copy of "Bible Readings" that was lying in her home unread. She has a husband and three small children, and the prospects are that her husband will soon join her in obeying the truth.

During a recent interview I inquired how she happened to begin reading "Bible Readings," to which she quickly replied that she "wanted to be better." I might add, in this connection that she had never made a profession of religion before. I had learned before visiting her that she desired baptism, and found as the result of my interview that she believed every point of present truth. Doubtless by the time this article is read she will have followed her Lord in this sacred rite.

As the "latter rain" is poured out there will be many cases of a similar character. These instances should afford the faithful and consecrated colporteur infinitely greater satisfaction than the revenue in money that he receives from his commission on the books he sells; for every soul won to Christ as the result of his faithful efforts in placing our Spirit-filled literature in the hands of the people will be a star in his crown of rejoicing. Take courage, faithful colporteur.

K. C. RUSSELL.

HERE AGAIN

ANOTHER opportunity to gather offerings for our world-wide mission field is here again. It has been thought best to begin the work this year at the earliest moment possible, in view of the possibility that another epidemic of the influenza might return, as is being predicted by medical authorities. From the experience of last year with this dreadful disease, it is important that we do our work in the Harvest Ingathering campaign before the plague returns. During such an epidemic it is not the most ideal time to visit the homes of people promiscuously, for they fear they will contract the disease.

It is needless to mention the fact to those who have canvassed or solicited offerings from the people, that it is much easier to do so now. The reason is obvious, for the people have been educated to give during the great war. Again, it should be remembered that never in the history of the work were wages higher than at the present time and money more plentiful; so let every Seventh-day Adventist in the Western New York Conference make this the banner year in the Harvest Ingathering work.

When you see a copy of the Watchman, that we are to use this year in our Harvest Ingathering work, you will agree that it eclipses any previous paper we have used.

Let all who are isolated write at once to the Western New York Conference, 60 Grand Ave., indicating the number of papers they desire, and they will be sent without cost.

K. C. RUSSELL.

ITEMS

THOSE desiring catalogs of the Fernwood Academy can obtain them by addressing the Western New York Conference, 60 Grand Ave., Rochester, N. Y.

Who will assist in furnishing three new rooms at the Fernwood Academy? To furnish a room will require a bedstead, mattress, dresser, table, and two chairs, besides furnishings for the bed. Let all who desire to help address Professor J. Norman Clapp, Tunessassa, N. Y.

Professors Gerald Miles and J. Norman Clapp have spent several weeks in the interests of the Lancaster Junior College and Fernwood Academy. They anticipate that a number of students will attend each of these schools.

Miss Berenice Russell is recovering from a very severe attack of tonsilitis.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wells are spending a few weeks in Ohio visiting relatives and attending the Ohio camp-meeting.

Elder K. C. Russell expects to attend the Northern Michigan, Illinois, and Tennessee River Conference camp-meetings.

Mr. Samuel Woodruff and family, of Gerry, who were recently burned out, have been remembered very liberally by kind neighbors and our people, for which they feel very grateful.

Mrs. Libbie Crandall, of the Buffalo church, is very ill. Let all our people remember this dear afflicted sister at the throne of grace. Sister Crandall has been a most devout Christian since embracing the truth a number of years ago under the preaching of Elder T. B. Westbrook.

THE WORK IN LEWISTON

THE work is onward in Lewiston. Brother Maurice R. Bailey, who has had charge of the work in this field for the past year, reports a marked increase in the interest manifest throughout the two cities of Lewiston and Auburn.

For the past two months Brother Bailey has conducted a series of lectures on the testing points of the message at the Sylvan Avenue church. From week to week the attendance has steadily increased until last Sunday evening the church was well packed to listen to the subject "The Judgment." At the close of the lecture, several strangers expressed their interest in the subject. Two leaders of other denominations, who have been attending these lectures, are now inquiring into the truths we believe, and have asked for literature that takes up the topics more extensively. Several others have recently taken their stand for the Sabbath. The solos sung by little Duane Griffis have impressed the topics of the evening upon the minds of the audience.

Sister A. L. Griffis, who has recently connected with the work in Lewiston, has been a help in laboring with the interested persons who are in the valley of decision. Some of her readers have already taken their stand for the truth. Sister Griffis' calling list has so increased that she is now unable to make further appointments with the newly interested ones.

