James and Kris Proctor (friends of Brandon and Pam Lubbert) are in the Ukraine right now trying to adopt a young lady that desperately wants a home. However, they have been set back by untold red tape and many other things. They are very discouraged.

They have now been told by the people helping with the adoption that there is a slim chance this will go through.

In a last ditch effort to try and working something out with the government, tomorrow, they are going to visit the government officials tomorrow to try and work something out.

Here is what James says:

"We have talked with both of our facilitators late last night and again early this morning. So far they have been unsuccessful in their attempts to move our case forward. Inna (The young lady they are trying to adopt) will be on the train shortly to come see us. Tomorrow we will all go visit a few government ministries and hopefully the judge herself, all of this in an attempt to save our adoption. We have been given the impression that our chances are slim.

We are claiming the promise in 2 Chron. 32:7-8. We are trying to be courageous, and we are asking God to come and help us in our fight against the forces of evil. Please pray this with us."
Won't you remember James and Kris Proctor today and tomorrow and just pray that God's will will go forward whatever it maybe?

Even better, send them a very short email and let them know you are praying. Just put PRAYING in the subject line and sign your name.

Let's see how the Lord will work in this situation, because it is truly in his hands.

7 "Be strong and courageous; do not be afraid nor dismayed before the king of Assyria, nor before all the multitude that is with him; for there are more with us than with him.

8 With him is an arm of flesh; but with us is the Lord our God, to help us and to fight our battles." And the people were strengthened by the words of Hezekiah king of Judah. 2 Chronicles 32:7-8
