From: archeologylist-bounces@clifcat.southern.edu on behalf of Justo Morales <jmorales@southern.edu>
Sent: Thursday, November 1, 2012 10:45 AM
To: archeologylist@lists.southern.edu
Subject: [Archeologylist] Special Exhibition Opening
Attachments: ATT00001.txt
King David—a poet, a warrior, a hero, the founder of a dynasty—is at the heart of Israel’s history. But was he real? And was his kingdom real? Recent archaeological discoveries in the valley where David slew Goliath have provided new evidence for David’s kingdom. Southern Adventist University’s Institute of Archaeology has been uncovering the remains of a fortress city from the time of David, the Fortress of Elah. Amazing finds from this important biblical site will be exhibited for the first time at Southern’s Lynn H. Wood Archaeological Museum.

Exhibition Grand Opening
Wednesday, November 7, 7:00 pm,
Lynn Wood Hall Auditorium
Southern Adventist University

Opening Lecture
“The Battle Over King David” by Michael G. Hasel, PhD

Justo Morales
Museum Coordinator
Lynn H. Wood Archaeological Museum
4960 Industrial Drive
Collegedale, TN 37315
O: 423.236.2027
C: 630.631.8786
www.southern.edu/archaeology