Last Sabbath the Lewiston Sabbath-school was favored by a visit from Sister H. W. Carr, Sabbath-school secretary of the Maine Conference. She expressed her pleasure at seeing so large an attendance, and stated it was the largest she had ever witnessed in Lewiston. The last thirteenth Sabbath offering averaged over $1.20 a member. As the new Sabbath-school bonds were accepted by the school last Sabbath as a means of raising funds for the regions beyond, the superintendent, Miss Ethel Bemis, feels that the next thirteenth Sabbath offering will average even better than the last. Since last camp-meeting, the attendance of this Sabbath-school has increased nearly one hundred per cent, and that of the church has increased nearly fifty per cent, while several are now awaiting baptism.

The church voted to build an annex to the church to be used as a church school, which will accommodate about thirty pupils. The work on this building is already under way, and by camp-meeting time the foundation will be completed.

We believe the interest in Lewiston will be greatly benefited by the camp-meeting that is to be held August 21-31. The church-members are making all preparations to give our people throughout the conference a most hearty welcome. The people in the vicinity of the camp-ground are opening their homes, and Brother Bailey assures us that there will be plenty of accommodations at reasonable prices.

TO THE CHILDREN

I CAN almost see your happy faces as you talk of camp-meeting while getting ready to come. I am hoping to see you all at Lewiston again, and trust you may be there at the very beginning. Be sure to bring your Bibles. We shall have note-book and pencil for each one in the primary division. There are surprises awaiting the little tots, and the older ones, too. The Lord gave us many blessings last year, and we have every assurance of more this year. Let us continue to pray that there may be a way for every one to come.

TO THE PARENTS

EVERYTHING possible is being done to fulfil the prophetic word which says, "Call a solemn assembly; gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children." We are one year nearer the close of probation than when the same effort was made last year. Did you overcome every obstacle and bring the children then? Dear parents, let nothing of an ordinary nature hinder you now. We have prayed as we worked to have every preparation made for a most helpful season with the lambs of the flock. As in assemblies of old, so today we must "gather the children."

"Bring them, oh, bring them!
Do not leave the children behind!
Perhaps some lesson planted here
May help them the Saviour to find."

ITEMS

THE sales of our colporteurs from January 1 to August 2, 1919, have been $19, 808.68.

The many friends of Sister W. O. Howe will be glad to know that she is improving in health. We begin to hope that she will be able to be at camp-meeting.

Brother H. C. McCausland was thrown from his wagon by a frightened horse last week, and sustained some injuries. We are hoping that he will speedily recover.

Brethren W. A. Bickford and E. C. Taylor, with helpers, began to pitch the camp at Lewiston the tenth. We are expecting a large attendance this year.

Sister Jennie Bates spent a few days at the summer school while attending the Missionary Volunteer convention. Her sister, Mrs. Fuller, of Boston, is with their aged mother during Sister Bates' absence.

Sister E. E. Prescott, who has served for many years as Sabbath-school secretary of Western New York, is spending a few days for rest at Christmas Cove with relatives. We hope she may attend the camp-meeting at Lewiston.

We are pleased to know that Sister Hazel Howe's health is so much improved that she can accompany her husband to Manchester, Mass., to Sabbath-school each week, where they take an active part in the services. Their help is much appreciated.

All the deliveries of our colporteurs two weeks ago were very successful. Brother Small, of Ridlonville, lost a few books, but he sold enough during his delivery to more than make up for those he could not deliver. Brother Oaks said he found many copies of "Bible Readings" in the homes where he canvassed during "big week."

Elder Carr accompanied Brethren

Punches and Perkins as they visited the churches until they left Dyer Brook, when he returned to Portland. He says the people show a good interest and are willing to begin in earnest with the Harvest Ingathering campaign as soon as the papers are received. A full report of their campaign will appear later.

