22 January

“The time will come when the Bridegroom will be taken from the disciples; in those days they will fast” (Luke 5:35).

Jesus called himself the Bridegroom, and the church his bride. When the Bridegroom was taken from the disciples at the Cross, they mourned and fasted. But when he was restored to them, after his resurrection from the dead, they celebrated.

So with us. When we are re-united with Jesus at his coming there will be a celebration to out-celebrate every other celebration, for not only will we be united with the Lord, but also with the redeemed of every age.
