Feature Article

COR Value: Support

Not all holidays are joyous moments for everyone. In fact, some holidays often trigger some very painful feelings about brokenness and disappointment. In an article for Relevant Magazine, Jim Palmer talks about "Finding Healing on Father's Day." Palmer offers several different ideas as 'healing', in the hopes that one can seek and find support through these means.

Have you considered offering support to members of your community during the holidays that can be difficult?

Here are some ideas:

- Invite a student that is away from home, to celebrate with your family for Thanksgiving. Or have a Thanksgiving breakfast and devotional at the church.
- There maybe a widow whose children are far away, invite her to join your mother's day celebration.
- Create a collage or display for you veterans or those currently serving in our military.

Email us: We would love to hear what kinds of support you are offering!

Media Ministry: "Bold new horizons for God"

How are we utilizing social media to foster community for this ever changing generation? Dan Jackson, the President of the NAD of SDA poses this question, "How are we presenting our beliefs?" in his presentation on Media Ministry Imperatives.

Our times demand us to do more than tweak our media evangelism. Jackson says, "If we want to be relevant in our communication of the gospel, we have no alternative as we move through the shifting cultural sands of today's electronic and social media revolution."

Find out more as you watch the presentation in its entirety.

The World is about to Change!!!

Change

The World is about to completely change! Well, not really just the world wide web. At the moment there are 22 top level domains for web addresses i.e., .com, .org, .net. But starting in 2012 anything you can think of is up for grabs, from .phone to .haystack. The Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN) believes that opening the door for changing how we navigate the Internet invites human innovation. A decision like this has a global impact since the web is a primary driver of business, community, and politics. Read the ICANN's full news report here.

Some ways to respond:

- Should the Adventist church take this opportunity to build on its trademarks and branding i.e., .Adventist or .SDA?
- How has your faith community offered support to someone undergoing a big change i.e., marriage, divorce, addition to the family, loss of a family member, starting a new school, first time experiencing church, etc?
- What big changes has your faith community pursued that invited greater participation from this generation?