OBITUARY NOTICES

LAWES.—Died, July 24, 1919, Mrs. Alette E. Lawes. Sister Lawes saw light in the Sabbath truth and the promise of the return of Jesus during the labors of Elder A. V. Cotton and his assistant Bible worker, Miss Cora Spencer, in Boston, in the summer of 1916. She attended almost without exception the entire course of meetings in the tent on Massachusetts Avenue. Desiring to follow Christ in the beautiful symbol of his cleansing power, his burial and resurrection, she was baptized by Elder Cotton in Tremont Temple on Feb. 3, 1917. The funeral service was held Sabbath, July 26, as arranged by her husband in Trinity Church, Boston. Our sister was singularly energized by the love and power of the Master, both in health and in her time of physical weakening, few knowing of the seriousness of her trouble until a few days before her death, which occurred in a Brookline hospital following an operation for tumor. Many friends from Boston and Lancaster were present at the funeral and at the grave, Sister Lawes having been a trusted caretaker and friend in the Thayer families of Lancaster and Boston for many years. Her works of love and mercy to all, including the dumb animals who cannot speak for themselves, placed in man's care by the Creator, follow her. She realized clearly the sacred independence, under God, of the individual human will,—the principle of equal suffrage as also that of religious liberty; and she looked to Jesus living and dying as her all sufficient Saviour. Our prayers are for her beloved, bereaved husband and her many friends, while we turn, as bidden, to the words found in 1 Thess. 4:13-18.

EDITH CHASE NEWTON.

MOSIURE.—Died at Hawford, Cal., May 28, 1919, my mother, of shock, following an operation for removal of cataract from the eye. She had been totally blind for two years, and being assured of being able to see, she willingly consented to the operation. She was a firm believer in the doctrines as taught by Seventh-day Adventists. Born of sturdy New England parentage, she inherited many excellent qualities, and never let an opportunity pass for saying a kind word or doing a kind deed. She was a few days past seventy-seven years of age. In her youth she married William B. Knapp, and after a few years settled on a farm on Willow Creek, Pa. While bringing up their own family of three their home was opened for several other children whom they cared for as their own. In 1870 she became interested in the Adventists through the study of "Scripture References," and later was baptized by Elder R. F. Cottrell, becoming a charter member of the church in Corydon, Pa., where she held membership until her removal to California eleven years ago. A few years ago she married Wm. Moshure. Funeral services were held in the Lemoore church, Elder H. E. Giddings making appropriate remarks, and burial was in the local cemetery. She rests for a short while, and if faithful we shall meet.

MUSIC.—Brother Raymond Musick passed away at the home of his parents in Beverly, Mass., June 24, 1919, at the age of twenty-three years. He had been a patient sufferer for more than a year, but to the last he cherished the hope of being able to get well and enter the Lord's work again with his wife. He had completed one year's training in the nurses' course at the New England Sanitarium and he and his wife planned to finish this course. Brother Musick enjoyed a deep Christian experience, and he peacefully passed away in the hope of a soon-coming Saviour. He leaves a wife, mother, father, sister, and two brothers; but they know that the loved one sleeps in Jesus. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer.

WOODRUFF.—Joseph Woodruff, aged sixty-five years, died at his home in Pennellville, on July 16. He is survived by his wife and one sister. Words of comfort were spoken by the undersigned at the funeral held at the home on the afternoon of July 20.

NICHOLS.—Died of congestion of the lungs, July 26, 1919, Mr. Chester Nichols, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nichols, of Rochester, New York. He was twenty years of age at the time of his death. The deceased will be better known by many of the students of Lancaster Junior College as the brother of Miss Ruth Nichols. The deceased was unfortunate from his birth, as he was deprived of the use of his legs and arms, and was also dumb. He, however, was blessed with the sense of seeing and hearing. He was fond of flowers, music, and kindly attention. Besides his parents, he leaves four brothers and three sisters to mourn their loss. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer at his funeral service, which took place July 28.

BARTLETT.—Stanley Bartlett, oldest child of William N. and Emma S. Bartlett, was born May 2, 1900, in Denver, Colo., and died Aug. 3, 1919, at Guilford, Conn. Stanley was always in feeble health, but he was very patient, and truly loved the Lord. He was a faithful member of the Seventh-day Adventist church, and died in the blessed hope.

H. C. J. Walleker.

PRATT.—Lesley Roy Pratt died in Pulaski, July 22, 1919, by drowning in the Salmon River. He was born in Camden sixteen years ago. He is survived by his grandfather,—William Green,—a brother,—Carl,—and by several uncles and aunts with one of whom,—Sister Benjamin Caswell, of Pulaski,—he made his home. Lesley was baptized at the 1917 camp-meeting of the Eastern New York Conference, and became a member of the Pulaski church. Funeral services were conducted by the writer Thursday afternoon, July 25, at Pulaski, with burial in Williamstown. The text was Ps. 119: 9.

