Comments from Vimeo On Demand viewers:

- Amazing! That solves so many problems created unnecessary by the eternal hell belief. I loved this movie. :)
- Amazing stuff. This film allows the Bible to reveal the truth of a loving God who longs for all to come to Him. Thank you Lord for your grace.
- Definitely worth recommending! And at just about $10, the price of a movie ticket, you can download (and keep!) a really great, thought-provoking film. I just pray that there are more films made which paint a clearer, more truer picture of God's character. With our financial help, there can be. Well done!
- Our God is a god of Love and not torment. The bible is clear on this issue for all willing to see it. Great movie and needs to be seen by all.
Dear Friends,

As I write this message to you, white cockatoos with yellow crests and loud screeches fly overhead; pink Galahs land in the towering blue gum tree above; the funniest laughter I've ever heard reveals a kookaburra nearby; and a big shapeless lump of fur on the road at night turns out to be a wombat. Good thing we didn't hit it - they say it's built like a tank!

Yes, I'm writing from Australia, where I'm touring with Hell and Mr. Fudge, thanks to the Signs Publishing Company, our distributor here. One of the sweetest parts of travel is seeing old friends and making new ones. Meeting folks I've only corresponded with is precious! Catching up with friends from the past is wonderful! And finding new people to be heart to heart with in Jesus is a taste of heaven!

My first "friend" opportunity came over the weekend at the ABC manager's retreat in Jumbunna Lodge, south of Melbourne. Representatives from Papua New Guinea, Cook Islands, Solomon Islands and Fiji took me back to the fascinating mission stories I grew up with. God bless them!

The nearby Lilydale SDA Church invited their friends and hosted Australia's first-ever public screening of Hell and Mr. Fudge.

Sydney's next, with an interview for "InFocus," a television show, and the next screening, at the Fox Valley SDA Church. My stay with Neale & Coralie Schofield, friends from long ago, is one of those "catching up" opportunities. Across town, Hell and Mr. Fudge is next being featured at Avondale College's Manifest Arts Festival.

Then I'm on to the Springwood SDA Church in Brisbane, followed by a couple of other places in Queensland before I head across the continent to Perth, in western Australia. And after that - I'll be in New Zealand, with screenings & talks in Hamilton, Auckland, Palmerston North and Christchurch. For a complete schedule, see the Hell and Mr. Fudge web or FB sites.

Q&A sessions at these screenings are always fun. And one question consistently pops up: What's next? You might guess the answer, because we've talked about it many times.
We want to put our scholars, Dr. Richard Baukham, Dr. John Travis, David Powys and Christopher Marshall on the big screen. We want Clifford Goldstein and JoAnn Davidson to share their perspectives. In short, we want to finish our documentary.

We want to dig deeply into the reasoning and evidence behind Conditionalist thinking, to expose in Scripture and history the lies behind the Traditionalist view. We want to answer questions raised by Hell and Mr. Fudge. We want the Bible to be understood and God to be seen more clearly as the loving, compassionate and fair God that He has always been.

If you're not already a part of this work, please join us. Ask God what He would have you do. If you are a supporter, I cherish your continued prayers and participation. Our needs are not beyond the capacity of God's hands, God's people.

Thank you for all that you contribute as a friend of LLT Productions.

In Christ,

Pat Arrabito

The truth about Noah

Noah is coming. Not the Noah of Genesis, of course. Not the "real" Noah. This is actor Russell Crowe's version of Noah. Crowe seems not to like the man he portrays in this Hollywood version of the Flood story. He says, "This is the dude who stood by and watched the entire population of the planet perish. He's not benevolent. He's not even nice."

Crowe is commenting, of course, on Noah as represented in the movie script. The producers, not wanting to alienate church folks who might be turned off by a somewhat twisted version of the Bible story, have issued this disclaimer:

"The film is inspired by the story of Noah. While artistic license has been taken, we believe that this film is true to the essence, values and integrity of a story that is a cornerstone of faith for millions of people worldwide. The biblical story of Noah can be found in the book of Genesis."

By the way, Russell Crowe and director Darren Aronofsky took themselves to Rome this week in hopes of meeting the pope and getting a papal blessing for their film. It didn't happen.

The slanderous mischaracterization of Noah, who worked for the salvation of others for 120 years, is a small-scale example of the mischaracterization of God, who emptied heaven of its richest treasure for the sake of our lost race. This unselfish, kind, merciful heavenly Father is slandered by, above all, the traditional doctrine of Eternal Torment as taught by church leaders of many denominations.
No one will ever get an accurate picture of God - or Noah - without getting it, directly or indirectly, from the source. The Bible, and it alone, is the authoritative source of truth. When the popular media - digital, electronic, and otherwise - address biblical topics they usually blur the lines, distort the shape, and misconstrue the truth.

Here at LLT we sense a call to greater urgency in our efforts to use those same forms of media to communicate Bible truth with clarity - and to do so in interesting and appealing ways.

Thanks for helping us with your prayers and financial support.
