Fall Convocation 2012

Join us for our annual Fall Convocation, a weekend focused on religious liberty for all featuring Pastor Lincoln Steed. We will also have messages in Spanish, meetings for the children, an inspirational concert, and testimonies from young people who are on fire for Christ, as well as chair massages and blood pressure checking.

Featured Speaker

Pastor Lincoln Steed is the Associate Director of Public Affairs and Religious Liberty for the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists. He is also the editor of Liberty magazine, a journal that advocates for the rights of faith and practice for all. Lincoln has traveled extensively promoting temperance and religious liberty.

Pastor Lincoln Steed

FREE meetings for the children and youth, inspirational concert, blood pressure checking, and chair massage

Spanish Meetings will be presented by Pastor Norberto Restrepo and Pastor Juan Campos.

Speakers

Pastor Lincoln Steed is the Associate Director of Public Affairs and Religious Liberty for the North American Division of the General Conference. He is also the editor of Liberty magazine, a religious liberty journal that argues the rights of faith and practice for all. Elder Steed has long maintained that our religious liberties and our good relationship with society at large are inextricably entwined. He has traveled extensively promoting temperance and religious liberty issues.

Pastor Norberto Restrepo Sr., father of Hartland’s President, is co-founder of Las Delicias mission centers in Venezuela and Colombia. He served for 20 years in denominational employment as a pastor, union departmental director, and university religion professor. For the past 32 years he has served in self-supporting ministry promoting country living, education, and righteousness by faith.

Pastor Juan Campos is a distinguished evangelist in Colombia, South America. He is an author and has contributed to self-supporting work in Colombia and other countries for over two decades.