L. H. KING, JR.

BOSSARD.—Died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jenkins, in Rochester, New York, July 14, 1919, of a complication of diseases, Mrs. Emily Bossard in her forty-second year. She was a member of the Rochester church of Seventh-day Adventists, but on account of ill health had been unable to attend regularly the church services for the past two years. Besides her parents, she leaves a son, two brothers, and two sisters to mourn their loss. The funeral services were conducted by the writer at the home of her parents, July 17, 1919. Let all remember in their prayers the sorrowing relatives and friends.

HALLIFAX.—Charles Hallifax was born at East Wilson, May 16, 1850, and died near Canajoharie, N. Y., July 19, 1919. He lived alternately in Niagara Co., N. Y., and Jamestown, N. D.; until 1917, when he located on a farm near Canajoharie, N. Y., where death came as the climax to several years' poor health. During the last few months of his life his sufferings were very severe. Two years before his death he gave his heart to God. Besides his widow, he is survived by five sons, who have the comforting assurance that he sleeps in Jesus.

CLAUDE E. ELDREDGE.

GHEE.—Mrs. Anna Marsh Ghee was born in Jamesville, N. Y., Feb. 26, 1840. In 1890, with her daughter and son, she united with the Seventh-day Adventist church in Syracuse, N. Y., and remained a faithful member until her death, July 4, 1919. She is survived by her husband and daughter. Words of comfort were spoken by Brother L. H. King, Jr. We laid her to rest awaiting the call of the Life-giver on the resurrection morning.

THE CAMPAIGN "EDUCATOR"

OUR schools have passed the experimental stage. While there is abundant opportunity for greater progress, experience has demonstrated the fact that they are rendering a great service to our youth and the cause of God.

Today we look to our schools to fill the ever increasing number of calls from all departments of our work.

To assist in the educational campaign being conducted this summer, the Campaign number of Christian Educator has been prepared. The striking cut on its front cover tells the story. Its articles prepared by our leaders, as well as by students, tell something of the great work before us, what our schools have done and what they ought to be doing.

Every youth, parent, and worker should have a copy. Do not fail to order a liberal supply through your tract society, and get this number of the Educator into as many hands as possible. Price, four cents in quantities.

O. M. JOHN.

WEDDING

A PRETTY wedding took place at the home of Brother and Sister J. W. Sypher, of Malden, Mass., on Wednesday evening, July 23, when their daughter, Miss Viola Isabelle, was united in marriage to Mr. Roy Allan Hallifax, both of whom formerly were workers at the New England Sanitarium.

A number of their relatives were present, together with out of town friends and several members of the Boston church, and also many of their friends from the sanitarium. The many useful presents given, together with the expressions of regard heard by the writer, testified to the love and esteem in which this young couple are held by their friends.

Brother and Sister Hallifax are to take up work in Portland, Maine, and their many friends wish them Godspeed as together they journey hand in hand through the world.

J. K. JONES.

LANCASTER JUNIOR COLLEGE

THE college has a few outstanding accounts with students that ought to be settled at the earliest possible moment. During the summer months, while very little tuition is received, there are heavy bills which fall due, so the school is especially hard pressed to meet its obligations. We shall greatly appreciate it if students or parents who are owing money to the school on last year's tuition will kindly send their remittances as promptly as possible. If you cannot send it all, please send an instalment immediately.

Young people who are thinking of taking a commercial course will do well to consider the special advantages offered by Lancaster Junior College. The students in our commercial department last year made remarkably rapid progress both in shorthand and typewriting, as well as in other commercial subjects. Our tuition fees are considerably lower than those in good business colleges, and our standards are the highest. The Gregg system of shorthand, which we have adopted, is used by far the largest number of schools in this country, and is gaining every year in recognition. There is a great need of well qualified stenographers and secretaries in our denomination. We could place a dozen immediately if we had them.

We are especially glad to hear from some who are planning to take our short course for would-be workers. There ought to be still more of this class. It is possible by careful selection of subjects to get, in one or two years, a good, all-round training in Bible, history, and English, and this is the kind of training that a large number of our people need in order to fit them for some place of usefulness in the cause. We should be glad to hear from more who are interested in this training and would be willing to make some sacrifice of time and money in order to gain such a preparation. We are living in a time when every one who is acquainted with the truth should seek such preparation as will enable him or her to have a definite part in making it known to others.

M. E. OLSEN.
