For those who may be interested, Dr. Sean Pitman recently gave a provocative presentation at Loma Linda University (linked below) as part of Dr. Paul Giem’s Second Look Seminars – a series of presentations on origins. Dr. Pitman’s topic was:

Intelligent Design: Science or Religion?

The talk was based on a review of Judge John Jone’s ruling in the 2005 Kitzmiller vs. Dover case over the effort to teach intelligent design theories in public schools as competing scientific theories to mainstream theories on origins – especially the origin of life on Earth.
